FLOWERS ON MARKET

Tulips, jonquils, daffodils, trilliums and some of the last of the hepaticas were arrayed on the market stands this morning as offerings for Mother's Day. They were a bright splash of color against a dull, leaden day.

HI-Y BASKETBALL

Last year Peterborough Senior Hi-Y Club inducted the Belleville Hi-Y Club. This year the sponsored club has issued a challenge to its sponsors to a home-and-home basketball series. The first game will be played tonight at the YMCA gymnasium and it is expected that the Peterborough team will visit Belleville next week.

BUILDING HYDRO LINE

Farmers along the East Road between Apsley and Coo Hill are viewing with pleasure the progress being made by the Hydro workers in constructing power lines on this stretch. Prospects appear bright for electric illumination for the first time in the near future in homes along this well-travelled northern road.

EMPIRE YOUTH SUNDAY

Throughout Canada and the rest of the British Commonwealth and Empire this Sunday will be celebrated by special church services. It is known as Empire Youth Sunday. In Peterborough churches as well as in Westminster Abbey where the King, Queen and Princess Margaret will attend, once more the movement will dedicate itself to spreading among the young people the ideals of Christian ethics and medieval chivalry.

OPPOSE ANIMAL CAPTIVITY

Peterborough Humane Society on Thursday night denounced the practice of keeping animals in captivity at service stations as a means of drawing the public. The Society said that a bear was recently observed at a gasoline station in captivity without water to drink or an adequate place of shelter. Also discussed was the subject of adequate drinking water for horses during the hot weather. Apart from one in Ashburnham, there are no horse troughs in the city, and the Society said it was trying to persuade drivers to carry a bucket for water. An educational campaign will be launched to see that homeowners voluntarily cooperate with drivers of horse-drawn vehicles to provide water for the animals.

CRIBBAGE TOURNAMENT

Thirty-five members of the Yonge St. Originals Club of Toronto are visiting the Canadian Legion today to take part in a cribbage tournament with members of the Peterborough and local branches.

SEVERE FINGER TENDON

Doreen Little, waitress at a Charlotte St. lunch counter, is in St. Joseph's Hospital where she is receiving treatment for a badly cut left hand. On Thursday afternoon she received a severe cut and a severed tendon on a broken milk bottle. Dr. Russell Magee attended her.

GIFT TO PENSIONERS

A former employee of Canada Packers reported receipt of a surprise gift, a cheque for $100 from the company to supplement the retirement pension. Presumably all the pensioners of CPC were considered in a time of advanced living cost. The gift was a voluntary remembrance from the company and was received with warm feeling of appreciation.

C.C.F. CANDIDATE

Norman Allison, president of the Rubber Workers Union at Bowmanville and deputy-revee of Bowmanville town council for the past two years, was named CCF candidate for Durham Thursday night. Wilfred Bowles, reeve of Cartwright township, Wm. Lycett, former CCF candidate, and Otto Bragg, president of the Durham CCF organization, were also nominated, but all three withdrew in favor of Allison. This makes a three-cornered fight in Durham.

NEW LOOK FOR POSTIES

Peterborough postmen will soon be blossoming out in new uniforms. The trousers, at least, have been previewed by the press the other evening in a workman's five o'clock club. The cloth is of a forceful blue shade with bold red piping on the outer seams. If the tunics look as smart we will have a very presentable postal corps. The trousers' owner said they were patterned after American postal uniforms.

JANUARY IN MAY?

Perhaps as a gesture to make the citizenry appreciate spring a bit more, Peterborough got a mild touch of the (allegedly) disappeared winter, as the temperature dipped depressingly to 37 degrees above zero by nine o'clock this morning. While shoppers shivered, workers wondered and householders huddled, rain which was very close to snow came along to add its touch. Coal bins, ignored for the past little while, were carefully scraped last night. One undaunted resident cut up some wooden bed braces for the furnace. Others just piled on more blankets.

Masons To Mark 100th Jubilee

Corinthian Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons is celebrating its 100th anniversary. Thus marking one century of Free Masonry in Peterborough and district.

Corinthian Lodge was opened on May 17, 1848, with seven charter members and today there are more than 350 members and also two sister lodges in the city.

The program of special events is to commence on Sunday, May 16, when the Masons of Peterborough and district will attend a service in Trinity United Church and Bro. D. Bruce Gordon will be in charge. The brethren will assemble in the Church basement at 6:30 with masonic regalia being worn.

At the regular meeting on Friday, May 21, a special invitation has been forwarded to all members initiated prior to Dec. 31, 1935, at which time veteran members of the lodge will recall some of its history. On June 3 M.W. Bro. T. H. Simpson, Grand Master of Grand Lodge and R.W. Bro. E. G. Dixon, the grand secretary will attend a banquet in the new dining room of the Empress hotel when it is expected 300 Masons will be present.

In October further activities are being planned.

Arena Officials Get $500 More

Total pledges at the Westcoast plant now top the $1,000 mark. Two hundred dollars cash has been collected from the Quaker Oats employees and there is a large number of pledge cards signed.

A cheque for $50 has been received from the H. B. McGinness Company.

The Hollywood restaurant was the spot for a mean thief recently, as someone lifted the counter collection can in the cafe, left there to receive contributions for the rink. The proprietor estimated the amount which had been in the can when it was stolen—and made it up from his own pocket.

AN ANGRY MOTORIST

LINDSAY, May 8.—(ENS)—Ever since their installation, Lindsay's parking meters have been the receptacles for every manner of junk from lead slugs to meat tokens. But Constable Gordon Eberts found something in one main street meter today that beats every attempt yet made at getting a free hour's parking. Some penniless but versatile motorist had torn the metal lock cover from the meter itself and forced it into the slot. Needless to say, the improvised "coin" didn't work. It just plugged the meter.

50 Girls Help Selling Tags

More than 50 girls from the various schools are selling tags today in aid of the Old Veterans' Home campaign. The P.C.V.S. Cadet Battalion band paraded twice through the streets during the morning, and the Peterborough Pipe Band paraded this afternoon.

A tag day was held on Friday in all Peterborough schools and receipts so far total more than $130, but all returns have not yet been made.

Mrs. K. Mason, Mrs. L. Stephens, Mrs. M. Morrow and Alton Hope are assisting in the campaign. Staff of the Bank of Montreal is to help in the afternoon. Tag boxes have been loaned by the Children's Aid Society and coin containers by the Canadian Seafight Company.

The Canadian Legion is organizing the tag day throughout the entire zone, which includes Bancroft, Apsley, Lakefield, Markham, Havelock, Norwood, Campbellford, Hastings and Millbrook. Shows, dances and bingo are also being planned and the organizing committee expect these will considerably help the campaign.

CHIMNEY FIRE

Peterborough Fire Department had one call at 11:30 p.m. on Friday night, when a chimney fire broke out at the home of E. Armstrong, 214 Carlisle Ave.

Rufus Payne Astonishes Millbrook Anglers Catches 7-Pound Brown Trout In Millpond

Rufus Payne roused the envy of all Millbrook sportsmen Friday night by hooking a 7 lb. 2 oz. brown trout down by the old mill stream less than a stone's throw from the main street.

This incredible fish—26½ inches long, 14½ girth and an 8-inch head—went after a green streamer fly just at dusk. That ended a long and scarred career. Twenty minutes later the trout veterans of the town and Millbrook was more than its share of them, look at the Payne mastodon in management at its size.

Many of the men had seen him in the small pool many a season, some of them had ineffectually raised him, and he ended his days on a weak 3-lb. leader line which Mr. Payne was apprehensive of being too light for the job of landing.

A lot of brown trout have been coming through Peterborough since the days when Percy Lancaster of Havelock used to hold out promises for sportsmen when the fingerlings that used to be dumped into streams here grew up. Carl Salmonsen brought back some nifties from north Hastings. Adam Sands, Max Swanson and others have contributed occasionally to the display but the prize specimen of them all is this Millbrook mastodon. You have to see it to believe that local trout ac-

1,800 Persons On Rotary Trip

The largest crowd ever to leave Peterborough by special train crammed aboard Friday night. More than 1,800 persons attended the Toronto Rotary Ice Review in Maple Leaf Gardens to see Canada's Barbara Ann Scott and another skating champion, Dick Button, head a flashing presentation of iced talent.

The two special trains in the project sponsored by the Peterborough Rotary Club for this city, carried a holiday-minded throng and the carefully prepared entertainment kept them in a gay mood all through the 90-mile trip.

Clowns and music were added features to keep the general tenor of the excursion in top spirits. Refreshments, prepared by the Rotary Anns, were available during the trip.

On their arrival in Toronto, free street cars whisked them to the Gardens.

The trains returned to Peterborough early this morning. Proceeds from the undertaking will go towards a Rotary Warid in the new Civic Hospital.

SERVICE OUTSTANDING

Officials of the Peterborough Rotary Club give highest praise to city and Provincial Police detachments in both Peterborough and Toronto which did such an outstanding job in handling the local crowd of 1,800 fans who travelled to the Queen City Friday evening under the club auspices to see the Rotary Ice Review. It was through their efforts that the large crowd was directed so smoothly in the city and Toronto, both before and after the event.

A LOVELY CATCH

Four city anglers journeyed to Lake St. Peter this week and had excellent results. The party consisted of Norman Edwards, Jim Brown, George Johnston and Harold Friar. They caught 28 speckled trout ranging from 11 to 16 inches and one lake trout weighing four pounds. The speckles were taken on worms and minnows while the laker succumbed to the charms of an Archer spinner.

2 Companies Join Forces On Big Contract

Electrical equipment will be produced in Peterborough for diesel-electric locomotives to be manufactured in this country by an industrial coalition of the resources of the Canadian General Electric Company and the Montreal Locomotive Works.

The first locomotive will be a 1000 horse power diesel-electric which will be exhibited at the Canadian International Trade Fair in Toronto from May 31 to June 12. It will then be delivered to the Canadian Pacific Railway as the first unit of the manufacturing team's initial order.

Tooling up at the plants of both companies is well under way for production of diesel locomotives which will be in addition to already established lines.

The two companies have jointly more than $4,000,000 in orders from Canadian railways. They are at present in production of 1,000 h.p. diesel-electric switchers, with plans to turn out 1,000 h.p. road switchers and other models as prospects and demands warrant.

Canadian railways, like those in the United States, are going in for diesel-electrics because of their far greater efficiency, their record of nearly 100% availability and their economical operation. A statement of potential markets affirms that foreign railways, particularly those in South America, are beginning to follow the same trend, though not so greatly as in Canada and the USA.

Build Road-switcher

As to future products, the announcement says: "The 1500 horse power road-switcher will be manufactured in 1949. This is a combination type locomotive, equipped for past passenger service, light freight hauls and heavy switching work. Other models for which demand may grow are the 1500 h.p. freight locomotive unit and the 2000 h.p. passenger unit. These may be used in combination to make powerful freight locomotives of 4500 h.p. or even 6000 h.p. passenger locomotives of 4000 h.p. or 6000 h.p. geared to operate up to 117 miles an hour. Other switching locomotive models are the 660 h.p. and 600 h.p. and 380 h.p. The last two serve widely for industrial switching purposes and light railway use. Thus, there may be as many as seven diesel-electric locomotives in the M.L.W.-C.G.E. line.

Expansion of this industry will be determined by demand from Canadian and foreign railways, the speed with which Montreal Locomotive Works is able to convert its facilities from steam to diesel and also how quickly Canadian General Electric can expand its production of electric locomotive parts.

The Montreal plant is not converting entirely to diesel-electric. They are now producing three types of steam locomotives for the CPR and have a number of steam order from foreign governments. Last month the company completed an order for 20 steam locomotives for Egypt, and production is under way on an order for Portuguese East Africa. Their backlog includes orders for Newfoundland and India, the latter a $7,500,000 order for 90 steam locomotives and 10 boilers.

It is believed that eventually 90% of all materials used in construction of the new diesels will be made in Canada.

DISCUSS ARENA

Support for the Civic Arena campaign was discussed at a meeting on Thursday evening of the Rotary executive. The matter is being considered and a special meeting will be held on Tuesday at which a definite decision may be reached. Key men in other service clubs have been approached and their support is also expected.

Dogs Slaughter 35 Sheep, Lambs Near Millbrook

A band of marauding dogs almost completely wiped out the sheep herd of N. W. Brackenridge near Millbrook recently. Nineteen grown sheep and 16 lambs were killed by the pack before they were driven off. An accurate number of dogs in the attack could not be found, but it is thought that there were "less than 10" involved.

The lost animals were most of the flock. Those left have all been injured in some manner by the roving killers.

One dog was killed—a medium-sized black one. First warning of the invasion was the sound of barks and bleats from the field, a short distance from the farm house. Arthur Brackenridge, son of the owner, grabbed a gun and ran out with the hired man.

It was about five minutes before they reached there. By that time, the death toll was nearly 30. The gun accounted for the one dog. The others quickly turned and fled.

One of the escaping dogs was a big, light-colored collie, which may have been the leader.

DEER DIES IN COLLISION

Erwin Neale, Coe Hill, driving west on Highway 28 Friday night, drove his car into a two-year-old buck near Paudash lake. Neale was going to a dance at the lake, and the collision took place when the car topped a knoll, the deer being struck broadside. Damage to car was slight, but the deer was killed. County Constable Roy Robinson, Bancroft, investigated and turned the deer carcass over to Game Overseer P. A. Thompson.

SIMPLE DESIGN ADDS BEAUTY TO HOME, MAKES DOLLAR STRETCH

Successful Room Layout Essential In Modern Home

Modern living, in all its phases, calls for flexibility. No longer do our rooms lay down the law to us as in the days when the front parlor had as many rules and regulations as a government bureau. Living-dining rooms are the order of the day; kitchen-living rooms are a trend to watch. Larger, lighter rooms are demanded, presenting their own problems in successful decoration.

The Dining Room

When first the living-dining room combination was introduced there seemed to be a general agreement that the function of the dining part should be camouflaged completely during the non-dining times of day and night. Later, however, the trend has been toward utter frankness about this eating business and large rooms are planned with definite, unashamed double duty in mind. Often they use the big dining table as the centre of interest for the entire room. Curtains, built-in units of cabinets or bookcases, large folding screens sometimes replace full partitions yet effectively divide the large room into living and dining units. Flexible modern furniture lends itself well to these two-faced rooms. Complimentary units are now available so that you may "mix your own" — book shelves in various sizes for interesting corners and half-partitions; come apart sofas that round corners or divide, at a moment's notice, into "conversation pieces"; corner tables and two-storey tables; cabinets which harmonize with living room furniture yet serve to hold linens and silver in the dining part of the room. Although most of this type of furniture is frankly modern in design, much of it will mix sociably with your present furnishings particularly if you are careful to blend your furniture colours and to use your older furniture in modern ways.

Emphasis On Kitchen

Many of the new homes are placing extra emphasis on the kitchen by providing living and dining space in the room itself. The "business" part of a kitchen need not take up too much space yet can be genuinely decorative. Whether your ideas run to ginger-ham and Colonial maple, earthenware with French provincial or Swedish overtones, Pennsylvania motifs in high colour or super-modern functionalism, the kitchen is a genial place to work—where the job can be done in conversational range of the family and where serving and clean-up time is cut to a minimum.

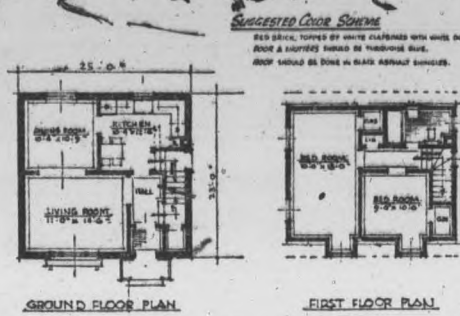

Problem rooms can be as worrisome as problem children. Your extra-large living room, high-ceilinged and austere, can be cut down to size by a judicious use of basic rules and your own imagination. Fool the eye by cutting off too long views with sofas and conversational groups at right angles to your walls. Darken the colour tones of your ceilings. Introduce dramatic and colourful draperies to your windows, making them divert the eye from far-reaching vistas. You can use bold-patterned wallpaper or deep-toned walls. You must avoid slender, graceful or "cozy" furniture—the large and substantial is your dish. Keep the furnishings, as much as possible, away from the four walls of the room.

Furniture To Room's Size

Too small rooms present another harassing problem. To avoid that claustrophobic feeling you must curb your own delusion of grandeur. Avoid heavy overstuffed chairs and sofas; select furniture that is scaled down to your room's size. Cover the floor from wall to wall with plain carpeting, keep walls pale and plain and treat your windows with serene dignity—fancy valances and riotous colour can only be put over by an expert. Simple curtains and draperies that blend with the tones of the wall are safer. Keep furniture near the wall and be very strict about knick-knacks, sofa cushions, piled up magazines and bud vases. Clutter is the enemy of beautiful rooms, whether large or small, but small rooms are more allergic to this particular invader. Yet all rules are made to be broken—in certain small rooms where there isn't going to be much furniture you can use a big-patterned, stylized wallpaper effectively—or a small-patterned paper covering both walls and ceilings can be as blithe as a sand box.

Whatever your problem in arranging your goods and chattels, you must adhere to certain basic rules. Consider the "traffic" lanes of your home—the paths the family takes from one room to another—and keep the lanes free.

HOMES FOR CANADIANS—The designer called this his "practical house." In drawing the plans the architect had in mind a home which would give maximum interior space for living and would be economical to heat. Cost of construction is set at about $6,500. Suitable for any of the varieties of Canadian climate, the house is adaptable to any of the standard methods of heating. Plans call for large living room downstairs with two large bedrooms on the floor above. The model shown here is built of red brick topped by white clapboard; with a roof of black asphalt shingles to add dignity and provide additional fire protection. Door, sashes and shutters are finished in turquoise blue. Rodolphe Lajoie of Montreal is the architect. The above dwelling meets with building requirements in most town and suburban areas of Canada.

by two 8d nails, one driven through the edge of the board and the other through its face. Warped or excessively resinous boards or those with loose knots should be rejected. Sheet-metal patching should be used to cover any defects which may appear after the sheathing is in place.

When the deck is completed, asphalt-saturated roofer's felt should be laid over it as a protection against dampness. It is important also that only as much decking should be laid in one day as can be covered with the protecting felt the same day.

If proper care is taken along these lines, it is pointed out, the protection given by the final covering, which should be of sound waterproofing material such as asphalt shingles or asphalt roll-roofing, will not be lost.

Some Materials In Good Supply

With the advent of spring in most parts of Canada, demands for building materials during the next few months will be heavy, according to suppliers. While there are still some shortages, other types of building materials such as modern asphalt shingles and roll-roofing are in adequate supply. Despite the marked trend towards this type of fire-resistant roofing, manufacturers and suppliers are confident of meeting the demand.

In addition to new building, and the resumption of home-building projects postponed during the winter months, the renovation and re-roofing of summer homes will add to the demand for building materials of all types. In some areas of the country there is a backlog of this type of construction which has been put off from year to year until supplies became available.

While there are still varying degrees of shortage in such materials as cement, sewer pipe, flue-liners, and metal lath, the following commodities are now reported in good supply: sand and stone, asphalt products, caulking compound, lime, plaster, white cement, cement blocks, and tile.

MODERN ROOFING has been given a new twist, which harks back to the days of the thatched roof, in this Vancouver home. Here the householder has taken advantage of the pliability of asphalt shingles to carry his roof beyond the walls of the house to give the thatched appearance. Seldom seen in Eastern Canada, this treatment is becoming popular through the west, due possibly to the western type of architecture and a ready supply of pliable shingles.

for drainage. Bricks are available on five to six weeks delivery, suppliers say.

MAKE ROOF LAST LONG

Here's how to make your roof last longer. Keep gutters, spouts, and the roof itself clear of leaves, stones, twigs, or other litter so that water will not back up under the shingles. Trim tree branches to prevent them from scraping the roof in a windstorm. And, stay off the roof as much as possible. When necessary to go roof climbing wear sneakers or rubber-soled shoes.

Deck Lumber Must Be Dry

Unsatisfactory roof-decks are the cause of many roofing troubles. For this reason home-builders, including the many country home-owners who are counting on getting some long-awaited additions built up during this summer, are advised by all building experts to give very careful attention to all details of their roof deck construction.

Poorly-seasoned deck lumber may warp and cause cocking of shingle tabs or wrinkling and buckling of roll roofing which may be blown off over considerable areas in high winds, they warn.

Wood decks should be made from well-seasoned sheathing (1 x 6 ins.), tightly matched and secured to each supporting rafter

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Various Room Components Should Be In Keeping

A touch of authenticity in decoration is always desirable if it can be achieved. Today, we have at our disposal a wide range of wallpapers copied from or based upon authentic period designs. While none of us can expect to have a room correct in every small historical detail, except as a museum example, people with a discriminating eye demand that the various components of a room should be in keeping. A formal delicate Adam motif background provides a most unfortunate setting for the hearty robust style of the Renaissance.

Early English: An age of freebooters and hearty living, such Elizabethan styles are immensely popular in dining rooms. Masculine bedrooms and studies also seem more fitting when keyed in this style. Rough textures and bold designs on the walls combine agreeably with heavy oak and rich fabrics. Wallpapers showing striking floral motifs as well as textures suggestive of serge and homespun, fit into such rooms with an air of "belonging." Wallpapers reminiscent of coarse damasks and tapestries are available for such period rooms. Floral designs which became popular toward the close of this era, and especially in the later Jacobean and Queen Anne periods seem to assume additional glamor when combined with the bold emblems reminiscent of the East Indian creel embroidery which enjoyed such a tremendous vogue in those days, and which is still

Landscaping Deserves Study Should Blend With House

Trees and shrubs outside the house are just as important as linen closets and furnishings inside. The small home is not completely nor is the investment safeguarded until the landscape blends with it to make a picture that is pleasing and desirable. The expenses of beautifying the small house lot need not be much; it averages from 5 to 10 per cent of the cost of the house. Entering into this cost are the landscape plan, grading, top-soil and fertilizers, plant materials and lawn grass seed for their installation.

Developing a lot without a landscape plan is apt to bring the same unsatisfactory results as building a house without plans. Home owners can make their own plans, but they should never attempt to without long study of the fundamentals of good landscape design. Rather than make mistakes at the beginning, the home builder should seek competent advice.

Orderliness and Unity.

Cardinal points in the small home landscape are orderliness and unity. If every part of the grounds and every plant meet these simple requirements a landscape picture will be harmonious.

If the total cost of the planting cannot be allotted at the beginning, enough should be set aside to pay for the plan and to make a small start. The landscape plan is vital because it frequently shows the desirability of changes in the house plan — or perhaps a few degrees difference in orientation to gain the most from a fine tree or a lovely view. A modest start in planting should include shade trees and lawn. If a few plants can be purchased for intimate plantings around the house, the picture will be well on its way; if the work must be spread over three or four years, the owner will enjoy seeing the picture take shape.

Avoid Crowding.

Good houses require few plants close to them, and well-designed plantings for small areas can accommodate only a few woody plants. Herbaceous perennial and annual flowers are important in supplying colour and interest in intimate garden areas (usually at the back or side of the house), but trees and shrubs are always the vital parts of the home landscape. Specific knowledge about the ultimate size and habits of these is important, as this will save money spent on unsuitable plants and for more than can be accommodated without crowding after a few years. Many nurseries provide this kind of service. There are also books for beginning gardeners everywhere.

Attractive planting cannot result from a bristling array of evergreens crowded around a house. Such plantings may be pleasing at first, but they usually undergo disturbing changes in 5 or 6 years. Modern homes seldom have foundations so unattractive as to necessitate hiding them.

The Front Yard.

A few carefully chosen plants to emphasize the doorway and groups composed of one plant, or of three, to soften the corners are all that are required. With this formula the front yard planting becomes simplicity itself. As this part of the grounds presents the house to the outward world, it should be as attractive as possible every month of the year. Too many evergreens create a heavy, sombre aspect. A few evergreens for accent and deciduous (autumn leaf-shedding) shrubs and trees with small leaves, lovely flowers, decorative fruits, and a pleasing pattern of branches in winter, for seasonal interest and character, should be open and unobstructed to furnish a suitable foreground for the house and to make maintenance easy.

Back yard areas should be enclosed; here the family should find it pleasant to rest, to entertain friends and to garden. Hedges provide green walls which make ideal enclosures, and vines and shrubs trained on fences need even room. The best place for flowers is in small beds inside these enclosures.

HAPPY FACE TO STREET—For all its reminiscence of Colonial days, this buff brick house is romantic without being sentimental, picturesque yet practical. Few houses present such a happy face to the street. Often such a house will fit into a local scene more consistently than will a house of uncompromising characteristics. Inside, the floor plan does not follow usual practice for a centre-hall house. The only room to the left of the entrance hall is the living room, which extends to the same depth as the garage. The series of windows which face the street is duplicated on the opposite wall overlooking the back garden. The open fireplace is a major attraction. Dining room, kitchen and library are all to the right of the entrance, and are accessible from the hall which extends back to the convenient little first-floor washroom. Upstairs are three bedrooms, a bath, linen closet, and huge storage room. The master bedroom is large, and has "husband and wife" closets, plus a wee balcony overlooking the garden. one of our most delightful types of design in both fabrics and wallpaper.

Georgian and Eighteenth Century: As a reign of Queen Anne, one of the most homelike of all the English periods, drew to a close, a greater degree of formality became evident. Chippendale was soon to delight the world with new and fine furniture in styles which, today, are still acknowledged as among the finest ever produced. Gorgeous floral patterns, lighter in feeling and colouring than those of the preceding periods were used in decoration, and as formality increased with the advent of Heppelwhite, Sheraton and the brother

Adam, light pastel tints, dainty stripes and classic motifs appeared extensively. Do not make the mistake of believing that these formal styles called for wishy-washy colours and insipid backgrounds; all through the century, in England and France, while colours were lighter and clearer, they were pure and bright and full of vitality. It was known as the "Golden Age of Wallpaper."

Lemon yellow, clear blue, Adam green, rose and white were all used and stripes were fashionable both for walls and furniture coverings, and for many draperies too. Ribbons and streamers, ideas imported from the gay, sophisticated French court became the vogue, and even today, few rooms are more appealing than a bedroom decorated with a patterned stripe wallpaper featuring bouquets or baskets of flowers, perhaps joined by ribbons and garlands, with a dainty contrasted colored ceiling.

1947 Organized Gambling Highest In British History

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, May 8.—(CP).—Gambling—Britain's public enemy No. 17.

Two stories in London newspapers today emphasized the get-rich-quick attitude: The Churches Committee on Gambling in its 14th annual report estimates £1,000,000,000 ($4,000,000,000) was spent on organized gambling in Britain in 1947 compared with about half that amount in pre-war years. The report says "the avalanche of gambling is upon us."

Item two: A gambler was reported to have lost £25,000 in a single bet Thursday on a "sure thing" at the Chester races.

From tomorrow, when the telephones start jangling with bets for the "two o'clock race at Kempton" until the last greyhound race a week from Saturday, Britons will bet £18,000,000 on horse and dog races. During the duller season "pools" would boost the weekly turnover to £20,000,000 compared with a pre-war £9,000,000.

The extent of the betting boom—many ordinary folk probably take the odd flutter as the only splash of color in their lives—was made clear in the church committee report.

It said that 1947 witnessed probably the greatest increase in gambling in British history and termed the trend a "national epidemic."

The committee took other sharp swipes at the betting industry, now unofficially acknowledged as Britain's seventh biggest business. It said a recent prosecution of one large company operating pools showed that the firm employed 1,000 canvassers as well as 1,000 girl clerks.

One company has its machinery insured for £150,000. This covers devices which "pinprick" letters to stop faking and machines worth £600 which add and subtract.

It has been estimated that if all organized betting ceased in Britain, a half million people would have to find new jobs. But the little man isn't worried. Even the news announced in the Commons last night that the new dog tax will be passed on to the public doesn't faze him.

"Who do you like in the two o'clock?"

Election Expenses

TORONTO, May 8.—(CP).—Persons who provide facilities for a polling booth in the Ontario election June 7 will be paid $15-$8 for rent and $3 for preparing and cleaning the space. In the case of more than one poll in the same building, $4 is paid for each additional poll, plus a $3 caretaking charge. Thus a person with two polls on his premises would draw $18.

Robt. Saunders At Opening Ostrander Store

Hundreds of Peterborough citizens on Friday inspected the new, modern store of Ostrander's Jewellers, Ltd., which opened officially in the afternoon. Located on the west side of George St., just north of Simcoe St., it has an eye-catching appeal with its glass-brick front and show windows sparkling with jewellery, silverware and china. Alterations took more than three months to complete.

Mayor William Owens snipped the ribbon between the jewellery and gift sections to officially open the tenth Ostrander store in the province. Eight of them are in Toronto, one is in Trenton, and now the latest one of the chain is on George St., on the site of the old Schneider Bros. store.

Originally Mayor Hiram McCallum, Controller John Innes, City Clerk James W. Somers, and Hydro Commissioner Robert H. Saunders, all of Toronto, planned to drive up to Peterborough for the official opening. However, Mr. Somers died on Thursday night and Mr. Innes and Mr. Saunders made the trip with Herbert Moore, city paymaster, substituting for Mayor McCallum.

Despite the drizzle outside the store was packed with shoppers who came to witness the opening ceremony and appraise the quality of the wares. Mayor Owens welcomed the new business to the city and wished it every success in its venture. Both Mayor and Mrs. Owens received wrist watches on behalf of the firm.

Kenneth Ostrander presented the watch to Mr. Owens and Norman J. Leach, general manager of the Canadian Jewellers' Association, made the presentation to Mrs. Owens.

The store is divided into two main sections: one sells the usual merchandise of jewellery retailers—watches, jewellery and silverware; the other is the gift section containing pottery and fine English china of world-wide reputation.

Flowers from a host of well-wishers were banked along the walls; there were so many bouquets the showcases were almost hidden. A number of casual on-lookers were heard to remark on the neat, efficient layout of the store.

Souvenirs were given to ladies who entered the premises to look around. Morton Knox, manager, said Ostranders would be open for inspection all day on Saturday.

How stainless steel makes jobs for Canadians

The early stainless steels developed prior to 1916 were used principally in making stainless cutlery. Since that time new steels containing Nickel in addition to Chromium have been developed which combine non-rusting properties with great strength and toughness.

International Nickel is working hand in hand with other industries in the development and application of stainless steel.

Today this beautiful white alloy has hundreds of applications, from a gleaming saucepan or pressure cooker or a valve handling acid in a pulp and paper plant, to a complete railway car or train.

And so a new market for Canadian Nickel has been developed which now makes use of thousands of tons of Nickel from Canadian mines each year.

This new market creates new jobs for Canadians both in the Nickel industry and other industries. Thus does research develop better products, create more employment.

OPERATION NORTH STAR ENDS — Cutting of the Interprovincial Ontario-Manitoba boundary line was completed early in April to intersect the 89th meridian of longitude with the Hudson Bay coast. John G. Pierce, OLS, of Peterborough, was one of the surveyors responsible for computing the survey with such accuracy that the line was out only 15 feet in 168 miles, possibly a world record. Top photo, Left, shows the dismantling of the final fly camp in the wilderness of stunted trees a few miles from the Hudson Bay coast. Siplanes such as those of the Manitoba Air Service, Lower Left, were responsible for the quick dispatch of the project; they flew over 34,000 miles on the job. The completed boundary is shown at Right and illustrates the desolation of the Land of Little Sticks through which the survey party hacked its way for four months.

Peterborough Surveyor John G. Pierce Helped Plot Final Marking Manitoba-Ontario Boundary Line

By NICK NICKELS

At 10:45 a.m. on April 6, two lone figures stood beside a naked tripod that marked the intersection of the 89th Meridian of Longitude and the barren coast of Hudson Bay. John G. Pierce, OLS, of Peterborough and his rodmann, George Fothergill of Swan River, Manitoba, looked over the calculations in John's field book and found to their satisfaction that the interprovincial boundary survey line between Ontario and Manitoba was distant from the Geodetic Department's cement cairn a mere 15 feet from being exactly on the mark. In other words, they had "cut in" the boundary, a project that had been started by John's father 19 years before.

It is an understatement to say that it was a job well done; in fact, it was so well done that no survey line on the continent, or anywhere in the world, to the knowledge of the chiefs of the Department of Surveys, had ever been computed with such accuracy. Ontario's Surveyor General, F. W. Beatty and Manitoba's H. E. Beresford, on an inspection trip a few weeks before said it could not be done and would have been more than satisfied had the line been as much as 200 feet from the Geodetic marker.

The project started in December from the Manitoba Air Service base at Lac du Bonnet where some of the party, under the direction of E. Gauer, M.L.S., D.L.S. of Winnipeg made first camp on the Echoing River. Other parties of men came by air from Norway House and Ilford. This camp marked the termination of the boundary survey which was finished to this point by John W. Pierce, OLS, M.L.S., D.L.S. of Peterborough in the spring of 1929. The Gauer party were to complete the cutting of the line to the Hudson Bay coast by April.

They started their work quietly and efficiently, calculating a line that was to run due north for 168 miles over the lake-pocked Precambrian Shield, across streams, rivers, muskegs and, where stunted timber occurred, slash down trees for a distance of exactly 12 feet at the tree line. Each clear day at precise noon, determined by their sidereal watches (chronometers), instrument men "shot" the sun and swung their theodolites to make a fix on Polaris, the North Star. Their specially-designed transits showed stars faintly in clear weather and made it possible to calculate a true north line. Their instruments were so sensitive that air temperatures affected their accuracy and, if not taken into consideration, would tend to "bend" the line.

Little Wild Life

Regardless of the fact that the survey crew were possibly the first white men to spend much time in this vast wilderness, there was very little wild life to be seen. One surveyor saw one rabbit and a line crew saw four caribou from a distance. There were numerous tracks, in some places near water courses, of beaver, mink and otter. They also found polar bear tracks on the coast and were just as glad they did not run into the beast that made them. Sparse timber grows along the larger streams but sub-Arctic climate stunts it to such an extent that a six-inch spruce log butt was estimated to be 250 years old.

A total crew strength of 24 men took part in Operation North Star and, besides the surveyors, included dog team drivers, two pilots and an air engineer and several axmen. Norway House Creeks bore good old Scots names such as Robinson, Robertson and MacLeod while other natives used Spring muskrat trapping and the surveyors were taken direct to Lac du Bonnet.

As the last skiplane bounced over the wind-packed drifts and took off over the barren coast, the ice stood out into the Bay for monotonous miles to the tide pressure ridge. The pilot turned his machine south and determined his course by a thin ribbon of white that ran across the wilderness as far as the eye could see, as straight as a piece of string, the newly-cut Interprovincial Boundary line. He foresaw with some comfort that should future low flying conditions force his machine to fly "close to the deck" he could always find his way to his air base by following the thin line below in summer or winter. And the surveyors lolled back in comfortable seats with parkas thrown open in the warmth of the cabin's heaters and watched the survey line slip past below them at the rate of 150 miles an hour, the same line that had taken them eight hours of cold back-breaking to hack an advance of four miles each day in the week for the past four months. Operation North Star was finished.

Electoral System In U.S. Called Most Cumbersome

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(CP)—One of the democratic world's most complex and cumbersome electoral systems is grinding into motion to select a president and vice-president of the United States.

There are 48 states and almost as many variations in the system of getting a president elected. There is the electoral college which Senator William Langer (Rep.-N.D.) calls "A relic of the stage coach era."

And just now, as in every election year for decades, there is a move in Congress to abolish the electoral college and streamline procedure, but it will not pass.

Procedure in a Nutshell

Here is an attempt to put the procedure in capsule form.

Presidential elections are held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each Leap Year. Candidates are selected at party nominating conventions.

These nominating conventions also adopt a party platform for the ensuing four years, elect national committee members (one woman and one man from each state, territorial possession and the District of Columbia) and set down rules to govern the committee in the next four years. The national committee, early in the election year, selects the date and place for the nominating convention. This year the Republicans meet in June, the Democrats and Wallace's third party in July, all in Philadelphia.

Delegates to the conventions are selected by state organizations, but the national committee decides how many each can send. The number is decided on a general basis of representation in Congress and on the performance of the party in the last election.

Number of Candidates

This year the Republicans will have about 1,100 and the Democrats something over 1,200. These delegates are chosen at state party conventions in some states, at primary elections in other states, and in some instances are appointed by the state committee.

In the case of states selecting by primary elections each aspiring candidate or his agent submits a slate of delegates he knows will vote for him. In the primary election the outcome is in some degree an indication of the popularity of that candidate.

However, few of the states send delegates pledged to any one candidate and so the result at the nominating convention may be far different from the indication given in the primary.

At then ominating convention, when the routine business of the national organization is completed, nominations are open. Any delegate can nominate any qualified citizen. Qualification is to be a native-born citizen 35 years or older who has lived in the United States 14 years.

Ballotting continues until one candidate has a majority over all others. Each state delegation votes in a block. The same procedure applies in selecting a vice-presidential candidate.

The ensuing campaign is conducted almost exactly as in Canada or Great Britain.

Knox Auxiliary Meets in Home

The May meeting of the Helen Roger Auxiliary of Knox United Church was held at the home of its president, Mrs. J. Donaldson, 593 Bolivar Street. The president opened the meeting by reading a portion of the thirteenth chapter of Exodus, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. A treasurer's report was given by Mrs. G. Myles, and the minutes of previous meeting were read. An invitation was received from St. James W.M.S. to attend their meeting of the evening of May 19th. It was moved by Mrs. R. Bowen and seconded by Mrs. I. McRae that the Auxiliary purchase the study book for the Mission Band.

Worship service was under the leadership of Mrs. G. Myles. The theme was "Each for All and All for Each." Scripture was read by Mrs. E. McIlwraith, and Miss P. Kidd gave an interesting talk on stewardship of time, asking that the members try to budget their time and make the most of it.

Mrs. D. Richardson presented the chapter "The Bible for the Pacific Islands" from the study book, assisted by Mrs. H. Dunford and Mrs. E. Pearce. It told of the work of Hiram Bingham and his son in their religious work translating the Bible for the people of the Gilbert Islands.

FORMAL LACE AND TAFFETA—Every woman knows the sheer relief of having ready at hand a simple dinner frock which flatters, but which requires little or no special effort to plunge into. (A preposition is a bad thing to end a sentence with, as they say, but sadder still is a sudden glamour dress, with no time to primp into an intricate formal frock.) This navy lace and taffeta model requires neither special underclothing, slippers, jewels, or hairdo; there it is, simple as pie, but definitely flattering... a tuck-in blouse and ankle length wide, rustling skirt with a high waistline belt.

First Mother's Day in 1907 Founded by Anna Jarvis

Mothers all over the world will be honored on Sunday, May 9. The second Sunday in May has been set aside as "Mother's Day" and her children will shower her with flowers and gifts on this occasion. Though probably unconsciously, Canadians will not only be honoring their own mother, but will be paying homage to a great-hearted mother who lived in an obscure little town in United States.

The inspiration for the founding of Mother's Day was Mrs. Jarvis, a gentle woman with a heart full of love for her children and a spirit full of faith in people. When the soldiers came back from the Civil War to the little West Virginia town where she lived, she gave a reunion picnic for them and their families trying to join in friendship those who had fought with the South. So powerful was her heart and her ideal for union that the picnic became a success, after a not-too-good start. Friends again greeted as friends those who had been their friends before the war.

She worked with all her strength for her cause, the brotherhood of man, and then became seriously ill and died. Her powerful faith in courage and good works lived on in her daughter who was the founder of a Day that is a memorial to a great mother and a day to "remember" mothers.

Every plan that Anna Jarvis made for the observance of Mother's Day was not only lovingly-dedicated but was also wise and practical. First she decided it should be on a Sunday and chose the second in May "for then the grass would be green and the flowers coming." For the emblem of the day she chose the white carnation, her mother's favorite flower, but there was a practical reason too—it is a flower men are willing to wear and it is a flower that will stay fresh for a long time.

On the second Sunday in May, 1907, Miss Jarvis prevailed upon the pastor of a Philadelphia church to hold a special service "to honor beloved mothers everywhere." Next year the idea had spread to other churches and in 1914 Congress passed an Act designating the second Sunday in May as "Mother's Day."

The resolution for the celebration of Mother's Day reads, "dedicated to the memory of the best mother in the world—your mother." It also urges that "through some distinct act of kindness, visit, letter, gift, or tribute, all may show remembrance of the mother to whom it is designated to perpetuate all family ties."

and wealthy Anthony Taylor (Doug Weir).

Gerry Ralston (Don Ketchabaw) plays the democratic young son, just out of the army, who has an idea his father's money grows on trees. His romances are many but nearly end in disaster when he turns down the glamorous artist's model, Judith Arthur (Eleanor Carroll) who happens to have some letters he has written. Cousin Jill comes to the rescue and tricks her into signing a confession that relieves Gerry of a lawsuit.

Godfrey Ralston, a wealthy financier, played by John Paull, likes his wife's cousin Jill and takes her part in every quarrel. In return she rescues him from the clutches of a shady crook posing as Wallace Shedy, a successful business man from a prominent family when she quietly goes to his office and destroys the cheque that would have crippled his business. The crook, played by Edward Chambers, is revealed by Jill's friend from Junction Hill, Jennie Purvis (Elsie Bromley). The gossip-spinner, Mercy Kendrick (Joyce Bridgett) gets a real surprise when the "poor relation" of the Ralston family announces that she purchased the airport herself, and that she has just come into another fortune from oil on her ranch and must go back to look after her business.

As the play ends, "ignorant" Cousin Jill is in the arms of Anthony Taylor and Hallie is the crestfall ex-fiancee.

Director Homer Lundy has made excellent choices in the cast and the entire production is well-handled. Edith Abraham was assistant director, Florence Townsend, stage manager; Edward Chambers, master of proscenium; Hazel Patterson, master electrician; Hazel Patterson and Edna Lee, prompters; Shirley Patterson, treasurer.

Between acts, Miss Nicolette Humphrey entertained with delightful solos. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite extended a welcome.

Slim Down Hips For Full Skirts

The girl who thinks she can hide a bulging hipline under new full skirts is kidding herself. As a matter of fact, because new fashions pad curves, she must take extra pains to keep her hips slim or she'll look chubbier than she is.

Special exercises help banish bulges from hips and from thigh. Here's one that will do the trick: Stand with feet planted far apart. Raise arms to shoulder level with elbows flexed as though you were propping them up on a table. Swing the body weight to the left leg, bending knee. Repeat, swinging to the right as far as you can go. Continue swaying rhythmically from side to side for a count of 50.

The side-scissor kick is another exercise that keeps curves under control. For this, stretch out on the floor on one side. Pillow your head on one arm and brace yourself against the floor with the other. Raise your legs a few inches off the floor and kick vigorously, keeping knees straight. Start out with 25 kicks on one side; then roll over and kick 25 times on the other.

LACE EVENING SCARF—One of the almost impossible accessories to find anywhere since the war has been the mantilla, or scarf of mantilla-like effect, made of charming lace. Maybe you think: Who cares? ... but a lot of us have missed them, and so would you, if you ever got this accessory habit. Flattering and also practical, such a throw protects your evening coiffure en route to the gaiety, and then becomes a shoulder scarf, often an essential one, if your gown be strapless. This scarf is made of French lace, and is stole shaped, rather than triangular. Fragile seeming, it can take a lot of dewy, evening wear.

DOROTHY DIX Women Still Necessary For Men's Happiness

A correspondent lays this problem in my lap. He says: "With the exception of his mother, is any woman necessary to the happiness of a man?" Not for every man. It depends on whether the man has a sweet tooth or not. There are plenty of men who are allergic to women and who think that the good Lord made an awful blunder when He created Eve.

Neither is pie necessary as food, but most men would feel that they had had a skimpy dinner if they didn't have some sort of dessert, and that

Dorothy Dix is what sweethearts and wives are on the menu of life. Men can get along without them, but they have pretty flat and tasteless existence if they have no girl friend to make love to and no wife to fight with. It is like eating alone.

Of course, in these mechanized days, when we have only to punch a button to have all our needs supplied, a wife is not the necessity that she used to be when a man had to have some woman to cook his food and darn his socks.

BRIDAL WHITE STEPHANOTIS — The waxy, sweet white stephanotis blossom, harbinger of spring along with its pink and mauve twins, is a favorite of flower designers, pretty girls, and their beaux. In this picture they all get together, to coin a phrase, when the designer makes a stephanotis-wedding crown and bridal bouquet for a girl whose beaux wouldn't take "no" for an answer. The bouquet's flowers are set into a light, plastic flower holder, of cross shape; for the crown, they are wired, upstanding, by millinery skill. The gown is made of white silk satin, with neat basque and full, trained skirt, with heirloom lace tabs and diamond cluster pin at the throat.

With prospect of pleasant and productive relations with those in places of power, influence and good will it is possible to enjoy preferment, honors and favors along cherished lines. However, a disposition to rash, hasty and impetuous or emotional acts, rushing into danger and difficulties could negative the most auspicious prospects. Shun criticism, strife and accident.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which the final issues depend upon the sagacity, sound objectives and ability to secure approbation, good will and substantial aid and collaboration from superiors, employers and others in high places. All this could be forfeited by reckless, impetuous, impulsive and over-energetic urges, indulgences and conduct. Self-restraint, calmly-directed initiative executive ability could prove highly productive and pleasant, in all contracts.

cover with thin slices of melting cheese. Pat out rest of dough into a circle a little smaller than bottom layer. Place on the cheese. On top, radiate from centre, strips of sliced bacon, raw. Bake at 350 degrees F. till bacon is crisp and brown. Serve immediately.

Chocolate Upside-Down Pudding— $\frac{1}{2}$ cups flour, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, 1 square unsweetened chocolate, 2 tablespoons shortening, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup broken nuts.

Topping—3 tablespoons cocoa, $\frac{1}{4}$ cups boiling water, $\frac{1}{4}$ cups brown sugar. Sift and measure the flour, baking powder and salt into a mixing bowl. Melt the chocolate and shortening together, mix with milk and vanilla. Stir into dry mixture muffin method. Add nuts and blend thoroughly. Pour in a glass baking dish which has been well greased. Just before placing in oven, mix the cocoa and brown sugar, together, and place this over the top of the batter. Over all pour the boiling water. Bake in a moderate oven 350 deg. F. for 30 minutes. This makes a rich chocolate cake with a delicious chocolate sauce underneath which tops the pudding when turned over to serve.

Veal Chops With Chili Sauce—6 veal chops, 4 tablespoons bacon fat, 1 cup chili sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, half cup water or stock. Brown the chops on both sides in the hot bacon fat or drippings, season, then pour into the pan round them the chili sauce and water or stock. Cover closely and simmer gently, for half an hour. Arrange the chops down the centre of a platter, pour the thick sauce over them and arrange creamed noodles round the meat.

LIMBERING-UP EXERCISES — This exercise spells a-t-r-e-t-c-h with every movement of the body. Take it sitting down on the floor with legs outstretched, feet together. Begin by stretching arms overhead and bringing hands together, palms facing outward. Now bend forward from the hips, stretching as far as you can until hands touch toes. Next, slowly straighten up and swing arms back in a wide circle, letting your head roll back at the same time. Swing arms over head, and repeat routine. Try above if you ever get the idea your walk feels "wooden." That your knees don't respond as resiliently as they should when you go up and down stairs or climb into your car.

Transients Find Temporary Home In Ancient Hall

By MARILYN LAMBORN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, May 8 (CP)—Gay spring crowds which surged through stores and into cocktail bars left two Martimers unconvinced that Canada is riding a tide of prosperity.

The two young men from Cape Breton, tired after nights of hitch-hiking and riding freights, approached St. Lawrence Hall. They opened red doors and mounted creaking stairs of the building which was Toronto's elite entertainment centre during the 1890s.

After years of disuse, the hall has been renovated by an anonymous Toronto financier as temporary quarters for "respectable" unemployed men—such as the young Martimers who roamed Toronto streets looking for "any kind of work."

The two passed the sign telling them to "Stop! This is not a public house. It is a hostel for men." They went up to the first landing and read: "Good news! A bath today." On the main floor behind a long counter they were told "You are what you think."

The youths, 21 and 23, were not well dressed. At the neck of the windbreaker one wore could be seen striped flannellette which might have been the top of pyjamas. The older man, thin and unshaven, wore a broken jacket over tattered grey flannels.

As they joined a group of men sitting patiently on a bench the two easterners learned that most of the others were like themselves—representatives of Toronto's more than 7,000 jobless hoping to be placed in one of the 2,339 jobs registered at the local office of the National Unemployment Service.

They represented different parts of Canada, but most were from the Maritimes where latest reports show 27,000 unemployed men and women vying for 2,000 available jobs. The men had ridden freights or hitch-hiked. Others had spent their last dollar on train fare.

Met In Toronto

"Please don't put our names in any article," one asked when interviewed. "My family think I'm getting along fine."

The youths met in Toronto by accident, and since they knew each other in their home town, they decided to team up.

The younger, a robust-looking fellow, had been away from home for the last two years. He blamed arrival of displaced persons from Europe when his job in Timmins "folded up."

The other said he had been unemployed since 1944, when he quit his casting job because it was too hard on his health. When he tried to join the army in Halifax, he failed to pass the medical examination. Unable to get a steady job he hitch-hiked to Toronto.

The men were welcomed as guests of the St. Lawrence hostel after they were "looked over" by a round-faced social worker. Others of the "wrong type" were quickly and quietly shown out. The hostel refuses entrance to anyone swearing, smoking, playing cards, smelling of alcohol or lazy.

Before the hostel was opened last January, free 35-cent meal tickets were handed out to the line sometimes backed a block long. However, this practice ceased when it was discovered some recipients sold their tickets. Now meal tickets are issued only to regular guests—a ticket for breakfast and dinner. During the day the men are expected to look for jobs.

If unsuccessful, they wander back to the hostel, and slip into one of the 150 double decker beds in the hall where Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, once sang, and perfect in formation was exhibited this week by veteran agriculturist Thomas Laycock, who recently retired to Carman following 60 years of farming. The tomato ripened on a plant which was raised in a can on a windowsill during the winter.

Election Rule To Be Studied

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP)—

The general assembly meeting of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in Toronto next month, will be asked to approve an election rule recommendation which divided ranks at the Montreal and Ottawa synods here Thursday.

The recommendation, dealing with the re-election of members to church boards, was approved only after it had been branded "bureaucratic."

During a discussion on administration, Rev. C. Ritchie Bell, Moderator, noted that the present election set-up called for the election of an entirely new board every three years, with the exception that one-third of the members may be re-elected for a consecutive three years.

Rev. H. R. Pickup, convener, moved that this rule be maintained. It was defeated, however, and a large majority approved an amendment recommending that the three-year rule be applied without exception.

The rule, as it now stands, was criticized by Rev. G. S. Lloyd, of Cornwall, who said it was threatening to make the church "too bureaucratic." He felt it was not a good thing for a democratic church to have some men continued indefinitely in board positions.

May Train Children For Better Vision

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP)—High speed recognition, which enabled servicemen during the war to distinguish quickly the friendly vehicles, ships and planes from those of the enemy may soon be taught in the school room as an aid to education.

Dr. E. P. Leonard of Boston, who lectures to a study group of Quebec optometrists, said the wartime method of teaching speedy recognition may be a regular school subject because "vision is a learned skill just like walking."

Just as you find people with different athletic abilities, he said, "so do people differ in their seeing abilities."

Radio Programs In Cree Tongue Run By Cleric

FLIN FLON, Man., May 8—

(CP)—The Rev. R. B. Horsefield is an Anglican clergyman in this northern Manitoba mining town. To the Indians of the north he's "Ootachimoo."

Recently he received a telephone call from a woman who, in rapid syllables of the Cree tongue, exclaimed, "Minister chayskwa (wait) I want to tell something on the radio."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Horsefield in the same tongue. "I want to tell my husband at Pelican Narrows (Narrows-of-fear) that I am out of the hospital; and that I'm coming home on the thing-that-flies tomorrow with our two children."

"All right. But who are you?" "Me? You know me." "Probably, but I can't see you on the wire—that-talks, you know."

There was a giggle. "That's right. I forgot. I'm Mrs. Dorion. My husband is John Dorion at Pelican Narrows. Tell him I'm coming home. We have been in the hospital in the wasting-sickness place (sanatorium) here at Clearwater Lake. Now the doctor says we can come home."

That afternoon the Cree woman's message went over the air-waves. It's all in the week's work to Ootachimoo. He's a man of many missions. He served as a missionary to the Indians in northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan for 20 years, and is rural dean of The Pas deanery.

Pictures Outside World

Because he knew the needs of the natives, he decided to explain to them by radio broadcasts what was going on in the white man's world. He began these talks—first of their kind to go over the air—more than a year ago.

In "Teepee Tidings" every Monday at 4:15 p.m. he gives a brief resume of world events. In "Teepee Chitchat" Fridays he answers letters, relays local items about members of the tribe or humorous anecdotes of the hunt and trail. Recently Mr. Horsefield inaugurated a Sunday Bible study broadcast called "The Old, Old Story."

The Roman Catholic bishop at The Pas asked Mr. Horsefield if he'd send Christmas and Easter greetings over the air to members of that faith. He did.

Some of the older natives found it hard to believe the sound coming out of the "box."

Said an old Indian at Nelson House: "They tell me, my grandchildren, that men can speak in one place and be heard another many sleeps away on the trail. I don't believe it. They say the voice comes out of a box."

A little later Mr. Horsefield took him into a restaurant, showed him a radio, explained that was the "box." "That is a man in Winnipeg you are listening to now," he said.

The old man looked at the box for five or six puffs of his pipe. "I don't believe it. I still don't believe it," he said.

50,000 Want Gas

STOCKHOLM — (CP). — The Traffic Commission here has received over 50,000 applications for gasoline for motor boats. Although the commission had not expected more than 18,000 applications it is expected all applications will be satisfied if the ration is cut by about 40 per cent.

Fiction Sales Slump In Great Britain

By NORMAN CRIBBENS,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
LONDON, May 8 (CP)—A slump in book sales is causing anxiety to London publishers, particularly those who deal chiefly in works of fiction.

Many say the slump is due to the gradual return to the market of essential things for the home. As one publisher put it:

"When families can buy a new radio for which they have waited years, they are not so willing to spend between eight and 10 shillings on a novel—especially if they do not know the author. They go to the second-hand book-stores instead."

Established novelists, he added, were not so much affected by the slump, but they too, have suffered from falling sales during the last six months.

Rising costs of paper in relation to sales are the chief worry of publishing houses opened during the wartime book boom. Houses established before the war get their paper quotas from the government at controlled prices, but the newer firms have to buy paper in the free market. Often this costs them 50 per cent more.

Expensive Gamble

"During the boom," said one, "a book printed as a book sold and the price of the paper mattered little. Now it is a different story. The decline in sales makes publishing an expensive gamble for newcomers."

Booksellers are no less concerned over falling sales. They say good general literature still sells, but fiction is being left on their shelves. The average novel today costs 8s 6d ($1.70) or 10s 6d. Many booksellers consider a reduction of one shilling would be valuable to the trade.

"We should aim at getting back to the standard price of 7s 6d for a novel," said the manager of a Fleet Street store. "Publishers are against this, but I think they will be short-sighted if they do not cut prices to meet reduced buying."

Publication of students' textbooks, however, is insufficient to meet the demand. One reason is

BE HAPPY WITH A HOBBY...

Fun and Good Eating From A "Pocket" Garden

GARDEN BOOK FREE

It's fun to grow 'em — and fun to eat 'em, too. Vegetables fresh and crisp from the garden are a whole lot different — and then — there's a mighty nice saving when prices are high.

You will be really amazed how much you can grow in even a "pocket" sized garden, if you go about it right. And putting around with the earth is the happiest kind of relaxation for the whole family.

However — there's a catch in it. A garden must be successful, and the stuff must really grow to keep up one's pride and interest. For this reason, we have secured an amazing little book, with lots of pictures, that tells you of easier, quicker and better ways to make your garden pay.

We will gladly send you a copy FREE of "Successful Vegetable Gardening". One copy only to a reader.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

MUST BID 4-CARDERS.

OF YOU ARE going to win in the long run, you must occasionally bid a "four-card major suit" which has less than "a trick and a half" at its top. Otherwise you will miss plenty of games and slams which can not be made in any other declaration. In fact, a good deal of the science of fine bidding lies in finding fits of four cards opposite four in a major suit, especially if one or both hands can offer a doubleton or singleton where a ruffing trick or two may be obtained.

1 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
5 NT	Pass	6 ♠	Pass

If West had led his fourth-best diamond against that, South could have made the contract. But that doughty defender knew the advantages of a major suit lead and opened his heart. South managed to get only eleven tricks, with four in spades, three in hearts, three in diamonds and one in clubs. He played the latter suit naturally, trying the finessse of the Q, and lost to the K, plus a later trick to the 10. His only way to make the contract would have been by playing the 8 on the first club round, then the A, or vice-versa. But who would do that?

There were sounder ways to bid that deal into the sure 6-Spades, in which a diamond ruff would furnish the twelfth trick. As he managed to get only eleven tricks, it could have gone thus: 1-Club, 2-Diamond; 1-Spade, 3-Spades and then the Blackwood into a spade small slam. Or it could have been simpler: 1-Spade, 3-Spades and then the Blackwood. Failure of either partner to bid spades, just because he had "only one honor trick" in the suit, is what wrecked the pair.

Your Week-End Question

Why is it sound to make a fourth hand opening bid with the following hand, but unsound if the spade and club holdings were reversed?

6-In Memoriam

DELAIRE, Mrs. A.—In loving memory of a dear mother, who passed away May 9, 1945.

Three years have passed and gone, Since one we love so well. Was taken from our home on earth, With Jesus Christ to dwell. The flowers we place upon her grave, May wither and decay, But love for her who sleeps beneath, Shall never fade away. Ever remembered by her son Sylvie, wife and boys.

EDWARDS—In loving memory of Sgt. John Edwards, who gave his life May 1945. There's a sad but sweet remembrance, There's a memory fond and true; There's a token of our love, dear John, And a heartache still for you. Remembered by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Roseborough, also uncles and aunts.

LLOYD—In loving memory of our father, Percy Lloyd, who died May 9, 1947. What would I give to clasp his hand, His happy face to see; To hear his voice and feel his smile, That meant so much to me. Always remembered by Rhoda, Charlie Lloyd, Dale and Billie.

MOTHER—We laid her away where the shadows Swept over the grasses green, Where the sunbeams play, And the breezes play. With a quiet hush between, In silence stood for memory did, Our tenderest thoughts revive; The heart would tell that all was well, When Mother was alive. Our brightest hopes in fragments lay, All scattered and far away; And broken sighs remained; But all our loss of Mother's love May be in Christ again. —Albert Vass Sr.

Few Reactors In Third TB Test Of Northumberland Cattle Triplet
Holsteins Born In Herd Of John Tamblin North Of Orono

FARM HELP PROSPECTS

Frank C. Paterson has seven names of farmers listed already as applicants for western help that is expected to arrive for the local harvest in the latter part of June. He suggests that the many others who are going to need help should report early their intention of engaging men.

"We try to give first call to those who apply first," Mr. Paterson said. "At the recent conference here of the Departments of Agriculture and Labor representatives it was expected that about the usual number of westerners would be available for Ontario's harvest. However, there is always the possibility of some conditions arising to alter that exchange between the east and the west."

A few Peterborough farmers have also asked for European help, and applications for families from Holland have been acknowledged. At the local meeting April 20, H. R. Hare, agricultural adviser to the Federal Department of Labor, said that of the 4,500 Polish veterans who had been admitted into Canada for farm work, 4,200 are still on the land. Fifty per cent of these men are with the farmers to whom they were originally assigned. The policy of the federal department is that no displaced person will be brought here unless there is a job for him.

Of the 2,500 western men who were expected in Ontario last year only 1,000 actually arrived. Most of the others went to Kansas as crews with Canadian harvest combines. They paid $10 up to $25 a day across the border as against the $70 a month in Ontario.

Mr. Paterson said there was some rumor of Kansas objection to the Canadian invasion. He understood there was to be a meeting this week in Kansas City. He did not expect there would be actual opposition to the reinforcement of harvest labor from Canada.

"On the other hand we bring in around 1,300 tobacco curers from the United States every season," Mr. Paterson said. "I don't think there will be disruption to this reciprocation of farm help."

Peterborough is asking for 70 or more westerners. Durham wants 30. Of the 63 expected last year only 13 arrived, and several of them did not stay. Hastings county farmers reported their experience that the 1947 westerners "were more like a youth movement," and some were not experienced. "North and South

Simcoe could each use 100 men from the west; Ontario county 100 and Northumberland 40.

Incidentally, Mr. Paterson was engaged in Simcoe when the tobacco planting was begun, and was sent to Virginia and the Carolinas to hire the first curers who came into this country.

GRADING HOLSTEINS

Northumberland Holstein Association plans to grade its county cows for selective registration in the near future. R. C. Banbury, agricultural representative, says 21 herds have been listed with him up to this week. Other breeders who are interested in this certification are urged to have their farms put on the inspector's itinerary as they may not be again in the county for some time.

All ungraded cows for which inspection is sought must be submitted for classification. They are graded for quality, and if an animal is graded poor, the registration certificate may be cancelled. Mr. Banbury reports in his weekly review: "Only bull calves from dams graded the equivalent of good plus or where production is 50 per cent above ROP requirements can be registered. The cost is only $1 an animal, with a minimum of $4 a visit. Registration gives the farmer a good picture of how he stands with his Holstein herd in relation to other breeders."

CALF CLUB MEMBERS

If there are any late-coming boys and girls who wish to join the county calf club they will find membership open to them for a few more days.

The members are as follows: For Smith township—Allan Bell, Ronald C. Mahod, Donald Matthews, Barbara Clark, Barry A. Wilson, Kelly J. Wilson, Russell Boyce and Robert Boyce.

From Otonabee—David Stewart, Douglas McNeven, Francis Walsh, Ken Bidgood, Jack McIntyre, Marie F. Kelly, Keith McIntyre, Allan Stewart, Danny Douglas, Elburn Wood, Bill Brealey, Arthur Dawson, Dorothy Howson.

From Douro—Gerald Coughlin, Audrey Bolton, Gwelda Bolton, Jean Eleanor Bolton, Gerald Bolton, Lee Moloney, Mary Wood, Everett McFarlane, Gerald Doris.

Also Paul Lowes of North Monaghan; George Davis of Wawar, Rosemary and Kenneth McConkey of Peterborough.

The young people have distributed their selections over five breeds: Holsteins, Jersey and Ayrshire in the dairy division, and Shorthorns and Herefords in the beef class. Their main summer job is in feeding and generally caring for their calves until achievement day in the fall. All those who preserve to that stage are going to be guests of Kiwanis Club in a day's bus tour.

THIRD T.B. TEST

Only 73 cattle in 44 herds reacted to TB testing up to April 14 in Northumberland. This is the third test that has been made in the county's cattle industrial development. Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative reports nearly 18,000 cattle treated in the present examination. His comment is "Good health of Northumberland county cattle and good judgment in promoting this test years ago is evidence in the progress of this work at present. In areas where the test was not made previously many cattle are going down, and they are found hard to replace at this time. Some loss in production cannot be avoided. Northumberland's should be light if the present reacting rate continues."

YORKSHIRE BREEDERS CLUB

The regional show of the Quinte-Kawartha Yorkshire Breeders Club may be held in conjunction with the Oshawa Fair Sept. 18. The proposal will be considered by members at a meeting Wednesday, May 12 at 8 p.m. D.T. in the office of the Department of Agriculture, Bowmanville. Garnet Whitfield is president.

FEDERATION PICNIC

Plans for their picnic June 5 will be advanced by the directors and chairmen of committees of the Federation of Agriculture at a meeting Monday, May 10 at 8 p.m. called by W. W. Dawson, president. It will be held in the office of the Department of Agriculture.

MILBROOK SHOW

Although it is still a month away, Sam Staples of Cavan is busy these days plugging the Milbrook Agricultural Society's show June 10. The Lions Club of the village is again co-operating, and Mr. Staples is talking in terms of more exhibits, merry-go-round and other attractions, and at night a street dance and carnival.

HOLSTEIN TRIPLETS

A. J. Tamblin, Holstein breeder north of Orono, was presented with triplet calves by one of his cows recently. The two baby heifers and bull are now two weeks old and are doing well.

BOARD MEETING

Directors of the Peterborough Exhibition Board are meeting Tuesday evening at the YMCA.

PROLIFIC SHEEP

Nine ewes in the flock of Charles Linn near Galt recently doubled their number with an extra lamb for good measure. There were eight sets of twins and one of triplets.

WEEK OF SEEDING

Rain Friday halted seeding operations in the Peterborough district after a week of favorable weather. Reports credit many farmers with completion of their work and others far advanced. The season's operations are up to the average for this area.

FLOCKS DECIMATED

Otonabee council this week paid an indemnity bill of $35 for sheep killed by dogs. Emily township paid $316 for loss to farmers of 5 sheep and 16 lambs; four other sheep were injured. The industry cannot endure such a ravaging as that suffered by the flock of N. W. Brackenridge, South Monaghan, 19 sheep and 16 lambs.

NO LONGER DOUBTED

"Twenty years ago the only topic one could get started about fertilizers was a discussion of their merits," said Dr. G. I. Christie, former president of O.A.C. at the Junior Farmers' conference at Guelph. "Now we find that farmers are not only using the best obtainable seed, but also fertilizer. It shows that we are going to carry out the program of increased production."

CATTLE PRICE HIGHER

In one week recently 80 Holstein cattle were sold by breeder in a Hamilton area for delivery in the United States. The average price of three and four-year-olds was $250-higher than last year; by about $75, reported by John Powell of the Holstein Association, Brantford.

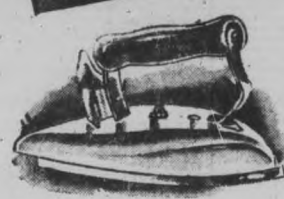

FLY NINE HOLSTEINS

Air freight charge on Glenafon Rag Apple Monogram, from Milton to Argentina this week was $2,500 plus $1,000 insurance. The biggest animal ever flown from Canada, weighing 2,800 lbs., he was sold by Harold Bingham & Son, Georgetown. The plane carried nine Ontario Holsteins. A second bull weighed 2,400 lbs. With them were two younger males, four heifers and a baby calf. Two of the animals were of All-Canadian and All-American rating last year. Glenafon Rag Apples Alert topped the All-Canadian sale at Toronto last fall at $11,500, sold by J. J. E. McTague.

JERUSALEM, May 10—(CP).—Both Jews and Arabs have agreed in principle to accept a plan to demilitarize Jerusalem and place the city under the protection of the Red Cross flag, it was announced here today. MONTREAL, May 10—(CP).—Surrounded by his political heirs, Prime Minister Mackenzie King Saturday night put the final seal on his decision to retire this summer. Mr. King, 73, and Liberal Party leader for almost 30 years, told the Reform Club of his intention "to retire now in the interest of the country, the party and my own interest."

Koreans Cast Heavy Vote

SEOUL, May 10—(AP).—Week-end violence and sabotage cost 76 lives in United States-occupied South Korea, where a heavy vote was recorded in a self election despite a Russian boycott on the vote.

Two Koreans were killed in Seoul today and United States Army reports indicated at least 23 others were killed elsewhere in sporadic outbreaks. The victims included six police, 12 Communists, and seven Rightists. Wire sniping interrupted communications from outlying districts.

Police probably forestalled more serious trouble here. They confiscated 50 makeshift bombs and materials for many more in the house of a well-known local Communist.

Unknown Saves 65 In Fire Rouses Sleeping Men Trapped In Bunkhouse

VICTORIA, May 10—A dozen scorching and singed loggers credited a man known only as "Shorty" for saving the lives of 65 mill workers trapped Saturday in a bunkhouse blaze at Yonbou, B.C., 90 miles northwest of here. The fire claimed two lives, injured a score of loggers and leveled one wing of the $40,000 hut on the British Columbia forest products timber tract.

Loggers, who fled half-dressed from the bunkhouse, said "Shorty" carrying two suitcases, rushed along the flame-swept corridors arousing the 65 men asleep in the hut. They could not identify him.

Dead are Roger Gault, 24,

Vancouver, and Joseph Sozniak, address unknown. Hospital authorities at Duncan, B.C., said the injured were progressing "fairly well."

Eyewitness accounts told the story of the men crashing through closed windows to safety.

Logger Pete Perriek: "The flames seemed to follow me as I ran for the window. The window was closed so I, and others, jumped through the glass to the ground 20 feet below. We lost everything except our underwear."

Twisted bits of beds poked through the wreckage of the bunkhouse which normally houses 125 men. The graveyard shift had left the hut 20 minutes before the fire mushroomed.

Expect Rail Strike In 14 Days

Unions Won't Pull Their Punches; Warning To Ottawa

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP).—A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, said Sunday he expected Canadian railways and major railway hotels to be strike-bound in 14 days.

He said that unless the government intervenes quickly in the wages dispute, between rail management and employees, he is certain the unions "will pull no punches" in carrying out a threatened strike.

"We already have sent out 30,000 strike ballots made in our union printing plant," said Mosher. "Returns on these ballots are expected in about two weeks."

He said the 30,000 CBRE members were a sufficient force to freeze railway freight and passenger service as well as service in principal hotels in large Canadian cities.

"Most of the employees of Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway hotels are members of the CBRE," said Mosher. "They will walk out with us when the time comes."

Won't Fool

He said his union would not wait for other union action but "would walk out immediately" if this became necessary.

Other railway unions, said Mosher, were having strike ballots printed in commercial printing establishments and it would be some time before they were available for the members, numbering about 125,000 railway employees.

Their answer to whether a strike should be carried out is not expected to be known for about 30 days.

The unions last week rejected a seven-cent-an-hour wage increase recommended by a federal government conciliation board. They had asked for a 35-cent boost.

Save Crippled Husband

DETROIT, May 10—(CP).—An 83-year-old semi-crippled husband from their burning house early today when it was struck by lightning. John Shimke was taken to hospital with side and back injuries and his wife, Margaret, was burned on the hands when she dragged him from the burning cottage. After getting her husband out of the cottage she tried to fight the flames. Neighbors pulled her away when fire men arrived.

Will Toronto Star, Weekly To Charitable Foundation

TORONTO, May 10—(CP).—Following the death of Joseph E. Atkinson, its owner and publisher, the Toronto Star prints the following announcement which it terms "One of the most unusual in newspaper history."

"The Star and the Star Weekly are willed in perpetuity to a foundation—the Atkinson Charitable Foundation—which will devote their profits, as periodically distributed, to religious, charitable and educational objects in Ontario. The seven trustees, or a majority of them, will be employees of the Toronto Star Limited. The Star and Star Weekly will also be controlled and operated by these trustees with no interest but to give the public the best newspapers possible. That was the purpose which, over a period of years, took form in the late Joseph E. Atkinson's mind, and to which his family readily agreed."

The Star quotes the late Mr. Atkinson's own summary of this purpose as follows:

"It is my desire that the ownership and operation of the newspapers known as the Toronto Daily Star and the Star Weekly shall not fall into private hands, and that the shares in the capital stock of the Toronto Star Limited and Toronto Star Realty Limited held by me shall be held in trust for and ultimately belong to the Atkinson Charitable Foundation (or under certain conditions) shall

Russian Intelligence Has Atom Secrets—Gouzenko

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP).—It is highly probable that the "mass production" espionage systems of Russian intelligence have gleaned every aspect of atomic bomb production and behavior, Igor Gouzenko says in his new book, "This Was My Choice."

Baby Suffocates While Feeding

Eric, three-month-old twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Jarvis, 663 Water St., died early this afternoon, apparently from strangulation while feeding which was the first-hand opinion of Dr. Robt. Bell, who reached the house just ahead of Dr. Ross Matthews. Three firemen, George Gimblett, Jr., Harold Cain and Perry Gould rushed to the scene with artificial respiration equipment and applied treatment for 15 minutes. Upon arrival of Dr. Bell, who took over from the rescue squad, all methods of revival failed to make the infant respond.

Twin brother of the baby, Roger, is receiving medical attention at Civic Hospital. There are two other children of preschool age at home.

"I doubt very much that any aspect of atomic bomb production or behavior is unknown to the Soviet at present. If there are any blank spots, it is certain that dogged digging is proceeding in all nations which might have helpful data."

Thousands At Work

He says thousands of Russian agents are working in Britain and more thousands in the United States and other thousands in every part of the world. He quotes his chief as saying nine networks are at work in Canada.

He says Moscow doesn't fret when one agent is caught, because that relaxes vigilance over many more. He says the wife of Nikolai Belokhovskikov, now head of the Ottawa Embassy, was an "NKVD (secret police) agent or informer" in the Embassy, one of a number that made it a hive of "rotten little intrigues."

Gouzenko says Communist strength outside Russia is estimated at 12,000,000 and quotes an intelligence official as saying that "for every official party member we figure on from 10 to 15 supporters."

Federation Resolution

THE HAGUE, May 10—(CP).—The delegates to the unofficial Congress of Europe unanimously adopted today a resolution looking toward a federation of states on the continent. "The Congress recognizes that it is the urgent duty of the nations of Europe to create an economic and political union in order to assure security and social progress," the resolution said. The resolution called for a court of justice "with adequate sanctions for the implementation of a charter of human rights."

President Appeals To Railway Workers To Remain On Job; Warns Strike Will Be National Tragedy

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP).—President Truman today seized the railroads of the United States. There was no word from the three strike-threatening unions whether they would run the trains for the government. They have called a strike over wages and work rules for 6 a.m. (local railroad time) tomorrow.

The President signed a seizure order two minutes before 1 p.m. EDT, in an effort to bar a strike. The order places operation of the trains under direction of the United States Army.

Truman appealed to all railroad workers to stay on their jobs. "I call upon every railroad worker to co-operate with the government by remaining on duty," the seizure statement said. "I call upon the officers of the railroad labor organizations to take appropriate action to keep their members at work."

Truman's statement added: "It is essential to the public health and to the public welfare generally that every possible step be taken by the government to assure to the fullest possible extent continuous and uninterrupted transportation service."

"A strike on our railroads would be a national-wide tragedy, with world-wide repercussions," he said.

No Comment

The heads of the three unions left a White House conference just as the President's executive order was being released. They would not say whether their union members would remain on the job under government seizure.

"We're going to take that up now with our committees," President Alvanley Johnston of the Locomotive Engineers, David B. Robertson of the Firemen and Enginemen, and A. J. Glover, of the Switchmen's Union, said.

The Union leaders went right to their hotel for a conference.

Hysterical Negro Kicks Fireman Off Ladder

BALTIMORE, May 10—(AP).—Police said an hysterical rooftop preacher, who used his feet to thwart efforts to bring him to earth caused the death of a Baltimore deputy fire chief.

Lorenz A. Dolle, 63, kicked from a fire ladder Sunday, died in hospital today.

A charge of causing the death of Dolle was filed by police against William Lane, 38 (Negro), Dolle fell 25 feet from the ladder and suffered a fractured skull.

Patrolman Louis J. Mitchell said he found Lane dancing about the roof of a three-story house in robe and pyjamas and "preaching to the world." Witnesses said the preaching was audible for three or four blocks.

The hard coal industry has been operating since 1946 under a contract carrying no termination date, but allowing either party to give 60 days' notice of termination whenever desired.

By giving 60 days' notice, Lewis apparently was conforming to a Taft-Hartley Labor Act requiring that a party wanting to end an agreement allow that much time.

Boat Trip Beats Movies

Passengers Shipwrecked, Robbed, Fired On

SHANGHAI, May 10—(AP).—Four hundred tired, baggageless passengers of the shipwrecked SS Wanlee have returned to Shanghai. They lived through a month-long adventure which included attacks, robbery, Communist grilling and a second shipwreck.

The Wanlee set out from Tientsin to Shanghai a month ago. It struck a rock of Communist-held Yuncheng in Shantung province. The 1,200 passengers were shepherded ashore by the captain. After negotiations by the ship's owners, most of the passengers returned to Shanghai without incident.

On May 5, the company sent the SS Chancheng to pick up the remainder. Then, in the next five days

A Chinese naval vessel mistook the Chancheng for a Communist transport, fired some 80 rounds at her. It scored only one hit.

Proceeding to Tientsin, the passengers, irate over the long delay in what was scheduled to be a four-day voyage, compelled the captain to change his course for Shanghai.

Off Woosung, near Shanghai, the Chancheng struck a reef and was grounded. Panic-stricken passengers jumped overboard and reached shore. When they returned to the ship, they found their baggage pilfered.

In the final 48 hours, food ran out and a free-for-all occurred between the crew members and passengers who lost their possessions.

Will Summon Gardiner In Price Probe

OTTAWA, May 10. (CP).—The special prices committee today voted to summon Agriculture Minister Gardiner to appear as a witness in its investigation into meat prices.

The committee acted on a resolution introduced by Douglas Harkness (PC-California) who referred to Mr. Gardiner's statements made last Friday on pork and cattle prices and said he believed the minister's appearance might eliminate the necessity for pursuing the meat probe further.

The resolution was opposed by Robert Mayhew (L-Victoria) who was the only Liberal member of the committee present and was acting as chairman. When he put Mr. Harkness' motion the committee supported it 5 to 1.

Mr. Harkness told the committee that the Agriculture minister had taken credit, in his Friday speech, for the high prices of cattle and hogs and had declared that prices were not the result of any manipulation. Mr. Gardiner had also declared that meat stocks were not high at present, the Conservative member continued.

"I agree with that statement, as a matter of fact," Mr. Harkness said. "I think Mr. Gardiner's appearance might enable us to wind up the committee's investigation into meat."

Lewis Serves Contract Notice

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP).—John L. Lewis today gave United States hard coal operators a 60-day notice of intention to end the United Mine Workers' contract covering 80,000 anthracite miners.

Lewis told the producers that he wants a new contract for the United Mine Workers by July 10. He asked for wage conferences to begin May 20, unless a later date is mutually agreed upon.

The hard coal industry has been operating since 1946 under a contract carrying no termination date, but allowing either party to give 60 days' notice of termination whenever desired.

By giving 60 days' notice, Lewis apparently was conforming to a Taft-Hartley Labor Act requiring that a party wanting to end an agreement allow that much time.

Expect Budget Released In Two Weeks

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP).—Some time this week, Finance Minister Abbott is expected to tell the Commons what day he will bring down the budget. It likely will be within the next two weeks.

For the moment, you can take your pick of the dates now being talked about on Parliament Hill: Thursday, May 13; Tuesday, May 18; or Thursday, May 20. To most observers, the choice seems to be between May 13 and May 18. As in recent years, the budget likely will be brought down at the evening sitting.

More important than the budget date is the question: What it will contain? Until Mr. Abbott reads the speech to the Commons, its contents remain a closely-guarded secret. But up to that moment the field of speculation is wide open.

Current talk of budget possibilities seems to centre on one main question: Income tax cuts or indirect tax cuts? The feeling is that the rate of reduction will bear heavily on one of these two levels.

Certainly, some observers say, the government cannot get by without making some fairly substantial reductions, especially in view of the country's healthy internal financial condition.

The financial accounting for the 1947-48 fiscal year, which ended March 31, won't be known until budget night, but best estimates now available indicate a surplus of some $800,000,000. This would be the greatest surplus in Canadian history. The 1946-47 surplus was $352,000,000.

Since the major reductions last year were centred on income taxes, it is considered possible Mr. Abbott this year will concentrate on indirect taxation which applies on most of the articles Canadians buy for their day-to-day living. Cuts in this field would help those people who do not pay income taxes and who would not benefit from reductions there.

Union Office Said Damaged

A fine of $10 and $250 costs was paid in court today when John P. Whalen, 31 Benson St., pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

The charge arose when police investigation Saturday night found the glass in the door of the union offices at 450 George St. smashed, and the glass lying all around. Inside, the benches had been upset, stove pipes knocked down and "everything was upside down."

Report of the officer said: "It looked to me like a big party had taken place and it ended up in a fight."

Whalen, the only man in the office on the arrival of PC Victor McConnell, was the only person charged.

The Chamber of Commerce will appoint the present secretary, Mrs. Daisy McCullagh, as manager and she will be sent to the Chamber of Commerce school at Hamilton before she assumes her new duties.

The Chamber of Commerce will also look into the community chest idea as a substitute to the many tag days and other appeals for money which are reaching the nuisance stage. Other centres will be contacted for information on community chests.

Cobourg Legion Protests Name

COBOURG, May 10.—Cobourg Legion at its week-end meeting registered protest to the use of the title "Maple Leaf Legion" by the organization presently attempting to recruit men for service in Palestine. It was felt that the name might mislead the general public into thinking there was a connection between the Canadian Legion and the so-called Maple Leaf Legion. Zone Commander Roy Service will take the matter up with the district command.

The U.S. Presidential Races

At approximately the half-way mark, the Presidential primary campaigns in the United States have left the general situation in the Democratic and Republican races unchanged. The Democratic race is virtually decided, while the Republican race is still a muddle in which anyone's guess may be good. President Truman is the Democratic Party's only candidate, and from the ten candidates with delegate support in the Republican race, Governor Thomas Dewey of New York has a slight lead.

When the Democrat Convention is held in Philadelphia in July, there will be 1,234 voting delegates present. Of these, 614 have already been named in various ways; 423 of those named are pledged to Mr. Truman, known to favour him, or have been claimed by his supporters without contradiction. The other 191 delegates are not committed.

The June convention of the Republicans will be confronted with a different picture. That party's race is farther advanced than the Democratic contest—if it can be called that—but with 770 delegates chosen out of 1,094 who will go to Philadelphia, no candidate has an appreciable lead. Governor Dewey is supported by 125 delegates, ninety-seven of them from New York. Nominally in second place is Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, who will receive his state's seventy-three votes on the first ballot. Ex-Governor Harold Stassen is in third place with sixty-eight votes won in campaigns in five states; he is trailed by Senator Taft of Ohio, with forty-four, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan with forty-one, and several other candidates with less support.

The Ohio primary, in which Mr. Stassen invaded Senator Taft's home state, was virtually a stalemate. Stassen won enough to give added proof of his strength, but not enough to shove Senator Taft out of the picture. Taft won enough to stay in the race, but not enough to "stop Stassen"—the war cry now of the Republican Old Guard. The next test of strength for Stassen will be the Oregon primary later this month, when he will be opposed by Governor Dewey.

Most United States political observers have now reverted to one of their earliest predictions—that the Republican Convention will name a compromise candidate after a voting deadlock involving two or three of the presently leading contenders. And they are virtually unanimous in naming Senator Vandenberg as the most likely choice in that event.

The Late Robert Matchett

The death of Robert James Matchett robs many local people of a dear friend, and Peterborough of one of its most individual citizens. He was never prominent in city affairs, but his charities were many and unobtrusive, and he exercised a quiet and possibly unconscious influence upon the lives of a great many people. He possessed a gentleness of nature which made even a short conversation with him a pleasant experience.

He was distinguished by fine manners which, without ever becoming unsuitably elegant, were always a little better than the occasion demanded. He had also a high degree of personal charm. His appearance was decidedly characteristic, for he was never seen without a finely starched collar of a now unfashionable cut, and he always wore black and gray neckties. He smoked cigars at all times, slowly, appreciatively and without chewing them. His hats, too, were not of the most modern sort, but they were admirably suited to him. He had a pleasant, dry wit, and he created an agreeable atmosphere about him. Mr. Matchett was a descendant of Adam Scott, the earliest settler of this city, and he summed up in himself much that was best in Peterborough. He will long be remembered with affection and respect.

Libel As A Business Understatement

A news dispatch from England tells us that libel suits, which declined in number during the war, are becoming more frequent in the courts. We wonder if this is because juries are now easier to collect than they were during the war years? Lawyers are said to prefer to put a libel case to a jury rather than to a judge, and if this is true we presume it is because juries are more apt to see a case in simple terms than a judge who is versed in the subtleties of the law, and who may know a great deal about the libel business.

For libel can be a business, and there are people in all countries where a libel law exists who look upon a libel suit as a good way of getting some easy money. The procedure is this: a newspaper inadvertently prints a libel, or an author, by giving the name of a living person to a character in a story, inadvertently libels that person. The lawyer, or the professional dealer in libel, thereupon suggests to the paper or the author that a settlement out of court would be acceptable, and a cheque changes hands. If the author or the publisher decides to fight, the outcome is unpredictable, for libel cases are tricky, and may backfire unexpectedly.

Newspapers are in the main extremely cautious about libel, but they cannot always avoid it; authors take the utmost pains to give their unpleasant characters improbable names, but it is a curious fact that there is virtually no name so curious that someone does not bear it. Sir Alan Herbert once combed the London telephone directory for odd names, and found people called Portwine, Plato, Japhet, Noah, Mars, Homer, Venus, Virtue, Vice, Butter, Cheese, Tramplesure and almost anything else you care to invent. Technical libel is, therefore, extremely easy to perpetrate. In the view of the law, libel is much more serious than slander (which is spoken defamation) and has criminal overtones. Furthermore, libel need not be put into words; it was once adjudged libellous to place a lighted lamp outside a man's door, as this might imply that he kept a brothel.

Public men are more sensitive to libel than they once were. Lord Cockburn once said: "Those who fill a public position must not be too thin-skinned in reference to comments made upon them. It would often happen that observations could be made upon public men which they know from the bottom of their hearts were undeserved and unjust, yet they must bear with them and submit to be misunderstood for a time because all knew that the criticism of the Press was the best security for the proper discharge of public duties". Yet it is no longer safe for a politician to say to a rival, as Disraeli said to Palmerston: "Your lordship is like a favourite footman on easy terms with his mistress". It was once a point of honour with a politician to make no complaint when hard things were said of him, and to give as good as he got, but nowadays they resort to libel suits with astonishing alacrity.

It is not improbable that the legal concept of libel will have to be revised fairly soon, for the complexities of the subject are such that lawyers are confused by them, juries cannot hope to follow them, and judges are annoyed by them. Certainly a branch of the law which can become a business for adventurers—a type of blackmail—needs reconsideration.

The Roll Of Dollars

There is a lot of money around, even if the roll of bills in your own pocket is thin. The total of notes in the hands of the public is more than one thousand million dollars, which is about five times as much as was circulating in 1939 or at the end of the first Great War. If to this folding money are added the coin and the sums on deposit, the money supply is seven thousand, two hundred and ten million dollars. (These are the latest, 1946 figures.)

In case you are curious about how the one billion dollars of notes is denominated, we record that 41 1/4 million dollars worth is in one-dollar bills, 32 million in two-dollar bills, 102 million in five-dollar bills, 392 in tenners, 281 in twenties, 89 in fifties and 169 millions in hundred-dollar notes. There are rarer specimens, for instance, eight hundred $500 bills, seventeen thousand thousand-dollar bills (they do exist). There are two five thousand dollar bills extant, and wonderful to relate, two thousand old twenty-five dollar notes and 7,200 old four-dollar bills in circulation. We admit that if we got our hands on a dozen of the old four dollar bills or even on two twenty-five dollar curiosities, we would not nurse them as museum pieces: A four dollar bill is still legal tender; it would buy a bottle of medicine or enough headache pills to get us through the income tax forms.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"DURING the summer of 1919" (recounted the late J. F. B. Livesay in his entertaining autobiography—"The Making of a Canadian") "a strike broke out suddenly in Winnipeg—a general strike which paralyzed the city's life for several days. Organized labour was caught up in the movement and public and private utilities were drastically affected. Finally armed force suppressed the rising, but not before many of the strikers were wounded and one of the strikers was killed. Winnipeg returned to normal in quick time, and the upheaval took on in retrospect the colour of a summer's storm. It changed the air."

"ONE of my fondly cherished 'scoops', concerned the famous strike in Winnipeg," he continued. "Mayor R. D. Waugh of Winnipeg read the Riot Act to thirty thousand in the City Hall Square. When the shooting started there was a double movement; as if reaped by a scythe, the old soldiers lay down, while the rest, men, women and children, streamed like quicksilver into the neighbouring courts and alleys. One of these, an Ukrainian friend, shouted out to me as he ran by: 'Get out of here, Mr. Livesay, they're shooting with real bullets!' Like plumes and whorls of wind-driven clouds disappearing in mountain clefts, two concentric movements; in a moment the square was clear. Even the troops had passed on, and I stood alone; lord of all I surveyed; a dead man lay before me. Later the toll showed, on lower Main Street, thirty-three wounded, including sixteen men of the Mounted Rifles."

"BEFORE help came, and my man was carried into an undertaker's parlour, I reached into his pocket for his alien registration card and slipped it into my own wallet. Now indeed I had a scoop and it looked time to get going. All street-car traffic had been suspended, and I ran a mile or more to the office. There, in the next hour, I dictated to Harold Raine the story, and he hammered it out, handing it sheet by sheet to the Morse operator, whence it was laid down in St. Paul and thence fanned out over the continent. Local papers, well behind us with the story, for their reporters had watched the melee from high building fronting on Main Street, were skeptical about the name of my dead, and did not use the item in that extra nor until I had leisurely explained. I regretted having to turn over the identification card to the police."

"It was time to get back to the fray, but what a difference! All Main Street was corded off, lined with troops, and with fussy officers barring the way. 'Let that man through', said my old friend, Colonel G. C. Porter. 'He's a newspaperman', Canadian Press. 'Fred', he went on as I passed the cordon, 'this is a great story and I'm just going to file my stuff'. He was a free-lance, stringing for a number of Canadian and American papers. 'What have you got?' 'What have I got?' I repeated, carelessly. 'I'm beginning to look around now.' 'On Monday we met in Mariaggi's bar. 'Fred', he said, 'you certainly scooped me that time! They turned back on me thousands and thousands of words saying the C.P. story stood up all day.'"

"I THINK," (ponders Edgar Wallace in his autobiography—"People") "I was the first reporter to notice the fact that when a jury comes into court to return a verdict of 'Guilty' against a murderer, they never look at the prisoner. I once got a two minute 'beat' in a murder case by noticing this fact. And I wonder how many doctors can spot a man with a history of epilepsy by the peculiar shape of his chin? Personally, I have never seen an epileptic who had a normal chin. And why do men with high foreheads and deep-set eyes go bald at an early age? These questions led Wallace to consider publishing a book on the subject."

"I discussed this book with Kennedy Jones (the famous editor of the Daily Mail) and he was very interested, until, producing a 'sample' description of an abnormal face, he saw such a striking likeness to a public man we both knew—he eventually held a high public office—that he grew skeptical of my sincerity and I was discouraged by his banter. The man in question committed suicide by taking an overdose of veronal. He did this to escape a very serious charge, and though the coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death, it was suicide beyond any question."

"LIKE many of us Wallace was interested in the question of dreams. He once asked a young executioner—Billington by name—if the grisly job gave him dreams. 'He told me it kept him awake but did not produce anything phenomenal in the shape of nightmares. His father, who was a more conscientious man, was undisturbed by his horrible experiences. One day a friend of his committed a murder, was duly tried and sentenced to death. Old Billington was taken ill just about this time; he was in truth sick unto death; but the rumour reached him that people were saying he was shamming, so that he should not have the misery of hanging a friend. It needed only this to stimulate the sick man. He rose from his bed, went to Strangways Jail, hanged his sometime friend, and came home to die.'"

Who's Who In Hollywood

"I was discovering that cinema audiences are just as interesting as the film itself. Judging from the conversations in the queues they seem to know the names of every person who appears on the screen, who they are married to, who their previous husbands or wives were, the size of their swimming pools and even their favourite foods. Films and film makers must occupy a great proportion of their daily lives."—(Woodrow Wyatt, M.P., talking about films in the BBC's Overseas Service programme "In Britain Now")

Letters To The Editor

FISHERMEN MISLED

Sir: I would like to refer to a paragraph in this evening's Examiner (May 5, '48) dealing with the story of the large catch of speckled trout taken by three local men. The statement from the paper, quote "In other words they could have taken on the three days 180 fish, but they had only 90. They were entitled to a total weight of 90 lbs. but the catch weighed less than 90."

These three men were perfectly within the limit but the above statement is wrong and might be misleading to fishermen in the future. The special fisheries regulations states: "No one person shall have in his possession more than two days legal limit of speckled trout at any one time." Therefore the three men could not, as the above statement says, have taken 180 trout on the three days, and kept this number. The maximum number they could have taken would have been 120, or 2 days legal catch for each man.

This same regulation applies to all game fish, hump, bass, trout and pickerel, and means simply that no fisherman can have more than two days legal catch in his possession at any time when on a fishing trip of more than two days duration. This regulation will also apply to fish being stored in cold storage lockers.

Thanking you,
FRANK BARKER.
P.S.—The above regulations were checked on by myself and district warden Stan Windsor tonight, in the "Special Game and Fisheries Regulations for Ontario."

NEGLECT IN DUMMER

Sir: Can I have a small space in your paper for the Ninth Line of Dummer Township. We are told that the Dept. of Highways would give some assistance to provide a roadway in place of the present ditch that meanders up the Ninth Line of Dummer. Well that was years ago, and we still have the ditch. And now while the smoke of battle is on, the people should demand a showdown on this subject. If the highway department are not going to do anything with the roadway then let the electorate vote for those who will. They (the Dept.) have passed the buck long enough. This settlement is Conservative and we get nothing from the government but Warsaw get all it is Liberal.

We also want some new young blood injected into our municipal council. Some one who would do something, not dream about it. Dummer Council is financially embarrassed when you ask them to do any work on the Ninth Line, yet they receive from the Highways Dept. sixty cents on every dollar they spend on this road. Also their large taxation on Stony lake property belonging to the campers, and they will not improve the road for them to get to their properties. The council is not interested in the eastern part of this township.

This Ninth Line is a detriment to the progress of prosperity in this district. Here is an example: Imperial Oil Co. send a full load of oil in one of their large tank trucks. As this journeyed up the Ninth Line it took a notion to upset and when it was got back on road again there was only four hundred gallons of oil left. Last week a 1947 car was smashed on the Line. Now, who pays for all this damage? Eventually the citizen of Dummer in lieu of road building.

Our motto will soon be if we do not get some help, do not come to Dummer, no doctor, no mail, no phone, no Hydro, and no undertaker, no road. So keep out, if you want to live. Yours

WM. MATTHEWS.

ANSWERS MR. GORDON'S QUESTION

Sir: Would like to tell Mr. Gordon it is not hard for any one to answer his question. Do you not know Honourable Harold Scott feels so cock sure of winning that he does not think it necessary to drop a plum in Peterborough city?

As a C.C.F. member I will ask him not to be so sure this time.

And Mr. Gordon, you have been in politics long enough to know that some of the people can be fooled all the time, but some, well you can draw your own conclusions.

Possibly this time a bait of a paltry one million dollars will not save Peterborough Riding to the Conservatives, there are some that think it wouldn't.

Yours truly,
MAURICE E. KETCHESON.

Musical

One Englishman who returned from a tour of Australia last year is an enthusiastic advocate for the country.

A young tenor got into conversation with him at his club and heard him at once begin to praise Australian musical audiences, even to the detriment of British concert-goers, who were dubbed "apathetic."

The traveller said it was the most astonishing and most wonderful experience of his musical career to find such sensitiveness, enthusiasm and willingness to adventure in musical fields among audiences "down under." He expressed himself even more strongly when he discovered that his listener was an Australian; William Herbert, and Mr. Herbert's gratification grew even larger as he suddenly realized that the stranger was none other than Boyd Neel.—Australian News Letter.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens, and every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. (Gen. 2: 4-7.)

O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord...

Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted off? (Isa. 2: 5, 22.)

Hospitality For Children

One of the few happy enterprises now going ahead in Europe is, arrangement of "hospitality" for children who need special care in this case again the essential thing seems to be the co-operation of voluntary agencies and the public authorities. Last week, for instance, a hundred French children came to this country for a stay of four weeks. They are the children of prisoners of war from the province of Lille; those who visited their homes tell me that the only reason why the children look comparatively fit (though many of them have been badly knocked about psychologically) is that their mothers have starved themselves to feed them. They spend their time here, each in a separate home, freely offered by an English family. The organization is in the hands of the I.H.C. (International Help for Children, 43 Parliament St. S.W. 1.) of which the Lord Mayor is the President. This organization is also taking 600 children to Belgium in the summer. They come from poor and over-crowded homes in bombed towns such as Manchester, Wallasey and Dover, and the Councils of these towns readily pay £10 a head per child to pay for the fares and out of pocket expenses of the "leaders" who go to Belgium with the children. A cheap, sensible and happy arrangement.—New Statesman and Nation.

United Europe Benefits Noted By Churchill

AMSTERDAM, May 10.—(AP).—Winston Churchill said Sunday that a United Europe would permit "the continent to take her place as an independent and self-supporting part of a world organization."

Addressing 30,000 persons in Amsterdam's square, Churchill said:

"We are trying to take a step forward, in harmony with our different governments, to revive the old glory of Europe."

He said a united Europe must be safe from foreign aggression and added:

"It must be a Europe in which men will be proud to say 'I am an European.' Where men of every country will think as much of being an European as of being a citizen of their own country."

This he described as "the transformation of the western world." Britain's wartime prime minister and leaders from other countries have been participating in an unofficial "congress of Europe" at the Hague to promote the idea of democratic federation of European countries.

No Place or Tyranny

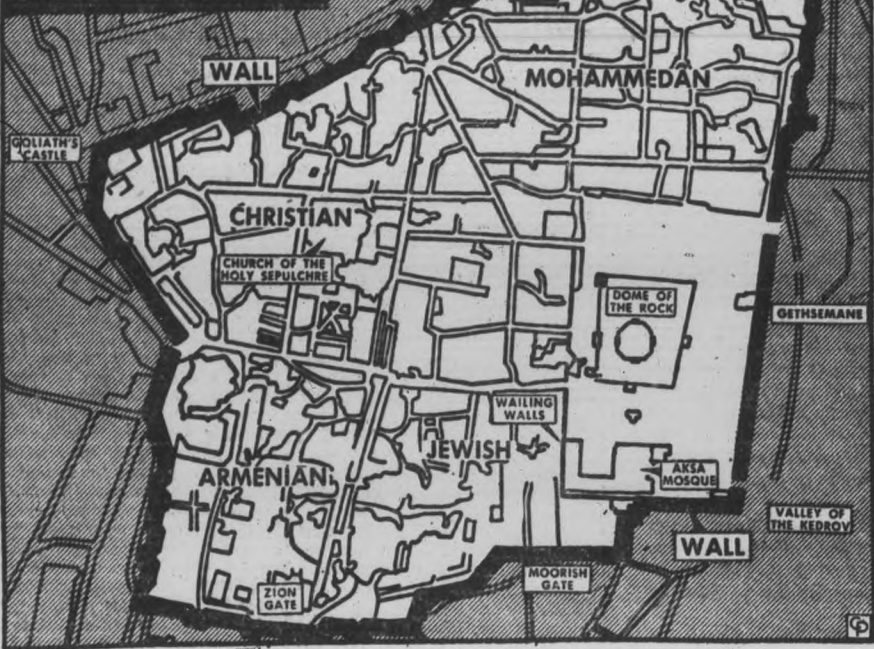

"Our life ought not to be crushed or flattened out by any kind of totalitarian tyranny, either Nazi, which we cast out, or any other," Churchill said.

"I am not an enemy of any nation. I am not against any race or religion. It is against tyranny that we take our stand. This tyranny presents itself in various forms. But whatever lives it wears, it is always the same and demands that we oppose it."

Churchill said he was speaking especially for the "interests of the broad proletarian masses, the millions afflicted by war."

Ottawa Plans To Develop Merchant Marine Fleet

By JOHN LEBLANC.

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP).—A long-term program for the development of Canada's merchant marine and shipbuilding industry is being launched by the Federal Government, it was learned today.

Key feature of the plan, expected to be announced officially in the near future, is that the government would grant concessions to encourage shipping companies to get rid of out-of-date vessels and have replacements built in Canadian yards.

That would have these aims: 1—A swing from the Canadian merchant fleet's slow-moving vessels to the faster type of freighter that soon will be needed to get business in the world's ports.

2—A backlog of orders for the shipbuilding industry as a bulwark against a decline like the one after the First World War.

Despite the breadth of the program, it was understood that the government, with the aid of its new Canadian Maritime Commission, expects to operate it on a basis that will call for little or no cash outlay from the Federal treasury.

Relax Restrictions

The chief concession would be a relaxation of restrictions on the resale of ships built for the government during the war and later sold to private concerns.

A condition of these sales was that the vessels had to be owned by Canadian companies and operated under Canadian registry. Under the new plan, the owners will be allowed to dispose of the vessels abroad. Since the original purchase price was low—averaging less than $300,000—that can probably be done profitably.

Owners selling vessels in this way will be obliged to put the proceeds in escrow for the specific purpose of paying for new vessels from Canadian yards.

Some 200 ships would become eligible for foreign sale under the program. Of these, 170 formed the wartime Park fleet operated for the Dominion Government by the Crown-owned Park Steamship Company.

Smash Steel Record

LONDON, May 10.—(Reuters).—British steelworkers smashed all previous output records last month by reaching an annual production rate of 15,283,000 tons. This was 166,000 tons higher than in March and nearly 3,000,000 tons higher than the annual production rate in April, 1947.

Bad Rerailment

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., May 10.—(AP).—Two crew members of a Reading railroad passenger train were killed Sunday night and 200 passengers bruised and shaken in a train derailment near Valley Forge. A Reading railroad spokesman identified the two victims as Buch Demmy, 51, an engineer, and Howard R. Jackson, the fireman.

Quebec Judge Highly Incensed At Anglicized French Vocabulary

By PIERRE DUBOIS

QUEBEC, May 10.—(CP).—A Quebec superior court judge has brought his gavel down none too gently on the knuckles of French-speaking Canadian who too readily accept English words as part and parcel of their vocabulary.

It's been more or less admitted that the mother-tongue of French Canada would become a bit Anglicized. Yet English idioms universally adopted by the French remain barbarisms to dyed-in-the-wool French-speaking Canadians.

And after all, too much is too much. That in effect is what Judge Oscar Boulanger implied in a recent judgment on a civil action for damages arising from an automobile accident.

Not without amusement, he had listened patiently to a number of witnesses stumble painfully time and again over English terms having to do with the mechanics of a car, among which "le steering knuckle arm" recurred most often.

Lets Fly

Then in his judgment he let fly. In effect, he said these people would rather murder their language than take the trouble to look up the proper terms.

And these same people, he continued, are the "very" people who would be highly insulted if, perchance, the Canadian government made l'erreur fatale (fatal error) of writing them a letter in English.

For the benefit of Quebec garage owners and motor-car mechanics in general, he then gave the French translation of le joint de direction... c'est une piece de la direction qui fait la liaison entre la suspension et la fusée de la roue avant.

While there are French-Canadians so loyal to their beloved tongue they couldn't say nuts if they had a mouthful—they'd say noix—the overwhelming majority prefer to employ English shortcuts.

And where do they pick up these English shortcuts? Everywhere—on the street, competitive sports, commercial advertising, films, juke boxes—even newspapers, papers—and so on.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

HELP CANADA'S REFORESTATION PROGRAM

This is tree-planting time in Canada! Thousands of farmers, school children and others who love the land are planting young trees to restore the nation's forest wealth. It's a project in which everyone of us should take a personal interest, for Canada's industrial growth and prosperity stem from her natural resources. Plant one tree... or a thousand... if you can. Help young trees grow to maturity by protecting them from harm and destruction. Providing for your country's future is a real contribution to "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Calgary Prepares Welcome For Allan Cup Winners

CALGARY, May 10—(CP).—Alberta's capital city prepared to pay full homage to the new amateur hockey champions of Canada today following Edmonton Flyers' spectacular 5-3 victory on Saturday night over the Ottawa Senators in the fifth game of the Allan Cup final.

Victory by the hard-hitting, close-checking Flyers, ended Edmonton's 40-year-old quest for an initial Allan Cup victory. They won the best-of-seven series four games to one.

Flyers, scheduled to be feted with a mammoth parade and civic reception by their proud townsmen to-night, displayed the fighting heart of champions Saturday as they exploded for three goals in the last five minutes of play to overhaul the game Eastern sextette.

Hero of the contest was lanky Andy Clovechok, sharp-shooting winger who blasted three dazzling shots past Legs Fraser in the Ottawa net, including the tying and winning markers. Billy Maher and Freddy Smitten tallied the other Edmonton goals, while Lude Check rammed home two for Senators with Eddie Emborg getting the other.

Barron $2,000 Richer After Tourney

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., May 10.—(AP).—Herman Barron, stocky professional who pleads his trade at nearby White Plains, N.Y., was $2,000 to the good after having administered a sound, honest beating Sunday to 15 other pros in the Goodall round robin tournament.

The best in the world were against him, yet after four days and 90 holes of match play Barron proved himself a doughty competitor by finishing with a "plus" total of 38—six better than that of his closest rival, Bobby Locke of South Africa.

Barron shot the fairly difficult Wykagyl Country Club course five times in scores of 70-69-71-71-74. Not only did he win on a match play basis, but his medal score of 355 was two shots better than that of Locke.

In Goodall tournaments the score is kept by matches, with each player striving against each of his three rivals on each round.

It has been possible for an extremely fortunate competitor to win the event because he drew the right opponents on the right day. On one occasion, in fact, a player who was next to last in the field of a medal basis actually won the big prize.

But this time there could be no recriminations. Of his 15 matches played in five rounds, Barron won 12 and lost only three, each of the last by one hole. He met two of his defeats in Sunday's final round at the talented hands of Ben Hogan and Vic Ghezzi.

Lawn Bowlers Preparing For Opening

By HERB MARTIN
Two weeks from today, Monday, May 24th, the 1948 season of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will be officially opened. By that time it is expected that everything will be ready. This year, as in other years, there has been a lot of work to do—the greens have to be made ready, the clubhouse prepared and many other jobs that are necessary have to be attended to.

We believe the bowlers will be surprised at the improvements they will see when they walk out to the greens on opening day. The new third green, 120' x 160'—new lights on all three greens, new water-washed smooth pebbles for the ditches, these are just some of them. We're going to make this statement: We believe that now the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club has the finest outlay and the finest set-up for lawn bowling to be found anywhere, and that takes in a lot of territory.

In a day or two each member will receive a letter from President Wm. Jeffries. There are just one or two items in it we wish to draw to the bowler's attention:

- 1—Be on time. That's been our theme song for many years.
- 2—Read your schedule book from cover to cover.
- 3—Be a sport—play the game, and take your losses as graciously as you would your wins. Everybody admits a good loser.

If we all follow the above advice, we are bound to have a most enjoyable summer.

Clover Leafs Win Basketball Title

MONTREAL, May 10 (CP).—British Columbia's supremacy in basketball remained unchallenged Saturday night when the Vancouver Clover Leafs, displaying flawless form, won the Dominion senior title by defeating the Montreal YMHA Blues, 58-34.

Climaxing a series that went to the limit before the Leafs finally won out 3-2 in games the victory marked the 19th time in 22 years that the West has won the Montreal Cup, emblematic of senior basketball supremacy in the Dominion.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

They're throwing big Hi Lee at the Masked Marvel in the main pro mat bout at the Brook Arena this Wednesday night. The tall Texan walks with his head in the clouds—if the ceiling is low—and bumps the beam at 300 pounds. The Mask is almost 260 himself and a right powerful villain. So it will be a battle of giants this time, as the Marvel tries to keep intact his undefeated record. Whoever he is, the Mask is no dub at the grapple game, but Lee is both experienced and strong, too. Mickey Gold goes against Wee Willie Davis—more mean poundage out of Hollywood—while the prelude has Jimmy (Red) Sims in against Bulldog Drummond. Should be quite a lively card before another big crowd.

Frank Dohane, 182 pounds now, is representing the CGE Social and Athletic Club, we're told by his manager, Ron Menzies. The latter and Frank also want to thank Bob Cotton, Stan Couper and Charles Brash for endorsing Frank's application for amateur status in Ontario, necessary for him to compete in Olympic boxing trials. He came from the Maritimes to Peterborough and needed an okay ere fighting on AU of C cards. Latter union, since he won in Toronto on Friday, now pays his expenses into the finals in Montreal the last of May, besides giving him a handsome trophy. He may do 10 days of training in a Toronto gym before going to Montreal. Jack Dugan, by the way, assisted Ron in handling Frank that last night.

Lindsay Lasses Back

Lindsay Lasses, after being rejected a week ago, are back in the local Girls' Softball League. Prexy Dot Miller told us Saturday that the Quakers wouldn't enter this semester, so a quick pool of executive and managers resulted in Lindsay's application being accepted, the Scugog squad playing all games here. Good stuff, and it should mean a faster circuit with but six local teams and two outside ones abroad. More good players concentrated on fewer teams. Setup is: Westclox, Woolens, Ashby's, CGE, Marines, Lock Co., Lakefield and Lindsay.

And the four-team men's loop opens at the Bowl on the morrow after supper. De Laval vs. Knights start at seven, resuming where they left last fall, while Legion takes on the new B-A entry along about nine bells under the lights. Quamby at the plate and Dorrner on bases as umpires in the opener, with Wood at home and Calladine on the lines for the night. In the Thursday twin bill, Morin and Batley handle the first fray; with Phelan and Ranger looking after the later one. Umps unable to make it for a game are to notify Prexy Pat Calladine in ample time.

Keeping 'Em Moving

Faster fixtures and fewer delays are promised Bowl fans this season in both the girls' and men's softball circuits. Herb Payne always did keep the colleens hustling, but the male arbiters were lax last season. So much so that the executive went on record this spring stating penalties would be handed out to teams late for games or guilty of stalling. And the umpires are all on a two-week trial period in which they must not only show their ability to umpire well but be held responsible for late starts and for unnecessary delays during tilts. The fans will be in hearty accord with this move, and so will folks in the neighborhood who wish to get to sleep by 11 p.m. or so.

Uniforms will be handed out tonight on several fronts for the men's opening. Haven't heard from De Laval, but no doubt they're doing likewise. Knights pass their suits out at 6.15 this p.m. at the Orphanage diamonds, while the B-A does the same at a 6.30 Bowl practice tonight. And Legionnaires get their uniforms this eve at six at the Legion Hall. By the way, Howie Dalton has Tom Walton and Bob Parnell for catching this semester, with Tom Parsons, Bob Greenlaw and himself pitching. Ken Withers will be at first, Reg Moore on second, Don Pagett at short and Doug Loucks on third. Russ Scriver, Bill Lewis and Jack White in the garden, with Dalton and Baz Murphy utility men. Maybe one or two more yet.

COBL-ers Get Ready

COBL schedule was drawn up in Belleville over the week-end and will be published in a day or two. The Batavia-Belleville club opens against the Petes here on May 24, a 10.15 game in order not to clash with the Jay-Cees' field day in Morrow Park. Opening ceremony, et al. It was emphasized that games must commence on time. Visiting club takes the field 35 minutes before game time, using 10 minutes for batting practice and 10 for an infield, the home club having a 10-minute infield workout. Trophies will go to the most valuable player and the leading hitter. Petes practice tonight and Wednesday at 6.15, open workouts, and at two Saturday aft.

GRAB-BAG: Lacrossers drill at seven tonight. All batman lacrossers, 12 to 14, register from 5.00 to 5.30 tonight with Vert Reynolds at the George St. wharf. CGE took a soccer match 3-1 in Lindsay on Sat'day; meeting at 7.30 this eve in the "Y". Harriers Club info in elsewhere tonight. In the CBA tourney in Toronto on Saturday, the Plaza from here rolled 3648 but had to settle for fifth place. Maurice Walsh refereed 141 OHA tilts last winter. Edmonton took Ottawa for the Allan Cup. Industrial softball entries close at a "Y" meeting tonight at eight. Junior baseballers of the south and west sections practice at 6.30 to-night in Morrow Park; those of the east and north go at 6.15 tonight and Thursday in Riverside. Intermediates, who open in Colborne on May 24, drill at 6.15 p.m. Tuesday in Riverside, open to all. Northend batmans, midgets and juveniles go to the Oval at 6.15 Tuesday night. A 15-team CGE Shop Softball League is operating; little interest shown there in girls' play. Hi-Y senior cagers took the Belleville club 51-39 here Saturday; return match in Belleville a week from Friday. That does it.

Feller Rated No. 1 Gate Attraction

NEW YORK, May 10—(AP).—Leslie O'Connor, Chicago White Sox vice-president, rates Cleveland's Bob Feller as the No. 1 gate attraction in the American League. Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio are tied for second, in O'Connor's estimation, and Hal Newhouse is next—but far behind the top three. Concerning Newhouse's lack of appeal, O'Connor says: "He's a puzzle. We don't draw an extra nickie when he comes here with Newhouse pitching. A good pitcher, but not the type fans flock to see."

Joe Vella, manager of Gus Lesnevich, sadly contends that Jersey Joe Walcott will take the heavyweight title from Joe Louis when they meet again. "You can't get in shape without hard fights and Louis couldn't get any hard fights," said Vella. "Maybe Gus could have licked him if he'd been in there instead of Walcott." Harrington, Bel., where the eastern harness racing season opened last week, has only about 1500 population but there were 3,741 cash customers on hand opening night. Frank Quinn, Yale's star pitcher, turned down $35,000 from the Yankees in order to stay in school—and all he'll get at Yale is an education.

Bob Porterfield Sensational; Blanks Wings

By The Associated Press

Next stop, Yankee Stadium—that's what the experts are saying about Bob Porterfield, sensational rookie right-hander of Newark Bears.

Porterfield, property of New York Yankees, has won half of the Bears' eight games in convincing fashion.

The lanky hurler has pitched three consecutive shutouts and hasn't yielded a run in 31 straight innings. All told, in 36 innings Porterfield has allowed only two runs.

Sunday, he pitched his third shutout, a three-hit 6-0 victory over Rochester Red Wings in the opening game of a double-header.

Max Surkont worked the first eight innings for Rochester, allowing only four hits, including a bases empty homer by Ken Silvestri.

The Wings, however, took the second game, 8-3, with Ray Yochim and Johnny Mikan limiting the Bears to five blows while the Wings collected 11 off four Newark hurlers including a round-tripper by Russ Derry.

Take Doubleheader

Meanwhile, Montreal Royals cut the first-place margin of Syracuse Chiefs to a half game by taking both ends of a double-header from Baltimore Orioles while the Chiefs beat Jersey City Giants, 3-2.

The Royals trounced the Orioles, 12-2 in the first game and 4-2 in the second with Jack Bala and Hank Behrmann respectively, gaining credit for the victories.

In the opener, Kevin Connors, Walt Sess and Bloodworth homered with Connors' blow coming with the bases loaded. In the second game Al Gionfriddo clouted a two-run four-bagger in the first inning.

Five double plays aided the Chiefs in nipping the Giants. Bud Beiber received credit for his fourth victory in as many starts but Hal Erickson saved the game for him by getting Sal Yvars to hit into a game ending double play.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bisons divided a double-header, the Bisons taking the first game, 6-2 and the Leafs the second, 3-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Bubba Church.

Stan Lopata hit a home run for the Leafs in the first game and Hank Blassatti one in the second tilt.

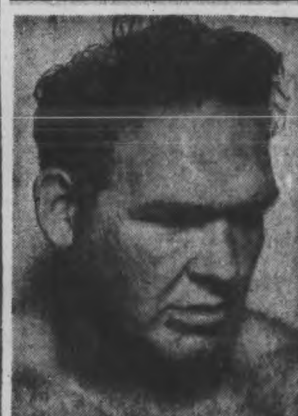

Walter Cassels Gets Wrestling Victory

TORONTO, May 10—(CP).—Walter Cassels of the University of Toronto captured the feature bout of the Ontario amateur wrestling championships here Saturday by throwing N. O'Connor of Central YMCA in seven minutes.

Norm May of Toronto West End Y defeated E. Usher and R. Hayward of Toronto Central Y to win the 125½-pound title. Morgan Plumb of the RCAF won the 147-pound championships with Harry Peace of Toronto West End Y taking top honor in the 160-pound class.

EOASA President

RENFREW, May 10—(CP).—Leslie Mitchell of Brockville on Sunday was elected president of the Eastern Ontario Amateur Softball Association, succeeding Clem Eady of Renfrew. Others elected at the annual meeting were: First vice-president, Wilf Burke, Ottawa; second vice-president, R. A. Corbett, Smiths Falls; third vice-president, Larry O'Dair, Cornwall; secretary-treasurer, Gerald Leeder, Brockville.

TO MEET GOLD—Wee Willie Davis, pictured above, who will meet Mickey Gold in the semi-final bout Wednesday at the Brook Arena. Gold made a big hit in his first appearance here and Wee Willie needs no introduction to local fans. Of course, the main interest centres in the duel between the Masked Marvel and Hi Lee. By far the largest wrestler yet to meet the Mask, Lee is big and fearless. But the Marvel is also powerful and one of the most ruthless in the ring, stopping at nothing to keep his identity hidden. It should be a honey of a match. Jimmy (Red) Sims clashes with Bulldog Drummond in the opener of this classy card.

Canadian Golf Fans Hopeful Native Will Win Top Event

By The Canadian Press

Canadian golf fans, ever hopeful that a native may win the country's premier event—the Canadian open—will keep a close watch this summer on such hopefuls as Rudy Horvath, Harold Eidsvig, Stan Leonard, Bob Gray, Jerry Kesselring, Bill Ezinicki and Joe Poulin.

Perhaps one of these shotmakers will come through with the added "oomph" to annex Canada's top golf award.

It has been a long time—34 years—since Ottawa's Karl Keefe copped the trophy for Canada. Bobby Locke, a South African, won it last year to break a long run of American triumphs.

As the 1948 tournament season opens, a Canadian Press survey shows amateurs, professionals and juniors crowding the country's courses. As in past years, the Canadian open will be held toward the end of the season. Vancouver's Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club will be host club for the $10,000 classic Sept. 22-25.

First in Vancouver

The Vancouver Golf Club is the scene of the first amateur tournament for the provincial title there May 21-24. Pros and amateurs go after the B.C. open title at Vancouver's Quilchena course July 11.

Professional, amateur and junior golfers all get into the swim at Dartmouth June 28-30 when Nova Scotia provincial titles will be decided.

Quebec's annual spring open is slated for Montreal's Laval-Sur-Lac June 4, and the amateur at St. Lambert's July 25-27. The open championship gets under way at Islemeur August 13.

Horvath, who won both the Ontario and Quebec amateur titles last season, will be a favorite along with Frank Zak to win the Western Ontario amateur slated for Windsor late in July. He will also command a strong following in the Ontario amateur championships slated for Toronto's Rosedale Golf Club June 23-25.

Ontario's open, won last year by Toronto's Scarborough Bob O'neil, will be played at his club July 8-9 to be followed by the ladies' championships slated for Ottawa August 13 and 14.

Canadian junior championship play is scheduled for the Hamilton Golf Club at Ancaster July 12 with the Canadian amateur over the same course July 13-17. Kesselring copped the junior title last year with the Canadian amateur going to Toledo's Frank Stranahan.

Electrics Take 3-1 Win Over Lindsay

CGE pulled out a 3-1 soccer victory in Lindsay on Saturday before a slim attendance. The pitch was insecure and a snowstorm made visibility poor at times. Willis, W. Wilson and Cotton sparked the winners this game while Hamilton stood out in goal for the homesters.

Play had progressed for nine minutes before there was a score, McPhate feeding a perfect pass to Cotton, who rattled it into the net. Welland hit the post and Steel tested Hamilton in close. Lindsay drove hard, and after Thomas hit the cross-bar, Moir scored on the rebound to end the period 1-1.

Strongly received the ball from Chamberlain after five minutes of play and raced down the wing to put a perfect centre over to Cotton, who scored with a beautiful header. Lindsay fought back but, with only five minutes to go, A. Wilson gave a long pass to Cotton, who passed over to Strong and the latter counted with a low shot. Lindsay disputed this one, claiming it was offside. Referee Jack Downer said it couldn't be offside as the Lindsay full-back played the ball last. Lindsay was awarded a penalty but Francis missed and it ended 3-1.

CGE—A. Greenman, goal; S. McGann and S. Murdoch, full backs; J. Chamberlain, W. Wilson and A. Wilson, half backs; R. Strong, H. Steel, A. Welland, E. Cotton and T. McPhate, forwards.

Lindsay—T. Hamilton, goal; N. Barbee and L. Francis, full backs; T. Dobbie, L. Willis and H. Taylor, half backs; N. Thomas, E. Berrie, R. Cox and G. Moir, forwards.

Referee—Jack Downer.

CAPTURE HARNESS LAURELS

Trotter Rodney and Pacer Dr. Stanton captured all the laurels in world record performances for the grand circuit harness racers Saturday at Arcadia, Calif. Rodney, owned by R. H. Johnson of Charlotte, N.C., won the $50,000 Golden West Trot, wheeling off the 1¼ miles in record time of 2:31 3-5.

Ken Heintzelman, Phillies' Meyer held New York Giants to three hits in pitching Chicago to a 2-0 victory and leading the Cubs out of the National League cellar. Athletics Mow 'Em Down Trounce Tigers In 2 Games

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
This is Connie Mack's 26th year—his 64th in baseball—and it promises to be one of his happiest. The venerable manager of Philadelphia Athletics must be having the time of his life watching his "castoff crew" making monkeys out of the so-called class of the American League.

Following Sunday's double victory over Detroit Tigers, 10-5 and 5-3, the Athletics actually lead the first-place Cleveland Indians by half a game. The percentage table, however, shows the Indians in front by eight points. Sunday's victories brought Philadelphia's winning streak to eight, longest for the A's since their last pennant winning year in 1931.

Eddie Joost of the Athletics hit safely in each game to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 15 games.

Joe Coleman and rookie Lou Brissie were the winning pitchers, each going the route.

Surprise Red Sox

The Indians surprised Joe McCarthy's Red Sox by coming from behind to capture both ends of their doubleheader, 4-1, 9-5. Trailing 1-0 on Ted Williams' fourth-inning home run, the Indians drew even in the next stanza when Ken Keltner connected for the first of his three home runs. Keltner's second four-base knock came in the 10th inning and sparked a three-run rally which enabled Bob Feller to gain his third victory.

Williams' second home run and seventh of the season gave the Red Sox a brief 5-2 lead in the second game, but the Indians came back with three round trippers to win. Keltner clouted his ninth of the season with one on; Larry Doby cracked his fourth, also with one on, and Joe Tipton hit the other with two on.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved into first place in the National League by downing Boston Braves 6-4 while the Cubs were shutting out New York Giants 2-0 in Chicago. Trailing 3-2, the Cards tallied four times in the last half of the seventh to gain the decision. Russ Meyer handed the Giants their first whitewashing of the season, holding them to three singles.

Trounce Chicago
New York Yankees trounced Chicago White Sox 8-0 as Frank Shea pitched hitless ball for 6 2/3 innings, to record his first shut-out and second victory. Charlie

Breneman Show Taken Over By Garry Moore

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 10 (AP)—Garry Moore, the bright, brush-haired young comic chosen to replace the late Tom Breneman on the "Breakfast in Hollywood" air show, faces his new job with trepidation.

"I was really on the spot when I accepted the job," he says. "I could imagine everyone saying: 'You stupid jerk, what do you mean by trying to imitate Breneman.'"

"I'm not another Breneman. I could not be. The essence of Tom was sympathy and sentiment. I am a comic, and I'll have to build the show that way."

Garry is an unwilling convert to the ranks of radio MCS. He started as a radio writer in his home town, Baltimore, and was placed before a mike to fill in for a sick performer. His glib style caught on, but when he moved on to St. Louis, he again tried to stick to writing. They would not let him.

He inherited Phil Baker's spot on "Take It or Leave It" and now Breneman's show. He will try to avoid the killing pace of the early morning show, by recording it at 9:30 a.m. for broadcast the following day. That will get him out of the hay at 7:30.

Sights and Sounds

Mary Jayne Saunders (Little Miss Marker) receiving her first fan mail... Tom Drake meeting Richard Rodgers, whom Tom portrays in "Words and Music"... Clark Gable and Walter Pidgeon endlessly practising their lines together for long scenes in "Command Decision"...

George Murphy dusting off his tap shoes to dance at the police show... Bette Davis looking whistable in her Edith head designs for "June Bride"... Gene Autry's spurs sounding like Santa Claus as he walks across the "Loaded Pistols" set.

DRUMS PRESENTED TO "HAIDA" BY EIGHT PROVINCES—A set of drums and a trophy for swimming competition were presented to HMCS Haida famed Tribal class destroyer of the Royal Canadian Navy, recently, by Hon. L. D. Currie, KC, Attorney-General and Minister of Labor for Nova Scotia, on behalf of the Ministers of Mines of eight Canadian provinces. The drums and trophy were presented as a token of appreciation for the courtesy and hospitality shown by the officers and men of "Haida" when the provincial ministers of mines and representatives of the Canadian mining industry were taken on a three-hour voyage on board the destroyer, during their annual convention at Kelic Lodge, Ingonish, Nova Scotia, last September. Mr. Currie is shown reading telegrams from the mines ministers of the various provinces to the ship's company of "Haida" during the course of the ceremony. At his right are Rear Admiral C. R. H. Taylor, CBE, RCN, Flag Officer Atlantic Coast, and J. P. Messervy, Nova Scotia Deputy Minister of Mines. At his left are Dr. A. E. Cameron, president of Nova Scotia Technical College, and Lieutenant Commander A. E. Pickard, OBE, RCN, Commanding Officer of "Haida."

11 Fatalities Reported Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Eleven fatalities were reported in Eastern Canada during the week-end, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

Four of the deaths were in automobile accidents, drownings took three lives, railways figured in two other deaths, a workman died of injuries suffered in a fall and a baby was burned to death in northwestern Ontario.

Mrs. Gustave Polson, wife of the Quebec deputy minister of social welfare and youth, was killed and her husband suffered injuries in an automobile collision near Belleville Sunday night.

When a truck veered off the road and crashed into a tree near Kingston, Lionel Richards, 29, of Gananoque was killed and Arthur Cook, 18, and his sister, Ethel Cook, 17, were injured.

Hubert B. Urtel of Buffalo, N.Y., and Waslaw Dominich, 31, of London, Ont., were fatally injured in separate traffic mishaps Saturday.

Drowning Victims

The drowning victims were Leo Lefebvre, 25, of North Bay, who lost his life on a fishing trip to Mattawa and Yves Desrochers, five, and Robert Desrochers, two, Montreal brother and sister whose bodies were found in the St. Lawrence River.

Struck by a train on a trestle in Toronto, Leo Robb, 55, was killed Saturday. C. Riccio, 63-year-old Canadian National Railways sectionman from Parry Sound was killed and a companion was injured when a work car was derailed 45 miles north of Parry Sound.

The five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rosaire Morin was burned to death in a tarpaper shack at Hearst. A neighbor, Lucien Lafamme, 40, suffered burns about the head in a vain rescue attempt.

Death of Albert Douie, 53, Toronto carpenter, was attributed to injuries suffered in a fall from a scaffold.

High Chair Used For A Pulpit

PAUDASH LAKE, May 10 (Special)—Next fall will see the culmination of a year's dogged, individual effort on the part of a Toronto couple when a church is built in this little hamlet. The planned St. John's United Church of Paudash Lake will be the final step in a series of places of worship which ranged from private homes to a rural school building now being used for Sunday School classes.

It all started a year ago when Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Colquhoun of Toronto took up permanent residence in the tiny community. Seeing the lack and need of some form of religious service there, Mrs. Colquhoun held a service every Sunday in the various homes. In some cases, a baby's highchair was used as the simple pulpit for the service.

A few months ago, Mr. C. A. Robb of Apsley began conducting the services on alternate Sundays, relieving Mrs. Colquhoun of her self-imposed work. One resident commented gratefully on her work: "Through her own efforts, she's brought God's word into the homes of our people."

The enthusiasm of the Toronto woman has spread, with the plans for the new church building progressing well.

A special Mother's Day service is to be held this Sunday in the school.

Why Discriminating Men Prefer...

Penmans
Fine Knitted Cotton
(BALBRIGGAN)
UNDERWEAR

Discriminating men choose Penmans Fine Knitted Cotton (balbriggan) Underwear because its porous-knit fabric keeps outer clothing from becoming rumpled and perspiration stained. They appreciate the extra comfort, too, because this underwear helps keep the body dry and cool, and is tailored to permit unhampered movement.

Supplies are still limited but are equitably distributed among regular Penmans dealers.

Forrestal Takes Rain Check On Canadian Invitation

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, May 8—(CP)—One of Washington's hardest-working men was so busy he found he couldn't get up to Ottawa this week-end for top-level talks and perhaps a game of golf. But he took a rain check on the Canadian invitation and promised to come later. He is James Vincent Forrestal, the 56-year-old Secretary of Defence for the United States, an Irishman with a broken nose and a tough reputation. His normal working days runs to 12 or 13 hours, seven days a week.

Forrestal comes here at the invitation of Defence Minister Claxton, who also has a peculiar penchant for golf. "No day," Mr. Claxton has been heard to sigh, "ever is quite long enough."

Nobody has said publicly just what Forrestal will be talking over with the Canadian Defence Minister and others of the Cabinet, but it is expected to range over a wide field of defence topics.

DEMAND FOR COAL

Local coal companies got an upsurge of business on Saturday and again this morning as citizens ordered more coal to cope with the latest cold and damp spell. On Sunday night the temperature fell to 35 degrees above zero—only three short of the freezing mark.

CHILLY BLOSSOM SUNDAY

Blossom Sunday in the Niagara Peninsula is looked forward to every year by thousands of southern Ontario motorists who make a special trip to see the fruit trees in blossom. Thousands of trees were in full bloom on Sunday but the weather was so cold that it cut down the usual number of sightseers.

COIS YNOTORISTS

Residents of Ashburnham have complained to police that often late at night two or more cars on Armour Hill cause a great deal of noise. They have reported constant horn-blowing which has disturbed that neighborhood. Police Chief John Thompson has advised them that night traffic police will be detailed to investigate the offenders.

AN ODD MISHAP

Accidental loosening of a trailer being towed by a car caused about $90 damage to a parked truck Saturday afternoon. The car, that of John G. Sackville, 22 Maria St., was on Charlotte St. when the trailer was released, striking the truck of A. H. Porteous, RR 2, Omemee. Two fenders and the back panel of the truck was damaged.

REMEMBER MOTHER'S DAY

Apparently Peterborough mothers were not forgotten on Mother's Day. Candy and confectionery merchants report largest sales since the war despite the fact that Saturday was a poor shopping day because of the cold and drizzle. A floral company said it was sold out so great was the demand. Roses and carnations were the favorite bouquets of elder people while young children chose plants.

REDUCED MARKET ON SATURDAY

Rain, wind and cold are believed to have been responsible for a greatly reduced market on Saturday. The special Mother's Day market, which consisted mainly of flowers, was described as "spoiled". There was a moderate amount of flowers, box plants, and seed potatoes. Chickens were selling at 38-40c lb., and eggs were retailing at 40-45c, according to size.

COLORFUL INDIAN PASSES—Daniel Whetung, 71, of Curve Lake Indian Reserve, died Sunday in hospital. He maintained a splendid record as tribal chief for 25 consecutive years, was general storekeeper and postmaster for 30 years and proprietor of Whetung Lodge.

CCF CANDIDATE
Clare (Mike) Ridley was nominated as CCF candidate at Belleville to contest the riding of Hastings West. It was decided no candidate would be nominated in Hastings East.

Tribal Chief For 25 Years Dan Whetung Dies At 71

The most colorful Indian figure in the county, Daniel Whetung, 71, of Curve Lake Reserve, died Sunday in hospital after a lingering illness. He was not only a leader of his people, being Chief of the Reserve for 25 years, but proud of his heritage and was able to combine the lore of the past with modern day business in the fields of general merchandising and tourist resort fields. He was born on the Reserve, son of the late Chief Daniel and Mrs. Whetung, and spent a lifetime there.

Upon retirement of his father as Chief, he took the office which normally lasts for a three-year term and he was so efficient and popular in his running of the Reserve's affairs that he was re-elected eight times in succession. After 25 years in office he retired due to ill health. Together with the routine of Indian Affairs work he continued with his father's business at the general store and acted as Postmaster for 30 years, and also operated Whetung Lodge—a popular summer resort patronized by tourists for many years. At various times he went to the Akron Sportsmen's Show, representing the district and was guest of various American sportsmen who had been his guests from time to time.

He was a well-known figure at any large gathering of an outdoor nature and appeared in tribal costume of which he was justly proud. Like his father, his was the knowledge of the Wilds and he was famous for his interest in conservation of fish and game and the forecasting of the season's weather.

Mr. Whetung leaves his wife, the former Muriel E. Jones of Buckhorn, two sons, Clifford and Murray and a brother, Albert, all of Curve Lake Reservation. He was a member of Curve Lake

Safe-Crackers Draw A Blank

Quite a period of strenuous effort was wasted sometime Friday night as thieves attempted in vain to crack a big safe at the Artists' Colour Co. Limited offices, 241 Dublin St. The attempt was discovered early Sunday morning by the proprietor, A. H. Thompson, who had returned to see any mail. He had not been there since Friday evening.

Entrance was gained by lifting a window. From there, the prowlers made their way to the office, where they began their determined attempts on the safe. Removing the hinges, there must have been some disarray at the discovery that this move did not open the door. So, the weighty item was turned on its side and the visitors vigorously started to chip through the plaster-like bottom covering.

After these efforts, they must have discovered that under the chipped material there was a solid steel floor to the safe. They left in disgust, taking only a small drill.

REPAIR RIPRAP

Armar Butcher, parks superintendent, has been asked by parks committee of the council to prepare an estimate of the cost of repairing the riprap at Little Lake. Two soil drains from nearby streets broke through the riprap and as a result of frost heaved the stone facing the bank about a foot. Mr. Butcher has also found brush taking root here and there in the crevices. Maintenance of the riprap was undertaken by the council in an agreement with the Dominion government, who paid the cost of the construction.

Duffus, Drury Supporting Charles Elliott

Senator J. J. Duffus and W. V. Drury, son of the Hon. E. C. Drury, leader of the Farmer-Labor Government of Ontario, offered their services at the Liberal rally Saturday night to assist in the election of Chas. H. Elliott. Mr. Drury is a resident of Smith township.

"We are fortunate in having in this riding a candidate of the character and fine reputation of Charles Elliott," Senator Duffus said. "He is widely known in both the county and city, and I may say that it is not easy to obtain a man who meets with the general approval of the people as Mr. Elliott does. He is the calibre of representative we need in the government of this province. I know that if he is elected he will give to all the people and to all the sections of the county the earnest effort and service which he puts into his undertakings, and will prove worthy of the trust they place in him."

You all know his fine reputation, and I believe it is going to bring him to the top of the polls on June 7. A motherly woman told me this afternoon, "I just love Mr. Elliott," and I believe there are many others just like that lady. When a candidate has the women interested in his success, he has a big asset on his side."

Lauds Oliver

Senator Duffus declared that Liberals were not saying enough about their provincial leader, Farquhar Oliver. "We are proud not only of our candidate but also our leader. I have known both of them a long time. They appear to have one thing in common. They are modest men who do not go about sounding their own praises. Farquhar Oliver has been in public life 20 years, and his reputation is higher today than ever. That tells a great deal about him. He wears well with the people. I feel that Mr. Oliver has the makings of a real statesman."

Senator Duffus said he considered that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission was an issue in this election. "I was a member of the city council when Sir Adam Beck, a great Conservative of this province, was leading the battle to give electric power at cost to the people of Ontario. The late William Butler was mayor of Peterborough, and I had the honor of following him. Mr. Butler was a busy man, and in his mayoralty he asked me to represent him at various Hydro meetings throughout the province. Our young people who have grown up since then are not aware of the facts of Hydro. Sir Adam Beck said Hydro-Electric Power would be owned by the people. It was not owned by the government, but by the power consumers, although the government was to keep an eye on it. Sir Adam's ideal was that Hydro power was to be free from politics. Now, Mr. Drew is muddying it up, and it is not free from politics as Sir Adam Beck planned."

Candidate Speaks

The candidate, Mr. Elliott, touched on this point in his talk to the meeting. One of the 22 planks of Mr. Drew in the last provincial election was a promise to take the Hydro out of politics. It was forgotten like most of the others. The present Hydro Commissioners are: Ross Strike of Bowmanville, a defeated Conservative candidate in Durham county; George Coadles, Conservative Cabinet Minister and Robert Saunders, ex-mayor of Toronto. On the other hand, Mr. Oliver has promised that, if elected, he will appoint a representative of Hydro-Electric municipalities to the Hydro Commission. They have an organization and Mr. Oliver intended to give them direct representation.

To assist new housing the Liberals would assume municipal taxes on buildings exceeding $100,000, and on land and local improvement rates. The period would be five years for war veterans and four years for other private builders and payment was on costs not exceeding $6,000 within the next two years.

Compensation Benefits
Mr. Elliott said Mr. Oliver would increase benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act from 66 2-3 to 75 per cent, and would cut from 7 days to 3 the period before payments begin. He would also co-operate, with the Dominion government in a national labor code, industrial employees would be given two weeks' vacation annual with pay after two years of continuous employment with the same employer.

Mr. Elliott said he was grateful for the many letters, telephone calls and personal assurances of support since he became the Liberal candidate.

Maj.-Gen. Vokes To Inspect PCVS Cadets

Major-General Chris Vokes, CB, CBE, DSO, General Officer Commanding Central Command will be inspecting officer for the annual inspection of the PCVS Cadet Corp on Wednesday afternoon.

The inspection program, on the Collegiate and Armories grounds, begins at two o'clock. General salute will be taken by Major-General Vokes. The ceremonial includes inspection, march past in column of platoons, advance in review order, march off the flag, company and platoon drill. The Corp's bugle band will attend. A mass physical training display by the battalion will be given.

Other demonstrations scheduled are map-reading, rifle drill, range discipline, mechanics of marksmanship. Combat demonstrations will feature 3.7 heavy anti-aircraft guns against enemy aircraft and a battle rifle squad will attack an enemy anti-aircraft gun position.

New Trophy

Leading the list of trophies and prizes to be presented is a newly-created award—the Strathcona General Efficiency Trophy. This trophy, to be awarded annually, goes to the Cadet Corps judged to be the most efficient in its class in its military area. As this judgment was made of the Peterborough Corps last year, it will be presented during the inspection ceremonies.

Other awards to be made are: the IODE trophy for the best company, with a replica to the company commander; the Col. J. A. Dewar trophy to the best shot in the battalion; the Strathcona medal for the best shot; the Major G. Johnston trophy for highest efficiency in the area.

Capt. R. C. Graves, cadet training officer of Eastern Ontario Area, will also be inspecting officer.

MOTH

TINEA PELLIONELLA

Two species occur in Canada: the webbing moth and the cast-making clothes moth. One is entirely pale buff or straw color, the other grayish yellow with distinct dark spots on the forewings. They cause incalculable damage to wools, furs, cereal and nuts. Moths are the nightmare of many housewives and food-manufacturing establishments. They thrive on dust and dry air. The darker the hide-out the better they spin. . . . to your sorrow. They recognize no seasons in homes and industries and do their damage throughout the year.

The life of a moth takes in four principal stages. The egg, the larva or worm, the pupa, the flying moth (adult). This entire cycle covers anywhere from two months to several years, depending upon conditions. It is the moth larva or worm that does damage. The flying moth lives only for one or two weeks during which time their sole function is to lay eggs.

Moths affect clothing, carpets, upholstered furniture, piano felts, foodstuffs, etc. There is no product on the market today that gives 100 per cent protection against moths such was the unanimous pronouncement of the chemical and textile experts in a forum recently held in New York. Tell your troubles to a specialist, he'll do the work right.

Otonabee Council Favors High School District Votes Approval At Meeting

Otonabee Council gave its approval last week to a project of including the township in a high school district. A motion to that purpose by Allen Eason, Establishment of a high school district was outlined by Mr. G. L. Duggin of the secondary schools branch of the Ontario Department of Education, accompanying Mr. K. O. Birkin, school inspector.

Advantages of the larger schools and their areas, include better facilities for teaching and study; more courses; improved agricultural courses; adequate transportation. If Peterborough county adopts the high school plan, probably three districts would be considered—one in the Lakefield area; another in the Norwood-Havelock area; and a third in suburban Peterborough, on some site most convenient to the majority of the secondary school children of Otonabee and North Monaghan. Part of Otonabee township, possibly from the Villiers road easterly, might be transferred to the Norwood-Havelock area.

Reeve W. W. Dawson presided. A motion by Deputy-Reeve Harry McIntyre, seconded by Councillor Stewart, granted $25 to Millbrook Agricultural Society.

The road superintendent was instructed in a resolution by Mr. Stewart, seconded by Mr. McIntyre, to make necessary arrangements for the reduction of the hill on the new road across the 12th concession in the neighborhood of the new RC church of the Assumption.

This is the road on which Mr. Leonard Clancy suffered an injury several weeks ago in felling a tree. The superintendent was also asked to clean out the ditches. The fire protection committee was directed to continue getting information ready to be presented Faster schedules and more seats available than ever before mark the culmination of two years' planning and training and the accomplishment of a major goal in T.C.A.'s postwar program. To the left is the forward portion of the beautifully-appointed passenger cabin. Below is the new sky queen with her four sleek Rolls-Royce engines capable of turning up 7,000 horsepower.

The North Star is air-conditioned, or "pressurized" to simulate low-altitude atmospheric conditions even when flying over 20,000 feet. Cruising speeds up to 300 miles an hour will remake the aerial map of Canada.

Will Survey Moira River Watershed This Summer

TWEED, May 10.—Cancelled last autumn due to a delay in completing a similar project on the Ausable river near London, the survey of the Moira river watershed, will commence at an early date. Tweed has been chosen as the headquarters for this watershed survey by the government authorities and steps toward the establishment of the camp started last week.

Forty men, mostly university students, will be in the field at Stooce Lake for the next three months.

The survey camp, which is the seventh of its kind to be established in Ontario, is now being set up by the conservation branch of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development.

H. F. Crown, conservationist of the department, is now engaged in setting up the camp.

The survey party, of which there will be four main sections, will arrive in Tweed this week. C. E. Bush will be in charge of the hydraulic survey; A. S. L. Barnes, the forestry survey; K. M. Mayall, fish and wildlife; and W. J. Creswick, soil. Mr. Mayall will thoroughly investigate the possibility of community parks and recreational facilities along the stream. The portion of the watershed likely to be surveyed is that south of No. 7 Highway although plans in this connection, may be altered and there is a possibility that it may be extended to include the Skootamatta river leading to Loon Lake.

The aerial survey, which is basic to the present operation, was completed in 1946. A thorough report will be submitted and recommendations made when the current survey is completed. The chief value of the undertaking is in establishing a policy for future adoption.

The first meeting to consider a survey was held in Tweed in 1945 when officials of the County of Hastings, the city of Belleville and adjacent municipalities, heard it discussed by authorities. Subsequent meetings were held by RAINED OUT — Margaret Simpkins, 4, standing on a rubberized mat to keep her feet dry, looks over her water-soaked room before going to sleep with "Mummy and Daddy." The Simpkins family is one of four rained out houses, built by Wartime Housing after a heavy rainstorm in Montreal recently. The day before the downpour contractors ripped open the roofs and started to erect new ones. The chilled, wet families were told, in consolation, that the rain was an "act of God," they said. But they want to know who is going to pay for the damage to their furnishings. One of the roofs under repair was new three months ago, and the family says there was no need to change it.

Publisher J. E. Atkinson Dies At 82 After Outstanding Career

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP).—Joseph E. Atkinson, who built two of Canada's most successful newspapers in a publishing career of almost half a century, died Saturday at the age of 82.

The wealthy newspaper man had been at his office daily until a few days ago, keeping closely in touch with his newspapers, the Daily Star and the Star Weekly. He died of a heart condition from which he had suffered in recent years.

A publishing genius, he took the Toronto Star in 1899 when it was a starving paper of 7,000 circulation and made it Canada's biggest and wealthiest newspaper with a circulation of more than 360,000. He founded the equally-successful Star Weekly which now, in its 38th year, has a circulation of 900,000.

Paying tribute to him last night, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said Mr. Atkinson was "a great journalist, a zealous reformer and a true Canadian." Victor Sifton, president of the Canadian Press and publisher, called him "one of the towering figures from the newspaper business in this country."

Father Killed
Mr. Atkinson was born Dec. 23, 1865 near Newcastle, the youngest of eight children of a miller who was killed by a train when the boy was six months old. His mother operated a boarding house to raise her children and died when Joseph was 14.

years he gradually bought up the stock at varying figures and in 1916 held more than half of it. He later acquired all but a small amount.

He Prospered

With a stock capital of only $200,000, the Star so prospered that by 1929 it was able to move into its $4,500,000 skyscraper on King Street without debt.

A small, quiet, retiring man whom the public seldom saw, Mr. Atkinson set forth in his papers advanced views on such subjects as tolerance of minority opinion and public ownership. The circulation of his papers was increased by his efforts to right local grievances, but he never hesitated to oppose majority opinion for causes in which he believed.

Mr. Atkinson's wife, the former Elmina Elliott, a pioneer Canadian newspaper woman, died in 1931. They had two children, Ruth, the wife of H. C. Hindmarsh, and Joseph S. Atkinson. Both Joseph S. Atkinson and Mr. Hindmarsh are vice-presidents of the Toronto Star Limited of which the elder Atkinson was the president. He is also survived by five grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Timothy Eaton Memorial Church at 3 p.m. tomorrow. Interment will be at Oakville Cemetery in nearby Oakville.

Conservatives May Embarrass Labor Government Over Telegram

By JAMES MCCOOK

LONDON, May 10.—(CP).—The Conservatives will rub salt into the wounds of the Labor Government next Thursday when the question of the Nenni telegram comes before the House of Commons. The Opposition motion for an inquiry into the telegram of support sent during the Italian election campaign to Pietro Nenni, leader of the pro-Communist Socialists, will be debated at a time when the Government party is anxious that the whole business should be forgotten. But political circles said it appeared that the end of the dispute within the Labor Party is a long way off.

The national executive's expulsion of J. F. Platts-Mills, Labor member for Finsbury, from the party and the "obey or get out" ultimatum to 21 other members who signed the telegram has left injured feelings on both sides.

The 21—only a small fraction of the 396 Labor members of the House—kept their party standing by promising to be good. But in published letters they were notably critical of the national executive, which includes cabinet ministers.

Kaps Executive
Capt. Geoffrey Bing, member of Hornchurch, for instance wrote that Labor members had not been informed that the party frowned on support of the Nenni Socialists during the election. The 21 were accused of defying party policy by sending the telegram.

"I cannot undertake that I will always agree with whatever the national executive may do," said Bing acidly.

The 21 letters will be studied by the national executive this day before the Commons debate, which was forced by the Conservatives who raise the question whether the Commons' privileges were violated by sending of the telegram. The Opposition will ask an inquiry into statements by some Labor members that their names were placed on the Nenni telegram without their consent.

Say Rail Embargo Has Little Effect

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP).—The ban on shipment of poultry and perishable goods to the United States, imposed during the week-end by Canadian railways, is expected to have little immediate effect in this area. The embargo resulted from the threat of a United States railway strike.

Spokesmen for livestock shipping concerns said no commercial livestock has been moving to the United States when the embargo went into effect. Poultrymen said no eggs have been going to the United States "for some time" and only a few carloads of dressed poultry were ready for shipment.

However, shippers said that if the strike threat is carried out and the stoppage continues into the summer, fruit and vegetable shippers are bound to suffer.

Proper Action
Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, has replied that the House is not concerned with how the names got on the telegram and that the Labor executive has dealt effectively with an internal question of discipline.

Beyond this debate Labor supporters look to the Scarborough, Yorkshire, party conference during the following week when disputes between the executive and left-wing members are likely to be discussed in the presence of delegates from all parts of the United Kingdom.

Another issue is almost certain to be raised—that of what will be done about right-wing members who are out of favor with the executive. This group includes 20 Labor members who went to the United Europe conference at The Hague last week—a conference sponsored by Opposition leader Winston Churchill—in spite of the frowns of the national executive.

Single, Under 30 Betty Box Produces Films

LONDON, May 10 (Reuters)—Britain's only woman film producer, Betty Evelyn Box, who will soon present a British "Andy Hardy" series, is expected to take part in the next round of the contest between British films and Hollywood.

Miss Box is not quite 30. A sister of Sidney Box, one of Britain's leading film producers who made "The Seventh Veil," she has an annual budget of about £500,000 ($2,000,000) which she likes to spend on comedies.

Blonde, grey-eyed, soft-spoken and unassuming she cannot be described as a "high-pressure" film executive.

At the Gainsborough film studios in London she has just been casting her expert eye over the final takes of the first film in the series depicting "the life of an average British middle class family," "Wedding Bells."

Miss Box wants to go to Hollywood but she expresses no desire to stay there.

"There is more scope for individualism in British films," she says.

Mrs. Robert Kitchen sang "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me" and "The Prayer Perfect." Miss Jean Richmond gave a reading entitled "Mothers" while Mrs. Reginald Coburn and Mrs. Grace Seely offered prayers. The scripture was read by Mrs. B. Trotter followed later by a closing address and benediction by the pastor.

Sisters Attend Mary Storey Bride of Jack F. Blaby

Embossed bluish satin fashioned the bridal gown which was styled with bertha neckline and silk net yoke, finger-tip sleeves, and princess lines which flowed into a full bouffant skirt with bustle back falling into a long graceful train. Orange blossoms held her halo of white veiling and she carried a cascade of Bettmerite roses. Mr. Storey gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Margaret Storey as maid of honor and Miss Shirley Storey as bridesmaid. Their frocks were in turquoise and blue taffeta made with sweetheart necklines, puff sleeves and bustled backs. They wore gloves to match flower headresses and carried Colonial bouquets of yellow roses. The flower girl was Miss Bonnie Storey, cousin of the bride, wearing pink taffeta trimmed with a blue bustle and she had matching gloves with blue. She wore flowers in her hair and carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Wm. Blaby, Messrs. Fred Vise and Elwood Seabrooke ushered.

Good Wife Is Good Cook No Excuse for Poor Cook

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband is always quarreling about my cooking and sometimes he gets so mad he just won't eat at all. Don't you think that when a woman does her best to please her husband that he should eat what she cooks?

UNHAPPY WIFE

ANSWER: Now there is no earthly excuse for a woman being a poor cook, for there are innumerable cookbooks that tell just exactly how to prepare every sort of food, just how long it should be cooked, just how hot the oven should be, and if she will follow these rules she cannot fail.

Personally, I don't blame any man for kicking the roof off of the house when his wife sits him down to a bad meal and offers him coffee that tastes like lukewarm dishwater, and food that would kill an ostrich. He has paid for good food, and he has a right to expect her not to ruin it in the cooking.

Moreover, more than the pleasure of his palate is involved. His life and health and that of his children depend upon the way they are fed. A large proportion of the sickness and inefficiency of people is due to their being undernourished, and half of the undernourishment is the direct result of bad cooking.

If a man is not well fed, he becomes cross and pessimistic and dyspeptic and nobody wants to deal with him, and so his earning power is decreased. Many a man's failure is directly traceable to his wife's bad cooking.

Learn To Cook

So my advice to you is that instead of feeling that your husband is a brute to growl over your cooking, suppose you go to work in earnest and learn how to be a crack cook? I think this will improve your husband's disposition.

Dorothy Dix

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Don't you think that if a man is in love with a girl whom he is not financially able to marry, but whom he really wants, he would make every effort to make enough money to marry her?

JANE T.

ANSWER: There is no better proof of love that a man can give than his willingness to work for a girl. Many young men, as long as they have no one but themselves to take care of, are inclined to loaf on their jobs and take things easy.

But the minute a worth-while man falls in love for keeps and begins to think of matrimony, he rolls up his sleeves and goes to work in earnest because he wants to give his wife all the comforts and luxuries he can. That is why employers prefer married men. It puts pep and energy and determination into a man to have a woman to work for.

You may be very sure of this: The man whom love does not speed up isn't really in love, or else he is so selfish and lazy he isn't worth having.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man 21 years old and I want to go out in the world and earn my own living, but as I am untrained I do not know what to do. My father runs a little printing shop and he is determined that I shall carry on with him, but frankly I hate the work. This causes endless quarrels between us. What should I do? I want to be a success in life.

TOM S.

ANSWER: Try find out what Nature intended you to do. Even if you have no very decided talent, you must have some aptitude for doing some particular thing, and there must be some one special thing that you enjoy doing. Then go to a trade school and learn how to do it well. Get to be an expert. They are the only ones who command a good salary. There is no place for an untrained worker.

I think your father is wrong in trying to make you do the kind of work you have come to hate. You have to be able to put your heart in the job to make a success of it. Very often the wise thing is for a boy to leave home and strike out for himself, because it is hard for parents to realize that their children grow up and have minds of their own, instead of staying perpetual babies who must let Mama and Papa decide what they must be and do.

pushed with enterprise and initiative could bring forth unexpected dividends, of lasting and gratifying benefit, and enduring progress.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year in which their efficiency, initiative and executive ability may be challenged. An unforeseen situation or adventure of critical import may tax ingenuity, skill, practical constructive ability, as well as sagacity, diligence and calm thinking. Well-planned and organized tactics, in particular of involved conditions, backed up by daring, determination and persistent efforts, might prove expansive, far-reaching and enduring in the way of progress, growth and personal satisfaction. This will react on the private life as well as financial and professional. Particular "know-how" from shrewd analysis and enterprise wins against major adverse onsets.

A child born on this day is equipped to triumph over peculiar and unforeseen circumstances by shrewd and studied analysis backed up by determination and initiative.

Mrs. F. H. Rowan To Open Home For Flower Tea

Through kind generosity of George St. United Church a meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid was held in their parlors Friday. Mrs. J. McLeod, the president, presided, and devotions were in charge of the south-end group. Mrs. R. Ross attended the register and Mrs. L. Mitchell was pianist.

Owing to renovations at the church, the annual congregational flower tea will be held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Rowan, 549 King St. on Wednesday, May 12, and will feature an attractive table of home cooking.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. W. Young for her untiring efforts in setting up the cent-a-day offering in new order which has proved a great success was moved by Mrs. E. Fraser. Mrs. Young thanked those who helped her during the month with the changes.

Food and clothing left at the manse by members of the congregation will be packed by Aid members at the manse on Tuesday, May 18.

Next meeting will be held at George St. Church parlors on June 4 at 8 p.m. with the Cheerful Workers' group in charge and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. C. G. Boyd closed the meeting with prayer.

QUESTION: When you have space please tell me how to make those baked potatoes you stuff with a little bit of leftover meat to use on a vegetable plate. You described this some time ago and I tried it without looking at the recipe but mine were too dry. Also could you give us a recipe for codfish cakes? You can see I am trying to use potatoes because we can get them now.

Madge.

ANSWER: I think you have a good idea, Madge.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes

(If these are to be the central attraction for a semi-vegetable plate use large potatoes.) Bake large scrubbed potatoes at 475 deg. Fahr. until tender. While they are baking saute 1/2 cup chopped onions in 3 tablespoons butter until soft. Add to them anywhere from 1 to 1 1/2 cups chopped cooked leftover meat—ham, or bacon is very good—and 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 cup milk and 1 teaspoon salt. When potatoes are done, cut slice from top, scoop out centre leaving the unbroken shell about 1/4 inch thick, and mix potatoes with the first mixture. Put back in shell, cover with 1 slice cheese, and return to oven to heat through at 400 deg. Fahr. Allow cheese to bubble and brown.

Codfish Cakes

Two cups flaked salt codfish, 4 cups diced pared raw potatoes, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, paprika, 2 tablespoons melted butter or bacon fat, speck pepper, shake of celery salt if desired. Soak fish in cold water 1 hour, changing water once. Then cook it with the raw potatoes until potatoes are tender. Drain well, mash with a potato masher. Add remaining ingredients and beat with fork until fluffy and light. Drop from tip of tablespoon into hot fat at 375 deg. Fahr., turning cakes over when bottom is golden. Drain on unglazed paper before serving. These are usually served with chili sauce or catsup.

QUESTION: You visited some one in Chicago and they served you Burnt sugar cake and you printed the recipe in the paper. This must have been about seven years ago. I have treasured this recipe and made it up numerous times but cannot locate it recently. Would you very much mind repeating it?

Emem Fan.

ANSWER: I am glad you liked that cake. I think it is unsurpassed as a one-piece dessert when you do not care to serve fruit too.

Burnt Sugar Cake

One and three-quarters cup sugar, 1-2 cup hot water, 3 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup egg whites, 2-3 cup milk. Prepare burnt sugar thus: place 1/2 cup of the sugar in a heavy iron frying pan, stirring until sugar melts. When it becomes dark brown, remove from heat, add the hot water, very slowly, stirring until dissolved as the burnt sugar will immediately caramelize when the water touches it. Cool, sift the flour, baking powder, salt together 3 times. Cream the shortening, add remaining sugar, that is 1 1/4 cups, gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add the eggs, 1 at a time, beating well between additions. Add vanilla and 3 tablespoons of the burnt sugar syrup; blend. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately, beating until smooth. Pour into

PROPOSE COURSE IN DRIVING BE ADDED TO SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Driver Education And Training Being Offered In Some Schools

Community interest throughout the province is gradually focussing upon the problem of driver education and training as a means of combatting the rising toll of traffic death and accident. This training is regarded as a step towards intelligent citizenship and more satisfactory use of leisure time. The carry-over value of skills and attitudes developed in this connection is of recognized worth where the training has been introduced.

Since Secondary Schools are best equipped to deal with youth they are now being urged to lead the way in making driving instruction available to the young people of this province. The High Schools can provide a sequence of learning experience to give youth a knowledge and understanding of the car, the driver, the pedestrian, the road, the causes of accidents, the traffic code, sound driving and walking practices and related topics.

Many communities in Ontario today are asking for information regarding alternative plans for carrying on this instruction. Whether it be solved by intramural or extramural integration the need is for trained teachers to carry on the work. It is not advocated that this work be carried on voluntarily by teachers who undertake it. In almost all instances in the United States it has become part of the daily curriculum. Where carried on after school or on a community co-operation basis, teachers receive remuneration paralleling that of night school or special instructors. It becomes possible, therefore, to utilize trained teachers, provide citizenship training and offer reasonable remuneration.

A course this year is being offered by the Division of Public Safety, University of Toronto Extension Work and is being held from July 5-16 with lectures in the morning and practical work in the afternoon.

The following units will be covered at the sessions of the school: overview of traffic safety; the school's part in the safety program; need and justification for High School driver education and training courses; techniques in driver training; the course into the High School program;

Takes Time To Redraft Conservative Program

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—Redrafting of the Progressive Conservative Party's platform is going ahead more slowly than was originally expected. When the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada ended here last month it was hoped the party platform could be given the "new look" by Aug. 1.

Since the meeting, however, Party Leader John Bracken and his parliamentary colleagues have not had much opportunity to work on it. Several are participating in the Ontario election campaign. Others are campaigning in the British Columbia constituencies of Yale and Vancouver Centre where federal by-elections are to be held.

One party official said he does not think Progressive Conservative supporters will be too disappointed if the platform was not announced before August 1. A Port Arthur's West End Bruins, Canadian junior hockey champions, will be invited by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to tour Europe next winter, past president Frank Sargent of the C.A.H.A. said at Port Arthur Saturday night.

Sargent, speaking at a "victory banquet" tendered the team by the city, said the Bruins would be asked during their European tour to play all comers as Canada's hockey representatives.

A. D. Fluker of the Toronto Island Canoe Club Sunday was elected president of the Canadian Canoe Association at their annual meeting at Kingston. He succeeds Harry Bourassa of Ottawa. Delegates decided the Mooney's Bay course on the Rideau Canal near Ottawa will be the scene of the C.C.A. regatta during this and the following two seasons.

Standards for eligibility in ladies' track and field events on Canada's Olympic team were announced at Hamilton Saturday. The Ontario ladies' track and field championships will be held there June 26. The standards for eight events were listed as follows: 100 metres, 12.3; 200 metres, 26 seconds; 80 metres hurdles, 12.03; running high jump, 17 feet 6 inches; javelin throw, 126 feet; discus throw, 115 feet, 6 inches; shot put, 35 feet.

British open champion Fred Daly won the Dunlop professional golf tourney Saturday when he defeated Ted McNeill by 10 strokes in a 36-hole playoff. Daly fired a sub-par 69 on the second round Sunday for a total of 141 to earn first money of £350 ($1,400). Daly and McNeill wound up with a first-place deadlock of 290 at the end of the regulation 72 holes Friday.

Princess Elizabeth stamp to commemorate the Royal wedding is expected to go out of circulation with a few weeks. Issued in mid-February, it became a best-seller and now is in short supply.

At the time of issue, the Post Office Department said it would remain in circulation only about three months as a supplement to the regular four-cent postage stamp. This is customary with special stamps issued to commemorate significant events.

Four Prisons Have Revenue Of $966,500

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—Four of Ontario's eight principal reform institutions last year produced $966,500 revenue from farm produce, laundries and workshops—this year they expect a revenue of more than $1,500,000. This was disclosed by reform institutions minister George H. Dunbar in an address to the men's association of a United Church in Ottawa Saturday.

At Monteith, a former prisoner-of-war camp, Mr. Dunbar said 127 prisoners work the 640 acres of land. There were no guns but no one escaped. At Neys, another former POW camp, 102 men are dismantling buildings and moving them to Rainy Lake, six miles from Fort Frances. Sixty prisoners now are erecting army huts at Burritt's Rapids. "When the place is completed," said Mr. Dunbar, "we are going to put the men to work at reforestation. People of the Ottawa Valley will be proud of the new prison at Burritt's Rapids."

At Burwash there was an average of 713 men in three camps, but only 168 cells. Lumbering, sheep and cattle-raising there had produced $195,000 revenue last year. The inmates had hoed 125 acres of potatoes by hand.

The reformatory at Guelph last year produced $684,000 revenue and this year the objective is $1,100,000, Mr. Dunbar said.

See No Weakening In Wage Dispute
DETROIT, May 10—(AP)—Neither party in the Chrysler wage dispute showed any signs of altering their bargaining position on the eve of a meeting scheduled by federal conciliators.

attempt to avert a strike of 75,000 Chrysler employees due to start Wednesday. The United Automobile Workers (CIO) broke off negotiations Thursday, declaring that bargaining was "hopelessly deadlocked" on their demand for a 30-cent-hourly wage boost.

"If the company changes its tune, the strike could be called off," said union spokesman. But the union expressed no hope of such a development and said they were attending the meeting only to "oblige the federal government."

Chrysler indicated its position would remain the same.

Legal Angles
Though the Dominion's power to legislate for labor is being challenged in the courts, it is not expected that the government will try to defend its authority in the lower court stages.

Proceedings are being opened in Toronto before a magistrate. Informants here say the government will not do anything at present, but will take action by appeal to a higher court if the magistrate should hold that Parliament has no jurisdiction in labor relations.

The legality of the Dominion labor legislation is being questioned by four shipping companies who claim labor relations are provincial matters.

Summer Inquiry
Government sources indicate that the Prices Committee may postpone to sit as a commission after Parliament prorogues at the end of June. Investigations into meat and vegetables, textiles, feed grains and building materials are still on the agenda.

The vegetable probe is expected to take a fortnight and textiles at least twice that. The other subjects would require substantial periods to cover as fully as the committee has probed meat prices.

Princess a Sell-Out
The blue Princess Elizabeth stamp to commemorate the Royal wedding is expected to go out of circulation with a few weeks. Issued in mid-February, it became a best-seller and now is in short supply.

At the time of issue, the Post Office Department said it would remain in circulation only about three months as a supplement to the regular four-cent postage stamp. This is customary with special stamps issued to commemorate significant events.

United Church Gives 2 Million To Missions

TORONTO, May 10—(CP)—Exceeding all previous records, member of the United Church of Canada last year contributed $2,175,035 to the missionary and maintenance fund of the church, Rev. Dr. V. T. Mooney, church treasurer, told the executive and general council today.

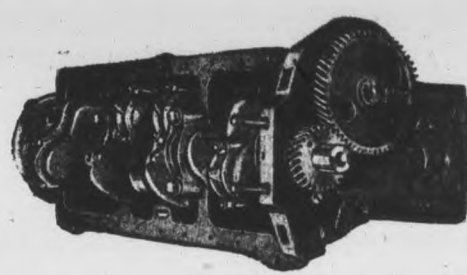

Contribution by United church congregations of 247,000 pounds of clothing towards overseas relief, was also recorded in a report presented by Rev. Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, who indicated the United church is donating a major part of the clothing going overseas through joint church efforts. More Canadian congregations of the church are adopting British congregations and shipping food to them. Included also are shipments of food to church relief agencies in France and Germany.

Doesn't Make Fuss

TORONTO, May 10—(CP)—Gordon E. Cook, 29, telephoned his wife from a Toronto hospital early Sunday and told her both his feet were to be amputated. The call completed, he turned to the waiting doctors in the emergency ward and told them, "go ahead and take them off and get it over with." Cook, a railways brakeman, fell beneath the wheel of a freight car.

TO BID OR NOT TO BID
WHETHER to bid or not to bid—that is the main question that confronts fourth hand after the first three players have passed. The question of what to bid is easy in comparison, if you hold a hand which is right on the borderline. To open it or pass the deal out depends on a number of factors. Most players realize that the main element is the total amount of honor strength. Many know also that the total playing tricks, resulting from suit-lengths and intermediates also counts. But there is still another vital consideration which a lot overlook. Notice South's hand on this deal.

West North East South
Pass Pass Pass 1♠

South's hand, just a jack and a ten better than an average one, was nevertheless a sound opening bid for a player who values small scores in preference to blanks and realizes that in the long run the aggregation of little advantages makes for success.

It would not have been a sound opening, however, if his spade and club holdings had been transposed, with him holding five clubs and only one spade. Why? For answer you could not find a better illustration than this very deal. It is one on which either side, against probable defense, can make a contract of two, but not one of three. In the actual play, South made exactly two after the normal lead of a spade, losing two in trumps, two in diamonds and one in hearts.

Now notice what would have happened if the East-West pair had gone further and overbid the 2-Spades in their best suit, diamonds. To do that, they would have had to call at the three level. The club A, spade A, ruff of a club, heart A and ruff of a second club would have set the contract one.

In other words, when the predominance of your thirteen cards happen to be in the majors, especially in spades, the chances favor a plus for your side from a fourth-hand opening with a borderline hand, and a minus is indicated if your length is in minors.

Cadets, Scouts
Lend Church Service

U.S. Cadets with Boy Scouts, Guides, Wolf Cubs and members of St. Luke's parish part in the service on Em-Youth Sunday. There was a large congregation at the church that many people were drawn away.

Choose ye this day whom ye will serve," was the text of the service by the Rev. Walter Gilliland.

The young men and women of the church, he said, "are confronted with the necessity of making a choice, and before them there are many options. The first is to drift along as so many are doing, without making any stand about anything. Secondly to betray one's religion and tradition and become a convert to communistic materialism. Third to dedicate your life to Jesus Christ to the service of God and the good of all men."

He thinks it is very difficult for the young people of today to make a choice, because for so long they have been taught the doctrine of the cons of a particular religion without the conviction that acceptance of one or another religion is necessary. It has been the fashion for some time now to have convictions about anything, and the more so about religion and service to your country. Time for lack of conviction has now ended."

Major Douglas Crawford of the lesson, and Col. J. A. McLeod, MC, ED, and D. V. C. Chairman of the Board of Education, attended the service.

After the return of the Cadets to the Collegiate grounds, Dewar, took the salute at the church past. He was accompanied by Mr. Gilliland, who was formerly Principal Chaplain (P), Canadian Army Overseas. Cadet Col. A. McLeod, assisted by the officers of the Corps, conducted the parade, which was ended by the bugle band.

Food Situation Must Be Solved

By The Canadian Press
Improved crop prospects have brought some cheer to the world food situation, but long-range students warn that it will remain a No. 1 problem for years to come. Some predict catastrophe if the world does not come to grips with the job of balancing its food supply with its fast-growing population.

Hungry people anywhere are a problem for all, and western civilization cannot sell itself to people unless it can show them a way to eat.
This introduces grave problems of politics and economics. It will mean intense organization of the parts of the world which produce food. Yet the food-producers can't indefinitely just feed the non-producers. The non-producers must produce something else to exchange in trade, or continue on the borderline of starvation. No large population mass is likely to remain on the starvation line in the modern world without causing a lot of trouble.

Lakefield Man Escapes Injury

An estimated $200 damage resulted to the car of Earl Clements, RR 4, Lakefield, when his car took the ditch south of Lakefield Friday evening. The accident happened when Clements, while attempting to pass a car, had the left front wheel brake lock on the car. The vehicle shot across the road into the ditch, jumping a couple of stumps before stopping.

There were no injuries. Damage was to the fenders, springs, axles, frame, bumper and lights.

U.S. Talks With Molotov No New Departure In American Foreign Policy

Plan No Compromise, Only a Gesture

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP).—President Truman said today that the American bid to Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia for "decent and reasonable relations" between the two countries "represented no departure in American policy."

Gardiner Ready To Appear In Prices Probe

OTTAWA, May 11.—(CP).—Agriculture Minister Gardiner is willing to appear as a witness before the Prices Committee, R. W. Mayhew (L-Victoria) said today.

He told the committee that its invitation Monday to appear had been relayed to the minister. However, Mr. Gardiner has advised he would not appear until after Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports on current meat stocks are available.

Earlier, Mr. Gardiner in an interview, said there were several obstacles in the way of his appearance. He added that, in any case, a Cabinet minister cannot be compelled to testify before any committee.

"Members of the Prices Committee can question me any day they want to in committee of the whole House," he said. "Committees are called for the purpose of hearing people who cannot be heard in the House."

Sudbury Man Held for Murder

SUDBURY, May 11.—(CP).—A charge of murder was read in court today against Clifford Larue, 28, of Sudbury. The charge was laid by city police following investigation into the fatal shooting of Emma Lelise, 23, of Sudbury, late Monday night. Magistrate W. F. Doodliffe remanded Larue to May 19.

Charged with vagrancy in connection with the shooting, Ernest Eaford, 35, also of Sudbury, was remanded also to May 19.

Mrs. Belle died in a hospital emergency ward within a few minutes after admittance about 11 p.m. She was bleeding from a bullet wound on the right side of the chest.

In court today Larue told a reporter he and three others were riding in his car when the shooting occurred. Larue said he had a .38-calibre revolver in his hand and was "playing around" with the weapon when it went off.

One-Man Rebellion Brews In Britain's Labor Party

LONDON, May 11.—(CP).—The government has won a reprieve on the so-called "Nenni Incident" but it may not prove to be much of a breather. Another one-man rebellion appears to be brewing in the Labor party.

Reluctantly, the government had agreed to hold a debate in the Commons Thursday on the circumstances of a telegram signed by a group of Labor members extending good wishes to Pier Nenni, pro-communist leader of the Italian Socialists in the April 19 Italian elections, but it was announced Monday the debate would not be held at least for a fortnight because J. F. Platt-Mills, labor member of parliament who was expelled from the party over the incident, was unable to attend.

Has Explanation

Platt-Mills said he had asked for the postponement because he

Battle of the Eggs

CORNWALL, May 11.—(CP).—Charges will be laid against a number of striking carpenters who pelted non-union workers with eggs at a construction job here today, township police said. Pickets surrounded the site when 10 workmen attempted to resume work on the project. Order was restored by police. Members of Local 2307, Carpenters and Joiners, have been on strike since April 20 for higher wages, union recognition and holiday premiums.

Unions Fight 'Naval Battle' Off Montreal

MONTREAL, May 11.—(CP).—Fighting broke out today between rival-union crews of two ships engaged in lightering operations of the grounded, Nova Scotia-owned vessel Hants County.

When the disturbance ended with the withdrawal of one ship to midstream, police aid was asked.

The Hants County, carrying an 8,700-ton cargo of iron ore, grounded on mud flats off Longue Pointe Monday. She is manned by members of the Canadian Seamen's Union.

The Barrie, a Canada Steamships Lines vessel manned by members of the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, moved to the Hants County's side today with a scow carrying a crane.

Only about 40 tons of ore had been lightered when crew members of the Hants County piled off their ship onto the scow.

Telling they wouldn't have any C.S.L.U. crew lightering their vessel, they went into action.

Fists flew and loose articles were hurled by both sides. The master of the Barrie finally got his men back on his ship and moved her to mid-stream of the St. Lawrence where he anchored. Calls were sent for police assistance.

Paris Denies Plot Against Elizabeth

PARIS, May 11.—(CP).—A high official of the Surete Nationale Monday night denied a Paris press report that police through-out France had been placed on the alert for a man believed to be plotting an attempt on the life of Princess Elizabeth when she visits Paris next week-end.

The official said that the Surete has "no knowledge" of any search for such a man, reported earlier by some sources to be a member of the Zionist Stern gang. "As far as the Surete Nationale is concerned, no search is being made for any suspect," he said.

The report of such a search first appeared in the Paris paper France-Soir which said the following message had been sent to every police station in France: "Arrest immediately the man whose description accompanies this message and who is capable of making an attempt on the life of Princess Elizabeth."

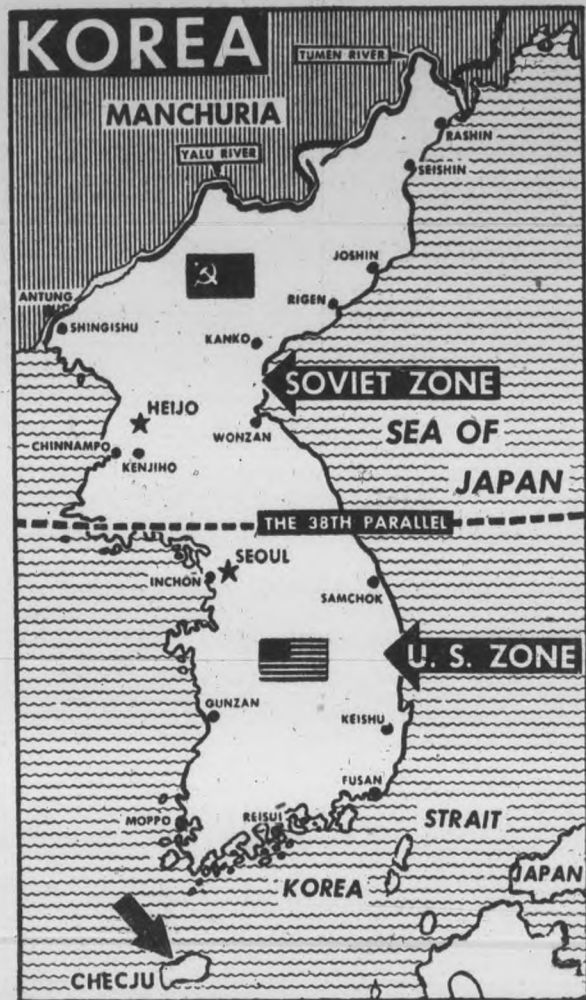

Jews Claim Victory Opening Supply Line

JERUSALEM, May 11.—(AP).—Jews claimed victory today in the battle to open their vital Jerusalem-Tel Aviv supply line. A spokesman said Jewish commandos smashed through Arab resistance Monday night in the Bab El Wad gorge, then swarmed over the hills to wipe out Arab encroachments.

Hagan militia engineers, moving in behind the commandos, used bulldozers and dynamite to root remaining Arabs out of hill-side positions along the winding mountain road, the spokesman said.

The engineers had been ready for five days to clear the highway, the supply lifeline for 100,000 Jews in Jerusalem. Arabs and Jews have fought bitterly for control of the convoy route.

A Jewish agency spokesman said the first convoy in three weeks will travel today over the highway from Jerusalem to Tel Aviv. A food convoy also is expected to head towards Jerusalem from Palestine's coastal plains.

KOREANS RIOT — During one of the many riots staged by Koreans in Kobe, Japan, against the closing of Korean schools, a demonstrator is felled by Jap police. The outbreaks followed announcement by the Jap minister of education that all private institutions would have to be licensed. The Koreans declared this was an effort to rob them of their culture.

Government Plans To Triple National Park Expenditure

OTTAWA, May 11.—(CP).—In a move to attract more tourist dollars to Canada, the Federal Government has decided to triple expenditures on scenic national parks this year.

Asks More Food Bought From US

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP).—Senator Milton R. Young (Rep.-N.D.) said today too much Canadian and not enough American food is being purchased for European relief.

In that connection he wrote Paul G. Hoffman, head of the economic co-operation administration:

"You announced that $33,500,000 expenditures for the purchase of Canadian wheat, flour and bacon for the United Kingdom had been authorized by you, bringing total ECA commitments to date to $107,700,000—a large share of which is for food purchased elsewhere than in the United States."

"These purchases of food, including large quantities of wheat and wheat flour from Canada, come at a time when there is twice as large a carry-over of wheat in the United States as there was last year, and at a time when wheat is selling here at approximately parity."

"So far as I know, no expenditures for American farm products have been authorized under ECA to date, at least of any size."

6 Toronto Clothing Union Members Barred From Entry In United States For Convention

TORONTO, May 11.—(CP).—Six Toronto members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (C.C.A.) have been barred from entry into the United States before they could leave Toronto.

The six, who preferred to be anonymous, were told by American immigration officials at Union Station on Monday night not to board the train because they would only be inconvenienced by being turned back at Buffalo.

But the manager of the Toronto board of the union, Sol

Spivak, and four others were permitted to continue their journey, with other Canadian delegates, to the International convention of the union at Atlantic City.

Believed behind the move is the tightening of restrictions against entry into the U.S. of union officials suspected of Communist leanings. Because the union is reportedly anti-Communist and at least one of the delegates is an outspoken foe of Communism, they suspect someone had given false information.

Girl's Laugh Starts Picket Line Battle

500 Union Members
Battle Police;
Eight Under Arrest

TORONTO, May 11.—(CP).—Seven men and one woman were arrested by police following an outbreak at the strike-bound Rogers Majestic Company plant at suburban Leaside today.

A pretty girl's laugh at the picket line touched off the brawl. Observers said more than 500 U.E.W.-CIO union members from Hamilton, Welland and Toronto were on the picket line when the fight broke out with 70 Provincial Police and officers of the Leaside force.

For five minutes there was an outburst of kicking, pushing and punching while billys appeared as several participants were pulled away from the crowd by police.

The woman, unidentified, was released when Provincial Police were advised there was no accommodation for women there. Police said she would be summoned later.

In Custody

In custody are Arthur Airey, 24, charged with obstructing police, and Thomas Laing, 21, charged with intimidation.

Others held are John Worth, 24, Edward King, 22, Lee Hastings, 21, Earl Clarke, 24, and Albert Woods, 32. All the men are of Toronto.

The girl whose taunts had preceded the actions had entered the plant with other non-strikers. Once inside a high fence she turned, laughed and shouted something at the pickets.

Like a wave the crowd surged on the main gate and police and strikers began to push at each other.

Others Escape

"Let's go through the gate," shouted another girl in the picket line, and in an instant a mob scene took place as the crowd rushed toward the plant's main entrance.

Quick action by company guards prevented the mob from milling through the fence. While the picketers stormed against the gate and the police trying to restrain them, George Harris, organizer of the U.E.W., shouted to them from a megaphone on the sidelines.

The number of arrests was at first thought to be greater. Some of those taken into custody managed to slip out the other side of the cruiser as police were loading more of their fellow workers.

City Treasurer Struck By Car

OSHAWA, May 11.—(CP).—Peter A. Blackburn, city treasurer for the last 26 years, was fatally injured Monday night when struck by an automobile. Police said Brampton George Hawkins, driver of the car, had been charged with manslaughter.

Mr. Blackburn served on the city accounting staff at Sarnia for five years.

Mr. Blackburn was taken to Oshawa General Hospital, where he died of undetermined injuries half an hour later.

Police said Mr. Blackburn was walking from the south side of the street to the north, when he was knocked down by a car driven by P. G. Hawkins of 91 Connaught St., headed west on King St.

Mr. Blackburn is survived by his widow and one daughter, Millicent.

He came to Oshawa from Sarnia. He was a member of the Oshawa Thirty Club.

Seek Four Youths

OSHAWA, May 11.—(CP).—Police in East Whitby township are on the lookout for four youths alleged to have killed a two-year-old steer. The animal, owned by Victor Fudge, was shot in the head with 22-calibre bullets.

Debentures for Rink

LINDSAY, May 11.—(CP).—Lindsay is going to issue debentures for $37,500 to pay for installing a new artificial ice plant in the local arena, it was announced today. The bonds will be sold at three per cent. interest over a 10-year period, town council decided. Property owners voted in favor of the plant at the last municipal elections.

Railway Unions Obey Court, Halt Strike

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP).—The railroads of the United States ran as usual under government direction today and the army lifted the emergency embargo on shipment of perishable goods.

The action restoring freight service to normal came after the government forced the engineers, firemen and switchmen to call off a strike set for this morning.

Eighty-eight lines had banned shipments of perishables during the week-end to prevent them from being stranded in event of a walkout. Many cancelled the embargoes Monday night, however, in advance of the army order.

The rail unions called off the threatened strike in compliance with a court order from Justice T. Alan Goldsborough—the Federal judge who twice fined John L. Lewis for contempt in mine strikes.

With the army in charge of rail operations, the White House withdrew from direct attempts to get the unions and management to settle their wage dispute.

Order Till May 19

Goldsborough's "temporary restraining order" (a type of injunction) expires May 19, eight days from today. The judge set a hearing for that date on the government's request for a longer injunction. The three unions will have their chance then to fight back.

Confer Again

Army Secretary Royall planned to confer again some time today with the heads of the three unions—David B. Robertson of the Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Alvanley Johnston of the Locomotive Engineers and A. J. Glover of the Switchmen's Union.

Monday night the three union chiefs let a young assistant, Eddie Gloss, make this announcement to waiting newspaper men: "The Brotherhoods will comply with the court order. Steps to that effect are being taken immediately."

The "steps" were telegrams the three union heads were rushing to their local officers. The messages went out so late that not all the 150,000 workers involved were expected to get the word in time. Some confusion appeared probable.

Without the court order and the unions' obedience the strike would have begun at 6 a.m. today in each time zone.

Ask Employer Protection From "Reds" In Unions

OTTAWA, May 11.—(CP).—Protection for employers and the state against Communists in unions was asked of the Commons Industrial Relations Committee today by the Toronto Board of Trade.

The board, declaring that efforts to obtain secret information are still a "menace," asked that all confidential employees be excluded from collective bargaining under the government's proposed labor code.

The code is under consideration by the committee. It would exclude employees employed confidentially in labor relations matters only.

The board said: "It is not only security of information in the interests of management that is involved in this matter, but also security of information in the national interest. There is an infiltration in many institutions of persons whose principal loyalties rest outside of Canada and it is not to be expected that trade unions have been able to avoid their share of such infiltration."

Aid To ERP Means More Sacrificing

Hoping To Maintain Exports At '47 Level;
Import Bars Remain

MONTREAL, May 11.—(CP).—Trade Minister Howe said today that Canada's participation in the European recovery program will involve sacrifices both by the public and producers, including restrictions on consumption.

In a speech prepared for delivery to Montreal Rotary Club, he said:

"We, as individuals, will be called upon to give up some of the goods which we might otherwise have enjoyed. We, as producers, must be prepared to adjust our patterns of output to meet the exigencies of a rapidly-changing world."

Goods sent overseas under the United States program "must be confined to those categories which will make the maximum contribution to European recovery. Let no one assume that Europe will be a dumping ground for any less-essential surpluses which develop."

Because western European countries were pledged to co-operate among themselves, it was possible that "some of the traditional markets for certain of our basic commodities may suffer and we must be prepared to make readjustments. This will call for the co-operation of responsible men in business, labor and government."

Maintain Levels

The minister said ERP enables Canada to "hope, not that our exports will be greatly increased, but that they will be maintained at least at the level of 1947." It would allow Canada to export without depleting her U.S. dollar reserves, but she still had to build them up from "an abnormally low level."

She should create an export surplus to do this only by consuming less than she produced. Import restrictions could not be dropped "until our economic position and that of our European customers improves."

Make Jerusalem An Open City

GENEVA, May 11.—(Reuters).—Jerusalem will be declared an open city tomorrow or Thursday unless unforeseen circumstances intervene, the International Red Cross announced today.

A Red Cross communication said that Britain, the United Nations Commission in Jerusalem and the Jewish and Arab political and military organizations had given favorable consideration to the scheme which will make the entire holy city a security zone for the protection of non-combatant civilians, especially children and invalids.

"It would be dangerous to expose employees having access to confidential information at top executive level, in research departments or on technical processes to contact with such persons through compulsory inclusion in bargaining units."

While the board had general commendation for the code, it made these proposals:

1. The "slowdown" form of strike should be outlawed.
2. Union bargaining representatives should be employees of the plant concerned.
3. There should be secret balloting in elections to certify unions as bargaining agents.
4. Strike votes should be taken by secret ballot and should be compulsory before a strike when an application is made for a ballot.
5. A vote of employees to terminate a strike should be mandatory when 25 per cent of the employees call for it.
6. Intimidation in picketing should be barred.
7. Unions should be required to keep an account of funds used for political purposes.

4 Outstanding Men Waiting To Act—Oliver

TORONTO, May 11.—(CP).—Farquhar Oliver believes the Liberal party could call on at least four outstanding men to accept cabinet responsibilities if elected in the June 7 Ontario election.

The Ontario Liberal leader told a nomination convention Monday night at Brantford the men were Harry Nixon, former provincial secretary, Norman Hipel, former minister of lands and forests, along with former Mayor Joseph Walker of Welland and Dr. Murray Dean, former mayor of Oakville.

In another election speech, Premier Drew told a radio audience that his government does not regard old age pensions as satisfactory and proposes to seek another Dominion-Provincial conference as soon as possible.

At this meeting pensions and other social security and health provisions might be established along lines suggested in 1946, said the premier.

Mr. Oliver said the "Dew-Duplessis" (Premier Duplessis of Quebec) axis is the greatest barrier to sound Dominion-Provincial relations. "The two were driven to an unnatural alliance" by their common opposition to the Federal government.

Plan Friendly Talks

No Dominion-Provincial agreement would be signed by Ontario as long as the Provincial government was moved by "hatred" of the Federal government, said Mr. Oliver. He declared a Liberal government if elected could meet Dominion cabinet ministers in a "friendly way" and sign a tax agreement which would lead to increased social services for the province.

Speaking of the Dominion-Provincial conference which broke off in 1946, Premier Drew said that "one rather curious feature of the statement by the leader of the Liberal party, is the fact that on the very last day of the recent session of the Ontario Legislature a vote was taken on a motion calling for the reconvening of the conference to discuss social security and health measures."

"All parties in the Legislature except the Liberals voted for that motion. The members of that party who sit in the Ontario Legislature are therefore taking exactly the same position as the Dominion government and by their recorded vote opposed the reconvening of the conference."

MORE ABOUT—Government Plans

A. M. Nicholson (CCF-MacKenzie) said that only people with income above $4,000 a year should buy houses costing $8,000 or more.

Mr. Howe said the government does not plan to insure luxury apartments under the rental insurance plan proposed by the legislation. The insurance would apply to houses or apartments, fully serviced and renting for $80 a month or less.

Fully-serviced accommodation at $80 or less could not be considered in the luxury class. A man who paid $40 a month for unserviced accommodation had to pay for fuel, light and other services.

Say US Communists Plan Violent Gov't Overthrow

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP).—The Communist party of the United States was formally accused today of advocating "the overthrow of our government by force and violence." The House of Representatives committee on un-American activities made the accusation and called upon the government for "vigorous enforcement" of existing laws to curb Communist activities.

In a 160-page report, the committee said it has voluminous evidence that:

"1. The teachings of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin constitute the credo of the Communist party, USA—in fact of the Communist movement throughout the world. The doctrine of forceful and violent overthrow of anti-Communist governments is a basic premise of these teachings."

"2. The model party of the American Communist is the Communist party of the Soviet Union, whose history forms a 'basic guide' or textbook for American Communists on the practice of force and violence.

"3. The American party is now and always has been under the direction of an international Communist organization dominated by the leaders of the Communist party of the Soviet Union."

The committee said the threat to national security by the "continued, almost unrestricted operation of such a movement within our own borders should be obvious to everyone."

Mayor Favors Oleomargarine

Approval of a Brantford petition for manufacture and sale of oleomargarine was recommended to the council by its finance committee Monday night in a motion by Aldermen Raine and Armstrong.

"There is nothing wrong with bringing in margarine," said Mayor Owens. "There is no comparison between the margarine manufactured today and the kind we had when we were boys. It doesn't hurt the dairy industry. Very little milk is being separated for manufacture into butter. Butter shortage will be worse next winter."

Ald. Herbert Young had proposed that the Brantford resolution be received, meaning no action.

Ald. Raine said many families could not afford to buy butter at its present price.

"But, we'd be only a small voice," Ald. Grant Miller remarked.

Many small voices make a loud chorus," said Ald. Raine.

"We like a long gamble that it will carry," Ald. G. Miller commented.

Ald. Swanston: "I don't want margarine, no matter what they do about it."

Rose Ave. Water Main Now Completed

Operation, Rose Ave. is completed in the books of the Utilities Commission. The long promised water main has been laid without benefit of suggested ceremony, particularly turning a first sod. It seems the Utilities crew was suddenly assigned to Rose Ave. in a schedule switch, and by that means it got in ahead of a section of Braidwood.

No more will the Commissioners hear from important Rose Ave. residents. The street extends easterly from Monaghan Road, south of Braidwood, down in the new factory district. It lacks the ordinary signs, and when the Utilities men got wind of it they couldn't find the place. Maybe the Board of Works will do the job they have overlooked for the last three years and the township of Monaghan for five years, and more than that, previously.

The street also needs sidewalks, but the folks have not yet petitioned for that improvement, which will be sought, all in due time.

For the present, the Utilities Commission stands well with the small Rose Ave. community.

MORE ABOUT—U.S. Talks

And since Russia in its note was officially regarded here as showing no tendency to compromise, American officials said that they had difficulty at this time in trying to discover on what basis a meeting might be usefully held.

From neither Moscow nor the United States State Department, however, came any hint as to when or how representatives of the two countries might get together. American diplomatic authorities were inclined to extremely cautious optimism.

Lewis W. Douglas and Rene Massigli, United States and French Ambassadors in London, called on Foreign Secretary Bevin today. In usually well-informed quarters it was believed that they were to discuss the implications of Soviet-United States exchanges on the possibility of discussions of outstanding differences.

Moscow disclosed the latest turn of events and gave its own version. Thereupon the state department today published a 1,400-word dispatch from Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith detailing a face-to-face approach by Molotov a week ago of direct instructions from State Secretary Marshall.

When he told Molotov, Smith reported, was that the United States holds to its hope for a "decent and reasonable relationship" with Russia, and:

"As far as the United States is concerned, the door is always open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

Approve Idea

Molotov, in his formal reply five days later, was quoted by the Russian News Agency, Tass, as saying:

"The Soviet government views favorably the desire of the government of the United States to improve relations as expressed in (Smith's) statement and agrees to the proposal to proceed with this end in view to discussion and settlement of differences existing between us."

Smith said American concern over Russia's actions has been intensified by the "unexplicable hostility" of the Soviet government to the Marshall Plan of economic aid to non-Communist Europe.

He stressed American determination not to be swayed from carrying out the multi-billion dollar recovery program.

The ambassador put the full blame for the current state of world tension on what he called Russia's aggressive actions in Eastern Europe and Communist efforts to grab control of countries elsewhere.

At the same time he reassured Molotov that "the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs whatever with respect to the Soviet Union."

Halt Seizure

If Communist minorities were to halt their attempts to seize power in non-Communist lands "some of the manifestations of United States foreign policy which apparently are unwelcome in Moscow" would halt with them.

He concluded: "My government earnestly hopes that the members of the Soviet government will not take lightly the position of the U.S. government as here expressed. They have it in their power to alleviate many of the situations which today weigh so heavily on all international life."

"It is our earnest hope that they will take advantage of these possibilities. If they do, they will not find us lacking in readiness and eagerness to make our own contribution to a stabilization of the situation entirely compatible with the security of the Soviet peoples."

American officials, while cautious, noted that with Molotov's reply, both of the major post-war antagonists now are on record as willing to open talks looking to settlement of outstanding differences.

Violates Confidence

BERLIN, May 11.—(Reuters).—Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador to Moscow who negotiated the projected American-Russian talks, said today that the Russians had violated a confidence in releasing the story of his conversations with Foreign Minister Molotov.

He said he considered his talk with the Soviet foreign minister as "completely confidential."

Remind $2,000 Fine

Alex MacDonald, president, reported that $40 was collected by tagging on Saturday for the Old Veterans' Home. It was suggested and approved that the branch raise this to $50 and send it to Peterborough with a $50 donation from the local LODGE.

E. A. White volunteered for the chairmanship of the Pension Committee, vacated by Arthur Lloyd, who moved to Kingston VIA offices with Mr. Gay.

Paul O'Sullivan, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, asked if the members wished to have social evenings once a week or once every two weeks. The majority voted in favor of an open night on the second and fourth Friday of each month. A report by Howard Wilson, local representative to the district meeting held in Belleville urged members to take more interest in such gatherings. It is quite possible, he said, to have a zone or district meeting in Campbellford, and there is no better way of arousing local interest in the Canadian Legion.

Business Men To Build Swimming Pool

HASTINGS, May 11 — (ENS) — A dance proceeds from which will go toward building a children's swimming pool, will be held on May 24 at the town hall. This was decided last week at the monthly meeting of the Hastings business men held at the Royal hotel.

To make the day an outstanding one, baseball games will be held in the park in the afternoon with prizes for the winning team. A girls' team will play at night under floodlights.

A committee consisting of C. Baker, L. Potten and A. Kellogg was appointed to take charge of the building of the swimming pool. Additions to the sports committee which already consists of J. Radcliffe, S. Stevenson and J. Jones, were Mr. Kellogg and Mr. Potten.

Present were C. Howse, president, J. Baker, A. Orr, L. Kelly, D. Price, R. Burnham, C. Baker, R. Skinkle, Mr. Jones, E. Jones, Mr. Potten, Dr. Belle-Smith, M. A. O'Shea, C. A. Putnam, G.

Thompson, Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Kellogg, J. Condon and L. Martin.

Included on the agenda was a discussion on a drive for increased membership. It was decided that anyone in the district is eligible.

Just a Joke

CODSALL, Staffordshire, England, May 11 — (CP) — A large paper parcel addressed to Capt. Roy Farran arrived at Codsall post office Monday. Police took special precautions in opening it. A week ago Roy's 26-year-old brother, Rex, was killed by a parcel-bomb believed intended for Roy. Inside the latest parcel police found a sheet of note paper with the words "Ever been had?" strawled across it.

What do you mean by "Programming" Life Insurance?

Simply this—planning your insurance to cover your needs. Most men buy their first Life Insurance Policy to protect dependents. Then they buy additional policies for specific purposes, such as:

1. For money to educate children.
2. To pay off a mortgage on a home.
3. To guarantee themselves a comfortable monthly income at retirement age, or should they become totally disabled.

Total disability monthly income benefits are desirable in all policies. So are double indemnity benefits that pay double the value of the policy in the event of death by accident.

Confederation Life policies can be obtained to give complete protection to you and your dependents no matter what happens.

Write for a qualified Confederation Life Representative to call upon you and tell you more about our "Directed Dollar" Programming service.

An old timer goes to grass

He began pulling a milk wagon back in 1932. He learned his route, the houses at which to stop, the corners to turn. Sometimes he even showed a new milkman the way. They gave him a shorter, quieter route when he grew older and, at last, put him out to pasture for his last years. In his working lifetime he delivered over 1,500,000 bottles, economically and efficiently. The horse-drawn wagon is still the best method of delivering milk in many routes and is one of the reasons why milk delivered to your door has risen less in cost than almost any other food.

Over-Indulgence In Free Enterprise

The Principal and Vice-Chancellor of McGill University said something last month which needed to be said by a man in as responsible a position as his and by a man as well-informed as he. He was speaking to the American Academy of Political and Social Science on the subject "The Struggle For Human Freedom Is Not Finished". The statement we wish to emphasize is this:

We on this North American continent must think less in terms of individual enterprise and free capitalism, in the precise form that is appropriate to Canada and the United States, and more about the abiding principles of the democratic tradition that enables us to enjoy these advantages. We must make an honest effort to help the people of England, Europe and Asia to produce for themselves in their own way the things that they want, and place less emphasis upon the fact that their patterns of economic activity are different in many respects from our own. Human liberty, even to the extent of economic and political eccentricity, is an essential part of our tradition, and we must continue to recognize that peoples in other countries have habits and customs that are strange to us, habits and customs that they are entitled to enjoy as an essential part of the democratic inheritance which we offer to them in our effort to attain world peace.

The term "free enterprise" is becoming dangerous. It is leading to muddled thinking on this continent and to alarm abroad. We tend too often to forget that in essence it means the same thing as that much-abused word "capitalism" which fell into disrepute in some quarters during the depression of the thirties. We tend to forget that it is an economic term and does not include basic concepts like "liberty" and "freedom". (Perhaps the word "free" prefixed to "enterprise" is confusing.) Because very great measures of political liberty and social freedom exist under the capitalism on which our flourishing economy is based is no reason to suppose that liberty and freedom cannot exist in countries where the pattern of economic activity is different—in England, for instance.

The danger abroad lies in this: Frenchmen, Italians, Hindus and any other people whose support we could wish to gain in a solid front against Communism may well be alarmed lest in accepting western aid they be forced to adopt American "free enterprise" because of a North American missionary gospel that "freedom", "democracy" and "capitalism" are one and indivisible. They may cherish freedom, they may like a parliamentary system of government, but they may not like American capitalism. As the Principal of McGill has said: "We must continuously recognize that people in other countries have habits and customs... that they are entitled to enjoy as an essential part of the democratic inheritance".

The cause of solidarity against Communism is ill-served by free-enterprisers who tout the dollar as if it were the sacrament of the only way of life which could bring total salvation to Britons, Germans and Japs. We must think less about free enterprise and, as Dr. James said, more about "the abiding principles of the democratic tradition that enables us to enjoy these advantages" of material prosperity.

The Late Joseph E. Atkinson

In the year that Horatio Alger died, a Canadian young man stepped out of the pages of Strike and Succeed or any other of Alger's rags-to-riches books and into the pages of the Toronto Star. This was Joseph Atkinson (he had not then acquired the middle initial E), a Newcastle-Port Hope boy orphaned at 14 who progressively advanced from mill work in Port Hope, to clerking in Newcastle Post Office, to bill collector and handy-man for the Port Hope Times, to large papers and increasingly responsible positions in Toronto and Montreal until, in 1899 at the age of 33 he became president and manager of the struggling, nearly bankrupt Evening Star of Toronto.

The story of the Toronto Star from that year to this is the story of Joseph Atkinson. He rapidly secured complete proprietorship of the paper and through hard work and financial and journalistic acumen built a $32,000 unimportant newspaper into a multi-million dollar journalistic edifice. His financial genius may have been tutored by Timothy Eaton, Senator Cox, Sir Edmund Walker, Lord Atholstan and other individualistic capitalists with whom he had dealings, but his journalistic sense needed no extraneous direction. No man in Canadian newspaper history has been better able to gauge the popular demand and quicker to meet it. The Star's 4½ million dollar skyscraper was built on circulation.

Mr. Atkinson early received the accolade of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Star's sponsorships of Liberalism was unwavering though often considered rabid by political opponents who at times did not refrain from bitter personal attacks on the owner. Perhaps because of his boyhood situation (debtors have said because his eye was riveted on circulation), Mr. Atkinson had an editorial policy of befriending the working man and espousing causes dear to Labour. His paper has been called a "labour rag" and "the King Street Pravda". Whatever his motives as a newspaper proprietor, his private philanthropy was bountiful in his lifetime. Now at his death comes proof of his magnanimity and sincerity as a benefactor of society. Both the Daily Star and the Star Weekly have been deeded to a Trust, and all the proceeds of this rich newspaper system will be devoted to charitable, religious and educational causes in Ontario.

It is a munificent bequest as was the gift by the late John Ross Robertson of the Toronto Telegram to the Sick Children's Hospital. There is a significant distinction, however: the Telegram is to be sold to provide a capital endowment; the Star will be operated in perpetuity as a public trust and benefaction.

Joseph E. Atkinson's enterprise created riches and an important newspaper system. These he has now given to the people. To general admiration of his journalistic wizardry and personal achievement will now be added gratitude for his beneficence. Honour must not be withheld from rich men because they were successful in a capitalistic world.

The Myth Of English

The English are noted, if not notorious, for making understatement. An army commander whose troops have won an overwhelming victory will pass the word along that it was "a good show". Field Marshal Montgomery launched massive attacks of thousands of men and guns and planes with the phrase "not cracking". A man who has lost his wife through philandering, his money through gambling or the Labour Government, his house through arson or succession duties, his umbrella in Piccadilly and the use of his mouth through constant mumbling will spread his lips apart sufficiently to say, "Things are in a bit of a mess". London is a "town", its most celebrated church is merely an Abbey, and the most exalted knightly order is of the Garter. However, despite this evidence, there is daily proof that the so-called English understatement is a grandiose myth, a fiction which somebody has propagated for devious purposes.

Is there a modern Englishman, or a Britisher who has received the Southern English idiom, who is not constantly, repetitiously and vigorously guilty of the most absurdly exaggerated statements? He is feeling absolutely on top of the world; he has just met the most ravishing female; he has had a really brilliant idea (to go to a cinema instead of a pub); he is frightfully bucked to hear that you will visit him; the book he is reading is absolutely and without doubt definitely the most stimulating he has had his hand on in a year; he was completely devastated, utterly disconsolate, when he missed a tea-party; he had the most amazing luck when he caught the 5.20 instead of the 6.5 suburban train and completely floored his wife by arriving home with the most wonderful sprouts.

His habit is to understate important things and to grossly overstate trivialities (rather a decent habit); and since there are more petty than large incidents in the mundane world, and since the Englishman is happily full of chatter about even an inconsequential game of darts, the truth is that understatement by an Englishman is comparatively rare. We have definitely and positively not the faintest, even remotest intention of setting ourselves up as debunkers of the tradition. We merely wish to point out that England is a nation of loquacious overstatement where even a prize pumpkin can steal the show. Absolutely.

Mae West, who is visiting in London, has declined to make any comment about politics. She is herself, of course, an exemplar of the Popular Front.

The Examiner's London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

THE most absorbing topic of the week for the London newspapers has been the Royal Silver Wedding Anniversary. On Monday, the day of the Thanksgiving Service at St. Paul's, all newspapers devoted a majority of their space to details of the ceremony and eulogies of the Royal pair. The BBC broadcast the service, a description of the procession, short talks by the King and Queen, and in the evening would frequently break in on regularly scheduled programmes to announce that the Royal Family had appeared on the balcony of Buckingham Palace, and listeners were then transported there to hear the vast crowd about the Palace cheering their appearance. A special commemorative issue of stamps appeared (to be denounced by art critics as tasteless and unimaginative), and souvenir booklets were on sale everywhere. There are those who feel the affair was over-emphasized, but there is no doubt that the average Londoner welcomed the opportunity to demonstrate his loyalty and affection for the Royal Family, which has identified itself so completely with British life and aspirations.

THE monarchy in Britain has proved itself astonishingly secure in the face of trial and tribulations fatal to the institution in many parts of Europe. Probably never more so in all its history. One need only read public statements made in the reigns of the first three Georges to understand the low estate in which the Monarchy was then held by a large and responsible section of the public to appreciate the difference at the present time. All Canadians will join Prime Minister Atlee in his hope to see their Golden Anniversary in a happier and more peaceful world, and in wishing a long and happy life to the Royal couple who have so endeared themselves to the world.

MY Peterborough Secret Service tells me that there is a shortage of butter and fresh vegetables there. Perhaps you would be interested in the present state of these supplies in London. Firstly, butter. It is strictly rationed here, at 3 oz. per week. This is an incomplete picture however, because margarine is also on the ration, and the 4 oz. of the latter makes a total ration of 7 oz. of edible fats per week. For the timid, let me assure you margarine is a perfectly good substitute for nearly every use of butter, and the prohibition of its manufacture and sale in Canada is a mystery to every person outside the Dominion who has heard of it. Properly made it is indistinguishable from butter, or nearly so, and is much cheaper even in this country, where butter is currently only 23c per lb. Margarine being 18c per lb. The Canadian prohibition is little short of a conspiracy to deprive the Canadian working class family of a cheap and wholesome food, and I know of no other country that permits such a ban.

BUT to get back to fresh vegetables, the London range of prices will startle the average Peterboroughian. At this time of year many vegetables are imported. This morning I went shopping with my wife, and to my astonishment, every vegetable she purchased came from a different country. Green peas from Italy, tomatoes from the Canary Islands, lettuce from Holland, radishes from France, and potatoes from Britain. Our salad was a veritable vegetarian League of Nations. In spite of the distance they had come, the prices did not seem expensive to us. Peas 25c a lb., tomatoes the same price, a good head of lettuce for 10c, an enormous bunch of radishes for 5c ("the largest bunch I've ever seen" to quote her), and potatoes at 2 lb for 5c. On the other hand, the prices asked for some things were outrageous by Canadian standards: new carrots at 70c a bunch, green beans at 80c a lb., cucumbers at 70c apiece, asparagus at the incredible price of $2.50 a large bunch, and strawberries at $1.90 a qt. basket. Needless to say, few are bought at these prices, and my only wonder is that stores stock them at these prices, but they are to be found in even quite modest neighbourhoods. As to British spring vegetables, so far only cauliflower has appeared in quantity, and these are also very cheap. A very nice head of cauliflower may be had for 10c. A few of the old winter standbys are still about—potatoes, carrots, and turnips, but they are increasingly difficult to get. Cabbage, Brussels sprouts, beets, and purslane are all gone. While a number of varieties of canned vegetables are to be had ration free, they do not seem to be popular. They are comparatively expensive, and to us at least, seem to be of indifferent quality. Frosted foods are available in some of the larger stores, but again they are too expensive for the average family, and few people in Britain have an automatic refrigerator to store such food. So, compare your lot with the London housewife, and decide who is better off.

HOW many readers recall from their school days West's famous picture entitled "Death of Wolfe"? It seems to me it was in the Canadian History book in use in Ontario, a picture of the dying Wolfe surrounded by a party of his sorrowing officers on the Plains of Abraham before Quebec, scenes of battle in the background, a dark and stormy sky overhead, and Wolfe enfolded in the Union Jack. On a recent visit to Chesham Cathedral I was interested and startled to find the self-same Union Jack still in existence deposited there by the Cheshire Regiment, who carried it on that victorious day. It is only a tattered wisp of cloth now, scarcely recognizable as a flag at all, hanging with other battle flags of the Cheshires. The card giving the information states that it was carried by the Regiment for 80 years, and not only on the Plains of Abraham, but on a less successful day 16 years later, when it was carried by the Cheshires at the Battle of Bunker's Hill in the American Revolution. From its present condition I do not think the flag will last to see the bicentenary of that day.

THE British equivalent to the Stanley Cup finals in Canada, or the World Series in the U.S., took place last week. This was the

SIDEWALK SAND

Sir: During the winter months, the city, through the board of works, spread generous quantities of sand on the city sidewalks. This was done in the interests of safety.

Cup Tie final, the greatest soccer event of the year. A crowd of 99,000 saw Manchester United defeat Blackpool by a score of 4-2, and this crowd included the King and the Duke of Edinburgh. After the game the Cup was presented by the King to the Manchester captain, who was so nervous he dropped it, but fortunately the Duke of Edinburgh made a neat catch before it hit the ground, so all was saved.

This week the cricket season opens with the arrival of an Australian team, and cricket fans are keenly debating the British prospects. I confess any game that takes four days to play, with lunch and tea breaks, leaves me completely cold, but as a Canadian barbarian, I do not count. In self-defence I can point out that cricket has nothing like the hold on the masses that soccer has, and is definitely not the national game, Canadian impressions to the contrary.

Horse racing is in full swing now, and the British Davis Cup tennis team defeated India in the first round. A case is currently before the courts of a greyhound owner suing a race track for $4,000 damages for the breaking of the dog's leg. Greyhound racing is big business here. The London Transport authorities report a big decline in the number of umbrellas left on their vehicles. A truck loaded with two tons of dried eggs was stolen, as was one loaded with cigarettes and valued at $120,000. And so life in London goes on with all the humour and tragedy of the big city, confusing, often frightening, but always interesting.

This action on the part of the city was most commendable.

Now, however, that the snow and ice have left us, would it not be a good gesture on the part of the city, to put out a squad of workers with orders to remove the said sand from the sidewalks. I feel that this would warrant the cost, and be in the interests of a clean city.

Yours truly,

CITIZEN.

THE VICTORIA LEAGUE

Sir: I ask for the hospitality of your paper in order to bring to the notice of your readers one of the many aspects of the work of the Victoria League, and, if possible, to enlist their help. The Victoria League is one of the principal Empire societies; its aim is to increase friendship and understanding among the people of the British Commonwealth and Empire. It has branches in Great Britain and autonomous representations in the Dominions, in Boston, U.S.A., and in Jamaica, and is affiliated in Canada with the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. All work in close co-operation to further the same purpose.

One of the principal branches of our work is concerned with promoting interest in, and knowledge of, one another among the children of the Empire. This is achieved in a variety of ways which include arranging lectures on Imperial subjects and newspapers to individuals in the Dominions and Colonies, arranging the exchange of school albums, and finally the linking by correspondence of schoolchildren in Great Britain with others throughout the Commonwealth and Empire. During 1947 over 8,000 children were linked.

Educational authorities support the scheme, which broadens the minds of the pupils and promotes an interest in Imperial affairs. At

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Knowest thou not this of old, since man was placed upon earth, that the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment?

He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found: yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night. The eye also which saw him shall see him no more; neither shall his place any more behold him. (Job 20: 4, 5, 6, 9.)

Hear the right, O Lord, attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips... Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not...

As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied when I awake, with thy likeness. (Ps. 17: 1, 5, 15.)

Howe, Why And Wherefore?

Proclaiming his undiminished faith in private enterprise and assailing government subsidies as useless, the Minister for Reconstruction, Mr. C. D. Howe, boasts that Canada has built more houses per capita since the end of the war than any other country in the world. But he does not answer the indictment of the Opposition parties in the Houses of Commons that these houses have been mainly for the well-to-do and that those with small incomes, including war veterans, are still without decent homes.

Mr. Howe performed wonders during the war. He spent without a quail $50,000,000 on that magnificent undertaking, the Polymer Corporation, and did not worry about it being public or private enterprise.

But when it comes to building houses to rent at $25 a month which, as the Curtis report showed in 1943, is all that two-thirds of the population of Canada can afford to pay, his "native hue of resolution" is "sicklied over" by the thought of making housing "more attractive to professional landlords and investors" as in the amending bill on housing before the House of Commons.

Now, as Lt.-Col. C. C. Merritt, V.C., pointed out during the housing debate, during the past two years the minister's concern for low-cost housing has progressively declined. He waits for costs to come down. And at the same time thousands of this fellow-Canadians wait wistfully for their nebulous homes.

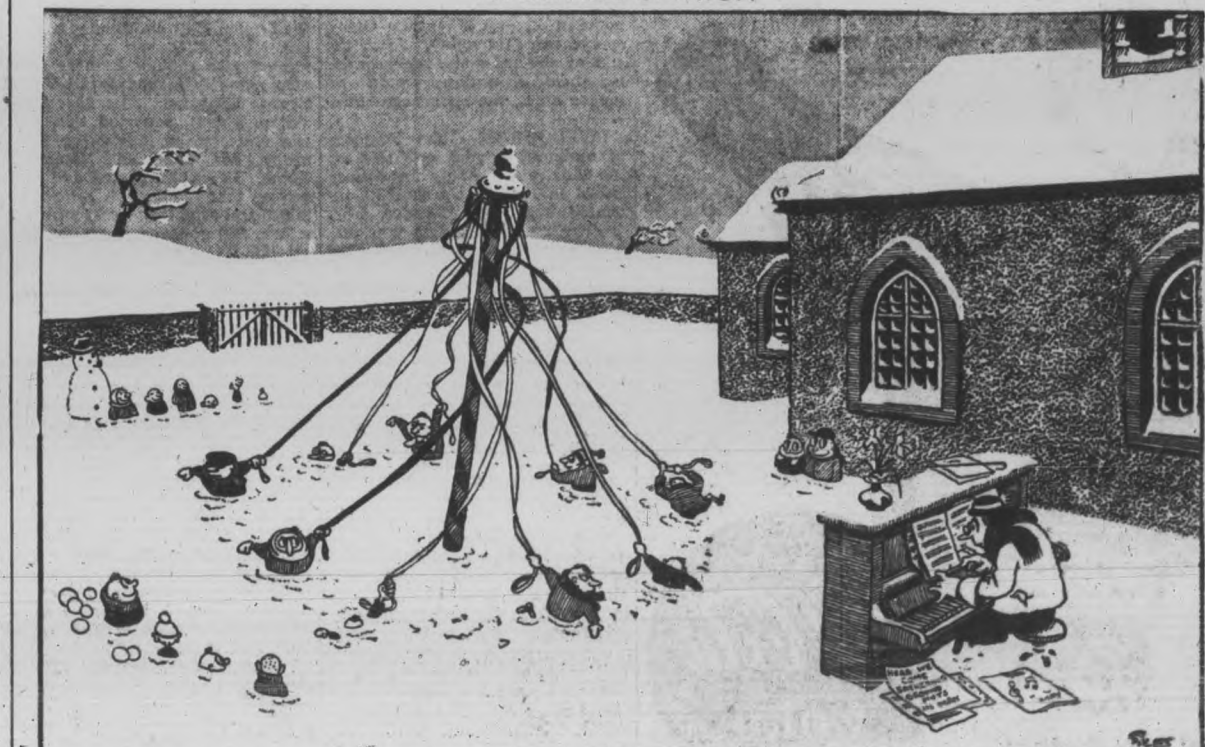

—Ottawa Citizen.

Best Institute Established At University

TORONTO, May 11—(CP)—A new medical research centre at the University of Toronto will be called the Charles H. Best Institute, it was announced today.

Dr. Best, co-discoverer of insulin, now is director of the Banting and Best department of medical research and head of the department of physiology at the university.

Current research projects will be intensified under Dr. Best's direction and increased facilities in a new building will permit new studies on diabetes, thrombosis and cirrhosis of the liver—fields in which the University of Toronto is the world's recognized leader.

The Charles H. Best Institute is one of the buildings which will be financed by the current university appeal for $13,000,000. A total of $7,000,000 has been pledged by the Ontario government and the remainder is being raised by a national appeal.

During the Second World War, Dr. Best was director of the Royal Canadian Navy research division. Last year he received honorary degrees from Oxford University, the University of Amsterdam and the University of Liege; the Medal of Freedom from the University of Brussels; the medal of the University of Louvain; was made a member of the Legion of Merit by the United States government and was presented with the Liberty Cross by King Haakon of Norway.

Wesley Church Holds Mother's Day Service

NORTH SMITH, May 11 (ENS)—Wesley Church was well filled on Sunday morning for the special mother's day program. The superintendent, Eric Pearson, presided. Miss Mary Nichols was in charge of the music and a choir of mothers led the service of praise and sang two appropriate anthems.

The lesson was read by Jim Northey and a piano solo was given by Leonard Pearson. Miss Velma Garbutt told the story of the boy and girl, Kenneth Siew, who gave a short address. The flowers at the altar were in memory of the late Mrs. W. Trude. A lovely bouquet of daffodils was presented to Mrs. Levi Harris from the ladies of the congregation.

Try Last Chance To Halt Strike

DETROIT, May 11 (AP)—With only 24 hours left to reach a settlement, intensive last-ditch efforts were made today to avert a strike of 75,000 Chrysler Corporation employees.

Government mediators prepared to keep the company and the United Automobile Workers (U.A.W.) in session around the clock right up until the strike deadline. No specific hour for Wednesday's walkout has been revealed.

Hopes of averting the United States automobile industry's first major strike in two years rested precariously on mediators' attempts to resolve the U.A.W.'s demand for a 30-cent hourly raise and Chrysler's refusal of any increase at all.

Actually, however, the difference standing in the way of an agreement is only 12½ cents. Chrysler offered a six-cent raise several weeks ago but withdrew it after the union rejected it. To get the proposal the union scaled its demand down to 18½ cents. Both the company and union have reverted to their original positions.

Monday's two brief meetings, described by mediators as "exploratory," produced no reports of progress.

Only the wage section of the two-year Chrysler-U.A.W. contract is up for revision this year. A 30-cent raise would boost the average hourly pay to about $1.80.

Mrs. G. Brethen Gives Temperance Report

NORWOOD, May 11—(ENS)—WMS of Norwood United Church met at the home of Mrs. G. A. Brethen on Thursday, with the president, Mrs. Edward Scott, in the chair.

Mrs. Scott led in prayer. Mrs. G. A. Brethen gave a report on the temperance convention in Toronto in April. She said that $500,000,000 had been spent for intoxicating beverages in 1947.

Mrs. John Clarke took charge of the program. Hymns chosen were requested by Mrs. Robert McMillan. Mrs. S. Buck led in prayer. Mrs. Max Brown gave two readings. Mrs. Rork Ferguson sang a solo, with her own accompaniment on the harp.

Mrs. Gideon Brown read a psalm. Mrs. Wesley Chamberlain gave the topic. Mrs. W. G. Barrie conducted a Bible quiz.

SA Missionary Describes His Trials In Manchuria

Brigadier Olie Welbourne of the Salvation Army described some of his experiences in Manchuria at the Rotary lunch on Monday at the YMCA. The subject of his talk was "Inside Manchuria" and he said that "one you are in, you feel very much in."

"Manchuria," he said, "was a very difficult state to work in." In 1932 it was invaded by the Japanese, who formed the puppet state of Manchukuo. In 1935 Brigadier Welbourne went there to start Salvation Army work in the country. He was opposed by the Japanese who were trying to form a United Church of Manchuria, which would be severed of all international connections. Just before the war with Japan began, he was the only European Salvation Army officer in the country.

He described his questioning by the secret police and the ways in which they tried to hamper his work. He then went on to talk of his interment by the Japanese in company with his wife and children. He said that the accommodation was not too bad and that to keep up the morale of the camp every minute was organized. Committees were formed for every department of life.

The Salvation Army tried to bring its own particular emphasis on the life of the camp. Music and instruments were brought in and a small band was formed. He said that the first Sunday in camp there was a very tense atmosphere and then the band began to play old familiar hymn tunes and it had a wonderful effect on morale.

Paratroopers Arrive

He ended by describing the relief of the camp by American paratroopers, and the looting by the Russians and Chinese on the occupation of Mukden.

"Today," he said, "Communism in Manchuria has been imposed on the people, but it will never come into effect in China if there is sufficient force to drive it out militarily. There is no physical resistance in Manchuria, but there is a definite resistance, a spiritual one."

Brigadier Welbourne was introduced by Major Charles Watt and thanked by Tom Taylor.

A motion that an expression of the club's appreciation of the leadership and services beyond the demands of duty rendered by Clare Collins and member of the Rotary Fun train committee be entered into the club's record was proposed by E. B. Smith and seconded by E. A. Outram. It was

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

Through

... CANADA is the most desired of countries. It represents hope and opportunity. It is where they want to be.

The dream of millions overseas is a reality for us.

"To see ourselves as others see us" strengthens our realization of our country's new importance in the modern world. The Canada that emerged from the war is a far greater country than we ever thought possible—a country of vastly increased and varied productivity—with a million more employed than before the war—with a new wealth of interesting careers awaiting those alive to the opportunities around them.

125,000 APPLICATIONS were on file in Ontario House, London, when Ontario began its immigration plan. It has been estimated that at least 80% of the displaced persons in Germany want to emigrate to Canada.

SIGNIFICANT, too, is the number of new plants established here by foreign firms. Specially interesting are those built up by wartime refugees, of whom about 3,500 entered Canada. They established at least 56 new industries employing over 6,000.

CANADA is increasingly attractive for visitors too! More tourists than ever came to us in 1947—making an ever-growing contribution to continued Canadian progress and prosperity.

One of a series presented by

are being produced both in Prescott, Ont. and St. Tit, Que., their new branch.

LOUIS FISCHL says: "When I knew I was finished with Europe and had to begin a new life at 50, Canada was the country to which I was most anxious to come. Here there is a future. Here is everything needed for industry; vast resources for development; great opportunities for new careers."

Buddy O'Connor Winner Of Byng and Hart Trophies

By ALAN RANDAL

MONTREAL, May 11.—(CP).—Buddy O'Connor, 31-year-old centre for New York Rangers, became a figure for the National Hockey League record books today when he was named as the first player to win the Hart and Lady Byng trophies in the same season.

Thus he took rank as:
A. Via the Dr. David A. Hart Trophy, the player judged to be most valuable to his team; and,
B. Via the Lady Byng Trophy, the player who during the season was most gentlemanly and most sportsmanlike.

Too, this dashing oldest of the NHL who was traded to Rangers at the start of the season by Canadiens, became richer by $2,000 since each trophy award carried a cash value of $1,000.

Buddy polled 36 of a possible 54 points in taking the Hart Trophy on the say-so of hockey writers and broadcasters in six NHL cities. Frankie Brimsek, Boston goalie, was next with 16 votes.

In balloting for the Lady Byng award Buddy polled exactly twice as many votes as Toronto's Syl Apps, his nearest rival. The vote scoring: O'Connor 32, Apps 16.

A year ago Maurice Richard of Canadiens won the Hart Trophy and Bobby Bauer of the Boston Bruins took the Lady Byng award.

Autry To Attend Political Conventions

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 11 (AP).—Gene Autry is trying to arrange his plans so he'll be able to visit the Republican and Democratic national conventions to name Presidential candidates this summer.

An ardent sideline observer of politics, Gene will probably attend the conventions as representative of his newspaper and radio interests, but no doubt they'll ask him to sing. The guitar-plunking cowboy stresses his impartiality; he's a long-time friend of both the Republicans' Harold Stassen and the Democrats' Bob Hannegan.

George Brent makes no secret next film at U-I, "Wildfire." He's of his lack of enthusiasm for his supposed to play Ann Blyth's father instead of the romantic lead in the one Grey story about the pursuit of a wild mustang across hundreds of miles of desert. "The only horses I'll be following," says George, "will be running at Hollywood Park." Rita Hayworth's next film is reported to be "Lona Hanson," a story of a city girl who inherits a Montana ranch. All the characters will be Westerns except Rita.

AP Story
Glenn Ford still has the inside track for the lead in "The AP Story." The script now is shaping up and it will cover the 100-year history of The Associated Press in three parts: from the beginning to the Spanish-American War, from there through the First World War, and from there to the present. The first two will be treated briefly, in semi-documentary style; the third will portray a reporter (Ford) who is a composite of six AP figures.

"So Evil My Love" is a good argument for Anglo-American film co-operation. Made by Hal Wallis in England, it is a good thriller, sparked by the good work of Alan Todd and Ray Milland.

Bing Crosby must be mellowing. He went to his first press party in New York and he promises to attend "The Emperor Waltz" premiere here. Strangely, it is the first local premiere of one of his pictures.

War Changed Meyers' Ball Destiny

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP).—Russ Meyer, the skinny right-hander from Peru, Ill., who has done some fine pitching for Chicago Cubs this spring, might have been toiling for Chicago White Sox if the war hadn't come along.

Russ was signed by the Sox out of a sandlot tournament in his home town and assigned to Superior, Wis., in the Northern League. Then he joined the army in 1942 and became a free agent when the Superior club folded. Cub scout Dick Bitsau caught up with Meyer when he received a discharge in 1943 and signed him to a Nashville contract.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Weather permitting, the City Softball League opens its season in the Bowl tonight with a twin bill, starting at seven sharp. It's De Laval vs. Knights in the first fixture, followed by Legion vs. B-A. Umps are Quamsby and Dormer in the opener and Wood and Calladine in the nightcap. Lineups of the teams in the second struggle appeared previously and both squads look solid on paper. How they'll go on the diamond remains to be seen. De Laval and Knights—the two loop finalists last fall—have been open concerning their players, but the unveiling will be this evening. Another double-header on tap there Thursday.

In aid of the Civic Arena fund, an exhibition softball game is booked for the Bowl this Saturday night. Betwixt the classy Tip Tops of Toronto and the local B-A bunch. Umpires are Elmer O'Donoghue and Pat Calladine. Batteries may be spilt should the tussle turn out too one-sided. Ab Grant and Tommy Stewart are the Toronto twirlers with Len Gaul and Billy Polosky catching. Infielders include: Babe Gresso, Fred Kennedy, Nick Staylor, Jerry Evans, Ed. Gerald and Bill Imrie. And the gardeners: Jack France, Ray Fuller, Vic Goebels and Coach Art Upper. A powerful pack.

In Lakeshore Loop

The seven-team Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball League starts the May 24 week-end, the Petes playing in Colborne with a return go here May 26. Petes are listed as intermediate "A", while Whitby, Port Hope, Bowmanville and Cobourg go as "B" clubs, and Newcastle and Colborne in the "C" category. Jim Crombie of Bowmanville succeeds Al Brown of Port Hope as secretary. A single schedule with umpers getting $5 and $4, visitors supplying the plate official. Entry fee of $5, and a loop levy of $2 on the home club each game, as well as five per cent of playoffs. A meeting in Port Hope on May 20 to pass on certificates and get set for the opening.

It looks like 20 baseball teams will operate in Peterborough this season, so the city needn't feel a little little next spring when the OBA annual convention is held here. Growth of the diamond game locally has been great since the minors were re-organized three years ago by a bunch of interested men—aided by the service clubs. So now we have 16 minor teams shaping up, two good junior crews in the Lakeshore Loop, an intermediate Lakeshore League entry, and the senior COBL team. There should be no dearth of senior diamond material in this man's town within the next two years. It pays to look ahead—but there has also been a lot of hard work entailed.

COBL-ers Go May 22

COBL schedule, which will be published Wednesday, opens May 22 with the Petes in Belleville, and back here May 24, same day as Kingston goes to Oshawa. Tariff throughout the loop is four bits. If a team travels and the game is washed out, the club gets $25. Team finishing second and third have a three-in-five sawoff and the finals are four-in-seven. Games go nine heats except in double-headers, twilight tilts starting at 6:15 p.m., afternoon ones at 3:00 and floodlight fixtures at 8:30 in the evening. Most valuable player will be decided by sportswriters, sportscasters and club managers. This scribe has named league scorer, a hefty headache, indeed. Petes drill Wednesday night and Saturday.

At the soccer session Monday, CGE were given permission to play in Bowmanville and may take other players. O'Halloran's meet Petes tomorrow in King Edward Park at 6:30 p.m. with Tom Garland the referee. Saturday sees Petes vs. CGE at 3:00 here with Referee Asa Downer, while Legion goes to Lindsay with Referee Bill Harris. Other games: May 19—Petes vs. O'Halloran's, Referee Asa Downer; May 20—Legion vs. CGE, Referee Tom Garland; May 22—Lindsay vs. O'Halloran's, Referee Asa Downer. No further meeting till May 25. Schedule committee will draw up cup games.

Lacrosse In Offing

Senior "B" lacrossers are likely to open with an exhibition here against the senior "A" West Yorks on May 21. No word yet on their grouping. Five teams—four of them senior "A"—play in Montreal May 22 and in Quebec City on May 23, their games all counting in the Quebec league standing. Teams are: St. Catharines, Owen Sound, Hamilton, Fergus and the Petes. A chap named Bush of Midland has been out with the Petes lately and also Goalie Bun Hill of Orillia—who suffered an eye injury here last season. Petes practice Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights at seven in Miller Bowl.

HITHER AND YAWN: A good entry so far, for the Harriers' Club track and field meet Saturday in Morrow Park. Hi Lee and the Mask headline the pro mat card at the Brock this Wednesday night. All bantam lacrossers (12 to 14 years) register from six to seven on Thursday night at the George St. wharf. J. E. Wilson of Hamilton has discontinued his action against the PWSU for a life ban. Karl Dorrington advises that the Girls' Softball League will open May 21 with Ashby's vs. Woolless and CGE vs. Marines. Knights have Jack Crowley, Woods and Lucas as pitchers, with Barry Kumpf catching. Freddy Garvey says. He has Condon, Spencer, O'Heron and Tompkins for an infield, with Coughlin, Wade, Ralph and Willshaw in the garden. Six-team Border Loop opens on the morrow. Westend baseball peewees practice tonight at 6:30 and Saturday at 10 a.m. at Prince of Wales. Open intermediate drill at 6:15 tonight in Riverside. Northend bantams, midgets and juveniles go at the Oval at 6:15 tonight. School's out.

14 Countries Bid For Quarter-Finals

LONDON, May 11.—(AP).—

Fourteen countries bid this week to join the Netherlands in the quarter-finals of the European zone Davis Cup tournament.

The Netherlands, led by veteran Dr. Hans Van Swol, jumped the gun on the second round, sweeping all five matches from Portugal last week.

Britain and Norway are next and all the quarter-final brackets will be filled out by May 18. The schedule:

Norway vs. Britain at Oslo May 11-13.

France vs. Hungary at Paris May 15-17.

Sweden vs. Switzerland at Stockholm May 15-17.

Italy vs. Yugoslavia at Zagreb May 14-16.

Eire vs. Denmark at Dublin May 15-17-18.

Czechoslovakia vs. Brazil at Prague May 14-16.

Belgium vs. Argentina at Brussels May 15-17.

The zone winner will play the survivor of the North American zone tournament for the right to challenge the United States, holders of the Davis Cup.

Nine Teams Enter Industrial League

Nine teams entered the Industrial Softball League at a wind-up meeting in the "Y" on Monday night. They are: De Laval, West-clo, Woolless, Canoe Co., Nashua, Brintons, Quakers, CGE Drafting and Marines. President Deb Hillier was in the chair.

The schedule, which will open toward the end of May, will be drawn up shortly and published. The league is again affiliated with the OASA for intermediate "A" playdowns. Play will be at three diamonds, Quaker, Woolless and Brinton, with the new Marines' field being used when it is ready. Umpires should apply to Deb Hillier at an early date.

IRISH GIANT MAKES DEBUT

Jim Cully, a seven-foot, two-inch hunk of a man from Ireland, with ambitions to emulate the feats of another ring Goliath, Primo Camera, makes his United States boxing debut at New York Wednesday. The 24-year-old 280-pounder will meet Wally Baden, an obscure heavyweight from Scranton, Pa., in an eight-round, Cully wears a size 17 shoe and needs a 22 shirt.

Al Gionfriddo Impresses Montreal Fans

By the Associated Press.

Al Gionfriddo, who gained fleeting fame in the 1947 World Series, is making a strong impression in his new surroundings at Montreal.

The hustling former Brooklyn Dodger outfielder, who robbed New York's Joe DiMaggio of a homer with a spectacular catch in the sixth game of the fall classic, is rapidly becoming the toast of the Canadian fans.

Gionfriddo is hitting International League pitching at a .372 clip in addition to playing his usual fine defensive game in the centre-field.

The 26-year-old outfielder went South with the Dodgers this spring but was released outright to the Royals before the start of the season. Among his 16 hits this season, he has clouted three homers, matching his entire output for the last five seasons.

Not Good Hitter
Because of his size—five feet six inches—Gionfriddo never has been regarded as a good hitter, although he batted better than .300 in his first three seasons in the minors.

After hitting .329 for Albany of the Eastern League in 1944, Gionfriddo joined Pittsburgh Pirates. He played in 122 games for the Pirates in 1945, batting .284. The following season he appeared in only 64 games and in 1947 he was shipped to Brooklyn along with a reported $200,000 for five players.

He saw limited action during the regular season, but appeared in four World Series games.

Monday's only scheduled game between Newark and Buffalo was postponed because of the wet grounds.

Only Citation To Be At Pimlico

By The Canadian Press

BALTIMORE, May 11 (AP).—The Citation-Coaltown combination will stay at the Pimlico track Saturday.

The final decision to let Citation be the lone Calumet Farms representative was ascribed to the threatened railroad strike. Coaltown, who was second only to his stablemate in the Kentucky derby, will stay at Churchill Downs for several days and then move to Belmont.

"We are afraid the colt might get stopped or sidetracked somewhere along the line," said trainer Jimmy Jones.

The break-up of the speedy two-year-old puts S. W. Labrot's horse in line for a possible second place this week-end. The three-year-old has finished right behind Citation before, in the Chesapeake Stakes.

Lakeshore League Baseball Schedule

All Saturday and holiday games start at 3 p.m. unless otherwise stated. All Wednesday and twilight games start at 6:30 p.m. with the exception of games being played in Colborne where there are floodlights and their Wednesday games will start at 7:30 p.m.

MONTREAL, May 11.—(CP).—

The question of whether McGill will continue to sponsor a rowing club came up Monday night at a budget meeting of the University's athletic executive, but a definite decision was deferred until later this week. Four teams Monday resigned from the National Professional Basketball League and were granted franchises a few hours later by the rival Basketball Association of America, it was announced in New York Monday.

The resigning teams are Minneapolis Lakers, Rochester Royals, Indianapolis Katsky's and Fort Wayne Zolliners.

The newly-formed Blind Golfers' Association plans a Dominion and international tournament for Toronto this fall, secretary-treasurer W. L. Jackson announced Monday at Toronto. The association, outgrowth of golf matches played at Toronto and Hamilton in the last few years and international matches at Detroit and Los Angeles, is affiliated with a similar group in the United States.

Odds on the favored By Babu to win the derby June 5 eased off to 9-4 Monday night in a call over at the Victoria Club in London, bookmakers headquarters. The colt was quoted at 2-1 last week, but there have been rumors that he injured himself while winning the 2000 Guineas April 28. His trainer acknowledged Monday that the horse has had an antitoxin shot.

At Toronto owners of 46 horses eligible for King's Plate paid the necessary $25 on May 1 to keep their hopes in the running for the Canadian three-year-old classic in Toronto May 24. Originally 62 horses were eligible but one died and the reduction of a further 15 entries was announced Monday.

Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, pinch-hitting star of the 1947 world series recently released by Brooklyn Dodgers, was signed Monday by his old home club, Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. Lavagetto will be remembered for his pinch-hit double in the 1947 world series which spoiled a no-hit bid by the New York Yankees' Bill Bevens.

Pittsburgh Pirates Monday paid a $100 fine for violation of the Pennsylvania Sunday baseball law which the club management said was "inadvertent." The club was fined by the city for permitting Sunday's doubleheader with Brooklyn to continue to 7:40 p.m. EDT, 40 minutes past the deadline.

Clover Leafs Ousted In Olympic Trials

TORONTO, May 11.—(CP).—

Canada's basketball success in the summer Olympic games rests in the hands of the University of British Columbia and Montreal's Young Men's Hebrew Association teams.

A knockout Olympic basketball trial tournament here Monday night eliminated the Dominion champion Vancouver Clover Leafs and University of Western Ontario Mustangs. Clover Leafs, who won the Canadian senior title from Montreal YMHA last week, were ousted by Montreal in the first game, 47-45. In the second game UBC defeated Mustangs 48-40.

Coaches of the winning teams will choose the Olympic players, seven each from the victorious teams. A member of the Mustangs or Clover Leafs would be eligible for the trip, in the event that one of the selected members was unable to make the Atlantic crossing.

Riddle Makes Comeback Leads Pirates To 4-2 Win

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Any lingering doubts over Elmer Riddle's major league comeback were definitely dispelled today after the 31-year-old right hander, pitched Pittsburgh's Pirates to a 4-2 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers.

Forced to quit baseball four years ago because of an ailing arm, Riddle proved on Monday night that his previous fine performances this season were, no flashes in the pan. In earning his third victory in a row, Riddle limited Brooklyn to only five hits while striking out five.

Purchased last winter from the Cincinnati Reds for the $10,000 waiver price strictly as a gamble, Riddle has turned out to be the spark of Pittsburgh's mound corps thus far.

Pittsburgh's triumph, coupled with Boston's 6-0 victory over St. Louis Cardinals in a night game at St. Louis, put the Pirates in a virtual three-way tie for first place in the National League with the idle New York Giants and the Cards. St. Louis, however, still maintained a 14-point mathematical advantage, although all three teams are virtually even in games won and lost.

Punch for Pirates
Ralph Kiner, shareholder of the 1947 home run championship with New York's Johnny Mize, provided the big punch for the Pirates. Kiner collected three of Pittsburgh's six hits off Rookie Erv Palica, former Montreal hurler, and knocked in three runs with a double and his sixth home run of the season. Each blow scored former Dodger Stan Rojek ahead of him. Kiner now is tied for the league's home run leadership with Cincinnati's Hank Sauer.

Although Johnny Sain of Boston was clipped for 10 hits, he became the first hurler to shut out the Cards this season. Earl Torgerson cracked losing pitcher Jim Hearn of the Cards for a three-run homer in the third inning. Cleveland Indians strengthened their hold on first place in the American League by outslugging the Red Sox in Boston 12-7. It marked the fifth straight triumph for the Indians.

Larry Doby, hard hitting negro outfielder, led the Tribe attack. He pounded out four hits including his fifth home run, Joe Gordon also homered for Cleveland. A triple play, Cleveland's Lou Boudreau-to-Joe Gordon-to-Eddie Robinson, highlighted the game.

The victory enabled the Indians to increase their first place lead over the idle Philadelphia Athletics to 27 percentage points.

Swamp Chicago
The third-place New York Yankees swamped Chicago White Sox 9-3 to keep within a game of the lead. For the Yankees Joe DiMaggio, Bill Johnson, and George Stinnett each hammered home runs off Bill Wight and Earl Harris.

Early Wynn registered his third victory with a five-hit performance as he pitched Washington Senators to a 6-2 triumph over St. Louis Browns in a night game.

The National League's only scheduled day game between the Giants and Cubs in Chicago was postponed because of rain. All other teams in the majors were not scheduled.

TONIGHT — "That Way With Women" — "Slippery McGee"

"If I were a movie producer..."

How many times have you used that phrase in discussing the kind of movies you'd like to see Hollywood make?

Frequently we hear it from moviegoers who feel that Hollywood has stayed too close to the well-beaten path in providing entertainment for the American public.

But pleasing the tastes of millions is an exacting task. Will the moviegoers who ask for pictures that are "different" and "really fine" support those films?

"SONG OF MY HEART" was made in response to your requests.

The producers have taken an intriguing love story and set it to the wonderful music of Tchaikovsky. They give you the incomparable melodies that have thrilled the world... such as his Piano Concerto, Romeo and Juliet Fantasy, Fifth Symphony, 1812 Overture and Swan Lake Ballet. The magnificent renditions have brought bursts of applause from audiences in many cities.

We think you'll agree it's the kind of picture to tell your friends about.

Voters Reject Plan To Set Up Large School Areas In Victoria

OMEMEE, May 11 — (ENS) — About 200 ratepayers of Omemee and South Emily, in a unanimous vote, rejected the recommendation of the consultative committee appointed by Victoria County Council and the Ontario Department of Education to investigate the secondary school situation in Victoria with a view to setting up enlarged school areas.

The consultative committee, which has been investigating secondary education for over two years, presented the recommendation that Victoria County be divided into two secondary school areas with Fenelon Falls and Lindsay as centres. The Lindsay area was to include Lindsay, Omemee and the townships of Mariposa, Ops, Emily, half of Veralum and approximately one fifth of Fenelon.

Mr. V. Fee, the Reeve of Emily, requested the committee to hold two meetings, one at Downeyville and one at Omemee, to put the proposition before the ratepayers and take a vote. North Emily to meet at Downeyville May 5 and South Emily and Omemee at Omemee May 6.

Public School Inspector E. C. Anderson and W. Stewart, Inspector of Secondary Schools, represented the Consultative Committee both evenings.

At the Omemee meeting, village Reeve H. Deyell was chairman. Mr. Anderson outlined the origin, duties and progress of the committee. They had held many meetings throughout the county to talk over the situation, and recently had held a series of meetings in the proposed Lindsay area at which votes had been taken expressing the wishes of the ratepayers in each municipality with regard to entering the larger school area. This, he said, was the largest representation they had addressed.

Equal Opportunity

Inspector Stewart then spoke on the advantages of the larger area, citing its adoption in B.C. and in parts of Ontario. The objective in Ontario, he said, was 150 districts. The equalization of educational opportunities was the principal involved, he said. The County Council could act on the recommendation of the committee on approval of the Minister of Education. But the Minister of Education would not give his approval except at the request of each municipality involved.

Mr. Stewart explained school grants, sharing of expense and transportation cost. He discussed the school curriculum, stressing the need of optional subjects of a practical nature, to better serve the needs of boys and girls not planning to attend university and who have no taste for the academic subjects. The expense of building and equipping rooms for these practical studies and hiring teachers was too great for the smaller schools, he said. Therefore it was necessary to combine the districts and set up central schools where such advantages could be had.

The meeting was declared open for discussion. Wants Smaller Schools Chairman of Omemee Board of Education, Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt thought more schools and not less were needed. The small school was more conducive to character building, where the pupil was treated as a personality, not as a number. He argued he recalled the number of ministers who were products of Omemee High School. He did not agree with the present educational system of allowing a pupil to evade academic subjects, because very few boys and girls have decided their life work at BLACKHEADS Get two ounces of perfume powder from your drugist. Sprinkle on a hot, wet cloth and apply to the face gently. Every blackhead will be dissolved. The one safe, sure and simple way to remove blackheads.

Dr. Earle Opposed

Dr. Wm. G. Earle said the student thus situated had no social contacts — just class work and travelling — he felt he didn't belong anywhere. The other alternative, he said, was to board the child in town, which many could not afford. If they could, he continued, a child of 13 was not old enough to care for herself without the warmth of home. This, he said, was more important than mill rates or any other consideration.

Rev. F. W. Pooley added to this by saying it was not the dollars and cents that counted most in a community, but the well-being and happiness of its citizens.

Reeve Fee called for the vote. It was taken separately for the township and the village ratepayers. The unanimous vote in each case created a record. At Downeyville, two were in favour of the recommendation.

Will Turn Rink Over To City Free Of Debt

"The secondary rink will be handed over to the people free of encumbrances," Ald. H. Dods reported to the finance committee of the Council last night. "It is a civic project. It cannot be sold and get into private hands."

Council accepted the invitation of the Civic Arena Committee to attend the breaking of ground on the city property, Park St. at Lake St., Saturday, at 2:30 p.m. "This rink will not conflict the Memorial Centre both in size and value, but it will do for the present needs of the city until we get the Centre built," Ald. Dods said. "We are hoping that it will pay for itself and not be an expense to the City Council."

Heated Rest Rooms
The building will be of wood skeleton and rafters with corrugated iron covering. Overall dimensions will be 216 ft. by 90 ft. and ice surface 170 ft. by 70 ft. with accommodation for 2,600 people. There will be heated dressing rooms, and toilets for the public.

Ald. Dods said the committee would have liked to increase the size somewhat, but they were forced to consider costs and economics.

(The committee is planning to set the building back 125 feet from Park St. That would extend occupation of the lot to a depth of 400 feet, and further reduce the playing field left to the west of it.)

Mrs. M. E. Phippen, of 388 1/2 Water St., was the representative from Peterborough at the "Exhibition of Decorative Leatherwork from Many Lands" held in Ottawa last week. Mrs. Phippen is president and chief instructor of the Peterborough Leathercraft Guild, and has also been supervising the leatherwork instruction given at Dixon House, sponsored by the Recreation Commission.

Work of the Peterborough Guild was exhibited at the exhibition, which was the first of its kind to be held in Canada, with work from all parts of the Dominion, as well as from England, Peru, Mexico, Bavaria, Egypt, Java and Africa. Backgrounds for displays were formed by rare skins, such as crocodile, python, alligator, and an amazing variety of imported suedes and tooling leather. Exhibits were valued at $20,000. Twenty-eight articles were exhibited by the Peterborough Guild showing examples of leather modelling, embossing, carved leather and pieces of inlay work. Members of the Guild exhibiting were Mrs. R. H. Parker, Mrs. G. C. Northey, Miss Irma Allen, Mrs. Elmer Frost, Mrs. Claire Stuart, Miss Ethel Robson and Mrs. M. E. Phippen.

Council May Aid Swimmers Competing in US

Financial support for Peterborough entries in the United States national junior and senior synchronized swimming events at Des Moines early in July will be considered by a committee of the city council.

The Ornamental Swimming Club is planning to send two teams and two duets to take part in these competitions, and have estimated expense of the trip at $1,200. The council's committee, appointed Monday night, are Aldermen Swanson, Dods, Waddell, Raine and Doug Miller.

The club proposes to enter two teams of nine and six girls respectively, a junior duet and in the senior section the present U.S. senior champions, Jean Millard and Iris Forbes Rielly, who won their title as juniors this year and are no longer eligible for junior company.

Mrs. James Forbes wrote the council that in their travels so far the club members have paid their own expenses. They expect to raise $300 by their own efforts. Ald. Dods said that possibly the Lions Club might undertake a bingo that should net around $500.

"I think we should appoint a committee and discuss this matter with Mrs. Forbes and other representatives of the swimming club," Mayor Owens proposed.

"We have in mind giving something to help them, and a committee could decide what is needed," Ald. Anglesy said.

Ald. Max Swanson, chairman of the finance committee, agreed "that we should help, but we certainly haven't $900."

Ald. Hugh Waddell suggested that the Service Club council be consulted. "I think they might do something to help in the financing, and there might be others, also."

Aldermen Sands and Waddell moved that the chairman call a meeting to deal with the enterprise of the club, present holders of a U.S. title.

Strike Settled On Hotel Job

Lathers and plasterers are back at work on the addition to the Empress Hotel after taking part in a union strike that began in Toronto over pay increases. Affected are two plasterers and seven lathers who are now receiving the extra pay, despite the fact that negotiations have not yet resulted in an equal rate for all similar tradesmen in the Toronto district.

David A. Kerr, manager of the Empress, said he could not afford further delay and by negotiating directly with Local 97, Lathers' Union and Local 48, Plasterers' Union, at their headquarters in Toronto, he received the nine workmen on Monday. Lathers were previously receiving $1.60 an hour, and while the amount of the increase is not known, it is believed to be a substantial one. Plasterers' rate jumped from $1.50 to $1.60.

It is felt that this will allow work to be speeded up on the hotel addition which had fallen behind schedule.

Optimists Hear John Pierce, OLS

John G. Pierce, OLS, was guest speaker to fellow Optimists Monday evening when he told the club about his winter's work as surveyor on the newly-finished Ontario-Manitoba boundary. He illustrated his talk with some of his own fine colour movies of the project which showed admirably the hardships that surveyors must put up with in their profession.

Mr. Pierce compared the footwork his party had done during the past winter to a person walking from Winnipeg to Montreal on snowshoes. Dr. M. G. McCartney, vice-president of the Optimists, presided at the meeting in the absence of President John Broadhurst.

There were no business details discussed during the evening pending a big news break soon on the club's acquisition of Trafalgar House in Nicholas Oval for their boys' town project.

A GOOD SALESMAN

"Gimme a pack of Sweet Caps" said the gentleman as he stepped into the premises formerly occupied by the United Cigar Stores. Dick Oumet and Stan McBride, officials of the Civic Arena now using the store as an office, looked at the man to see if he was alright. "Aren't you going to serve me?" queried the customer. "Look around at those bare shelves, the tobacco store has moved," McBride said, then came back quick with a coin box. "While you are here you might as well contribute a quarter to the Civic Arena." The "customer" deposited the quarter in the coin box and left the place fast. He was minus 25 cents and minus cigarettes. —McG.

Cups Awarded In School Sports

On Monday afternoon, pupils of St. Peter's School assembled on the lawn to take part in the distribution of trophies won at their recent field day. Representatives from grades VII and VIII of the Separate schools were present to receive their share of the honors. Fourteen cups were presented by Rev. J. Coughlan, who was in charge of the sports. A money prize, donated by Jack Russell for the girl and boy who exhibited the greatest athletic ability on field day, was awarded to Miss Alma Shaughnessy and Bill Rudkins of St. Peter's High School.

Owing to an oversight in the entries of events on field day, a wrong name was published as champion high school girl. Miss Alma Shaughnessy was the correct winner.

The following list summarizes the winners of trophies: High School—Bill Rudkins, cup for champion boy; Miss Alma Shaughnessy, cup for champion girl; pupils of grade XIII, cup for champion grade; Miss Rita Chapman's bowling team won the bowling trophy, and Miss Barbara Kane received a silver cup for best player. (A series of bowling games were carried on during the year.)

Separate Schools—Grades VII and VIII—Glen Shaughnessy, St. John's School, cup for champion boy; Miss Lois Johnson, St. John's School, cup for champion girl; St. Peter's School (Separate), cup for champion school.

Two cups, donated by Rev. P. Butler, rector, St. Peter's Cathedral, for the winners of the senior boys' and girls' relay races in the Separate schools, were won by St. John's and St. Mary's Schools respectively.

Besides the cups, which are retained by the winners for one year, the champion boys and girls of both High and Separate schools received individual silver cups to keep for all time. These were generously donated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The pupils and teachers of the schools concerned are grateful to those who in any way contributed to the pleasure and success of field day.

Lions Insisting On Identity In Park Program

Commenting on present problems of maintenance and supervision at Riverside, otherwise known as Lions Park, Patrick Scollard, president of the Lions Club said on Monday night that the Club should retain its identity there, at the same time co-operating with the Recreation Commission's city-wide plan.

Simpson Gledhill told members that he was of the opinion that "so long as we choose to call it Lions Club Park the only way to do it is to have it run by the Lions Club. We should operate it 100 per cent ourselves, under the program of the Recreation Committee."

He said that a Lions supervisor should also be present, easily identifiable as a representative of that service club. One of his criticisms was that the Lions Club did not receive adequate recognition to its work in providing a place for children to swim and play.

Douglas Anderson said that no doubt mistakes had been made but he claimed that there had been no other choice last year. He paid tribute to the fact that 342 children had been taught to swim in the lower pool as a result of Recreation Commission classes.

Nominated for executive posts for the year 1948-49 were: Simpson Gledhill, president; James Marshall, 1st vice president; George B. Goulding; and Albert Sisson, 2nd vice president; Joseph Sharp, 3rd vice president; Alan Cameron, treasurer; Ronald MacGee, secretary; George Colwell, Norman Hughes, and James Laidlaw, liaisons; Geddes Harper, Robert Marston, Edward Olerend, Jack Arnett, and William Bennett, liaisons; two-year director, Fred Jennings.

It was announced that election night would be on June 7.

President Scollard presided as the following were initiated into the Lions Club: Vernon Rose, Norman Bingham, Ronald Hutchinson, Joseph Brown, and Dr. Garry Hamilton.

City of Quebec Seeking Homes For 122 Families

QUEBEC, May 11—(CP).—How would you like to start house-hunting for 122 families—100 children included? No? Well neither does the city appeal to municipal authorities of Quebec where lodgings are as hard to find as snow-balls in mid-August.

But from Mayor Lucien Borne down to the janitor at City Hall here, everybody's joined in Quebec's great hunt—with a deadline in mind. By Aug. 1, the city is expected to have to find new living quarters for a whole community, now living in Cove Fields on Federal Government property.

The Cove Fields community, complete with softball diamond, chapel and classroom, sprouted up in 1945 almost as soon as the army moved out. The city leased the military huts from the Government and, after some alterations, sub-let them. The lease runs out Aug. 1.

No renewal is expected as the National Battlefields Commission is reported anxious to start improvements on the historical battle-grounds. The tar-paper-finished huts are smack in the middle of those plans.

It's doubtful that the city is anxious to negotiate a renewal of the lease as keeping those 122 families housed in the huts has cost it money. It lost $14,000 on the deal in 1947.

Charge Contractor With Negligence

TORONTO, May 11 (CP).—Police said Monday night a charge of criminal negligence would be laid against Morris Viola, a contractor, found guilty by a coroner's jury of negligence in the death of three employees in a sewer excavation cave-in at suburban Humber Bay.

Three men, Sidney Cornish, 16, Henry Rotunda 20, and Dominic Paserey, 37, died April 27. The jury found "insufficient steps had been taken to assure the safety of the men by providing adequate shoring."

Police Hold Woman For Forging Cheques

TORONTO, May 11—(CP).—Martha Thompson, 57, was arrested Monday night on charges of forgery and false pretences as she stepped off a bus from Windsor.

Police said she was wanted on forged cheque charges involving thousands of dollars in Victoria, Vancouver, Montreal, Ottawa, Windsor and Toronto. They said she had cashed cheques ranging in value from $100 to $600, drawn on banks in different parts of the country.

Three diamond rings the woman had in her possession are being held by police.

Say Geneva Pact Great Boon To Canadians

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—Senator Ian Mackenzie Monday night told the Senate that the Geneva trade agreement is one of the "greatest social measures of our time."

The Senate was debating a resolution approving the agreement. After his speech, the Senate turned to other business without completing the trade debate.

A great "policy of tariff emancipation" has emerged from Geneva, said Senator Mackenzie. However, Canada's favorable balance of exports over imports was being reduced and the unfavorable balance with the United States was rising. By 1947, the unfavorable balance with the United States was $918,000,000.

Canada's trade with Britain and Europe was most important. The Canadian credits which had financed it were running out.

"We have been selling on credit and buying for cash and we have been doing it for five or six years," Senator Mackenzie said.

Saved By Agreement

If trade had followed the trend so clear since the end of the war, in six months the country would have had no dollar reserves left. It had been saved by the Geneva agreement and the "brilliant luck" of its civil servants and advisers.

"They saved the Canadian dollar from destruction and the Canadian people from disaster at that Geneva conference," he said.

The multilateral trade agreements were part of the government's policy to strengthen the country's economic position.

He asked for support of the Senate for the policy, which he termed a means of making economic and social progress.

Ontario Doctors Plan To Increase Fees

TORONTO, May 11—(CP).—Because of rising costs, doctors throughout the province expect to increase their fees, it was indicated at Monday's opening session of the Ontario Medical Association Council.

However, Dr. C. C. White of Chatham, president of the association, said the proposal was still in the discussion stage and the topic was on today's agenda.

"The increase will not be drastic," he said.

Bar De Marigny

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 11—(AP).—Count Alfred de Marigny was refused permission to stay in Kingston when he arrived by airplane from Port au Prince, Haiti.

De Marigny, husband of Nancy Oakes and son-in-law of the late Sir Harry Oakes, recently left Montreal while deportation proceedings were in progress against him.

He has been on speaking tours throughout the U.S. with priest and rabbi. Among other offices held: Business manager, Williams-town Institute of Human Relations, Director of the New Jersey Round Table, and now Director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. For his goodwill activity he was given an award by New Jersey B'nai B'rith.

This Spring he hopes to sponsor a tour of Priest, Minister and Rabbi to Mexico of the Canadian cities extending from Montreal to Winnipeg.

Because it is felt that this subject should be of interest to many local citizens, the Kiwanis Club has invited those who would like to hear Mr. Jones to attend the 12 o'clock luncheon.

Boost Nail Production

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—Canada is going out of barbed wire production for a few months in an effort to bolster the shortage of nails, Trade Minister Howe told the Commons Monday. He said supplies of wire rod, which goes into both commodities, will be diverted to nail production. Other wire products, including agricultural implements and baling wire, also will suffer from the diversion.

Kiwanis Hear Noted Speaker

Richard D. Jones, executive director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, will be guest speaker at the regular Thursday session of the Kiwanis Club. It is an organization consisting of Roman Catholics, Protestants and Jews that has banded together to work for common goals — "amity and understanding among religious and racial groups; the practice of the Golden Rule; peace; social justice and religious liberty."

The Council is primarily interested in the first essential of inter-group co-operation, namely, the understanding of one another. This is accomplished by education which is in part doing things together. It is believed that distrust and fear can be largely dissolved and mutual confidence and respect created among the three religious bodies, through the effective use of the "right kind of education."

Co-operation among individuals, not among official bodies is the keynote of the Council. It claims that it does not seek uniformity in belief, nor does it seek to weaken existing loyalties but "believing in a spiritual interpretation of the universe and deriving its inspiration therefrom, the Canadian Council exists to promote justice, amity, understanding and co-operation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews in Canada."

Eventually it hopes to see a social order established in which the religious ideals of brotherhood and justice shall become the standards of human relationship.

Mr. Jones was born in Elizabeth, N.J., in 1906. After graduating from Wesleyan University in 1928, he took post graduate courses at the University of Paris and Boston University. In 1933 he received his B.S.T. (Bachelor of Sacred Theology) from the latter and he also studied at Northwestern and Drew Universities.

He has travelled and taught in many scattered places throughout the world and has traversed the North American continent from Alaska to Mexico. For 13 years he served as a Methodist minister after his ordination.

During the war Mr. Jones, on leave of absence, served as an able bodied seaman in the U.S. Merchant Marine making numerous Atlantic crossings, and in the Mediterranean as well.

He has been on speaking tours throughout the U.S. with priest and rabbi. Among other offices held: Business manager, Williams-town Institute of Human Relations, Director of the New Jersey Round Table, and now Director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. For his goodwill activity he was given an award by New Jersey B'nai B'rith.

This Spring he hopes to sponsor a tour of Priest, Minister and Rabbi to Mexico of the Canadian cities extending from Montreal to Winnipeg.

Brothers Chant Requiem For J. Collins

Requiem Mass for the late John W. Collins, 45, of Otonabee township, and victim of the Indian River car-train crash on Friday was said Monday morning at St. Joseph's church, Douro, by his brother, the Rev. James Collins of Honey Harbor, Ont. His Excellency, Bishop Gerald Berry, together with about 50 priests were in the Sanctuary. Brothers of the deceased, the Rev. Bernard Collins of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was Deacon, and the Rev. Joseph Collins, of Cobourg, sub-Deacon; the latter took the graveside service, assisted by 15 priests. Burial was at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Observers say that it was one of the largest funeral services held in the parish and there were numerous floral and spiritual tributes offered. Friends and relatives from various parts of Eastern Ontario attended, including a large number of Christian Brothers from St. Augustine College, Toronto.

Mr. Collins was a successful farmer in Otonabee and lived on the homestead with his mother, Mrs. Anastasia Collins, and his sister, Miss Anna. He was on his way to the hamlet of Indian River to pay his insurance when the fatal accident occurred at the C.P.R. crossing at 1:15 p.m. on Thursday.

Revised Hansard May Be Dropped

OTTAWA, May 11—(CP).—One of Canada's most expensive sets of reading material may go out of circulation.

To print a six-volume issue of the revised edition of Hansard, the official record of parliamentary debates, costs just $750. It is a re-edited version of Hansard, bound in cloth, which comes out some months after the parliamentary session and replaces the day-to-day unrevised version issued during the session in flimsy paper covers.

State Secretary Gibson told the Commons Monday that high costs have made it necessary to consider discontinuance of publication. The 1944 edition, for example, cost $750 for each of the 510 sets printed. The cost, if

Study Bill To Compel Parents To Testify Against Each Other In Juvenile Delinquency

OTTAWA, May 11—(CP).—The Senate Monday night began a debate on an amendment to the Canada Evidence Act but reached no decision.

The bill would make it possible to compel a wife or husband to testify against the other in court cases under the Juvenile Delinquency Act.

Senator J. W. Ferris (L-British Columbia) said the amendment was recommended by the Minister of Justice and the Attorney-General of Ontario.

"Where the husband, through drinking or some other cause, contributes to the delinquency of a child in the family, it may well be that the wife is the only one who can testify on it," he said. Senator John Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, said he is uneasy about any legislation to compel a husband or wife to testify against the other. He was prepared to vote for it, however, provided it was sent to a committee for further study.

Senator Thomas Vien (L-Quebec) contended that more study was needed and moved adjournment of the debate. The House agreed.

Headless Ghost Seen In England

BEDFORD, Middlesex, Eng., May 11 (CP). — The ghost of a headless man is causing considerable alarm to people living in prefabricated bungalows on Hounslow Heath, one-time haunt of highwaymen.

For some weeks "things" have been happening at 42 Page Road, occupied by Joseph Wilkinson, his wife and four-year-old daughter. They have been haunted by a headless figure.

One night the little girl screamed to her parents: "There's a man sitting on my bed. Then, when the Wilkinson's dog Dusty went hysterical with fear overnight, the family sought refuge with a neighbor, Walter Luke.

Then strange things began to happen in Luke's bungalow. One night the stillness was shattered by the crash of a heavy book on the floor. That was not considered so alarming as the failure to find the book on the floor afterwards.

Luke has asked the police to investigate and is considering asking psychic researchers to visit the bungalows.

Anxious To See Democracy School Subject

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP). — More education for democracy in Ontario schools was urged today by P. M. Hulise of St. Catharines, President of the Ontario Urban School Trustees Association, in an address prepared for delivery to delegates attending the organization's 29th annual convention.

"Among the greatest dangers to our democratic institutions are the evils of indifference and ignorance," said Mr. Hulise. "As trustees, we are participants in the process of democracy in action. As such, we are in a favorable position to encourage a fuller and more intensified program of education for democracy in the schools of Ontario."

More than 300 delegates are attending the three-day meeting which is being held jointly with the Ontario Association of School Business Officials' convention.

Earlier in the day W. G. Bunker of Oshawa, president of the Association of School Business Officials, told delegates that "never before has there been a challenge to every person engaged in public service to fulfill his responsibilities efficiently."

"Those engaged in any phase of education are only a part, but a very important part in the totality of activities that must be carried on efficiently if the democratic process is to solve our problems."

LEARNING MACHINE ASSEMBLY

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we all are more assured of job security... and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. But to produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by industry. They receive ON THE JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts the veteran on the road to skilled craftsmanship. In assembling business machines, for example, veterans must have a thorough knowledge of electricity and must learn to perform intricate work on precision machines having thousands of separate parts. These Canadian-made business machines are sold in all parts of the world, creating new wealth for Canada and Ontario. Therefore every effort of these newly skilled veterans helps to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and contributes to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

Don'ts a Bride Needs For Happy Nuptial Life

This season is producing the all high crop of brides, and while every little bobby-soxer is certain that she will be the perfect wife who knows by inspiration just how to handle a husband and keep a marriage running on greased skids, still and all there may be an obstacle or so in the path to domestic bliss on which it is advisable to hang a few signs of warning.

Not that any bride is going to take advice as offered, but long afterwards, say about the time when Mother is wrestling with the third baby proposition and husband has gotten so wedded to his newspaper that he forgets that his wife would enjoy a little conversation, she'll come back and sit under the shade of the Tree of Wisdom and wish she had listened to Grandma. So here are a few DON'TS that I hand, for free, to the newlyweds that may perhaps keep them from stubbing their toes as they walk down the rocky road that every young wife has to travel.

The first and really the most important, DON'T is not to marry too young. Wait until you have cut your wisdom teeth and know what you are biting on. Marriage is not a pastime for children. It is an endurance test for adults. Don't rush it. Be choosy. Take as much time and give as much thought to picking out a husband as you would a new hat.

Don't marry on the grab-bag principle. Don't marry any man with whom you are not well acquainted. Find out all about his family, his habits, his disposition, where he came from and where he is going. The handsome stranger, with a keen line of love-making, is all right in a story book, but it is another pair of sleeves if he turns out to be a Weary Willie, or a drunkard, and you would have to be the meal ticket. Don't be so silly as to think that love is enough. You have to eat.

Don't marry a man to reform him. Pick out a husband who doesn't need to be reformed. Don't be swept off of your feet by romantic-looking lads, with soulful eyes, who quote poetry and make beautiful love to you and dance divinely, but who are nothing but professional dead-beats who live off of any woman who is foolish enough to fall for them.

Don't try to make your husband over and change him from what he is to what you would like him to be. Take him as he is, or let him alone. If you don't like his grammar, or his table manners, or his taste in neckties, pass him up. Don't be cruel enough to blast his ego by criticizing everything he does. It isn't cricket for a wife to take the mink coat her husband gives her unless she smooths his fur the right way.

When you marry don't have a chip on your shoulder for your husband's people. Every bride knows that if her husband has any decent human feelings about him, he honors and respects the father who has toiled to give him his chance in the world, and loves the mother who bore him and the sisters and brothers he grew up with, and that his dearest wish is for his wife to be one of the family. Don't be one of the snooty wives who turn up their noses at Mom and Pop and the girls. It is the one thing your husband will never forgive you.

And the DON'TS all boil down into the one Don't, which is not to marry a man unless you love him well enough to face without ever comes in life without grousing.

Of Interest to Women

FLATTERING VEILED HAT—Millinery is going in for veiling this season. Very often a fine straw relies entirely on its weave, its color and well-handled veiling, to achieve a fine degree of wearability. Covering a fine lemon colored straw is gray veiling to achieve an attractive town hat. The sole trimming is gray mesh used to face the brim where it is caught at either side. The ends are loosely tied and fastened on the dress or suit lapel.

sinister possibilities into all manner of activities. Slander, gossip and suspicion may undermine the most promising of activities. Be wise in emotional urges.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a measure of success and expansion in financial, business and professional interests, providing they take into rigid account the personal affiliations and contacts. These are under a sinister sign in which betrayal and intrigue may undermine the most alluring prospects, with malicious attack on the character, reputation, and motives. Any semblance of indiscretion, peculiarities, or weird behaviorism, could have sinister reaction on health, progress, home and social standing. Any show of erratic emotional urges could be detrimental to success.

OTTAWA, May 11 — (CP). — A charge that the Ontario Teachers' Foundation "was a closed shop" was levelled Monday by Bruce Weber of Kitchener at the 29th convention of the Ontario Urban School Trustees Association. The Association moved to form a trustees' organization to equal the strength of the Federation.

Mr. Weber made the charge just before the convention passed a resolution asking the deletion of a clause in the Teaching Profession Act which makes it a "professional conduct" for a Federation member to report adversely on a fellow-member without first informing him.

The clause is believed to particularly affect school principals who face the responsibility of informing school boards of inefficient teachers, and at the same time abiding by the laws of the federation.

A brief will be submitted to the Ontario education department asking that either the clause be deleted from the act or principals be not permitted Federation membership.

Dr. A. E. Hardy of Toronto said that of 25,000 teachers in the province, only 97 are not Federation members.

It's Closed Shop

Mr. Weber retorted:

"The Teachers' Federation is a closed shop and it's no wonder less than 100 teachers don't belong." He said that "it is only fair to point out" that although school boards had received consideration from the department of education, "most of its members are former teachers. Naturally their sympathies are entirely with the teachers, rather than with the boards."

Urging action on the brief, H. S. Hignam of the Ottawa Collegiate Board said he knew of three teachers in Ottawa who had to be disciplined, but only on adverse comments of the parents and not the principals.

Just imagine," he said, "the co-operation that would exist between teacher and principal if a teacher knew his superior had recommended his dismissal, even if the Board later decided against it."

The convention approved an attempt to form one body which could represent all school trustees in the province.

Ask Opinions

J. E. Morris of Hamilton said letters would be sent within a month to all trustees in the province asking whether they were interested in the formation of one solid group. This would be either a trustees' federation or an organization to which trustees would be elected. The difficulty with a federation, Mr. Morris pointed out, was that non-trustees would not belong and he did not believe it desirable "that ratepayers be excluded."

The Association also passed a resolution urging the Federal and Ontario government to set up standard education requirements for applicants of Canadian citizenship papers.

The resolution, introduced by the Branford School Board, was one of several approved by the 350 delegates attending the three-day session.

Poles Get Revenge

OTTAWA, May 11 — (CP). — Three Polish army veterans ruled over by a "cruel" German-prison guard eight years ago, Monday had their revenge. They recognized him on an Ottawa street and led to his capture by police. The German, 28-year-old Alvin Barth, entered Canada illegally aboard a ship that docked at Halifax recently.

The quality which marks those in conventional occupations from those in unconventional occupations is the one which demands change and excitement in the daily job. However, even the most rabid routine-haters might hesitate at the offer of a position in Miss Gladys Gillem's calling.

For she goes to what may be considered extreme lengths to avoid that monotony she dreads. To be exact, twice a day she steps into an enclosed cage with four, sometimes five, lions and domineering bosses around this combined lot of wild animal.

Feature billed act at the Garden Bros. Circus now playing at the Exhibition Grounds and Augustus here by the Perthborough Kiwanis Club, Miss Gillem is advertised as "America's Only Woman Lion Tamer." After watching her act, it is not difficult to believe that it is an uncrowded profession.

A short, stockily built young woman, she looks pretty small in the cage with the 400-pound jungle killers who prance about at her command. (As a matter of fact, a 200-pound man would look pretty small there, too.)

During the show, however, there were "only" four of them in the cage. The big one—Princess—was in fun ugly a mood, she explained, because it is the mating season for lions. The absent Prince, by the way, weighs 500 pounds.

Bad-Tempered Beasts

The 1,600-pounds of lion in the cage with her didn't seem to be in the best of humor. Perhaps he was just trying to show how friendly she was, but one lioness in particular—Princess—found it hard to convince onlookers. The snarl which curled over those king-sized ivories seemed as coolly calculating as a black cat's. "I'm leaving out some prospect," "hot bet." Probably the motive for the shine in the eyes was the same, too.

From one rest to the other and back again the cats jump as Miss Gillem snaps them orders, backed with the occasional bark of a (blank cartridge) pistol. One of the dainty damsels even walks a narrow pole—indicating her disgust for the whole performance with deep, throaty snarls. The whole crew dutifully jumps through a burning hoop as a finale to the show.

Princess, Miss Gillem, no longer lantly explains why: "If they went for me, there wouldn't be any time to do anything." And she knows, for she has been scratched several times by her pets when they have been a bit on the mean side. On a combined menu of about 1,000 pounds of horsemeat a week, they still seem hungry.

The lady lion tamer has been in the business about four years. She entered that from another unconventional profession. She had been a lady wrestler, and had been a contestant for the world title in that field against Mildred Burke.

Miss Gillem "got tired" of wrestling. She outlined a few of the difficult steps in acquiring her present top billing in circus work.

"It's expensive. You have to buy your lions and train them." It costs $700 to train a lion, you know. Then, there's all the equipment you need and the cost of keeping the cage.

The lions started about the same time she did. They are all about four years old. A German trainer broke them in. For her own training period, she was an assistant to a lion-tamer act, working from the "outside" of the cage to the inside.

On the subject of routine and non-routine types of work, she is quite definite.

"I wouldn't like an ordinary job. It's no excitement," she says.

No one will deny the ex-circus

OTTAWA, May 31 — (CP). — Gen. G. L. McNaughton said Monday night "it is not too much to hope" that Soviet opposition to international control of atomic energy may eventually be overcome.

Already, he said in a speech to the United Nations Association of Ottawa, "very remarkable progress" has been made by the United Nations toward that goal. Nine nations of 11 on the atomic energy commission had reached agreement.

Now an impasse had been reached but the fact that Russia held aloof should not be taken too seriously.

"There are some grounds for hope in the future . . . it will be possible to convince the U.S.S.R. that the plan for the control of atomic energy . . . does in truth represent a proper basis for the elimination of atomic warfare and that it is not a plan to maintain the domination of certain nations."

Lead Assured

Gen. McNaughton, Canadian delegate and a renowned speaker, made these other points:

United States ascendancy in the atomic field seems assured "for a decade or so at least" and no other nation can overtake her except by a "very arduous and long process."

Consideration should be given to defensive measures but there is no cause for hysteria; "it seems reasonably probable that we need not fear the outbreak of atomic war on any significant scale for a while yet."

The United States is "the only nation now in possession of atomic bombs at least on any scale that would suffice to make atomic war."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WOES OF A BRIDGE MAN
WHENEVER a writer of bridge pulls a boner, such as reporting a card played to an early trick and then used again on a later one—and we all do it—his avalanche of mail shows how keen are his readers' minds. I'm sure you wish to correct yourself. I write one who should have said "kick yourself." Another says: "If you intended to start arguments with this hand, let me congratulate you on your overwhelming success." Bessie contends 5-Clubs could be made (because you said so), and I say it is impossible.

South using the club 4 twice—quite a stunt if a slight of hand expert could get away with it, and his opponents not recognize the second appearance of that important little card.

Here's hoping the mental exercise of conscientious readers was beneficial enough to offset their other feelings over this funny quirk of the mind—or what stands in lieu thereof. Practically every letter had something nice to say, such as "I read your articles every day and enjoy them immensely." With thanks for those bouquets, we hope our confession will be good for the souls of those real fans.

One of them signing "Yours for More Trumps," says: "The hand could be made if South plays the club Q on the first trick, leads a small club and finds a West helpful enough to cover with the K or willing to let three rounds of trumps go by: spades could be established by making West trump, and North could be put back to run them by ruffing a heart or diamond."

Russ Soldiers Desert

BERLIN, May 11 — (AP). — Authoritative reports published here claim that thousands of Russian soldiers and their wives are deserting to live illegally in Germany rather than return to the Soviet Union. The "Neue Zeitung," official German language newspaper of the American military government, quoted an estimate from the Soviet commandant in the Russian occupation zone that the soldier desert-tions alone amounted to more than 10,000.

Infantry Not Outdated Montgomery Declares

LONDON, May 11—(CP)—The infantry is not out of date despite current speculation about "push button" warfare. Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the Imperial General Staff, said in an address. "We hear much talk of push button warfare," he told a Mansion House banquet. "I would, however, emphasize that scientists have not so far produced any new weapon or other achievement that can justify the discarding of the present-day technique of land warfare. "We must still remain prepared for the battle on land. I submit that any claim that future war will be of the press button type is not substantiated at present, and is dangerous."

75,000 Go On Strike At Chrysler

Governor Orders Complaint Laid Under Labor Law

DETROIT, May 12 (AP).—The 75,000 Chrysler Corporation United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) employees in the United States struck today for a third round of post-war wage increases. Governor Kim Sigler immediately ordered a complaint against the strikers under Michigan's new Bonine-Tripp labor law.

It requires that the State take a strike vote before workers can walk out. The U.A.W.-C.I.O. contends it does not apply when a firm has plants outside of Michigan.

Sigler told reporters that he had asked the state labor mediation board to make a complaint to Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor James McNally. Under the law, McNally then could ask a court injunction.

"Either the law is good or it isn't," Sigler said. "If it's constitutional, we might as well find out now."

Meanwhile, Briggs Manufacturing Company said 13,000 workers in its six Detroit plants would be laid off by Monday because of the strike. Briggs supplies Chrysler with bodies.

A Long Seize
Picket Cal Moorehead, parading before the big Dodge main plant, told reporters "it looks like a long strike."

"This will probably be tough," he added.

Picketing was quiet. Union headquarters said the first workers out were those at the Dodge truck plant. They jumped the gun by 30 minutes.

The union already is raising a $1,000,000 "kitty" to finance the walkout.

The executive board of the union met in special session as picket lines were thrown about Chrysler's Detroit plants.

Negotiations broke down Tuesday night on wage demands of the United Automobile Workers. The union scaled its 30-cent-an-hour demand down to 17 cents without success. The best company offer was six cents an hour.

Deny Old Couple Die Violently

GORE BAY, May 12 (CP).—Police said today there is no evidence of murder in the deaths last Sunday of Joseph Williton, 76, and his wife, Mabel, 67. They were burned to death when fire destroyed their grocery store and gasoline station at Long Bay, 12 miles southeast of this Manitoulin Island town.

Talk of foul play persisted, however, and police strove to separate rumor from fact. Inspector T. Wilkinson of the Provincial Police detachment at Sudbury discounted the murder reports.

"From reports I have received, there is no evidence as yet to substantiate the foul-play theory," he said. "All I have had so far are telephone reports and right now there is not very much to it."

30 Bandits Grab 2 Million In Gold

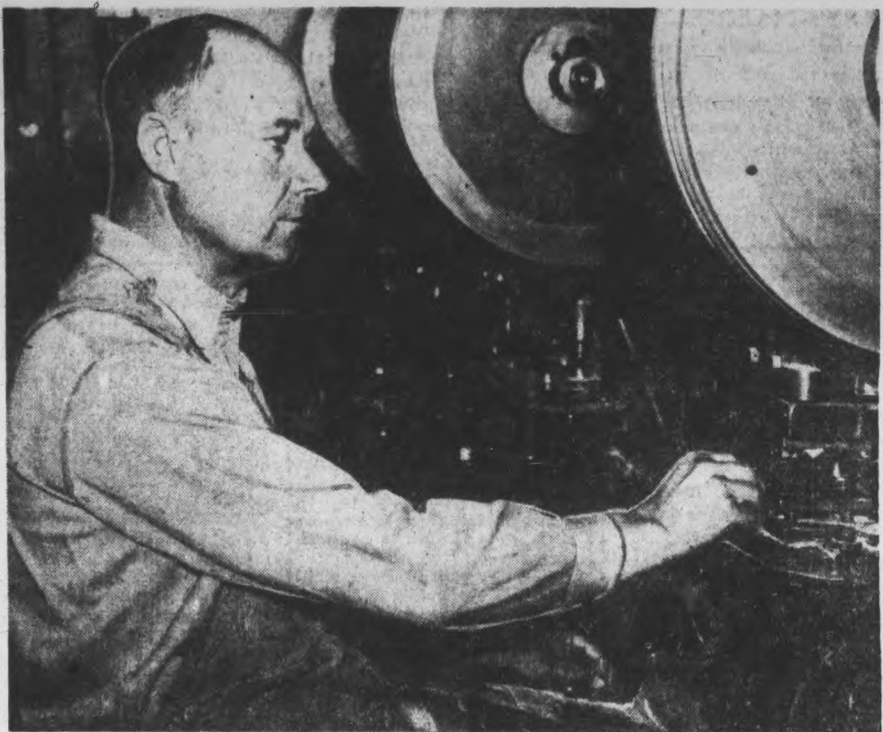

BANGKOK, May 12 (AP).—The criminal investigation division announced that between 20 and 30 armed bandits today stole an international gold shipment valued at $2,000,000.

The shipment was en route to Macao from India on a KLM (Dutch) plane that stopped at Bangkok overnight.

The bandits, disguised as Siamese police and soldiers, halted a truck carrying 120,000 grams of gold to the customs house for safe-keeping. Nine guards were handcuffed and the bandits escaped.

International air traffic from Bangkok was suspended until noon while police searched planes to prevent the gold being flown abroad. Dragnets were formed throughout the city.

An unconfirmed report said police recovered some of the gold, but officials declined to comment.

British To Leave Jerusalem Friday Morning

JERUSALEM, May 12 (Reuters).—British troops will withdraw from Jerusalem to the port of Haifa beginning Friday—a few hours before the British mandate over Palestine ends at midnight—an official communique said today.

Sir Alan Cunningham, last British High Commissioner for Palestine, will sail from Haifa aboard the cruiser Euryalus early Saturday, the communique added.

The Jerusalem garrison, consisting of the Highland Light Infantry, the Royal Warwick, the Royal Suffolks and units of the tank corps and the royal artillery will move into the Haifa enclave.

Britain will retain control of this area until the last troops are withdrawn from the enclave by Aug. 1.

The cease-fire was broken in Jerusalem today when Arabs and Jews exchanged shots in the Holy City's suburbs. Each side blamed the other for breaking the truce.

The main shooting was in the southwest corner of Jerusalem, where Arabs have been sniping at the Jewish Mekor Haim settlement for the last five months.

Scattered shooting also was heard in the Yemin Moshe quarter. Hagana militia returned fire from the Katamon quarter, which they recently wrested from the Arabs. There were no actual attacks, only sniping and return fire.

Hagana said today Kefer Etzion, Jewish stronghold in the Judean hills south of Bethlehem, is under heavy attack by Arab legionnaires using armored cars and artillery.

The attack was reported to be the strongest yet on the isolated settlement which has beaten off at least three previous Arab thrusts.

Only Communists Stand In Way of Peace—Bevin

LONDON, May 12 (AP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin told Parliament today that only Communists are standing in the way of world peace.

"I am anxious for peace, anxious for a settlement with Soviet Russia," he said.

He added that there could be no settlement until "the ground has been cleared."

Bevin was replying to a question by Anthony Eden, wartime foreign secretary. Eden had asked whether he could make a statement about the American-Russian diplomatic exchange which the Moscow radio disclosed early yesterday.

The Russian pronouncement had aroused hope among official and unofficial Europeans that Soviet willingness to talk things over with the United States was a hopeful sign for lasting peace. The general reaction was that

Marshall Says Russ Talks Must Be Handled In UN

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP).—State secretary Marshall said today that if Russia is seriously interested in improving world conditions there is urgent need for action through the United Nations. In a press conference statement, Marshall ruled out the possibility of a direct two-power settlement by the United States and Russia of auto conday-HETAION UN UN N general international problems also concerning other governments.

Marshall said in the statement that Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had not asked Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia "for any general discussion or negotiation."

Molotov had said that Smith proposed discussion and negotiation which the Soviet government had accepted. That was in a world-startling Russian broadcast Monday night (Moscow time).

"We have had a long and bitter experience with such efforts," Marshall said.

"This government had no intention of entering into bilateral negotiations with the Soviet government on matters relating to the interests of other governments."

Go To UN
"The discussion of any proposals in regard to outstanding issues which the Soviet government may have in mind, must, as a matter of course, be conducted in the body charged with responsibility for these questions."

This was a clear reference to United Nations and to the various allied bodies set up during and after the war for handling such problems as the future of Germany and Austria.

Marshall then presented the positive side of the American attitude. He said that "what we want is action in the fields where action is possible and urgently necessary at the present time."

He specified issues before the United Nations Security Council and other UN agencies, such as the Korean situation, as well as German issues before the Allied Control Council in Berlin and Austrian treaty negotiations.

Seek A Living In New Zealand

AUCKLAND, May 12 (CP).—Several Canadians and Britons arrived today on the steamship Wairata from Vancouver, declaring they have decided to try living in New Zealand owing to "widespread unemployment and deteriorating economic conditions in Canadian cities."

T. Bilton, a Vancouver carpenter, claimed "more than 20,000 are unemployed in Vancouver alone and that there are breadlines in Toronto."

An artisan could work 50 years under present Canadian conditions and would have nothing to look forward to in his old age, he said.

Joseph Wilson, a British carpenter who arrived in Canada six months ago, said he found little work during the winter. He had decided to try New Zealand, where there are state housing, social security schemes and pensions.

The Wairata reported passing two drifting mines, believed to be Japanese, a few days after leaving the British Columbia port. The first passed so close that it appeared to have been washed out from the ship by the bow wave. The vessel had to alter course to miss the second.

Toronto Trade Centre For Dope Peddling
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 12 (CP).—Col. C. H. L. Sharman of Canada told the United Nations Narcotics Commission Tuesday that in 1947 Toronto was the distribution centre for Canadian dope peddlers, especially of Mexican heroin.

He was commenting on a Mexican report on the drug traffic situation, in which Mexico pledged greater efforts to combat narcotics distribution. Canadian and United States representatives had complained that opium and its by-products, smuggled in from Mexico, were creating a serious problem.

Col. Sharman said he did not know how the Mexican heroin got to Toronto, but his reports from Vancouver indicated that opium smokers, morphine addicts and users of other narcotics had all switched to Mexican heroin.

The stuff sold on the streets of Vancouver at $12 a gram, Col. Sharman said, and it was adulterated from 40 to 80 per cent. At that price an ounce would cost $5,244.

Say Juliana Takes Over In September

Blames Poor Health For Abdication; Reigns For 50 Years

THE HAGUE, May 12 (CP).—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands will abdicate in September in behalf of her daughter, Princess Juliana, the Queen announced in a radio broadcast tonight.

The Queen, 67, has been in poor health for months.

Wilhelmina took a seven-week vacation from her royal office last fall and special legislation was drafted for Juliana to act as regent. Wilhelmina resumed her royal duties Dec. 1.

A government announcement Saturday said she planned to yield her powers for a second time next Friday, with Juliana again to serve as regent. At that time no details were given on the state of the Queen's health, but informed sources said there was no cause for alarm.

The Queen said it was only at the "urgent request" of her daughter Princess Juliana that she had postponed transferring the throne to her until after Aug. 31—the Queen's 68th birthday—and the celebration of her 50 years on the throne.

The Queen gave as her reason for abdicating "increase in years, a decline of the powers of resistance and ability to work and of the powers which are indispensable to the spirit in taking responsible decisions in the profound and complicated problems of which there are so many at the present time."

Peng Teh-hui's army. The spokesman, Lt. Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, added that much arms and munitions have been captured. Fighting had been light the last few days but Teng predicted heavy battles in both Manchuria and Honan Province — "probably next week."

CPR Painters Find $25,530

MONTREAL, May 12 (CP).—Recovery of $25,530 worth of bonds, stolen from the Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Campbellville, Ont., more than a year ago, was announced today by Canadian Pacific Railway's Investigation Department.

The bonds, in a paper bag, were found on a girder Friday by a gang of CPR painters working on the Mountain Street Bridge. The bonds were turned over to railway investigators who notified Ontario Provincial Police. Inspector C. W. Wood of the Ontario Force came here to identify the bonds.

About $100,000—some $10,000 in cash, the rest in securities and bonds—was stolen from the Campbellville bank by three gunmen last July 8. The trio, unmasked, cleaned out the bank vault and escaped in a stolen automobile.

Doctors Fees Raised $1 Across Ontario

TORONTO, May 12 (CP).—Doctors' fees in Ontario were increased Tuesday from $3 to $4 for initial calls at homes and from $2 to $3 for first office consultations. The changes were announced at the annual meeting of the Council of the Ontario Medical Association. The $1 boost in the charge for the first home call is the first since 1930.

Dr. C. C. White, past president of the Council, said he will be surprised if 20 per cent of Ontario doctors charge the $4. He supported the increased charge for initial office treatment.

The Council announced second and subsequent home calls will cost $3. Extra office treatment will be $2 a call.

Other increases include a boost from $2 to $3 for first-day calls in hospitals. Two dollars will be charged for the second to the 21st day and $1 for the 22nd day to the 42nd day. After that the rate is $15 a month.

CSU Threatens Lakes Strike

TORONTO, May 12 (CP).—T. G. McManus, secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), said today his union will strike if necessary to enforce demands on five Great Lakes shipping companies.

The companies, which have refused to negotiate with the CSU and have signed contracts with the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union (Ind.), are Canada Steamship Lines, Colonial Steamships, Northwest Steamships, Sarnia Steamships and Transit Tankers. The CSU has launched a court action against them for violation of federal labor laws.

"We are reluctant to call a strike at the present time because we want to keep supply lines open," Mr. McManus said at a press conference. "We have been patient with the companies but we can't stand by and see the union liquidated."

Charge Alberta Baby Files Tampered With; No Home Investigation

Commission Told Rubber Stamp Approval Given In Adoptions; For 241 Babies Exported From Canada

EDMONTON, May 12 (CP).—Of applications to adopt Alberta babies filed by residents of foreign countries, 75 per cent were given "rubber stamps of approval" before the adopting parents came here or were interviewed, the royal commission investigating child welfare practices in the province was informed yesterday.

A witness, David Jones, said he and Mrs. Cameron Parker of Toronto, a child welfare expert, had studied the records of 241 adoptions. In each the child had left Canada to live elsewhere.

Not one case, said Mr. Jones—a lawyer for the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire—was revealed in the files of an Alberta welfare worker visiting the foreign home to which a baby was being entrusted.

He testified that babies from Alberta have been adopted by residents of 24 of the 48 United States, Costa Rica, Guatemala, El Salvador and Alaska.

Chief Justice W. R. Howson of the Supreme Court of Alberta heads the commission, the sequel to a survey made for the IODE by Dr. Charlotte Whitton, Ottawa welfare authority.

Say Files Altered
Mr. Jones testified that departmental files covering 40 of the 241 "foreign" adoptions had been tampered with, and that 23 files indicated adoptions were effected exclusively by correspondence.

The question of income suitable for parents who adopt children arose after Mr. Jones said one file showed the parents concerned had an income of only $2,400 a year "and yet were given two children."

Chief Justice Howson asked whether Mr. Jones meant that persons not earning more than $2,400 a year ought to be prevented from adopting "although they could have 22 natural children if they wanted."

Government Offers 25 P.C. Pension Increase; Opposition Demands More

G. S. White Says War Veterans Deserve A Little More Consideration; Should Stop Stressing Cost Of Proposal

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP).—The Government, offering a 25-per-cent increase in war pensions, made its third and probably final attempt in the Commons Tuesday to settle the controversial pensions issue. The offer, made by Veterans Minister Gregg, immediately brought renewed opposition demands for a 33-1-3 per cent boost. Liberal members, who earlier threatened to break with the Government on the issue, appeared satisfied.

Britain Warns UN Must Act Before Friday

LAKE SUCCESS, May 12.—(CP).—Britain warned the United Nations today that any new emergency regime for Palestine must be created by action here before 6 p.m. EDT Friday.

John Fletcher-Cooke, British representative, told a U.N. Assembly Palestine sub-committee the mandate would be ended at that hour—Friday midnight in Palestine time. He said the British High Commissioner, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, would sail immediately.

Fletcher-Cooke spoke during debate on a United States proposal to set up a temporary trusteeship for Jerusalem. It was the first time Britain had informed the U.N. of the exact time she would end her Palestine rule. This left the U.N. only two days to act.

Meanwhile a new plan for administration of Jerusalem was up for inspection by the U.N.

The United States and France today were to place a Jerusalem trusteeship plan before a new sub-committee of the 58-member political committee. The proposal calls for a high commissioner with wide powers of government including organization of police powers which would presumably deal with any Jewish-Arab fighting in the Holy City.

The Russian block, Guatemala, Uruguay and possibly other partition powers were expected to attack the plan. These countries, which urge that the UN reaffirm its decision of last Nov. 29 to divide Palestine into Jewish and Arab states, voted Tuesday against formation of the new sub-committee.

The 14-member sub-committee has the task of proposing further measures for the protection of the city of Jerusalem and its inhabitants.

Another Proposal
Dr. Jorge Garcia Grandos of Guatemala promised to present today before another sub-committee, a proposal that the UN implement its partition plan.

He would have the world agency recognize Hagana, the Jewish army, as the UN's partition enforcement body, it being the only military force in the Holy Land which recognizes the partition decision.

Australia was expected to push its program for reaffirmation of partition if no other solution is found. And Russia said Tuesday it would not accept any plan which worked against partition.

Speed Defence Bills

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP).—The United States defense program gathered speed Tuesday despite Russia's talk of "peace and co-operation." Both Senate and House of Representatives approved a 70-group air force bill and a Senate committee voted a draft measure.

Youth Drowns In Canal Plunge

HAMILTON, May 12.—(CP).—One youth was drowned and another fought his way to safety when an automobile plunged off a bridge into a ship canal at nearby Hamilton beach early today.

The victim was Clifford Wilson, 18. The driver, 18-year-old Frank Theoret, forced a door of the car, rose 32 feet to the surface and swam to shore. Hours after the tragedy, Wilson's body had not been recovered.

Theoret told police he did not know one section of the bridge had been raised. As he drove along the first section "I was confronted suddenly by this wall of black." As he tried to stop the car, it plunged over the edge into the canal.

Swastika On Chest

VANCOUVER, May 12.—(CP).—A mauled and tortured 12-year-old school boy today nursed an ugly swastika scratched on his chest with a safety pin while police searched for the perpetrator of what they described as the city's worst case of sadism in years. Police said the attack was a vicious act performed by a black-caped and goggled stranger who accosted Gary Cuthbert while he was on his way home from school. The man ended a three-hour orgy of beating the boy by scratching a swastika on his chest with a safety pin.

BOY FRIEND FOR BOBO?

Everything is ducky at the Filtration Park Zoo these warm spring days. The ducks, geese, pheasants and turkeys are clucking away happily on clutches of eggs and the Mute swan swims in continuing circles in his water pen. The fox comes from his cage for a hand-out when he feels like it and the 'coon goes on being just as lazy as he likes. The bear pads in his pen and grins at weekend visitors when he senses that a handful of sweet popcorn is about to be offered through the wire fence. Everyone is happy except Bobo, the monkey. She swings in her lofty summer cage and watches the antics on the waterfront. Her two simian friends, city bidders for the winter, have gone back to summer residence out on Highway 28. If she only had someone to talk with or a boy friend, things would be bright.

Volume for the first three hours was 440,000 shares, about 82,000 less than Tuesday's similar period. CPR rested strong trends in heavy trading showing an advance of ½ on more than 3,000 shares but the list generally was irregular. Aluminum and Buck Mills touched highs.

TWAS EVER THUS

Into two classes is the world divided, those who abide by the rules and those who make their own. Or in terms of the recent gift spoons, those who grabbed all the way from two to ten, and those who were content with one. And because the "gimme" gets away with more than their share, crowding right into the next day and the next day. Actually some of those gentle ladies have been going around since last week bragging of their round up of the silverware, mouthing their selfishness to their own kind, perhaps, and in the disgusted hearing of others who believe the women next to them have some rights, too, even equal rights.

WHAT WAS THAT AGAIN?

It happened in an east-end lunch counter last night. A tousle-headed boy, about 11, came in and asked what flavors of ice-cream-bricks were available. Taking a deep breath, the clerk intoned: "Vanilla, chocolate, strawberry three flavors, fruit-fruit, raspberry-centre, butterscotch" and several others. The urchin thought deeply. Then he asked solemnly: "What were those flavors again?" The clerk took a deep breath.—RB.

Drew Announces Lakehead College Plans

TORONTO, May 12.—(CP).—First steps toward establishment of a university at the head of the lakes were announced last night by Premier Drew.

In the opening address of his Ontario election campaign tour, the premier said at Fort Arthur that the newly-established Lakehead Technical Institute will be raised this fall to the status of a junior university. It will offer courses corresponding to those given in the first year at other universities.

He criticized what he called "loose amendments" put forward by Liberal, CCF and Labor-Progressive opposition groups in the Legislature in efforts to change labor legislation. He charged the groups sought to appeal to emotion and not to common sense and said amendments of that sort could not be accepted by the government because they were not properly integrated with the first part of the legislation.

He said the government had adopted the principle of every major recommendation in last year's Ontario forestry commission report.

Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal Leader, in an election speech said at Galt that if elected June 7 a Liberal government would not "presume" to tell anyone which union he should join. He said every worker should be able to make up his mind concerning joining a union "as he thinks will best enhance his future."

Increase Compensation

Mr. Oliver pledged that the Liberal party if elected, would increase Workers' Compensation payments to 75 per cent from 66 2-3 per cent of the worker's wages, would reduce the waiting time for compensation payments and would see that the 20-per-cent amputation tax is "dropped" when the levy is lifted by the federal government.

(The Ontario government plans to continue it to help meet hospital costs.)
"A Liberal government would enable hospitals to meet their financial obligations and discharge their responsibilities without having to obtain revenue through 'nuisance' taxes such as the amputation tax," said Mr. Oliver.

LONDON, Eng.—Food Minister John Strachey said there was no hope of ending bread rationing in Britain until the harvest in the northern hemisphere was secure. He told British caterers he could not tell what restrictions it would be possible to remove in the next week, month or year.

Cobourg Town Employees Pension Plan Inaugurated

COBOURG, May 12—(ENS).—Sponsored by Councillor Fred Bell last year, a pension plan for municipal employees was inaugurated by town council at its meeting Tuesday night. A resolution bringing it into effect was moved by Councillor Bell and seconded by Councillor George Galbraith. Cost per year will be $800. It was originally intended to make it retroactive but as the two oldest employees, Jim Campbell and Frank Markey can obtain their three-fifths pension from the town as authorized by the Municipal Act, the pension plan starts now.

A letter from the parking meter company informed the town that due to production difficulties, the new meter heads would not be available for a period of time and that, pending their arrival, the town could retain the full meter receipts instead of 50 per cent.

Councillor Bell, who is against the meters, suggested that now would be a good time to throw them out. The entire meter file was referred to the town solicitor for study. Announcement was made that flasher signal lights would be installed at the intersections of D'Arcy and King and William and King streets. Mayor Joe Smith said that one was needed badly at the dangerous corner of University Avenue and Ontario St. Efforts will be made to get a light for that intersection also.

Lindsay Music Festival Begins, Over 800 Entries

LINDSAY, May 12—(ENS).—Under the auspices of the Lindsay Kiwanis Club, the twelfth annual Victoria County Music Festival opened Tuesday morning at Cambridge Street United Church. With more than 800 entries, 135 more than in 1947, it was necessary to begin the festival a day earlier. The final session will be on Saturday afternoon, with a grand final concert of first prize winners to be held on May 21.

E. C. Dettman, Principal of Alexandra School, presided as president of the festival. R. A.

Health Insurance Plan Delayed

OSHAWA, May 12—A federal national health insurance act had been delayed by "the opposition of two great provinces, where, unfortunately, Liberal governments are not in office." Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell charged in a specially transcribed radio address to Oshawa listeners Tuesday night. He was speaking in support of Lyman Gifford, Liberal candidate in Ontario riding by-election.

"A national health insurance act will come, and it will be a Liberal government that will give it to the people," Mitchell asserted. He said that parliament was even now considering the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act, which will give labor a statutory right to collective bargaining and recognition of trade unions.

"Not one important piece of valid legislation for the benefit of the workers was ever passed by parliament with a Conservative government in office," he claimed.

"At the present time more than $750,000,000 a year is being spent for social security in Canada and 80 per cent of the money is provided by the federal government. Since family allowances were approved, Canadian families have been paid more than $681,000,000."

Claiming a definite link between Communist ideology and the CCF platform, the minister declared that "both, to be successful, involve regimentation and destruction of free enterprise."

Wainman, president of the sponsoring Kiwanis Club, extended a welcome to citizens and contestants and praised the festival officers for their work.

Rev. G. A. McMullen of Emmanuel College, Toronto, in addressing poetry speaking and choral speaking Tuesday, paid high tribute to the latter groups and recommended that they attend the Toronto Kiwanis Festival.

Ask Tamblyn's

ANNIVERSARY: "My husband's parents will celebrate their Golden Wedding on June 6. They have eight children, 26 grandchildren and hosts of friends. The family will attend early mass and then have a family dinner at the hotel. But in the afternoon there will be a reception for approximately 200 people. Should we send invitations or put a notice in the paper? Should we have a cake and wine or sandwiches and punch? Have you a good punch recipe? I am making the cake."

Personally write the close friends and put a general invitation in the paper so that no one will be overlooked. Three hundred people—it takes my breath away. Could you have sandwiches, a small piece of cake and the punch? Cake and wine seems a little sweet at that time of year. I've sent you the punch recipe for 200 servings. Ten pounds of butter and 10 pounds of meat or filling. We'll be thinking of you on June 6.

GUESTS: "I have spent the winter in Toronto but have now come back to my farm for the summer. Do you know of anyone who would like to spend the summer with me? I live on the highway and it is not lonely. We think we have just the person you want. But we printed your letter incase someone else wanted the opportunity. Any mail we get will go on to you."

MOLES: "I have moles on both face and body. They are interesting too. How shall I get rid of them? What will it cost?" Go to a good surgeon and get his advice. Moles need either surgery or the electric needle. Your doctor would know best what is needed in your case.

HIGH NOON: "When is the exact time of high noon?" Twelve noon is high noon.

Where can I have a glass with dechlor made into a lamp? Bryce's, Simpson's, Eaton's, Hockridge's, or any good electrician.

The Trains Must Run

The railway situation in the United States points a lesson which we in Canada must heed. Their unions called a strike after negotiations with the owners fizzled out. The strike was scheduled to begin yesterday morning. The Government took over the railways and court orders were issued giving union leaders notice to call off the proposed strike and, further, to refrain from any action which would encourage one. These steps were taken because railways have become essential to the national welfare and a strike would imperil the health, safety and daily life of the whole country. The unions have complied with the court orders and the railways are operating.

Railwaymen are in a different category from workers in a factory in one city, or even in an industry which is nation-wide, like meat-packing. When such workers strike, the effects are either local, or if national, do not paralyze the country. Railway workers are to some extent in the same position as policemen and firemen. If they strike, the public safety is endangered.

Strikes are recognized instruments of organized labour. It might seem inequitable to some that the railway workers should not be accorded the right to strike which is the privilege of other men, but in the last forty years railways have become essential public utilities and nation-wide strikes in them cannot therefore be tolerated. The American Government is seizing the railways and issuing injunctions against striking is not thereby defeating the union's wage claims. The unions may be able to get, through governmental mediation, very favourable settlements. The plain fact is that no matter how just the railway union's demands may be, the American Government has accepted its responsibility to all the people and rightly prohibited one group of them from crippling the nation's economy and disrupting the lives of all the citizens.

The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, a respected and highly responsible union, is now calling for a strike vote. Their demand is for a higher wage rate. The Canadian situation is not parallel with the American. There is a great deal of commonsense on the part of both companies and the union. They can be depended on to use every possible means of reaching agreement before taking any drastic action. The union officials in issuing strike ballots are going through the usual procedure of reinforcing the executive's position before it puts its demands on the conference table.

Mr. Churchill's Europe

The sixteen nations participating in E.R.P. and the five at the core of a Western Union, have their official plans for concord and united effort. They also have their private citizens and organizations and ex-Premiers who have dreams of union, on a wider scale. There is Mr. Churchill, Paul Ramadier and Paul Reynaud, former premiers of France; there is Paul Van Zeeland's Independent League of European Co-operation; there is the French Council for United Europe, the Nouvelles Equipes Internationales, the European Parliamentary Union, the Union of European Federalists. These people and the representatives of these and other organizations have been meeting this week in The Hague (Holland) to discuss the possibilities of a union of all Europe. There were 600 delegates. The Honorary Chairman is Mr. Churchill. The prime mover in this unofficial movement is Mr. Churchill. The cynosure of all eyes at The Hague is Mr. Churchill.

The concept of a United Europe has long been cherished by Mr. Churchill, and often urged. He said at the opening of the congress, "Our aim is not confined to Western Europe. We seek nothing less than all Europe". Mr. Churchill is himself the First Citizen of Europe. Even out of office his influence is great. He is widely known, if not venerated, by millions of Europeans. The "Grand Design" of King Henry of Navarre to unite all Europe can have no more potent modern advocate than he, and it is this symbol of Britain and her empire who is taking the lead in advocating a breaking down of narrow nationalism and a surrender, in part, of national sovereignty.

The Churchill plan suggests three world councils, one composed of the Soviet Union's world, the second of the western hemisphere, the third of Europe plus the British Commonwealth. (One wonders what Canada's position would be.) For Europe he hopes that an eventual participation of all peoples throughout the continent will be achieved.

A Congress of Europe and the concept of a three-in-one world may be pipe dreams, or their unofficial proponents at The Hague may, as active politicians, be speaking partly for home consumption and votes from the immunity of a non-party (though strongly anti-Socialistic) conference. Nevertheless, in the interests of the survival of western civilization nations must come eventually to a pooling of sovereignty and to wider unions than the Western European Union now in the process of formation. From such conferences as The Hague Congress will come the impulse. They can lay the foundations on which official governmental representatives can later build the formal constitutions.

On Being A Field Marshal

We may have dreamed in childhood of becoming a locomotive engineer, a hobo or an Indian potentate, but never of becoming a Field Marshal or even a general. Most of the Field Marshals or Generals whom we saw as a child sat on horses in public squares and were made of stone or green coloured metal and were not even respected by the birds. We have had latter-day dreams and in exalted moments have thought that there were some advantages to being a great military figure. They can give orders, their words can galvanize thousands of men and ignite fireworks which would make any 24th of May boy pink with envy. It is not the power of their orders which has most attraction but the phraesology they are free to employ.

General Vokes, commander of the First Division in Italy (a visitor to town today) could concoct some very pretty orders, though many of them too strong to appear in a printed history of the war. Field Marshal Montgomery gave memorable orders, like the one "21 Army Group Will Now Cross The Rhine".

The enemy possibly thinks he is safe behind this great river obstacle. We all agree that it is a great obstacle; but we will show the enemy that he is far from safe behind it.

And having crossed the Rhine, we will crack about in the plains of Northern Germany, chasing the enemy from pillar to post. The swifter and the more energetic our action the sooner the war will be over, and that is what we all desire: to get on with the job and finish off the German war as soon as possible.

Over the Rhine, then, let us go. And good hunting to you all on the other side. Now, if we were a Field Marshal and were sending a dozen armies across the Ottonabee, we might be tempted to order: "After we have all had a good breakfast and the contents of the In-and-Out store have been securely locked up in the Field Marshal's caravan, and if the sun is not too hot, we shall gather at the river and as the last Hurrah for your Field Marshal echoes through the vale, we shall move. . . . No, that would not do at all. Perhaps the trouble is that we were not educated at a Military College. It may, of course, be that we have not Viscount Montgomery's gift of command.

An Indian Governor-General

Earl Mountbatten, the last Viceroy of British India and the first Governor-General of the Dominion of India, is being succeeded as Governor-General by an Indian, Chakravarti Rajagopalachari. The Governor-General-designate is 69 years old, a man of talent and integrity, and like Lord Mountbatten, he has an unusual capacity to understand the points of view of other men under very difficult circumstances. He recognized long before other leaders of the Congress Party how strong was the demand of the Moslem population for a separate state and his wise counsel had much to do with securing Hindu acceptance of the partition plan. He is a realist and prepared to work for solutions to problems from the basis of the realities of the situation rather than of his own desires.

Earl Mountbatten has been a great Viceroy and Governor-General in crucial years. He now leaves India. Though his desire is to return to naval service, Britain and the Commonwealth will be anxious for his services in some high diplomatic or Cabinet position where his administrative abilities and statecraft can be directly employed.

The Experience Of Being Burnt Out

By F. M. DELAFOSSE

FOR the past few weeks I have been recounting certain incidents of life in the backwoods of Ontario seventy years ago. All the incidents as related were true, deviating only in regard to names and unessential details in which the public would not be particularly interested. There were, no heroic features in any of them, at least not so far as I was a participant, and they were not entered into with any spirit of derring-do but encountered through ignorance, chance or folly. I wrote of them because distance in time seemed to have covered them with a veneer of humour which was not at all visible when they happened, and because I knew that the great throbbing heart of the public is, has been, and always will be, keenly alive to humour in anything in which it has not been the sufferer.

I HAVE always endeavoured to look at the bright side of things rather than at the gloomy for there are really far fewer things to laugh at than to be gloomy over and that is why, I think, God has given us countenances, unlike the beasts, with which we can grin as well as growl. Straightforward and strictly conscientious friends have seriously accused me at times of strolling into the realms of fantasy for my material. They have been wrong. Whatever I have written as truth is truth. I am afraid that people who are destined to travel along the narrower avenues of business life where every piece of work conducted along precise methods and fun has little chance to enter, cannot realize to its true extent the greater life that lies outside. They cannot possibly compass its full extent through the medium of an office window. One has to travel and mix with the rough and the smooth, the rich and the poor, the cultured and the boorish, and I am glad to say that I have met with quite as much courtesy and honesty from one class as from another and as much inherent goodness in the sinner as in the saint.

I HAD been in Muskoka four or five years, when I felt that penned in in such a remote district, I would develop into a clam or a turtle if I did not get busy and try to see something of the other parts of Canada, so I joined up with a party that was being recruited in Huntsville for the purpose of surveying township locations in the Northwest Province of Alberta.

I left my house and all that it contained in the care of a friend of mine lately arrived from England, named Price, and my lot of about thirty acres, fully cleared and fenced, to a neighbour to make what he could out of it for the simple charge of looking after it while I was absent.

I HAD intended originally to be absent only about six months but owing to unforeseen circumstances this had been lengthened into a year and a half, mainly owing to the fact that our surveyor only paid his hands sixty dollars apiece for their season's work and then quietly and unostentatiously vanished from the scene never to be heard from again. Price had agreed to keep charge of the dwelling, so I was compelled on my return to seek lodgings at the house of a brother neighbour, whom I shall call George, all arrangements could be made for my regaining possession of my farm and house.

It could not have been more than a week after my return that business called me to Huntsville and I was away for two days, quite unaware of any outside news. On my return in my canoe I was met by George, who with an incomprehensibly solemn face, shook hands and added lugubriously, "My but that was an awful fire we had last night!" "What fire was that?" I asked merrily, for I was in a jovial mood at getting home again. George looked hard at me, and then repeated as sadly as before, "My, but that was an awful fire that we had last night, so it was."

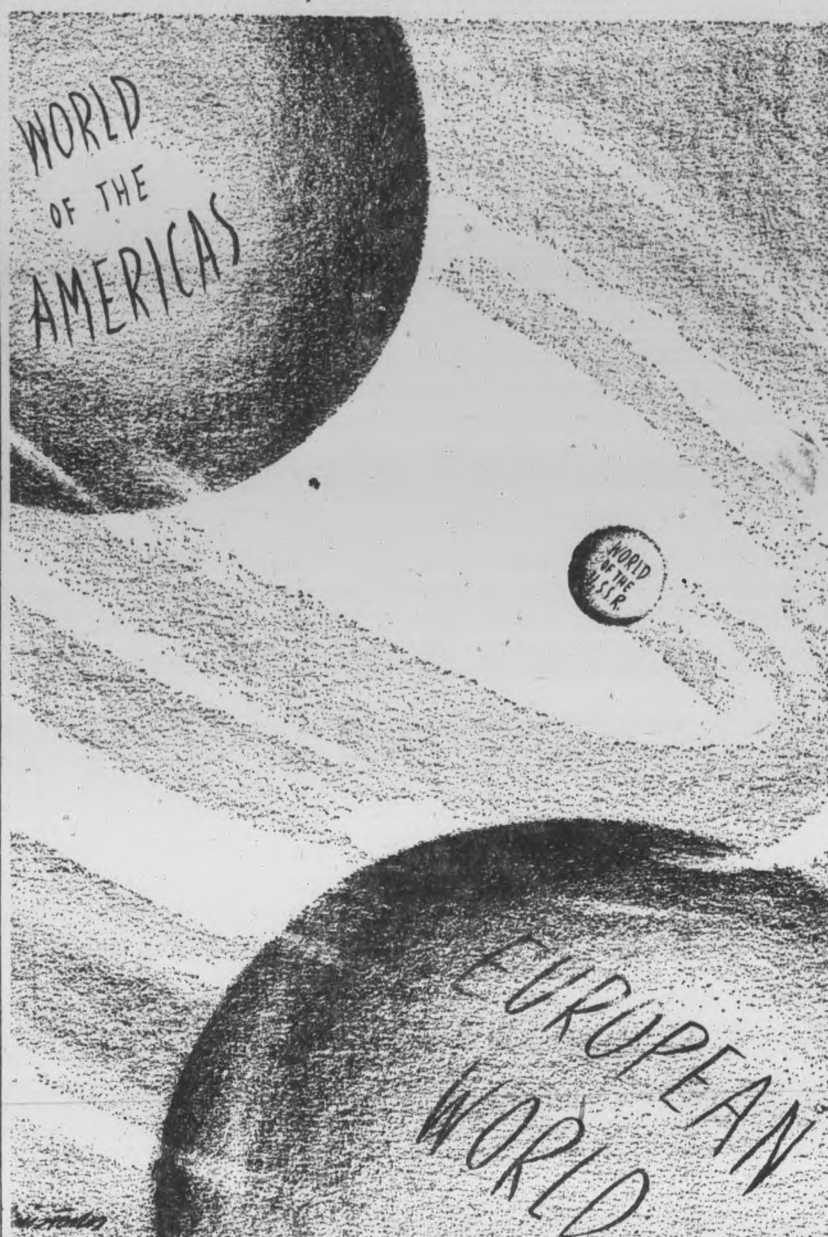

"What are you talking about?" I enquired again. "Well," he rejoined, "if yer ain't just the dandiest feller I ever seed, you darned Englishmen don't seem to know when to laugh and when to cry, so yer don't!"

"George," I said, getting serious, "for Heaven's sake, tell me what has happened?" "Don't yer reely know?" he cried. "No, I don't," I almost shouted. "Well," he drawled, "if that don't bang Bangsher!" He scratched his poll and finally after a moment's silence managed to emit the remark, "Well, if yer reely wants to know, your house was burnt down last night!"

I WAITED to hear no more. With three or four strides I was at the water side and in my canoe paddling for dear life to my lot about a mile distant round a bend in the lake. On reaching the shore I saw at once that the house had been completely destroyed and on getting to the scene found Price looking dejectedly at the ruins. We shook hands and after saying how sorry I was that he had been put to such a loss asked him how it had happened. "I was nothing more than a blazing idiot," he cried, "to bring my wife and roost in a place that has only a piece of zinc about a yard square covering the place where the stovepipe comes through the roof." "Yes," I replied, "and I really am sorry for you, but you must remember that my loss has been somewhat greater than yours, as I have lost everything I had beyond what I am 'tand' up in". He didn't say anything for a moment and finally in a tone of pensive commiseration remarked, "Oh, yes, you did lose quite a lot, didn't you?"

He was a fine chap, at heart, and I could feel for him. He left soon afterwards for Vancouver or Victoria and we never heard of him or Mrs. Price again. He had had enough of Muskoka chimneys. In his day he had been a splendid athlete and had been a member of the English champion Rugby team for three years running.

OH, BRAVE NEW WORLDS!

Some Timely Truths From J. S. McLean (KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

MR. J. Stanley McLean, testifying before the House of Commons Price Committee, gave two answers which deserve repetition. To one questioner he said: "I don't mind telling you that one of the main objectives in conducting a business is to make a profit." To another, he flatly declared: "I don't dispute the fact that the shareholders get a fair profit and I don't apologize for it."

That is plain speech, but there is need for plain speaking on this subject today. Canadians have heard so much Socialistic claptrap about the evils of the profit-system that the antidote of common sense is badly needed. The truth is that profit has been the greatest incentive in building our country, that there is nothing inherently evil in profits, and that people who invest money are entitled to some return, even as those who invest brawn or brains, or both, are entitled to some return.

In a system of free enterprise, businesses operate at a profit—or they do not operate for very long. If Mr. McLean failed to show a profit, he would not last very long as president of Canada Packers. He would be dismissed or asked to resign. And he would not be dismissed by some capitalist bogey-man, but by a large group of shareholders, some of them wealthy, some of them with only a few shares representing lifetime savings. Yet Mr. McLean is responsible to all of them, and if he did not earn a profit for them he would soon be dismissed.

Mr. McLean also had an interesting answer to the suggestion that Canada Packers reduce their prices in order to provide leadership in bringing about a general price reduction. He pointed out that his company's margin of profit was one-seventh of a cent per pound of meat. Assuming that it sold meat at thirty cents a pound, a reduction of five per cent would be a cent and a half a pound. That would have little effect on the market—but the company would "go broke" in six months.

It was unfortunate that one of Mr. McLean's questioners did not ask him about the amount of profits distributed by Canada Packers among its workers, for surely that would have been quite as relevant as questions about profits distributed to shareholders. Under the company's profit-sharing plan, after a fixed percentage of the profits is paid to shareholders, the balance is divided equally between workers and shareholders. Approximately $1,200,000 was paid to employees last year under this bonus plan, and the sum thus represents an additional charge to the labour cost of each pound of meat sold.

This is a commendable method of distributing profits—but is it in any way more equitable than division of a fair profit among shareholders? Obviously it is not, under free enterprise, for the owners of a business have every right to expect a fair profit from its operation. That is admittedly denied by Socialists, who would refuse to allow anyone to make a profit but the state. However, since the great majority of Canadians do not want to see their country completely socialized, they should learn to disregard denunciation of profits as something inherently evil and to recognize the fact that the profit-motive is the basis of a free economy.

Toronto Star wonders why "quince" is singular and "quints" plural. But such is not the case, quints being one of the most singular things that ever happened.—T.D.F. in Ottawa Citizen.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law? For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a freewoman was by promise.

Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise. But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

Nevertheless what saith the scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman. So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free. (Gal. 4, 21-23, 28-31.)

The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God. For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope, because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. (Rom. 8, 16, 17, 19-21.)

Jungle Surgery

In the Mindanao jungle in 1944, a soldier, with the aid of mirrors, removed his own appendix without ether. Last month at Government House, Brisbane, he received the Military Cross and bar for a series of intrepid deeds.

The hero is Robert Kerr McLaren, veteran surgeon of Dundasburg, formerly a captain in the 8th Division, A.I.F. The "doctor" who helped him with his self-performed operation was a Malayan native guerrilla.

The incident occurred after McLaren, who had been captured with the 8th Division in Singapore, escaped from Changi gaol and joined a Malayan guerrilla band.

His citation mentioned: Two escapes from the Japanese, one of which involved a 270-mile sea voyage in a hollowed-out log;

Parachute landings in Borneo and the Philippines with Intelligence units to prepare the way for Allied landings;

Three years fighting with the guerrillas. After his brilliant work with the guerrillas General MacArthur conferred upon him the US Silver Star—the third highest U.S. military decoration.

Telling about his operation, Captain McLaren said:

"I knew I had appendicitis and that if I did not do something I would die. With the aid of a mirror and an ordinary knife I took out the appendix. The operation took four and a half hours. It was hell, but I came through all right."

Talking Cure

Sydney traffic police have launched a "talking cure" for first offenders.

People who commit traffic breaches are given the alternatives of attending lectures on traffic etiquette or being officially "booked."

Fifty first offenders attended a first lecture, and the audience was "argumentative, but good-natured."

Some of the listeners sought to mount the lecturer's platform and demonstrate their cases on the blackboard.

Women took an active part.

The wife of an offending taxi-driver became so excited in defence of her husband that she punctuated her argument with thumps on the lecturer's desk.

But when she gave him a chance, her husband, at the back, interjected: "I think the constable is right, dear."

The lecturing officer deals with each case without mentioning names. He stresses the danger involved in each breach, both to the person responsible and to other road users.—Australia News Letter.

Stress Empire Importance To Economy In Britain

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Britain has rarely been as empire-conscious as it is today. Hardly a day goes by without a front-page reference to the Dominions and Colonies in the national press.

Here are a few samples: "Empire Is The Key"—L. S. Amery, former Conservative Dominions Secretary, now President of the Empire Industries Association which fights doggedly for development of Empire trade.

"Ties With Empire—No Weakening"—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of Exchequer, in speech seeking to allay fears of co-operation with Western Europe might "lead this country away from the old ties with the Commonwealth."

"Empire and Western Union—Mr. Eden on Need for Consultation."—Referring to Deputy Conservative Leader Anthony Eden's demand that the Commonwealth be consulted at every step in the development of Western European co-operation.

Economic Needs

Western Union is not the only factor arousing Britain to awareness of the Commonwealth and Empire. For months economic experts of the Government have been emphasizing the need to develop the Empire sources of raw supplies. This applies particularly to Colonies and Dominions of the sterling area for the main objective of the campaign is to reduce dollar expenditures.

As far as the man in the street is concerned, the vigorous discussion about the relation of the Commonwealth to Western Union has been a healthy reminder that most of the Red-painted countries on the map have long outgrown Colonial status.

Government ministers again and again underline the independence of the Dominions. They rarely make a reference to them without stressing this point—but it takes a long time to sink into the public mind.

"We are very close to our fellow Dominions in the Commonwealth. We go in with them on a basis of equality in sovereignty," Prime Minister Attlee said in the Commons recently.

His subordinates, dealing with Colonial affairs, say their aim is to spread this basis of equality.

Allow Teachers Occasional Beer

KITCHENER, May 12 — (CP) — Teachers deserve a right to live and expand in a community and not be isolated specially because they are teachers. R. E. K. Roueke, headmaster of Pickering College, told the weekly meeting of the Kitchener-Waterloo Rotary Club Monday.

Communities must accept teachers as human beings and allow them a full life, even allow them to smoke and the occasional glass of beer if they wish, he said.

He urged the public to realize it is necessary to pay teachers "a decent wage that they may live, afford a library and make such contacts as will give them a rich background."

Men's League Begins With A Draw

De Laval and Knights opened the City Softball League at the Bowl on Tuesday night with a 2-2 tie in seven innings. It was called for rain early in the eighth and the second game was cancelled. A good-sized crowd viewed the smart opener, with Mayor Owens and Ald. Dodds and Young taking part in the opening ceremony. The Mayor pitched with Aid. Young catching and Aid. Dodds fielded out to commence the season.

Knights unveiled a new twirler, Jack Crowley of Hastings, and he fanned 12 in a fine showing, giving seven hits but walking six. Haddy Eakins hurled four-hit ball for De Laval, fanning only three. Mackness and Courneyea led the hitters with three each, while Thompson and Spencer made nice catches. Hits by Courneyea and Mackness resulted in a run for De Laval early and a walk and hits by Courneyea and McCarthy gave them another. An error, out and hit by Tompkins meant one in the first for Knights, and hits by Spencer and Condom with an out and wild pitch, tied it in the seventh.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

An Olympic year always sees a revival of track and field events. And such is the case here. The Peterborough Harriers Club began operating last year and is in full swing during 1948. Next big event staged by the club is the city and district track and field meet in Morrow Park on Saturday afternoon. Sprints, middle distance races and longer runs, as well as relays, hurdles, jumping, putting the shot, etc. With some prominent athletes of this area entered—in fact quite a good entry list—folks should see a lot of keen competition. Club officials are doing an okay job.

Intermediate schedule for the Lakeshore Baseball League was run Tuesday, showing the Petes opening in Colborne on May 24, return to here May 26. A seven-club set-up with a single schedule, so the local ballsters make six trips and have half a dozen home games. It should be a solid circuit and this competition will put the Peterborough pack in trim for OBA intermediate "A" playdowns in August. Haven't heard yet who will coach the Petes nor their prospects, but the city has a lot of good veterans—who won't make the senior club—and a raft of ex-juniors ready to step up. They ought to do all right this season.

Heavy Run Of Games

And the COBL schedule is in tonight. A pretty heavy one for the senior "A" clubs, making a dozen trips for the Petes and 12 home games before lengthy playoffs. Two morning holiday fusts in Riverside, the opening one May 24, a twilight tilt on June 17, and the rest Saturday aft affairs. The men O'Murphy start it off in Bella Villa against the Batawa bunch a week from this Saturday. Both Belleville and Kingston have floodlights, and Oshawa may get them later this summer. But not Peterborough, at least this year. The Petes should be in action till nearly mid-September, unless they come up with a lemon.

Glad to see the Industrial Softball League all set again for another lively campaign. Nine clubs aboard: Marines, CGE Drafting, Quakers, Brintons, Nashua, Canoe Co., Woolens, De Laval and Westclox. Schedule will probably commence the last week of May and they'll go on three diamonds: Quaker, Woolens and Brinton. Later on the new Marines' field, too. Loop is affiliated with the OASA for intermediate "AA" playdowns. Prexy Deb Hillier is still seeking umpires. It would appear that the proposed Southend Softball League isn't interfering too much with the Industrial Loop this year.

And The Rains Came

Rain ruined the last few frames of the opening game in the City Softball League at the Bowl on Tuesday p.m. and the second one was cancelled. Too bad on that first one as it was developing into a dandy—surprisingly so for a first fray of the year. De Laval and Knights were 1-1 to end the first, the Separator Squad went one up in the fourth, and Knights tied it in the seventh. Rain arrived in the eighth and play was halted. A good-sized gallery, too, with Mayor Owens along with Aid. Dodds and Young officially opening the schedule. A twin bill listed for there Thursday, with De Laval playing Legion at seven, followed by Knights vs. the B-A.

Lot of new faces in the lineups this semester. Jack Crowley of Hastings hurled fine ball, despite a bit of wildness, for K. of C., having a dozen strikeouts in seven heats. Eakins threw four-hit ball for De Laval. Courneyea and Mackness led the hitters as Thompson and Spencer came up with good catches. McCarthy looks like a natural at short, and Dugan will do at first, despite a few fumbles from over-anxiousness. So will Kumpf back of the plate for Knights. Nice to see fellows like Eld Girard, Jake Wade and Don Coughlin out again, too. Plenty of youngsters in this loop also and we have a hunch it'll be a hustling campaign with oodles of entertainment for the fans and a lot of fight shown. It might be a well-matched circuit all the way through.

Work In Three Parks

Work proceeds apace in several ball parks here. Fair Board has granted permission for intermediate and junior games on the diamond in front of the grandstand in Morrow Park—with the gridders using that stretch in the autumn. The ballsters will be working on the ground tonight. West stand in Riverside is being torn down and the lumber will be used to extend the Bowl bleachers. Main stand in Riverside will be fixed up again and, meantime, bleachers to seat about 1,500 have been ordered from Toronto for the baseball park. And dugouts and press-box (of the sunken type) are planned for the Bowl at an early date. Yeah, much ado about something.

Schroeder Gives Kramer Boost

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP).—You can give Ted Schroeder, still an amateur tennis player, an assist on Jack Kramer's amazing series of professional victories over Bobby Riggs.

"Schroeder and I worked it out together," Kramer explains. "We decided there is no use trying to outsteady a fellow with the perfect ground strokes like Riggs or Frank Parker. The way to beat them is to have no rallies—just serve and go to the net."

Apparently it has worked. Riggs now says big Jake has the "most deceptive" service, though not the hardest, he ever has seen.

And they both agree that Kramer's slam-bang tactics put the pressure on Bobby so that Riggs' own serves and passing shots lost steam and accuracy while Jake was gaining confidence all the time.

Turnabout
While Kramer is confident of his ability to take Riggs at tennis, he is not so sure about golf. They are both practising in what spare time they have for the coming celebrities tournament.

"Ordinarily I shoot about 85, but I think under pressure I'll get down to 80," says Kramer.

"But you should see Bobby drive. After seeing how far he can hit them, I can understand how a little guy like Ben Hogan does it."

Wins Adelaide Cup
ADELAIDE, May 12.—(Reuters).—Sanctus, odd-on favorite at 5 to 4 today won the Adelaide Cup, worth £2,300 Australian ($9,000) before a record attendance of 45,000. He covered the two miles in 3:25.

Nothing Definite
REIGATE, Surrey, England, May 12.—(CP).—A spokesman for Sir Malcolm Campbell, famed automobile and boat racing "cray," said today "nothing definite" had been arranged when queried as to the possibility that Sir Malcolm would visit Kelowna, B.C., to make an attempt at the speedboat record. There was no indication when a decision would be reached.

Laabs Paces Bisons To 8-5 Victory

by the Associated Press.

Chet Laabs, cleanup hitter of Buffalo Bisons, is making strong bid for the International League home run honors.

The hard-hitting former American League star already has belted seven round-trippers in the Bisons' first 15 games. This is three off the pace set by Baltimore's Howie Moss last year when he clubbed 53 homers to win the crown for the third time.

Moss, along with seven other players, is tied for second place in the current home run derby with four.

Laabs paced the Bisons to 8-5 win over Newark Bears Tuesday night when he slamed his second homer of the year with the bases loaded to highlight a six-run, fourth-inning rally.

Don Johnson was the victim of Laab's base-clearing blast. Johnson also served up a two-run homer to Cy Block in the first inning. Home runs by Ken Silvestri and Johnny Lucadello accounted for four of Newark's runs.

Meanwhile, Syracuse Chiefs increased their first place lead over the idle Montreal Royals to a full game by trouncing Toronto Maple Leafs 10-2.

A grand slam homer by Frankie Dreys, featured the Chiefs' 13-hit attack on three Toronto hurlers.

Jodie Beeler and Kermit Wahl also banged four-baggers for the Chiefs while Ed Sanicki cracked two-run circuit drive for the Leafs.

Rochester Red Wings vacated the cellar as Bill Reeder turned back Jersey City Giants 4-0.

Phils Nip St. Louis 3-2
As Yankees Lick Tribe 4-1

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

If Cleveland Indians are to win their first pennant in 28 years, they had best learn to beat New York Yankees.

One of the principal reasons the Indians have been pennantless since 1920 has been their inability to win their share of games from the Bronx Bombers.

In the last 27 series between the clubs, the Tribe has come out on the long end of only four. One ended in an 11-1 tie. During the 27-year span, Cleveland finished in the runner-up spot three times.

Always it was the Yankees who kept them from winning the flag. This habit of long standing continued to haunt the Indians yesterday. Facing the Yankees for the first time this season, the Tribe absorbed a 4-1 licking which not only ended a five-game winning streak but knocked the team out of first place in the American League race.

Nip Browns

Philadelphia Athletics nipped St. Louis Browns 3-2 in 11 innings to push past Cleveland into top spot, one game to the good. The Yankees remained in third place in the tight race, a game away from the top.

Boston Red Sox snapped a five-game losing streak by shellingacking the tail-end Chicago White Sox 8-0 and Detroit whipped the Senators in a night game at Washington, 4-1.

Only one National League game was played. Philadelphia Phillies came from behind to defeat the Reds in Cincinnati, and make a sweep of the three-game set.

Allie Reynolds pitched the Yankee victory over the Indians. He tamed his former mates with nine hits to register his fifth straight triumph in a unbeaten season. The Indians lone run resulted from Kenny Keltner's 10th home run in the fourth inning.

A night game Philadelphia crowd of 22,565 saw the Athletics win their ninth straight. The winning run came in the bottom half of the 11th when St. Louis pitcher Fred Sanford walked Pete Suder with the bases loaded and two out. Sam Chapman had sent the game into overtime when he exploded a ninth inning home run with two out and two strikes on him. Phil Marchildon of Penetangulshene went the route for his third victory against one defeat.

Bangs Two Homers

Vern Stephens banged two home runs to lead the Red Sox attack. Bobby Doerr also homered. Jack Kramer scattered six singles to register his second victory and his first shutout.

Virgil Trucks shut out the Senators until the ninth when Eddie Yost doubled to score Al Evans with Washington's only run.

Del Ennis, with a homer, two doubles and a single in four times at bat, led Philadelphia's attack on Bucky Walters. Ed Heusser, former Red, pitched two-hit shut-out ball for 4½ relief innings to receive credit for the victory.

Shed Some Tears Jitterbugging Is Disappearing

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, May 12 (AP).—Shed a tear, friends, the jitterbug is disappearing. This news comes from dance expert Ray Bolger.

"Jitterbugging was the product of depression and war," says Prof. Bolger, now displaying his footwork in "Silver Lining." "Such times of stress and strain bring out the primitive instinct and the desire for frantic expression of emotion."

"Now that things are getting more normal (that what HE says), the trend is toward more graceful living. Girls are wearing clothes that flatter their charms, and they seeking a style of dancing that accentuate their grace and dignity."

Death Valley's Day

Death Valley is getting a big play from Hollywood these days, much to Arizona's disappointment. "Walking Hills," "Three Godfathers," and "Yellow Sky" are among the films being shot in the lowest basin in the United States. These pictures would probably have been made in Arizona except for a dispute now going on about whether that State would assume liability risks for actors who work there on locations.

Censor trouble prompted a swift rewrite of the gangsterish "Chicago Story," which is now "Undercover Man," starring Glenn Ford. Originally based on the Capone story, it has been switched to a tale of a treasury agent who solves a big income tax evasion case. The culprit is a composite of several big-time evaders.

Jane Powell opens a theatre date in Chicago May 27 and will go home via Lake Louise. . . Bill Holden's next at Columbia will be a psycho melodrama, "Hearsay." There's a lad who will be one of the town's top stars by year's end. . .

Latest crack about a recent flop produced by the scion of a studio boss: "I'll set the son-in-law business back 10 years."

10-Second Review

"The Sainted Sisters" (Para.) is a pleasant fable about two confidence women (Veronica Lake, Joan Caulfield) who are reformed by a small-town stone cutter (Barry Fitzgerald). It's nothing uproarious, but it scores high in chucklesome entertainment. Veronica shows a fine knack for comedy.

Thunderbirds Prove Strongest In Trials

TORONTO, May 12 — (CP).—Vancouver's Thunderbirds have proved themselves the strongest contenders in Canada's bid for the Olympic basketball championship.

The University of British Columbia team, only undefeated squad among the four that competed in the two-day Olympic trials here; demonstrated its superiority on Tuesday night by trouncing Montreal YMHA 48-34.

Montreal, the other team from which Canada's Olympic representatives will be picked, had conquered the Canadian senior champion Vancouver Clover Leafs the previous night.

To Decide Action

ALHAMBRA, Calif., May 11 — (AP).—The Los Angeles presbytery Tuesday asked its judiciary committee to decide whether any disciplinary action should be taken against the retired minister who married Bob Topping and Lana Turner. Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, former pastor of the Hollywood Presbyterian church and formerly of Sydney, N.S., officiated at the marriage.

HEY, WHAT GOES ON HERE?—Billy Bell of University of British Columbia Thunderbirds takes an unscheduled ride on the shoulders of Bob Phibbs of University of Western Ontario during Monday night's Olympic basketball trials at Maple Leaf Gardens. Phibbs, a grinder for Western U., tried to charge around Bell, but the West Coast guard got part of

Heads Want Runner, Movie Star Rolled Into One At Olympics

LONDON, May 12 — (CP).—Olympic organizers are thinking of all the angles. They want a handsome bloke, photogenic in physique and running style, to carry the Torch into Wembley Stadium before 90,000 spectators and the King who will open the Games at 2:45 p.m. on July 29.

The idea is that an Olympic film will be made for showing throughout the world, and its propaganda value will be to give film watchers a glimpse of what the ideal British athlete looks like.

Sports writers have been trying to pry the name of the selected runner from Olympic runners from Olympic officials, but they have sidetracked all queries with "We don't know — honestly we don't."

There has been talk of Britain's great miler, Sydney Wooderson, hustling into the Stadium with the 18-inch-high Torch, but experts say he is out. Alas, Sydney is only 5 feet 6 inches tall, wears glasses, is thinning on top, and is on the lean side.

The argument is that lawyer's clerk Sydney, and any other British athlete who has made his name on the cinder track, has not a chance unless he is bulging with muscles and physical perfection.

The Torch arrives in England on the eve of the Games after a 3000-mile journey from the Greek village of Olympia and athletic clubs now are picking runners who will be targets for the cameras along the route. Clubs have been notified carriers must be "young, but a senior and athletic."

Performance, in any case, does not count. Runners have been given nearly 20 minutes to cover each two-mile stage—a circumstance which is puzzling some of the chosen men. They are anxious to know how to fill in the time.

They will be followed by an official Olympic automobile carrying a substitute runner (equally as photogenic and athletic-looking) "just in case the bearer is tripped up by a small boy, is bounced by a bicyclist, hemmed in by a crowd, or faints," one official said.

Jones Bucks Father's Glory For Reputation

BALTIMORE, May 12.—(AP).—When one has to bask in an illustrious father's limelight it usually takes exceptional skill to reap due recognition, but horse trainer Jimmy Jones is well on his way to doing it.

Jimmy gets his second big chance Saturday when he saddles Citation for the Preakness. As far as the "experts" are concerned, any old barn hand could do it and have the honor of tightening the girth on the winner of the second leg of the turf's triple crown.

Citation, cream of Calumet's three-year-old crop, is that good. Actually, there is more to getting a colt ready for the big stakes than merely being listed as his saddle, but that's the way the record books in horse racing works.

Jimmy, a man in his late 30's, got his training under one of the sport's best—Father Ben. He was listed as assistant trainer until 1946 when he was given charge of half of Calumet's string which came to Maryland while Ben took the rest of Kentucky.

In Jimmy's charge was Armed. The smooth gelding won the Philadelphia Handicap, setting a new track record, and Pimlico's Dixie. Last year Jimmy got a chance to saddle a Preakness entry, Faultless. He won in a style equal to his name and Jimmy had his first "big three" winner as well as becoming Calumet's trainer. Ben took the title of general manager.

When Calumet split his string after this winter's racing, it was Jimmy who brought Citation to Maryland for the all-important Kentucky Derby tune-ups. But when the "run for the roses" came off, Ben saddled both Citation and Coaltown, admittedly to enhance his chances of tying the Derby record of four winners by one trainer. It worked, as you will recall, Citation and Coaltown running one-two.

Jimmy went to Louisville just

The Central Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada said in a statement at Toronto Tuesday that it agreed with criticism of the refereeing in last week's Olympic boxing trials at Toronto. It was replying to C. Tupper Toombs, Ontario Athletic Commission representative of Sault Ste. Marie, who charged that handling of the amateur fights was "near disgraceful."

"The committee felt from the outset that no such differentiation was made between the refereeing of professional and amateur bouts and is inclined to concur with Toombs' criticism," said the statement, issued by Secretary Bob Somers of the A.A.U. of C. In fairness to the referees, Somers declared local fans were largely to blame for expecting professional action from amateur boxing.

Hamilton Tigers' 57 player candidates have agreed to enter a co-operative plan to battle in the senior Ontario Rugby Football Union series, it was announced at Hamilton Tuesday. It was the second day of spring training both for Hamilton Wildcats and Tigers. The teams have switched leagues since Tigers' withdrawal from the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union last winter in a squabble over gate receipts.

to watch Citation run in the biggest race of his career. He came back to Maryland with the understanding that he would be given the same chance as his father in the Preakness.

But Ben decided not to send Coaltown along for the Preakness. Jimmy expressed disappointment, feeling that starting "both" was the smart thing to do.

However, most of the railbirds feel Jimmy will equal his father's Preakness record with only Citation. Ben saddled two previous Calumet winners, Whirlaway in 1941 and Pensive in 1944.

owner and trainer, and his groom, Eugene Tyler, were suspended by the stewards of Toronto Woodbine Park Tuesday following the report of a positive saliva test on Hemjohn, winner of the seventh race on opening day of the Greenwood meeting last Saturday. Eight horses trained by Sharples also were suspended by the stewards. Hemjohn's purse was withheld, with first money going to Cindy Lou, second in a nose decision.

Golf enthusiasts from nine western cities will have an opportunity this summer of seeing Bobby Locke, South African professional and one of the top link artists on the continent, it was announced at Vancouver Tuesday. Stan Leonard, golf pro at Vancouver, said the two-week exhibition tour would start from Winnipeg about mid-August and work west.

The Indianapolis Capitals of the American Hockey League, will have a new coach next winter for the third straight season. Johnny Mowers, former Detroit goalie, quit as the coach Tuesday after a single season.

Walter (Turk) Broda, goalie, said at Winnipeg Wednesday he is hoping for three more years in hockey's big time. "It will depend a lot on my next season's performance, but I think I have possibly three more seasons of hockey left in me," said the 1948 Vezina trophy winner and all-star goalie.

Champion jockey Gordon Richards rode four winners in a seven race card at Newmarket, England, Tuesday—his best afternoon this year. That brought his total for the season to 56, his lifetime winners to 3,526.

Millions of test miles have proved that the NEW IMPROVED

GOOD YEAR DeLuxe

IS DESIGNED TO GIVE YOU

34% MORE MILEAGE

For the STOP and GO of modern traffic... for increased speed on the open road... for the punishing travel of rocky roads, grinding gravel, ruts and ice... the heat and chill of year 'round driving you need an up-to-date tire that's stepped up in quality... to perform better under any condition. You need the new improved GOODYEAR DeLuxe.

The new GOODYEAR DeLuxe was given millions of miles of road tests. It averaged 34% more mileage than the big mileage Goodyear tire it replaces.

Stronger cord means extra body strength, permits a heavier tread, provides greater blowout protection. Huskier, more flexible shoulders give longer, more even wear. The wider, flatter diamond tread puts more rubber on the road, gives better traction. You get a bigger, better tire at a standard price.

Vegetable Profit Under Study In Investigation

OTTAWA, May 12 — (CP). — Increased wholesale profits on vegetables and fruits since the government's import restrictions went into effect last November will be further explored to-day by the prices committee.

The committee Tuesday examined financial records of the Ontario Produce Co., one of the largest wholesalers and questioned the firm's general manager, R. D. Wolfe, son of the president.

Mr. Wolfe agreed with the committee's counsel, Fabio Monet, that his firm's increased profits during the last few months had been obtained on a smaller volume of business and that they were substantial.

His financial records showed the company's net profit in 1947 was $69,000. During the first three months of this year, it was $42,000. The company's gross profit on sales was 3-10 per cent in 1939. By 1947 it had risen to 9-4-5 per cent, and for the first three months of this year was 15 per cent.

Take Everything Going
Mr. Wolfe's outline of his firm's improved position led to an exchange with Jean Lesage (L-Montmagny-L'Islet) who said if the present economic system is to survive, wholesalers should confine themselves to their "usual" profits.

Mr. Lesage asked if the firm's policy was to buy as cheaply as possible and sell for as much as it could get. Mr. Wolfe said it sold for the market price, but later agreed that this involved selling for "as much as the law of supply and demand allows."

Earlier the committee resolved to call two Toronto firms alleged to have made heavy profits on imported potatoes. At the committee's request, M. M. Robinson, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association, identified the firms as Mac Fruit Company and Marlowe & Co.

Parliamentary Group Has 23-Hour Session

LONDON, May 12 — (Reuters). — Parliamentary history was made during the night when a House of Commons standing committee remained in session, except for short breaks, for nearly 23 hours debating clauses of legislation to nationalize Britain's gas industry.

Wearied members broke off for breakfast at 9.15 a.m. today but resumed half an hour later their attempt to get through the 72 clauses, 20 new clauses and 19 pages of amendments before parliament adjourns for a Whitsun recess this week-end.

The Conservative Opposition, which attacked almost every clause, forced 45 clauses to a vote. The Government made use of its majority time and again to get the closure of the debates on individual aspects of the bill. A few sleepy people stayed the night in the public library to listen to the proceedings. Some of the members of the committee fell asleep.

Conservative member Walter Elliott at one point in the proceedings accused Fuel Minister Gaiskell of talking in his sleep. "He is in no condition to respond to the arguments we lay before him," Elliott said.

Probe Safe Theft

GUELPH, May 12 — (CP). — Police are investigating the disappearance of a sum of money from a safe in the office of the Cray Coal Company, Police Chief Harold Nash reported to-day. The open safe was looted during business hours Tuesday and the sum taken may have totalled up to $1,000, one report to the police said.

Senate Demands Answers On Unemployment Fund

OTTAWA, May 12 — (CP). — All kinds of questions of employment were thrown Tuesday at Unemployment Insurance Commission official by the Senate Committee on Immigration and Labor.

It finally recommended for adoption an act to amend the Unemployment Insurance Act, but only after C. A. L. Murchison, USC commissioner, gave a two-hour, detailed explanation of the insurance scheme in general.

Senator J. T. Haig (PC-Manitoba) asked why such persons as bank clerks and law students have to pay unemployment insurance when their jobs, except in rare cases, are permanent.

He also wanted to know why the Commission cannot give figures showing how much one labor group pays in unemployment insurance, compared with the amount paid by another; and he requested figures showing much each group has drawn in benefits.

Replied to a question from Senator T. A. Crerar (L-Montmagny), he said that $34,947,000 was paid out, last year in unemployment insurance.

"And that year was one of full employment," replied Senator Crerar. "In a year when employment is at a high level, it strikes me . . . as singular that $34,947,000 is paid out in unemployment insurance."

Condemn Recruiting

TORONTO, May 12 — (CP). — The United Zionist Council of Canada has condemned the current recruiting campaign of the Canadian League for a Free Palestine. It issued a statement saying the League has "contributed little to the effort to bring about a Jewish state in Palestine." The Maple Leaf Legion, for which men are being recruited, was not supported by any "representative" Zionist group.

Bar German Nationals

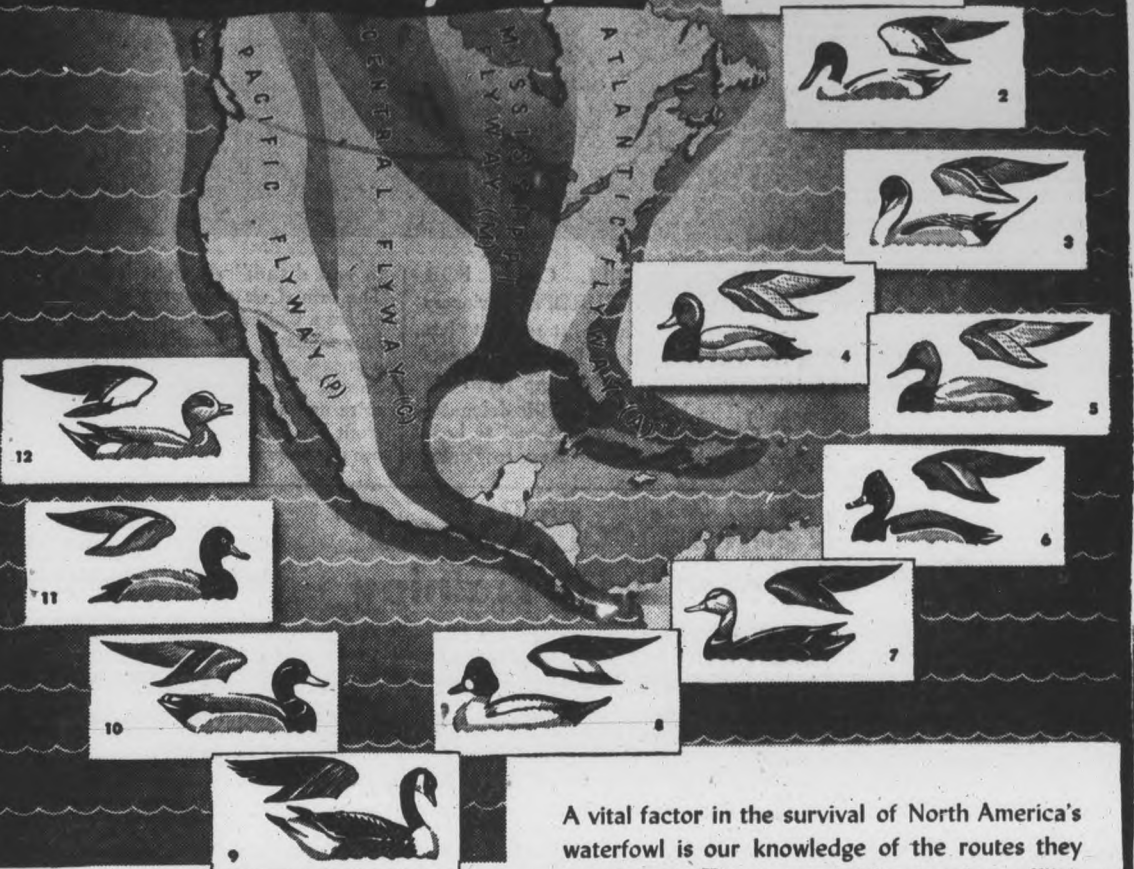

OTTAWA, May 12 — (CP). — German Nationals still cannot come to Canada. Germany is still considered an enemy country, Acting Resources Minister MacKinnon said Tuesday in the Commons. He was replying to J. H. Ferguson (PC-Simcoe North) who asked if the government intends to sign a peace treaty which will allow German Nationals to join relatives who are good Canadian citizens.

FAMED LEADER TO FIGHT IN PALESTINE — A firebrand who tormented French and Spanish colonial authorities for two decades, famed Abdel Krim, Riffian leader whose old stamping grounds were in French and Spanish Morocco, is shown (left) in Cairo as he left the Iraqi legation after offering his services to the Arab states for combat duty in Palestine. The old warrior found a refuge in Cairo where he has gathered an entourage of other North African exiles about him.

British Industry Launches Five-Year Plan

LONDON, May 12 (AP)—British industry has launched a five-year plan to step up its output by improving the calibre of its management.

The Labor government contributed $600,000 for the campaign on the theory that this is one way to close the gap between British dollar imports and exports.

"If we could bring our production to the standards of the best," said Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, "we could pretty well accomplish the balance of payments we are seeking and give our own people something more in addition."

The job will be carried on by the new British Institute of Management, headed by Sir Charles Renold. Sir Charles told the opening session of the institute:

"It is a condition of our survival as a great nation that our industries shall become more productive. Indeed this is essential if we are to continue as a free society with even a tolerable standard of living."

He said shortcomings in British industry fall into three classes:

1. "Cross purposes" between management and employees, between high level management and management at lower levels, and between different kinds of workers.
2. Failure to make use of modern techniques.
3. Lack of inspired leadership in the "generalship" of industry.

Steel Users Confused By Price Variation

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Steel users this week are confused by unprecedented variations in prices of steel products, the Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today.

If the reductions started by the United States Steel Corporation remain in effect, the publication said, the steel consumer will benefit in the long run. But "he will not always be able to tell what his total steel costs will be ahead of time. It depends on where he gets his steel."

While most large steel firms have met United States Steel's price-cutting move — on a total basis — the cuts have not been the same on all products. The Iron Age reported "some firms made no reduction on some items the corporation reduced, others slashed their prices by a lesser amount while one company made deeper cuts on a few items."

The supply outlook this week was described as an unhappy one.

The Iron Age said predictions of topping last year's output of 85,000,000 tons of ingots cannot be made "until the threat of another coal strike in July has been estimated."

GUELPH, May 12 (CP)—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey will make his first official visit to Guelph May 26 since taking over his duties as Chancellor of the University of Toronto. He will confer degrees on more than 150 graduating students at the Ontario Agricultural College and Ontario Veterinary College.

Women On Jury

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP)—The Commons Tuesday night talked out a bill providing that one-third of any jury trying a woman should be women. At present, the question of jury service by women is governed by provincial law. The bill was moved by T. L. Church (PC-Toronto Broadview), who said women would be "far better" as jurors than some men.

HEAR CHURCHILL CALL FOR UNITED STATES OF EUROPE—Princess Juliana of the Netherlands stands at left while her husband, Prince Bernhard, greets Britain's Anthony Eden at the Hall of Knights in The Hague when 700 delegates from 23 European nations gathered to hear Winston Churchill's plea to them to "unite to end dread." At right is Mrs. Churchill. The famed wartime premier of Britain called for a United States of Europe that will no longer have a people sitting in "humble homes quaking in dread of the policeman's knock." He said that "Europe has only to arise and stand in her own majesty to confront all forms of tyranny with forces that are unconquerable."

Urban School Trustees Oppose Cadet Training

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP)—Delegates to the Ontario Urban School Trustees' Convention on Tuesday voted 32 to 25 to oppose compulsory Cadet training in Ontario schools.

Defeat of a resolution urging that the Ontario Government be asked to make Cadet training possible and compulsory during school hours as it was during the Second Great War came after opposition by T. H. Kay of the Kitchener-Waterloo Collegiate Board and W. H. Armitage of Kirkland Lake.

The resolution introduced by the Chatham Board drew support from J. E. Morris of Hamilton, chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

"There is a feeling to-day that training youth in Cadet services is a step toward war," said Mr. Morris. "I don't agree. Preparedness at any time is a good preventive." He was in favor of "all our youth having years of compulsory military training, if for no other reason than for discipline and deportment."

Mr. Kay said he was not against "preparedness," but felt compulsory Cadet training would weaken existing Cadet corps. "I think it should be left to the choice of the individual boards," he said.

Wait for Lead

Mr. Armitage, chairman of the Kirkland Lake Collegiate and Vocational Board, said, "we should wait for the Defence Department to lead the way." He felt students would be better off if they were not forced to devote part of their school hours to Cadet training.

However, as the vote was disclosed, Mr. Morris said his committee would ask the incoming executive to study the problem further.

The trustees also voted to request an amendment in existing traffic laws to provide a speed limit of 15 miles per hour in the school zones; to seek a substantial

Book Of Remembrance

OTTAWA, May 12 (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton told Frank Lennard (PC-Wentworth) in the Commons Tuesday that completion of the official Book of Remembrance of the Second World War will take four or five years. The work has already been started. It would be done as much as possible by one man, to keep it as uniform as possible. If that man needed help, it would be arranged.

To Study Indians

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. George F. G. Stanley, Canadian history professor at University of British Columbia, plans a one-year study of government policy towards Canadian Indians. The former Alberta Rhodes scholar and holder of a Guggenheim fellowship will study Federal archives and then go to Washington for further study.

Blackwell Lauds Police System

TORONTO, May 12 (CP)—Attorney-General Blackwell, replying to CCF Leader Jolliffe's criticism of the Ontario provincial police, said in a speech Tuesday night that the 451 constables taken on strength since 1943 were war veterans with records of combat duty overseas. In all, the force has 700 constables.

Speaking at a nomination convention which chose him as candidate in Toronto Eglinton in the Ontario election June 7, he described Mr. Jolliffe as "an embittered, frustrated young man" and said:

"As long as the CCF is under Jolliffe's leadership, it has no future as a political party."

Of the sending of provincial police to keep order in an electrical workers' strike at suburban Leaside, he said that where the law governing picketing is broken and where there is intimidation

Urge U.S. Take Russian Offer

LONDON, May 12 (AP)—Western Europe's rekindled hopes for prolonged peace were reflected today in urgent demands for the United States and Russia to get together and settle their differences, no matter whose idea it was.

"America is big enough and strong enough and earnest enough in her will to peace to take up Mr. Molotov's offer without loss of face or prestige," the Daily Express said, and the same view was echoed in almost all other London papers.

Their idea, and that of other quarters in western Europe, was that the fact Foreign Minister Molotov seized the opportunity Tuesday to "accept" what he chose to interpret as an invitation for Soviet-American conferences could not be dismissed entirely as propaganda, even though his statement had all the trappings of propaganda.

"A chance is offered, if a slender one, of a way out," the Manchester Guardian said editorially. The same air of cautious optimism appeared over most of western Europe, but there was some downright pessimism, notably in Berlin.

THREAT HANGS OVER HOLY LAND—Inspecting part of his Arab army at Marka, near Amman, is King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan. His statement that he would invade Palestine when the British leave has kept tension high in the Holy Land. At the left is Emir Tallal, the crown prince of Trans-Jordan.

Russia Plans To Recognize Jewish State

LAKE SUCCESS, May 12 (AP)—Russia and her satellite group of eastern European countries will recognize the new Jewish state in Palestine, a high-ranking United Nations delegate said Monday night.

The Zionists have announced that they will proclaim a new state in their section of Palestine under the UN's partition decision reached last November. It is claimed immediately on termination of Britain's league of nations mandate at midnight Friday.

Regardless of any delay in full recognition of the new state, the delegate said, the Soviet bloc will immediately grant it belligerent rights. This would provide for legal shipment of weapons to the Holy Land and Jewish armed forces would be recognized in international law.

It was not certain, however, whether diplomatic recognition would be extended immediately on proclamation of the new state, the delegate added. The decision would be timed with developments.

The current special session of the UN assembly has been meeting for nearly a month without affirming or reversing the partition decision. And with only four days left before Palestine loses its formal government, there is still no formal proposal on the table.

6-Man Commission

A working paper put before the 12-member sub-committee of the political committee Monday drew general criticism. Presented in the form of a resolution, the paper is said to envisage a six-man temporary central Palestine commission which would act only on agreement of Arabs and Jews and would be without military forces.

Discussion of the plan drew from Dr. Jorge Garcia Granados of Guatemala the demand that the UN implement its plan of last Nov. 29 to partition Palestine into Jewish and Arab states.

George Ignatieff, Canada's top delegate in the absence of Gen. McNaughton, challenged Granados to draw up a plan under which the UN could go through with partition.

Ignatieff said that several parts of the original partition plan could not now be implemented. One was the provision of economic union between the Arab and Jewish states.

Granados was expected to have the plan ready today or tomorrow.

hoping for some miracle.

Don Sims, producer of the program, investigated and found the woman could get free clinical inspection in Toronto and that an operation for her case, a detached retina, might be successful.

The operation was performed and her physician gives her a 50-50 chance of regaining her eyesight in the one eye she has left. She was blinded in the other eye at the age of three when a boy threw a bottle at her. She began to lose her sight entirely about four years ago.

Expense of the visit here is being borne by the Canadian Institute for the Blind and the municipality of Blind River near Sault Ste. Marie. Blind River is 17 miles from Spragge.

SELWYN, May 12 (ENS)—Mrs. Elton Miles was hostess to the WA of the United church on Thursday. The president, Mrs. Donald McConkey, was in charge of the meeting and the Scripture and topic were given by Mrs. Charles McIlmoyle and Miss Opal Preston.

The two groups of the WA volunteered to go to the parsonage at Bridgenorth to help re-decorate before the arrival of the new minister. Each member was also asked to donate an article for the bazaar to be held at the same time as the strawberry festival.

Some of the sunshine envelopes were turned in, amounting to $8, with more to come. The June meeting will be in the church.

2 Elderly Women Found Sleeping In Gravel Pit

An elderly mother-and-daughter pair—aged about 82 and 50—were given shelter and assistance here today. Both wanderers had slept through Tuesday night's rain and cold in the Auburn gravel pit. They were dripping wet when city police brought them to the station here. They had been noticed after their windy sojourn when the daughter made some attempts to get food for the old mother.

Both of the women seemed in excellent health and Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, seemed amazed that a woman of 82 could spend such an exposed night and not show the effects of it.

The police action was purely humanitarian and no thoughts have been entertained of charging them with anything.

"Charge a woman of 82?" laughed Police Chief John Thompson. "I'd have the whole city on my neck."

Major Charles Watt of the Peterborough Salvation Army took the two under the Army's wing and began to make arrangements for dry clothing and food for them. He is also assisting them in trying to locate a son of the eldest woman, whom they say is living in Peterborough or district.

The 82-year-old woman and her daughter were both chippy as squirrels at the station. She is small, bright-eyed, walks briskly with a cane, can find a topic for conversation with anyone in a minute. The daughter is heavier and quieter but seems to enjoy life well.

"I can eat well," the old visitor remarked to Dr. Kelly.

"So can I," laughed the MOH. Nothing the matter there, was his report on the examination.

Giving their names for the records, the little old lady added proudly: "There's a real Irish name for you."

P.C. Leo Murphy nodded gravely in agreement.

Everyone concerned with the case seemed happy.

They told police that they had come from Ottawa looking for the son. They were without funds or means of getting assistance privately.

Morrow Park Track Lighting To Cost $4,000

Flood lighting the race track at Exhibition Park will cost approximately $4,000 as estimated by R. L. Dobbin, manager of Utilities Commission, to the directors of the Exhibition at the YMCA Tuesday night.

New ideas within the Exhibition Board this year indicate a belief that horse racing holds a strong appeal to the public in this section of the province as in many of the communities and generally throughout the western counties. It has been definitely decided to include races in the night programs, and to make them visible from the stand the directors decided on the lighting system. Mr. Dobbin's first estimate was $2,500, but he had added $1,500 to that sum in his report Tuesday night.

Exhibition Board City Council Discuss Street

By HARRY THEOBALD

Committees of the city council and Exhibition Board will discuss this evening the proposed extension of George St. through Morrow Park. It is expected to be an occasion of "laying" the cards on the table.

From all accounts the facts are simply that the council is on the side of the south-end residents who petitioned last winter for a roadway through the park; that the Exhibition Board, looking to the maintenance intact of its gift from Mr. Harold Morrow, object to the public highway across their premises; and the directors of the Exhibition, at the same time wish to keep on good terms with the council.

Actually there is a tangle and conflict of interests around this whole park gift. And there is cause and rights and validity on each side.

The Exhibition Board meeting at the YMCA Tuesday night did not alter their former attitude, as reported from members, that they were not in favor of acceding to the demand for projecting George St. through the park. The "not in favor" is probably an understatement.

Rev. E. C. Moore and his hundreds of petitioners from south of Lansdowne St. first presented their case for opening a road and then returned to enquire of the council whether any substantial progress was being made.

Their story had been told several times in The Examiner, and the claims they presented are really the background of this conference tonight.

It is understood that the Exhibition Board are preparing a statement of their own position.

Polish Workers On Hydro Job

A group of newly-arrived Polish workmen, now employed by the Hydro Commission near Norwood spent an enjoyable afternoon on Tuesday shopping at the well-stocked Peterborough stores. They were split into several sections, each with an English-Polish interpreter to facilitate conversation.

But it was not high-priced double-breasted suits that they were shopping for, nor dress shoes; they were concerned with purchasing serviceable working clothes and boots suitable for wearing in the bush. Tall, lace-up boots and other heavy-duty footwear were chosen. The Hydro Commission undertook to outfit these men who had just arrived on Saturday—some of them ex-soldiers and others, displaced persons.

A tall, husky foreman who was interpreting for one section of 12, earnest shoppers said the men were getting along very well. They were happy at their jobs and were good workers.

They are staying at a Hydro Commission camp about four miles on this side of Norwood and were admitted to Canada on the understanding they would work for the Commission.

Turn First Sod Saturday At Arena Site

Peterborough Civic Arena Committee held a meeting on Tuesday evening, at which plans for the turning of the sod ceremonies on Saturday were discussed. A list of proposed speakers was agreed upon and it was announced that the Peterborough Citizens' Band is to be present at the ceremony.

A letter from the City Clerk was read informing the committee that resolutions had been passed by the City Council authorizing the committee to proceed with building on the Park St. site.

Mrs. W. Addyman reported on the issuing of the 300 printed invitations for the ceremony on Saturday. Two hundred and twelve had been sent out through the mail and about another twenty had been handed to various people.

Dick Ouimet reported that two more people had to make returns from the fashion show before a full statement could be made. Those present at the meeting were Stan McBride, A. Weir, Mrs. W. Addyman, Mrs. F. Lundy, W. Bennett, L. Cameron, H. Winslow, Alderman Hurrell Dods and Dick Ouimet, who presided.

DAMAGE SCHOOL WINDOWS

Vandalism is costing ratepayers of SS 13, Smith, a tidy sum in cash. A dozen windows at the Queen Elizabeth School are said to have been broken in the past two weeks. On Tuesday night the gang that is believed to be responsible for this destruction showed that it was bold as well. While a meeting of ratepayers was in progress they crashed a couple of stones through a window and ran away before they could be caught. Trustees say they think they know the ones who are responsible but lack positive proof. Provincial Police have been asked to keep an eye on the property.

30-Acre Housing Project West of Chemong Road Would Overcrowd School

More than 40 ratepayers of the Queen Elizabeth School Section, Smith township, on Tuesday night rejected a proposal that Peterborough be allowed to annex a 30-acre piece of land in that township to accommodate a new housing project. Reserving their final decision they voted for the alternative of the city accepting either the whole section or nothing.

The area desired for the housing project is two fields north of the Brookdale subdivision and west of Chemong Road. Because of expansion in the city it has been proposed that 100 houses be built there, financed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Those attending the meeting, held in Queen Elizabeth School, felt they could not afford the loss of Smith of more than $17,000 in assessment value. And it was pointed out that as the city grew it would gradually chip away other adjacent portions of the section throwing the tax burden on the reduced number of inhabitants.

District School Inspector E. C. Anderson said they were faced with a building problem no matter what the final decision. Already in what was intended to be a two-room school, a third room had been added as a temporary measure and this was now full. He estimated that a two-room addition could not be put on the present building for less than $30,000, and said that in a few years even this would probably prove inadequate.

"Peterborough is not a monster gobbling up the poor little country. We might as well face the fact that it will grow."

In answer to a ratepayers' question he said that even if Smith undertook the cost of school expansion there was no guarantee that in a few years Peterborough would not annex it as well.

City Co-operative

Mayor William Owens said it was up to the residents of the section to decide; that neither he nor the council would care to take any step contrary to their approval. He outlined some of the benefits which would accrue but pointed out that due to the present shortage of manpower and materials it was unlikely that full municipal services, particularly sanitary conveniences, could be installed in less than five years.

Alan Brown asked why the city could not choose some alternate site, such as the Hilliard Farm property. The Mayor said that the town planning body had set aside that land as a future park, and he said that only 50 per cent. of it would be good for housing in any case.

Arthur Gilders spoke against the proposed annexation saying that it was his observation that the tax rate would be increased without immediate benefits.

Reeve Harrison of Smith said "It might be for your better interest; it looks as though it won't be long before it is taken over anyway."

It was pointed out by the majority of speakers that the annexation would mean an increased assessment and the problem was whether it would pay the individual Smith taxpayer to become a Peterborough resident. Eventual municipal services such as water and sewerage were the main advantages stressed, and in particular, relief from the school problem.

Several speakers said that property in the section was under assessed, and was due for reassessment shortly. This was confirmed by Reeve Harrison.

Among those present were Councillors Robert Tully and Milton Clark, Reeve Harrison, A. E. Johnson, township clerk, Inspector Anderson, Wilbert Frise, secretary-treasurer of the School Board, Trustees William Grubb, W. Bedford. Mr. Brown was chairman for the evening.

KOREA IS HOT SPOT—A heavy vote was recorded in a self-rule election Monday despite a Russian boycott on the vote. Korean Communists had openly threatened to wreck the elections. They already have made a start in this direction, according to charges of the U.S. military governor's office. These charges state that army-trained Communist agents have landed on Cheju island (arrow), off the Korean coast. Major-General William Dean, just returned to Seoul after an inspection trip, declared these agents were there to direct guerrillas in a terroristic campaign to influence coming elections. Some 76 persons have been killed in rioting on the island within a month.

Traffic Lights To Cost $2,500

LINDSAY, May 12 (ENS). —Ald. V. Cotes reported to Council Monday night that the cost of installing traffic lights on Kent Street was estimated at $2,500. This would provide for installation of two stop lights and a flicker light at three different intersections. At this suggestion, action on securing the lights was deferred to next year's council, the estimates to be included in the 1949 budget.

Ald. K. Garbig strongly suggested that "no U turn" signs be put up at the same corners. "The way motorists turn in the middle of Kent Street, pedestrians aren't safe."

"There are very few accidents on local streets," contended Mayor Lamb.

"Only because we have been lucky," returned Ald Garbig. No action was taken on the signs.

Employees Paid 98c Companies Ask $1.25

WINDSOR, Ont., May 11 (CP). —Union officials today called for a government investigation into Canada's first glass worker's strike which started here Monday.

"We will request the Dominion government to make a complete investigation of the glass industry in Canada," Joe Durocher, business agent for striking Local 1521, International Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators (AFL) said.

Mr. Durocher said the companies were charging the public $1.75 an hour for services, which the companies pay employees an average of 98 cents an hour.

The glass installation men, glaziers, rough polishers, bevelers, silverers and store front men are striking to enforce demands for wage increases from 25 cents to 27 cents an hour. This would bring wages to an average hourly rate of $1.25.

Granby Industrial Paradise Helps All Ailing Factories

By JOHN TRACY

GRANBY, Que., May 12 (CP). —This is a city where private enterprise has been given the green light and by making social progress keep step with industrial expansion Granby has nearly tripled its industry in five years.

It may not be the fastest-growing city in Canada but Mayor Horace Bolvin, millionaire manufacturer, points out that the population has jumped from 13,000 in 1939, to 21,000.

The Mayor, whose three factories help swell the output of Granby's 73 plants producing everything from bubble gum to girdles, attributes the growth to "social conditions."

"We have nearly tripled our industry since 1939 because manufacturers are interested in our people," said the 42-year-old Mayor. "We have parks and a good program of recreation and 50 per cent of our people own their own homes. Manufacturers like that, because it makes for stable conditions."

Look After Own.

Georges Avery, real estate dealer, likes to tell about Granby's program for helping ailing industry.

"A bank manager once told me that there is no place like Granby for looking after its own," he said. "And we have never lost a cent at it."

The program works like this: A manufacturer in trouble seeks help from a score or so of Granby's well-heeled citizens. They may pour as much as $20,000 into the sick business but they also act as industrial vigilantes seeing that the proprietor heeds their advice.

When his business is again on its feet he may be called upon to help another firm out of trouble.

Most of Granby's new industries settled there because citizens were ready to help them get started. Sometimes a manufacturer had been hesitant about building a factory until he had tested the Canadian market.

In that case the manufacturer would have to raise only one-third of the necessary money, the Industrial Commission and the local power company putting up the remainder.

'Phone Strike Looms In U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP).—A possible United States-wide strike of long distance telephone operators hinges to-day on a new government try at settling the wage dispute. John J. Moran, president of the American Telephone Workers Union (CIO), said a strike date will be set if the government negotiations fail.

Moran, whose union represents 23,000 long distance workers in 42 States, was due to meet with representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and conciliators of the Federal Mediation Service at an afternoon conference.

The union wants a 30-cent hourly wage boost, a shortened work week, and larger pensions. It says workers now average $1.21 an hour.

Police Watch Two Vessels

MONTREAL, May 12.—(CP).—The job of lightering the stranded Hants County went smoothly ahead today, but the operation was watched by police to guard against a renewed flare-up of inter-union rivalry.

There was no indication of another brawl between Canadian Seamen's Union crew members of the Hants County and their bitter rivals aboard the lake freighter Barrie whose crew are members of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union.

The brief exchange of fistcuffs caused a flurry of excitement along the waterfront as indications pointed to a possible full-scale battle between the rival factions and their supporters. But the tension eased Tuesday night.

Upper Ottawa Power Project Discussed By Ontario, Quebec

QUEBEC, May 12.—(CP)—R. H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, concluded Tuesday talks with officials of Quebec's Hydraulic Resources Department about power development on the Upper Ottawa River.

The discussions in which Hon. John Bourque, Quebec Hydraulic Resources Minister, joined Tuesday concerned particularly the start of work at the Cave et Fourmieux site.

Work started about a year ago on a $51,000,000 power project at Des Joachims and a contract was given Sept. 1 for a second project at Chenaux.

From the three sites electricity production is expected to amount to $55,000 horse-power and total development on the Upper Ottawa will be more than 1,000,000 horse-power.

By legislation in 1942, Ontario and Quebec governments agreed to exchange power development rights on the Ottawa River which were jointly held.

Ontario received rights to Cave et Fourmieux, Des Joachims and Omenaux sites while Quebec obtained authority to develop Rocher Fendu and Carillon. Joint development was proposed for a sixth site named Paquette.

Location Important

A factor in the agreement was location. The three sites taken over by Ontario are closer to Toronto industry than to any important Quebec industrial centre. Rocher Fendu and Carillon are more accessible to Quebec than its neighbor.

Mr. Saunders told newspapermen the object of the Quebec discussions was to "expedite" the Ottawa River power developments.

He said 17 to 20 per cent of work at Des Joachims is complete and that power production on the Ottawa River will start in 1950 and 1951.

De Joachims development will be 480,000 horse-power, Chenaux 180,000 and Cave et Fourmieux, 215,000. Development at Shaw Falls, another site, is estimated at 224,000 horse-power.

Note Sensitivity On Stock Market

By The Canadian Press

Sensitivity of security markets to influences ranging from earning potentials or sections of industry to external affairs was illustrated by market action Tuesday.

News that the railroad strike in the United States was averted at least temporarily, created a demand for railroad securities and peaked up the New York market. The Associated Press rail index moved up to a high since Aug. 28, 1946.

Reports from Moscow that the Russians were prepared to discuss a settlement of disagreements with the United States caused some stocks at New York to turn irregular. Armament issues, such as aircraft, were depressed. The general tenor, however, was firm and the Associated Press 60-stock composite was up 3 1/2 points at 68.5, a top since July 24, 1947, while the utilities made a top since last November.

The same reports from Moscow created a flurry in the oil section of the London Stock Exchange while the general atmosphere was one of optimism.

U.S. May Ask Soviet List Parley Issues

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—The United States may ask the Soviet Union soon just what differences between the world's two great powers it considers capable of negotiation and settlement now.

This is one of the responses believed under consideration here to the statement of Foreign Minister Molotov Sunday that the Russian government stands ready to proceed "toward a discussion and settlement of the differences existing between us."

It seemed that within the next few days Marshall and President Truman will have to decide how to cope with a situation which their ranking foreign policy advisers indicate privately they did not directly seek.

It is, however, a situation which has resulted in a tremendous wave of hope throughout most of the world that the long period of east-west tension may be nearing an end.

The State department was busy all Tuesday issuing the texts of various declarations to try to set the record straight on exactly what is what. Behind the scenes officials were beginning to explore the possibilities of what the next step might be.

Shinwell Gives Party Flavor

LONDON, May 12.—(CP)—Emanuel Shinwell, chairman of the Labor party and its most unpredictable personality, gives a piquant flavor to the party's annual conference next week at Scarborough, Yorkshire.

Tomorrow he appears before the parliamentary labor party to explain and defend a recent speech in which he said that the Labor government went into its nationalization programs insufficiently prepared. This brought his criticisms from others in the party whose comments aroused Shinwell's live temper.

With Shinwell anything can happen. A highlight of his tumultuous career in public life came in 1938 when he strode across the floor of the Commons and slapped the face of Commander Robert Bower, a Conservative member. It was a blow to the House, Shinwell said he had acted in "a fit of temper." His labor friends said that Bower had called to Shinwell: "Go back to Poland."

Now 63, Shinwell long was looked on as a prospective prime minister if Labor gained power but his colleagues said lack of diplomacy always stood in his way.

Expansion Bill Wins Approval

OTTAWA, May 12.—(CP)—Despite charges of "monopoly" and "melon-cutting" in the Bell Telephone Company's proposed $350,000,000 capital expansion, a bill to authorize new stock to this extent was ready today for final reading in parliament.

Under the bill, given approval by the Commons railway committee Tuesday night, the company will be empowered to raise its capitalization from $150,000,000. The measure has been passed by the Senate and now needs only third reading in the Commons.

Approval of the committee was given after an afternoon and evening of criticism by several committee members and of sharp examination of a battery of company officials who declared the new money was needed for the development program of the next five years.

A substantial part of the proposed new capital, the officers told members, would be devoted to expanding rural telephone service. President Frederick Johnson of Montreal said large-scale conversion to dial phones would be undertaken in rural areas.

British Weather Has Even Experts Puzzled

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—British weather, which has perplexed every visitor, has even the experts puzzled now.

They're puzzled by a drought which has gripped these islands since last June, after one of the wettest springs in years. The experts said it is the worst drought in 101 years, with the exception of the dry spell in 1921.

In October, traditionally the wettest month of the year when rivers and underground springs should be filled, the rainfall average over England and Wales was 18 per cent of normal. Over Scotland it was just 50 per cent.

Now, says the Ministry of Agriculture, wells and springs over a large section of Britain, are at a "dangerously low level."

A meteorological office official said:

"During the winter we should have had an abundance of rain. Instead, every month except January was below average. It will need a very heavy rain for days now to make up the losses and prevent a serious drought this summer."

A metropolitan water board official said:

"Things look serious. We are taking two-thirds of London's water supply from the Thames — some 200,000,000 gallons a day. If warm weather comes, consumption may go up as much as 180,000,000 gallons daily and if the water level drops we may have to introduce restrictions."

Macaulay of Montreal also informed the committee that the company is ready to start television service for any Canadian customers. However, the company would engage only in supplying transmission facilities for television—not in broadcasting.

Attack on the bill was led by T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) and H. H. Hatfield (PC—Victoria-Carleton).

Mr. Church claimed the capital enlargement would give the company a monopoly in Ontario and Quebec, and said he favors limiting the increase to $150,000,000. With $350,000,000, he claimed, the company will be over-capitalized.

Mr. Hatfield contended the company is "cutting a melon" for its present shareholders. He suggested new stock will be issued to shareholders at par, with the result that they will cash in as it moves up on the market.

Allow Russians Buy More Goods

WASHINGTON, May 12. — (AP).— Charles Sawyer, new United States Secretary of Commerce, is drafting a trade policy statement which will let the Russian bloc buy more American goods.

But officials who disclosed this today said the clarification of the tightened export control policy adopted March 1 will only partly lift the choke-down in shipments to Soviet-dominated eastern Europe.

Purchases of industrial goods which might add to Russia's war potential will continue to be banned.

A secret list of goods rated in that class has been drafted by a committee on which the State and Commerce Departments, the armed forces, the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Security Resources Board are represented.

Besides the goods barred from export, three other classes of goods are being listed. These range from items that would be freely licensed for export to other products that would be licensed only under particular conditions.

Have 1,400 Paintings Hung At Academy Exhibition

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, May 12 (CP). — Every Spring it's the same. The galleries of Stony Burlington House resound with bustle and activity as the annual exhibition of the Royal Academy is prepared, and then the critics move in for another round of their endless argument: "What is Art?"

With more than 1,400 exhibits of oil paintings, water colors, pencil sketches and good news knows what else, there's plenty to argue about. The modern school always accuses the section committee of the Academy with being too stodgy and old-fashioned while members of the old school snort about the rubbish that's being admitted nowadays.

Pretty Fair Job

Most of the critics seem to think that the selectors did a pretty fair job this year—"a fine display of eclectic taste" is how The Times described it. There are pastoral landscapes galore, numerous portraits, and very little in the experimental line.

Last year 157,382 persons visited the exhibition — a turnout that's sure to be reported this year.

Most of them will look first for Winston Churchill's three well-executed oils: "The Goldfish Pool, Chartwell," in which he tries to capture the flash of the fish in the blue-green depths of the pool "Blenheim Tapestry" and "The Blue Sitting-Room, Trent Park," both interiors.

Most Controversial

Then no doubt they'll head for the portrait of Mrs. Daphne Wall by John Merton, which has caused more controversy than any picture in the exhibition. Most people will like it. It shows blonde beautiful Mrs. Wall in three full-length poses. A full face figure in evening dress and holding a glass, dominates the centre; behind it are profile versions of the sitter.

Despite its popular appeal, the selection committee was going to reject it, and only changed its mind when Sir Alfred Munnings, President of the Royal Academy, threatened to resign.

"It's magnificent," said Munnings, describing his indignation when he found the picture was not going to be hung. "And they accepted trash that I would even use as a dartboard!"

This year, the 180th exhibition, there was the usual rush to buy. The first day 150 pictures were sold for a total of £11,001 ($46,764).

Fights At Movie

NEW YORK, May 12. — (AP). —

Fist fights broke out Tuesday night between pickets protesting the showing of the movie, "The Iron Curtain," and Roman Catholic war veterans who set up a counter picket line. Police said the clash occurred shortly after 11 p.m. in front of the Roxy theatre, where the 20th Century Fox film opens today.

OSLO, May 12. — (Reuters). —

To Send 25 Parcels

Members of St. Luke's WA met Tuesday afternoon in the Parish Hall for the closing meeting of this season. Highlight was the report of the annual Diocesan WA meeting in Toronto last week prepared by delegates Mrs. J. J. Turner and Mrs. G. White, and read by the latter. It presented the facts in a most comprehensive manner and was splendidly given. Arrangements were made to send 25 parcels of food to Britain by the end of this month. A bale of clothing is ready to go to an Indian girl attending residential school. Mrs. R. G. Maniece, president, was in charge of the meeting. A social hour was greatly enjoyed at the close and refreshments were served.

WA Delegate Reports

Mrs. Fred Marshall, president, was in the chair for the business meeting of St. John's Anglican Church Women's Auxiliary. Evening Branch held Monday in the parish hall. Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson led in prayer. Mrs. Walter Flowers was present and read an excellent report on the annual diocesan meeting of the WA held in Toronto last week. She attended as a delegate from the Afternoon Branch. It was decided to have a picnic in June as the final meeting for this season's activities. A generous supply of food for parcels for Britain was brought in, and Miss M. Dainton is in charge of sending a parcel each month. Mrs. L. Spriggs and Miss A. Milburn were hostesses for refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Club President Re-elected

Main item on the agenda for the weekly meeting of Old Country Club in the YWCA Tuesday evening was election of officers. Results were as follows: president, Mrs. E. Ray; vice-president, Mrs. W. Halstead; secretary, Miss L. Barnes; treasurer, Mrs. W. Williams, Sr.; press secretary, Mrs. S. Leith; social conveners, Mrs. W. Bull and Mrs. William Butcher; program conveners, Mrs. R. Leach and Mrs. W. Carter. Three new members were admitted to the club: Mrs. Mary Sunncliffe, Mrs. Madge Sunncliffe and Mrs. Florence Wagstaff. The president presented a gift to Mrs. R. Williams who will leave shortly by plane for an extended visit in the Old Country. Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. R. J. Norrad and Mrs. D. Custance.

Plan Final Meeting

Worship period of George St. YPU on Monday night was taken by the mission convener, Miss Dorcas Samis. Miss Helen Samis read the scripture reading. Miss Audrey Sargeant led in prayer. Miss Samis read a most interesting article on the mission work being done with the Indians in the Skeena River district. Although the missionaries are few in number compared with the population, they are bravely struggling to banish the old beliefs that are clung to and to rid the settlements of disease and sickness, which are taking a heavy toll of life every year. A familiar mission's hymn closed this service.

Plans were discussed for the closing meeting and bowling party. It was also suggested that members answer roll call next week by quoting a verse in the Bible, beginning with "A."

Misses Dorothy Graham and Bernice Davidson led in a group of Young People's songs.

WMS To Hold Clothing Drive

Most interesting feature of the regular meeting of George Street WMS in the Church parlors Tuesday afternoon was the study of missionary work in India. With special emphasis on their work in Bible translation, life stories of Wm. Carey, Wm. Ward, Joshua Marshman and Henry Martyn were given from the study book by Mrs. J. W. Kelly, Mrs. H. S. Powers and Mrs. J. P. Bickell. Delightful entertainment was provided by Mrs. W. G. McLaren with a reading which told the story of a little Irish weaver who came to Canada to live.

Devotional period was in charge of Mrs. H. S. Powers. Mrs. F. E. Latimer read the scripture and Mrs. Jas. Brown led in prayer. Mrs. R. Parnall, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. W. P. Purdy was pianist for the meeting.

Members were advised of another drive for used clothing to be held the last week of May.

Lack of Bibles Stressed By WMS Leader

Mrs. E. Johnston brought inspiring thoughts on the important subjects, "Mother" and "Home," to members of St. James' United Church WMS Auxiliary Tuesday afternoon.

A brief business session consisted chiefly of plans and discussion on the coming anniversary, which will be celebrated May 19 in Wesley Hall at 8 p.m.

Reporting for community friendship, Mrs. G. H. Rowe told of making six hospital calls and fourteen house calls for her department.

A letter of thanks was received from the Rev. F. W. Craik for expressions of sympathy during his recent illness.

Mrs. W. K. Sloane reported items of current interest on temperance. Mrs. Wesley Rose emphasized the importance of mothers in the home in her talk on Christian stewardship, comparing their influence for good or evil. She cited the mother who drinks alcoholic beverages as opposed to the wonderful influence of a mother.

Theme for the worship service, led by Mrs. H. F. Doig, was "Each for all and all for each."

Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Sloane, and a reading on the same topic, "What love is, and what it does," was given by Mrs. Bert Pitchford.

Rose and a hymn closed the worship. "The Bible in Angola, Africa," was the study for the month taken by Mrs. E. Johnston, who spoke of the fine work of Miss Elizabeth Mackenzie, the missionary adopted for special prayer.

Mrs. Johnston stressed the great lack and the need for Bibles in this area of WMS work. She spoke, too, of the undertaking of the Bible Society in supplying this need. Many natives come miles to get their Bibles, and meet disappointment when none are available.

GAA Entertains At Tea Hour In PCVS Gym

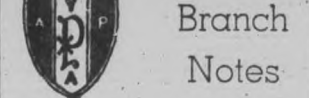

A most artistic arrangement of gay spring flower cut-outs on a black curtain, formed a striking background for a lovely Mother and Daughter tea in the PCVS gym Tuesday afternoon. Small vases of pink snapdragon and violets and a bowl of narcissus and daffodils on the tea table were effective additions to the pretty scene.

Miss Jane Abbott, president of the Girls' Athletic Association, and Miss Jane Gillespie, vice president, received more than 250 guests. Miss June Hutchinson was taking tickets at the door and each mother attending this delightful event was given a pansy corsage.

Guests were humorously entertained by eight girls in comic costumes singing "Poor Old Maids." They were Misses Donna Howson, Mary Braund, Amy Curtis, Anne Winterbottom, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, Marnie Hollingsworth, Joan Seymour and Lois Paddock. Soft piano music during the tea hour was by Misses Joan Carley and Nan Pitchford, assisted by Miss Harris of the teaching staff.

The tea hostesses were Misses Peggy Estick, Mary Joan Dorsett, Joan Cowan, Jean Crawford, Nancy Mason, Mary Morrison and Marian Brown.

Branch Notes

Labor Warns Free Press Must Be Guarded

Mr. L. P. (Pete) McGillen, city editor of the Examiner, in an address to the St. Peter's sub-division of the Catholic Women's League warned his listeners against the control of the press by Fascists and Communists.

Speaking to a large audience in St. Mary's Convent School on Tuesday evening, he asked those present to remember that in countries controlled by Fascists and Communists there is no free press. Without this the average man or woman is unable to ascertain what is taking place.

"Seemingly this is a lazy and indifferent generation—indifferent to what is happening in the world and apparently too lazy to want to do anything about it. You women are busy with your household work, too busy to imagine to keep abreast of the times and acquaint yourselves with what is going on. But this indifference may cost you plenty. It may cost you the freedom that was so dearly bought."

Mr. McGillen gave a brief, behind-the-scenes survey of work in a newspaper office, with particular emphasis on the editorial aspect. He named the members of the Examiner staff and outlined their duties.

Oldest newspaper in the world is the Pekin Gazette of China, published first in 1350 and the oldest Canadian paper at present being published, he said, was the Montreal Gazette, which was founded in 1778 by Elmer Mistlet. Mistlet was brought to Canada from France by Benjamin Franklin, who started the Saturday Evening Post. First American newspaper was Boston "Public Occurrences."

"I am always suspicious of those who want something kept out of a report. I am speaking now about public meetings which have to do with spending public money."

Regarding individuals who made this request, he said the answer is, These moneys are provided from taxation and the people have the right to know how the money is being spent and who recommends such expenditures.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Miss May Grady, who presided.

It was announced that the League would be host to a Diocesan convention to be held in Peterborough on June 17. Included in the program will be mess at St. Peter's Cathedral, His Excellency Bishop G. Berry, celebrant. This will be followed by a business session, luncheon, and tea in the St. Joseph's Hospital auditorium.

There will also be a garden party some time in June, and a membership tea in St. Mary's Convent School on Sunday, May 30.

Boy 16 Advised Against Marriage to Woman 30

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy 16 years of age, fondly in love with a girl 30 years old. I have recently quit school and plan on getting married, as I feel quite capable of supporting a wife since I have acquired a part-time job.

My mother objects to the marriage, because she is definitely old fashioned and thinks the difference in our ages will interfere in our future happiness, but I know that this will not happen. My fiancée agrees with me and thinks that we should not delay our wedding. After all, we can get a home of our own after a few years and in-law trouble should not occur while I board at home. What do you think, Miss Dix?

ANSWER: I think that yours is the most remarkable case of calf love probably on record. It is practically historic in the annals of courtship and cradle-snatching, for never before have I heard of a pip-squeaker seeking the hand of his grandma in marriage. Why a woman of 30 wants to marry a boy of 16 can only be accounted for on the ground that she wants to take a child to rear, for certainly she could have little interest in common with a boy who is at the football and ice cream soda time of life. Your case would be amusing if it were not so tragic, for if you go on with this unsuitable marriage, you are bound to wreck your life. Can't you see for yourself that none of the arguments you bring forth for marrying this elderly woman will stand on their own feet?

ALONG FASHION LANE — Walking along a path of triumph is none other than that old favorite, the trim, neat pump, developed for all but quite warm weather wear in very light weight calf. The shoe has a nice walking heel and excellent lines.

Insufficient Income

You say that you are capable of supporting a wife as you have a part-time job. Can't you realize that you cannot earn enough at a part-time job to buy peanuts? Also, you say that you expect to live on your parents and board at home until you make enough money to have a home of your own. That will be a matter of years and years.

But the main argument against it is that at 16 a boy doesn't know his own mind about anything. It changes with the wind. And if you marry a woman of 30 when you are 16, you will be so tired of her that you will be trying to divorce her before you have even reached the age when you should seriously think about marriage.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a married woman and my husband is very good and kind to me and we are very happy, but the great disappointment in our lives is that we have no children. Do you think this need ruin our lives?

WORRIED

ANSWER: Certainly not. Such an idea is perfectly morbid. Get it out of your head as soon as possible. It is natural and right that every married couple should wish for children, and undoubtedly life gives no keener thrill to a woman than when she feels a baby's head upon her breast, and a man feels no greater joy than when little arms cling around his neck, but children can sometimes be a curse as well as a blessing.

If you and your husband feel that the presence of a child in your household is necessary to your complete happiness, why not adopt one? The asylums are full of orphan children crying for parents.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a bachelor, very much in love with a young lady. She seems to like me, but she is continually asking me how much money I have and what I will give her after we are married. Would you advise me to marry her, or pass her up for some woman who doesn't appear so interested in my income?

WONDERING

ANSWER: Well, a woman who was interested in nothing but my pocketbook wouldn't make a hit with me if I were a man. I would want a wife who married me for love instead of money. If you marry her, her theme song will be "Gimme, gimme," and it will grow very monotonous to you after a while. So my advice to you is to give her the air and look around for some woman who loves you for yourself alone. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Say Women In Canada Best Dressed

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, May 12 — Canadian women are fast becoming the best dressed in the world because Canadian designers and manufacturers have smartened up with a refreshing independence.

Sam Farber, of the junior executive division, Montreal Dress Manufacturers' Guild, boldly called the turn today, with arguments to back it up.

There is no attempt to interfere with general trends in style, said Farber, but the day of slavishly following every line, gadget and whim of New York and Paris is ended.

Paris styles run to extremes. New York, admittedly the world centre of the garment-making industry, offers a wide choice, with do-dads, and nifty-trimmings tossed in. Right there is where the Canadian manufacturer steps in.

"We are improving on their own ideas," beamed Farber, himself one of Montreal's leading manufacturers. "We may be limited just now in range of materials for those little extras, but we are getting there."

"Los Angeles and St. Louis have already broken free of the New York-or-nothing, tradition. So have we."

"What's more, Canadian garments by any comparison show better-quality goods and better workmanship and finishing than you will find in American-made products. If that isn't so, why do American tourists year after year avidly grab up Canadian-made garments?"

"We have the know-how here in Canada. Our workers and designers rank with the best. We know our people and our markets. What's to stop us?"

In at least one line—skiing apparel—Canada's styles have conquered the American manufacturers and already are making heavy inroads in the American market.

The entire ski-clothes output of one Canadian manufacturer goes to New York, and others are stepping up their output for the American market.

Degree Granted Dead Student

WINDSOR, Ont., May 12 (CP). — A Bachelor of Science degree will be awarded to "one of the best students at Queen's in engineering," this June—but there will be no capping ceremony.

Donald J. Kilpatrick of Windsor, a 20-year-old mechanical engineering student at Queen's University, Kingston, died of cancer last year. College officials will send his degree home.

He attended Walkerville Collegiate from 1939 to 1943. "One of our brightest students... good in all subjects," school principal W. N. Ball said Tuesday night.

"Queen's registrar told me he was one of the best students at Queen's in engineering. Had he been able to finish his course he would have graduated with honors."

The youth's mother, Mrs. F. J. Kilpatrick said Donald was to have graduated last year but it was held over.

"It was not because of his death that he received his degree, it was because of his work at college," she said. "He was ill six months. He had been ailing at Queen's but kept it to himself."

"He was granted his degree just a few moments before the faculty received word of his death."

Not Consulted

OTTAWA, May 12.—(CP). — External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Tuesday that Canada has not been consulted on the Soviet-American talks towards a better understanding. County Health Unit To Cost About $65,000

The implications of a County Health Unit, to serve the city and county of Peterborough, were outlined by Dr. R. A. Kelly, the city's Medical Officer of Health, Monday night. Speaking at Lakefield on the invitation of the Home and School Association of that village, he said that the overall cost of a basic unit setup would be $65,000 a year.

This figure was based on the current estimated cost of $1.25 a person. Total population of the city and county is now about 52,000.

The provincial grant to such an establishment is up to 50 per cent for the county and 25 per cent for the city, he said. On the rough division of 34,000 in the city and 18,000 outside, this would mean that the county's cost would be $11,250 a year, which would be matched equally by the province. The city cost total annually would be $42,500, of which the city would pay $31,875 and the province $10,625.

(Present cost of the city's Department of Health is about $30,000 a year. Medical services in the school, under the Department of Education, are budgeted at $9,675 for 1948. Both of these services, it was pointed out, would be integrated under the general Health Unit and included in the $65,000 figure.)

The suggested "basic" unit for a county the size of Peterborough would include three physicians—a director, his assistant and a school doctor; 12 nurses, under a supervisor of nurses; three sanitary inspectors and three clerical employees.

General nature of the activities of a County Health Unit is preventative in form. Pre-natal, child and maternal hygiene are important points of the schedule. A general health program for children of pre-school age is also indicated.

The school health program includes general inspections at regular times with recommendations for action to be taken.

Control of communicable diseases, a work now carried on by the city Department of Health, would be included on a county-wide scale. This involves tuberculosis, venereal diseases, immunization, inoculation, other preventative steps, supervision of proper quarantine in such cases. Dr. Kelly said that the basic budget of $65,000 does not include dental or mental care. (The city maintains at present a dental service in the schools at an annual cost of $5,670.)

Should the demand for these added services become strong, he added, they might be included after operation had started.

The suggestion has also been made that the services of a competent psychiatrist might be obtained to serve several county units in the area.

James Dutton, chairman of the Peterborough Board of Health, addressed the Lakefield meeting, the first of its type held in the county.

Mrs. J. N. Brown, president of the Lakefield Home and School Association, was chairman of the meeting.

The executive committee was instructed to study the proposal further and make recommendations to the Association.

Have 24-Hour Vigil To Nab 3 In Drug Case

TORONTO, May 12 (CP). — After a 24-hour vigil, three persons were arrested Tuesday night by R.C.M.P. for illegal possession of drugs. The three gave their names as Manny Britstone, 29, Sally Crillan, 26, and Helen Manson, 34, all of Toronto.

The trio were arrested when they stopped to pick up a "plant" of 15 heroin capsules on west central Brock Avenue. Britstone put up a brief scuffle, but was subdued and taken to jail.

Murder Charge

CRESTON, B.C., May 12.—(CP). — Gabriel Luke, 35-year-old Indian, Tuesday was charged with murder in the May 6 death of Melanie Michel, 22-year-old expectant Indian mother. He was remanded to Saturday. Police report the woman disappeared April 23 following a drinking party and returned hours later with cuts and bruises on her body. She did not call a doctor until the day of her death.

Lower Production

OTTAWA, May 12.—(CP). — Canada's decreased butter and cheese production last month was noted Tuesday in a report from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Butter production in April totalled 18,314,000 pounds, a decrease of 11 per cent from April, 1947. Cheddar cheese production in April totalled 3,300,000 pounds, a decrease of almost 46 per cent from the corresponding month a year ago.

Report Transfer Of Prisoners

MONCTON, N.B., May 12.—(CP). — The Times today reported a number of long-term prisoners from the Kingston penitentiary and St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary near Montreal are being transferred to the federal prison at Dorchester N.B.

The Times said citizens and travellers had seen such a group of 25 handcuffed men shackled to nine guards pass through Moncton at noon Tuesday aboard the Canadian National Railways Maritime Express. They travelled in a special car.

The newspaper said the special car was detached at Dorchester and the prisoners turned over to a force of guards from the Maritime penitentiary. The movement was the second to the Dorchester prison since the successful break last summer from the Kingston penitentiary of Ulysses Lauzon, bank robber, and two companions.

Tuesday's transfer was smaller than the first movement, the newspaper said.

Reason for the transfer, the Times said, was the penitentiary facilities at Montreal and Kingston were overtaxed, making it difficult to keep long-term prisoners from getting together to plan prison breaks.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

ALL THE WAY AT ONCE
"How did you get into 6-Clubs on that hand?" That kind of question is asked frequently at bridge tournaments, when the scores show that somebody has reached a contract which the inquirer did not attain. Sometimes the reply is merely: "I bid it." And there are undeniably occasions when logic indicates the soundness of doing exactly that. Hopping up suddenly from a low point to slam has the merit of shutting out information from the opponents and thus making the most damaging defense difficult for them. But such a bid, based on probabilities, had better be backed by real playing skill.

Did West double on a bunch of four trumps, on general principles, or on the idea that his partner's overall indicated ability to take a couple of tricks? Or was it merely because the 6-Clubs sounded like a shot, and shots usually go astray?

Bedros Kazanjian, one of The Whist Club's stars in the Inter-Club League tournament in New York, is the man who made that fancy leap into slam. And how he came through to gain a whopping top score!

West led the 10 of his partner's hearts, and it was ruffed by the club 2. Seeing that the entire fate of the contract depended on discarding diamonds on the spades, the declarer ran off a string of clubs, all but one, and discarded on them from the dummy a spade, a heart, two diamonds, another spade and then the last two hearts, leaving only four spades and the diamond A.

East was troubled by the discarding problem. First he shed his two clubs, then three hearts, then a diamond and finally his heart K. The spade 10 was then led and, when West played low, it was sent through to the K. East decided to return the heart A, which was ruffed, the spade 9 being discarded. Then the diamond 2 to the A, the spade A and Q took the last three tricks. A cover of the spade 10 with the J by West would not have made any difference. Other defense at the start could have beaten it, but not at the end.

BRVAN In loving memory of Mrs. Sara Bvan, who passed away May 12, 1947.

Two bright eyes and tender smile
A loving heart that knew no guile

If sick or suffering one she knew
Some gentle act of love she'd do
No thought of "other" there
I know he said "Well, done dear Mother."

Sadly missed by Willis and Helen.

Havelock Man Shoots Bear In The Village

HAVELOCK, May 12—(ENS)—A black bear, weighing 235 pounds and measuring 7 feet in length, was shot on Saturday evening in the northern end of the town park by Douglas Hill.

The bear was on a return trip to the apiary of Mr. Hill where it destroyed two colonies of bees on Friday night. The apiary is situated on a vacant lot behind Mr. Hill's home on the west side of the park.

On Saturday evening Mr. Hill and his neighbor Derwood Scott sat in a car in the latter's yard with their shot guns watching for the bear to return.

About seven o'clock they saw it cautiously moving in the woods on the north end of the park. Both men jumped the fence into the park, and Mr. Hill, afraid the bear had scented their tracks and would get away, fired two shots, one of which went through its heart. It ran about 50 yards after being hit. On coming closer, Mr. Scott gave him two more shots to make sure he would not stage a comeback at close quarters. He was within 30 yards of the rear door of Mr. Scott's residence.

Punish Japanese

OTTAWA, May 12—(CP)—Every Japanese concerned with mistreatment of Canadian soldiers in the Hong Kong battle of 1941 are either punished or awaiting punishment, Maj. John H. Dickey, Liberal MP for Halifax, said Monday night in an address. Maj. Dickey served for 10 months as associate war crimes prosecutor in the Far East.

Second Group Asks Raise In Vet Pay

OTTAWA, May 12—(CP)—A second large organization today requested that the ceiling for war veterans' allowances, paid to aged and needy veterans and widows as well as orphans, be raised to $50 a month.

The government, in a bill now before the Commons committee on veterans affairs, proposes to raise the maximum from $30 to $40 for single recipients, from $60 to $70 for those who are married.

Today's request came from the National Council of Veterans Associations, parent body for six organizations, in an appearance before the committee. Last week the Canadian Legion made the same submission and also asked that the second ceiling be raised to $85.

A brief submitted by Col. Edward Baker of Toronto, war-blinded chairman of the council, said "We believe the amount we have recommended is definitely warranted under present conditions."

Late Seeding Prairie Worries

WINNIPEG, May 12—(CP)—An undue delay in seeding today was the principal worry of farmers in the north-western Alberta district of Rossington, where the swollen Pembina river earlier had forced 12 families to evacuate their homes.

Ewart Stutchbury, secretary of Westlock municipal district which is astride the Pembina, said Monday night the water levels had not changed.

"There is no suggestion of serious danger," he added. "It seems to be settling more into a long endurance test."

A "disaster squad" of RCMP which had patrolled the river to ensure that those in the threatened areas had adequate food and water now has left.

Throughout Alberta, farmers are staying on their land to care for stranded cattle. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is working on its Drumheller-Rosemary line, several hundred feet of which were washed out Saturday at East Coulee, 12 miles south of Drumheller.

Though most creeks and rivers in Saskatchewan still are above their normal levels, the flood-soaked sections are reported drying up faster than expected.

Use Ack-Ack Guns

ATHENS, May 12—(Reuters)—Greek guerrillas, believed to be using anti-aircraft guns for the first time, shot down two government planes near Grevena, North Greece, Monday, according to reports reaching here today.

Impressive Services At Havelock

HAVELOCK, May 12—(ENS)—Mother's Day was observed with special services morning and evening at Havelock United church, with the minister, Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh in charge.

In the morning, members of the Sunday school were present. The theme was "A Family Day in the Church School." "Getting Out of Us the Best" was the subject of Mr. Vanderburgh's morning address.

The power does not come from without, Mr. Vanderburgh said, but rather it grows up from within.

Special music was sung by the senior choir under the direction of Mrs. R. Campney. Baptism was performed at the close of the service on the following children: Richard Bruce Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Earl Cook; Percy Blayne Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Elmer Whitney; Garry Ewart Bedore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Victor Bedore; Shirley Eileen Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh John Adams.

In the evening, the young people's choir under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. William Platt, gave selections from three cantatas "Mother Love," "Silver Threads" and "A Memory Bouquet." Three anthems were sung by the choir. Two quartettes consisted of Misses Helen Anderson, Elaine Graham, Shirley Bennett, Joyce Agnew and Misses Beverley and Shirley Bennett and Elaine and Joan Graham.

Duets were sung by Joan Dooley and Joyce Agnew, and by Helen Anderson and Beverley Bennett. A Mother's Day song was sung by the senior girls.

Mr. Vanderburgh's subject for the evening was "The Canadian Home." Mr. Vanderburgh stressed the importance of early Christian training in the home and spoke on the need of training camps for youth, not for war but for training in Christian ideals.

Two contests were held, and Mrs. William Steinkrauss, and Mrs. M. Dunford were the winners.

Was His Face Red When He Ended Drive

BRANTFORD, May 12—(CP)—Jim Cook of Brantford is an obliging chap and when a man with a large cigar leaned from an automobile Monday night and asked him the way to the Collegiate he climbed in and supplied directions.

"You must be a Grit," he said.

"If you're looking for the Collegiate, the Liberals are holding their nomination convention there."

"Yes, I'm a Grit," said the man with the cigar. "I'm a Tory, myself," said Cook. "There hasn't been a good Grit since Wilfrid Laurier." After pointing out the Collegiate and belaboring the Liberals good-humoredly for five minutes, Mr. Cook climbed out of the car. "My name's Cook," he said. "My name's Oliver," said the man with the cigar. "Farquhar Oliver." (The Ontario Liberal leader).

The older daughter was suffocated with a diaper and the younger with a pillow. Mrs. Behrens was found on the floor of the family apartment in New York with her throat slashed, according to police, with a suicide confessor note beside her. She is charged with homicide. Her husband Martin, a parcel checker, who discovered the tragedy, could give no reason for the act.

Police Race To Protect Incendiarist

Villagers Threaten Lynching When He's Located

STE. AGATHE, Que., May 13—(CP)—Two squad cars carrying Provincial Police raced north from Montreal today to find and protect a firebug responsible for an early-morning series of fires that destroyed six summer homes and damaged a hotel and nine cottages.

Loss was estimated at $175,000. The incendiarist was said to be known by villagers in the Laurentian district and there were reports of threats he would be lynched if the villagers caught him first.

The fires broke out within a few minutes of each other along a half-mile stretch between Val Morin and Val David, about 60 miles north of Montreal.

Reports here did not immediately identify the hotel damaged but so far as could be learned no one was injured.

Soaked In Oil
There are many hotels, small and large, and summer homes in this mountain area, both a winter and summer vacation playground. Firemen from district villages said furnishings in some of the damaged homes and cottages were soaked with oil.

About 30 firemen fought the flames for more than two hours. All agreed the fires were the work of an incendiarist.

Fire Chief Albert Vanier of Val Morin said he learned first of the fires about 1 a.m. when two houses on the eastern side of the village were reported ablaze.

When he and his volunteer crew of 15 reached the area they found other fires breaking out. Then some started as far as half a mile away, on the western edge of the village.

At one time, he said, a dozen or more places were either burning or starting to burn.

The last outbreak came 10 hours after the original series of fires. Chief Vanier said that in the houses saved or only slightly damaged his men found the fires had been set in mattresses.

Considers Plan For Regional Defence Pact Very Important; Canada Won't Take Lead

OTTAWA, May 13—(CP)—The government attaches large importance to proposals in Washington for regional defence pacts, but Canada will not take the lead in pressing for them.

An external affairs official made that clear today in commenting on the announcement that the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee and its State Department are proposing a new policy stressing regional pacts within the United Nations. The official said that policy "seems to fit in" with earlier proposals by Canada's External Affairs Minister St. Laurent who suggested a league of free states as a collective security measure. However, Canada has no intention of leading any movement towards a western hemisphere integration with the five western union countries of Europe. She is quite willing to go along, but government officials think some larger country should do the leading.

They think it will be "very interesting to see if the American government will take up" the proposal.

Will Shut Off Economic Aid To Any Land Sending War Machinery To Russia

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The United States will shut off economic aid to any European country which supplies war machinery to Russia, ERP Director Paul Hoffman said today. Hoffman said: "We will tell them they must stop it or we won't furnish aid."

The economic co-operation administrator was before the Senate appropriations committee to ask further funds for the European recovery program.

Senator Guy Cordon (Rep.—Ore.) asked Hoffman what he intended to do to "control the translation of our goods and money" into war machinery for Russia.

"If it is true," said Hoffman, "that we are furnishing aid, and if a country is shipping such commodities (to Russia), they have got to stop it or we won't furnish aid."

Watch Supply

Hoffman gave the Senators assurance, too, that ECA will ship abroad only those goods "which can wisely and safely be spared."

"Continued United States prosperity is paramount to the achievement of European recovery," he said before the Senate appropriations committee. In a plea for the full $4,245,000,000 balance needed to round out the $5,300,000,000 Congress has authorized for the recovery program.

The remainder of the sum has been provided for through advances from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Congress.

The ECA chief promised the committee that requests for aid American dollars overseas will be carefully screened and the use of American dollars overseas will be thoroughly checked.

All Trained Jewish Men Called To Mobilize For Palestine's Zero Hour

Move Said Precaution Against Invasion From Neighboring Countries; Rival Administrations Ready To Operate

JERUSALEM, May 13—(AP)—Jewish forces called upon all trained men and women of fighting age today to mobilize for the "zero hour" in Palestine when a Jewish state is proclaimed. The state will be proclaimed early tomorrow night, effective one minute after midnight, when the British mandate ends. The Jewish provisional government decided in Tel Aviv to proclaim the state early in the evening to avoid such action on the Jewish Sabbath.

The Jewish mobilization call, issued in Haifa, ordered all men and women between the ages of 18 and 35 who have had any previous military training to report immediately for duty. These include not only those who have had training in Jewish forces, but also those who had any type of previous military training.

Observers said the Jewish mobilization is a precaution against possible invasion from neighboring countries.

In Cairo, Abdul Razak El Sanhoury, the Egyptian minister of education, told a reporter a royal decree imposing martial law in Egypt will be put into effect when the Egyptian army moves across the Palestine border. The government obtained authority from parliament last night for martial law to aid Egyptian forces on that condition, the minister said.

Decisive Hours
"We have now reached the decisive hours," he added. Syria and Lebanon are ready to impose martial law when the British mandate ends Friday midnight.

At the same time the seven-state Arab league prepared to set up what it called an Arab civil administration, as distinguished from a state, to function in cooperation with occupying Arab forces.

Haganah, the Jewish army, moved into all-Arab Jaffa, which adjoins Tel Aviv. Jaffa's Arab emergency committee, set up when the port city's municipal government collapsed last week following Jewish attacks, surrendered Jaffa at 11 a.m. in Tel Aviv.

Praise Firm For Narrow Profit Margin

OTTAWA, May 13—(CP)—A Toronto company drew general praise today from members of the special prices committee for its narrow margins of profit.

"I think this company has done a remarkable service to the public for very little money," acting chairman R. W. Mayhew (L.—Victoria) said of Stronach and Sons, commission merchants who accept consignments of farmers' produce and sell it for them.

"It strikes me you have done very well to stay in business at all," Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto, Eglington) said after the committee examined the firm's profits.

In 1947, the company made a net profit of $9,200 on gross business of $696,386, according to its financial records. It paid executive salaries of $5,000 which had been unchanged since 1941.

Mr. Fleming estimated that its net profit was only 1.32 per cent on sales.

Earlier, Harold Stronach, general manager, told the committee that if he knew a plan to keep prices down he doubted if he would use it.

"It is my duty to get as much for the produce as I can," he said. Competition among commission merchants forced him to try to get as much for the farmer "as the traffic will bear."

Mr. Stronach said the publicity given to a possible shortage of vegetables after the import restrictions of last autumn was "silly and completely unnecessary."

Oliver Prepared To Lift Ban On Cattle To U.S.

TORONTO, May 13—(CP)—Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, Wednesday night urged lifting of barriers to export of cattle to the United States.

Speaking at Exeter in southwestern Ontario, he pledged that he would work to ease the restrictions and declared that the greatest natural market for products of Ontario farmers lies immediately south of the Canada-U.S. border.

Mr. Oliver urged opening the agricultural export market to the United States as insurance against the day when Britain will reduce her quota of imports from Canada. He said that as Britain rebuilds her own export trade, she will increase her imports from lands other than Canada.

Canada would have to turn elsewhere for markets and the time to look for them was now. "The American market should be built slowly and kept going until it is needed."

Rape Communists

Premier Drew, speaking in northwestern Ontario, hit out at Communists and Communism.

In a campaign speech at Fort Frances, Mr. Drew criticized A. A. MacLeod Labor-Progressive member of the last legislature for Toronto Bellwoods, who was reported as saying labor unions were hostile to the Drew government.

Truman's Hopes For Peace Not Increased By Notes

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—President Truman said today that his hopes for eventual peace have not been increased by the recent exchange of notes with Russia. The President told a press conference he is supporting to the limit State Secretary Marshall's statement that what is needed is action, rather than general talks. Marshall said Wednesday that if Russia desires to promote peace she can act through the United Nations and other allied agencies. The Secretary of State ruled out any two-power, Russo-American talks on matters of concern also to other countries.

President Truman said Marshall covered thoroughly the situation as left by the exchange of notes between Russia and the United States.

In response to questions, the President repeated what he has said often before—that he would be glad to meet with Prime Minister Stalin in Washington.

The whole reaction here to Russia's publication of the notes suggests that the chance for any real improvement in relations between Russia and the United States hinges on whether there will be a basic change in Soviet foreign policy.

No Basic Change
Truman said he thought that there had been no basic change in peace prospects.

He remarked that he has said repeatedly that the United States will work through the United Nations and that the ultimate will be peace throughout the world.

In reply to other questions, Truman said the note Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith handed Foreign Minister Molotov had his approval and that of his cabinet.

Then he added that he did not see that the exchange of notes had increased materially the prospects for peace.

Pro-American Party Leads

SEOUL, May 13—(AP)—American Syngman Rhee's followers captured at least 61 of the 200 seats in South Korea's constituent assembly, partial returns showed today. Rhee's party won 50 seats and the friendly Dai Dong Youth Party garnered 11 more.

The Korean Democratic Party won 27 seats, miscellaneous groups won 12 and non-affiliated candidates took 82. Eighteen seats are still to be filled.

7 Communist Divisions Attack Near Chengteh

SHANGHAI, May 13. (CP)—Seven Chinese Communist divisions today launched simultaneous attacks on the government position near Chengteh, provincial capital of Jehol, and Pingchan, 35 miles to the northeast, pro-government dispatches said.

The main objective of this new offensive was believed to be the crippling of the Peiping-Chengteh-Chinchow railway which has carried large government forces into the Manchurian corridor in recent weeks.

Fighting had started in Mukden's defence perimeter. Changchun, the Manchurian capital, may be evacuated by the government. Nanking's Chenli news agency, which is often correct in its military dispatches, said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had secretly ordered the American-trained 6th army to evacuate Changchun and proceed under heavy air protection to the defence of Mukden.

Truman Opposes Plan To Outlaw Red Party

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—President Truman expressed opposition today to outlawing the Communist party in the United States.

He gave this view at a press conference during discussion of the Mundt Bill which would require Communists to register with the government.

Truman said he was not forecasting his action on that bill if it should reach him, but that he thought that there were ample laws to deal with persons who advocate overthrow of the government.

He added that he thought legislation outlawing a political party is contrary to American principles.

Mother On Trial In Baby's Death

KIRKLAND LAKE, May 13—(CP)—Mrs. Lucille Lamarche, 21, was committed for trial for murder by Magistrate S. Atkinson today in connection with the death of her infant son. She will stand trial at the fall jury sittings of the Supreme Court in Haliburton, and meanwhile will be held in the district jail there.

Wife of Percy Lamarche, a lumberjack, she is charged with the kitchen stove slaying of her two-month-old son at their home here April 11. Preliminary hearing was held a week ago and Magistrate Atkinson handed down his decision today.

10-Day-Old Baby Abandoned In Office

CALGARY, May 13—(CP)—Police today continued a search for a young woman, believed to be from Saskatchewan, who abandoned a 10-day old baby boy in a doctor's office here Tuesday.

The baby was identified by Douglas Christie and George Perrine, both of Brantford, as a child they had seen on a C.P.R. train Tuesday. They said the child's name was Mike and that he was with a young woman who boarded the train either at Moose Jaw or Regina.

The baby was abandoned in the office by a woman described as about 21 years old.

The two men said the woman told them she was going to Vancouver.

Old Car With New Look Delights Barbara Ann Scott

OTTAWA, May 13—(CP)—A golden-haired miss today acquired a powder blue car which exactly matched her powder blue suit and hundreds of Ottawans turned out to tell her it was a perfect combination.

Sparkling the famous smile, world figure-skater champ Barbara Ann Scott blushed and said "thank you" as Mayor Stanley Lewis returned to her the keys of the sleek convertible which she gave up a year ago to maintain her amateur standing.

"Barbara Ann, here we are again in 1948, and the occasion is a little happier than it was in 1947," said Mayor Lewis. "I am turning back the keys of the car which has a new look on it today."

A year ago the car, Ottawa's gift of the champion, was a bright canary yellow, but for the presentation this year it was painted a powder blue—the skating queen's favorite color.

At least three hundred Ottawans crowded around the downtown garage where the repeat presentation performance took place.

"Thank you very, very much," Barbara Ann said to Mayor Lewis, and to the crowd in general. "I can't tell you how glad I am to have it back, and I am so pleased with the new look."

"Stand back, stand back—we want to see her too," shouted several women in the crowd as three reporters obstructed their view of the champion.

"No matter what you do in the future—either as an amateur, or professional—you'll still be Ottawa's sweetheart," said Mayor Lewis. "And if you go to Hollywood we will look forward to seeing you in picture."

Union To Run Trains Only Under Gov't

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—The three railroad brotherhoods which called off their threatened United States-wide strike Monday night will run the trains as long as the government has control of the railroads.

But the minutes the lines are turned back to the carriers, whether in two weeks or two years, they'll call another strike unless an agreement is reached meanwhile in their wage-rules dispute.

That was the word today from one of the top brotherhood men. He talked to a reporter on condition his name would not be disclosed.

This officer said the unions expected the temporary restraining order against the engineers, firemen and switchmen to be made permanent by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough after a hearing next week. This would prevent the unions from striking as long as the government has control.

Young Mother Beaten By Thugs

TORONTO, May 13—(CP)—A young mother of two small children was beaten about the face, kicked and had her clothes torn by two purse-snatchers early today.

Although knocked to the sidewalk and pummeled until her jaws, eyes and nose were swollen, Mrs. Edith Leclerc managed to keep her purse. Her screams for help scared off her assailants.

A motorist who noticed her predicament took her to the nearest police station, and later drove her to hospital.

Mrs. Leclerc said she had attended a late motion picture and had gone to a tea room. She was on her way home when seized from behind by two men.

"Shut up and hand over your purse," said one of the men. When Mrs. Leclerc refused to obey, she was struck in the face.

UAW Plans 8 Million 'Kitty' Chrysler Pickets Set 'For Duration'

DETROIT, May 13 (AP)—An $8,000,000 "kitty" being raised by the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) for their Chrysler Corp. strikers today gave the United States auto industry reason to fear a long walkout.

The big corporation's 75,000 production workers who walked off the job Wednesday morning to enforce union demands for 17 cents more an hour were set for a long seige on the picket lines.

The strike of the Chrysler workers is solid," declared Emil Mazey, U.A.W. secretary-treasurer and acting president who is directing the walkout. "They are set for the duration. The Chrysler workers will win."

Some observers estimated the strike might last as long as two months.

Orderly picket lines were set up at 12 Chrysler plants in Michigan, two in Indiana and one in California a short time after the strike began.

The plant at New Castle, Ind., which was the only one operating Wednesday, closed down today. Local union officials arrived this morning from Detroit and gave the word to strike.

RAF-Home Fleet In Action Biggest Manoeuvres Staged Since 1939

DUMFERMLINE, Scotland, May 13.—(Reuters)—Britain's home fleet and the RAF were in action off northern Scotland today in the greatest combined air-sea manoeuvres Britain has staged since 1939 and the prelude to bigger exercises in the autumn.

Fighter and bombing planes swept up from airfields along Britain's eastern seaboard to attack a naval force reported off northern Scotland.

At the same time destroyers and submarines sailed from Orkney bases to intercept.

Hundreds of young trainees will get their first taste of large-scale air and under-water attacks during the two days of mock fighting—known as "Exercise Dawn."

Planes and ships will range from Scotland to the Norwegian coast during the battle.

The attacking force is known as Redland and the defenders as Blueland.

The Redland fleet is known to consist of two battleships, one cruiser, four frigates and an aircraft carrier. Blueland has the battleships Anson and Howe, the carrier Implacable and a force of submarines. Altogether about 130 aircraft are taking part.

Close Alberta Oil Field Till Fire, Explosion Hazards Are Eliminated

Well Gushing Uncontrolled Is Danger, Will Be At Least 3 Weeks Before Possible To Resume Production

EDMONTON, May 13.—(CP).—Valves in all 60 producing wells at nearby Leduc's $300,000,000 oil field were turned off at 8 a.m. today, and the Alberta government said they would remain closed until a fire and explosion hazard had been removed. Experts said that would be three weeks "at least." At Leduc's average daily output of 9,000 to 10,000 barrels, each worth $3.45, the potential loss is figured at $5,000,000 minimum.

Atlantic Well No. 3, gushing uncontrolled since March 8, was labeled the hazard, and the province's Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board today took over the job of controlling it.

Meanwhile, Frank M. McMahon of the Atlantic Oil Company said in Calgary Wednesday night that reports of fire and explosion danger at the field were "greatly exaggerated."

"There is a definite danger of both fire and explosions in the immediate vicinity of our No. 3 well, but this is confined to an area of about 10 acres around No. 3, and well with the 40-acre site of the well. There is no danger to the field as a whole."

Greatest Output
Engineers said the well is belching more oil—10,000 barrels daily—than the rest of the field combined. The green-black liquid, contained by a 20-foot dyke enclosing more than 40 acres about the well, is churned by gas escaping at an estimated 75,000,000 cubic feet daily through thousands of punctures in the ground.

Earth for two miles around is saturated. Aircraft have been forbidden over it lest sparks from their engines touch off a major disaster. Workers and visitors must leave smoking equipment behind; sightseers are banned.

First task will be to drain away the surface oil—60,000 barrels full. The second, simultaneously tackled, is to bring the well under control. Failure means it will be sealed.

All Leduc's pipeline reservations have been pressed into service, although present lines can draw off 9,000 barrels daily. But the 10,000-barrel flow and the great sea above ground make it a stupendous task. That is why other activity was halted.

How to bring the well under control was a problem which, to a late hour Wednesday night, board officials had not settled.

Two methods were open and officials said they might use both. One was to drill a relief hole 2,000 to 3,000 feet down, meeting No. 3 at an angle. It would divert some flow, it was hoped, enabling control techniques to be applied to both.

The second was to drill a "directional hole" at a greater depth—5,000 feet—meeting No. 3 near its base, with the same object.

Peter Heenan Ex-Minister Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, May 13 (CP).—Peter Heenan, 73, died Wednesday after a long career in public life during which he held cabinet posts in both Federal and Ontario Liberal governments.

He was Federal Minister of Labor under Prime Minister Mackenzie King from 1926 until 1930, Ontario Lands and Forests Minister 1934-41 and Ontario Labor Minister 1941-43.

Born in Ireland and educated in England, he worked as a locomotive engineer in Costa Rica before coming to Canada; at the age of 27, he took a job as a Canadian Pacific Railway engine driver, settled in Kenora and after being in municipal offices there was elected to the Ontario Legislature in 1919.

Six years later he resigned his seat to contest—and win—the Federal constituency. On the formation of the King ministry in 1926, he was sworn in as Minister of Labor.

In 1928 he was appointed Canada's representative to the International Labor Conference at Geneva.

When Liberal party political fortunes ebbed in 1930, he left the Federal cabinet and returned to the engine-driving but retained his Commons seat. In 1934 he accepted an invitation to become Ontario Premier Mitchell Hepburn's cabinet.

He was Provincial Labor Minister in 1943 when the Ontario Liberal government was defeated.

While he was Federal Labor Minister in 1929 old age pensions came into effect and he entered into an agreement with the Ontario government for payment of $20-a-month old age pensions.

More Trouble With Cobourg's Meters This Time, Delivery Of New Heads Delayed

COBOURG, May 13.—(ENS).—Delay in installing the new meter heads which are to accommodate a greater variety of coins, has irked the mayor and council. The meter contract and file have been handed over to the town solicitor and while council has not formally declared its intention to do so, it has been implied that council would be willing to drop the present meters and deal with another firm.

Mayor Joe Smith, recalling that the meter salesmen promised to have the new heads delivered at once, in view of the council renewing its contract after the year trial period, wrote several times to ask what caused the delay. Mayor Smith said that he received no reply until he sent a telegram demanding action. Result was word from the company to advise that shortage of materials and government restrictions were holding up the manufacture of the new heads and the newly-established Canadian factory in Ottawa.

Before the expiration of the trial period, another meter company offered immediate installation of new meters but council decided to stick with the original company on understanding that the one and five-cent meter heads were replaced by ones which would take coins up to five cents, giving a greater parking range period.

The company has offered to install the timer mechanism in the present heads and will also permit the town to keep 100 per cent of the meter receipts instead of the present 50 per cent, until the new heads are installed. Pending advice from the town solicitor, the situation is somewhat in the air. Meanwhile the anti-meter element in the town is reviving its opposition to the meters. However council is decided on parking meters of some kind.

Navy Cadet Steals The Show At Inspection, Blurts Out "They Ain't Here Yet, Sir"

COBOURG, May 13.—(ENS).—An amusing sidelight to the recent inspection of the Skeena Sea Cadets at Port Hope, is related by one of the Cobourg members of the corps. Before the arrival of the inspection officers, Lieut. Commanders James Crist and David Olive, the sea cadets and their officers were drawn up in the Skeena drill hall at Port Hope. The corps was ready to snap to attention and the band to sound the present arms, as soon as the inspection party arrived.

The ship's messenger had been sent out to spot the arrival of the staff car and he was to return to advise Sub. Lieut. Carl Paeden. The corps was experiencing that feeling that people get just before the curtain goes up for their performance.

The minutes wore on tensely in the drill hall. Then the door opened and in came the messenger. The boy was nervous as he approached the officer of the day. Approaching the officer-of-the-day, the messenger came to a flustered halt.

"Salute," Lieut. Paeden whispered. The lad saluted and then burst out with:

"They ain't here yet, sir."

The corps relaxed visibly and a

Port Hope Man To Sue Town For Damages

PORT HOPE, May 13.—H. R. S. Ryan, town solicitor, has informed the town council that a writ has been served upon him as legal representative of the Corporation of Port Hope by J. C. M. German, K.C. of Cobourg, counsel for H. Giber, Port Hope.

The writ is an action for damages of trespassing and for an injunction to restrain the town from constructing a water main and sewer on the plaintiff's land, and for an order requiring the town to remove the material from the plaintiff's land.

No set amount has yet been affixed for damages, Mr. German said.

Council passed a resolution this week authorizing Mr. Ryan to defend the action, and to endeavor to reach a satisfactory settlement through a meeting of the plaintiff, his counsel, Mr. Ryan and any member of the Council who wishes to attend, and Mayor W. R. Jex.

Mr. Ryan was instructed by resolution to prepare the necessary defense if no such settlement could be reached.

Cadets On Parade

The annual parade for inspection of the P.C.V.S. Cadet Corps yesterday afternoon was excellently fine. The cadets were well turned out, their advance in review order was remarkably precise and impressive and their display of varied military practices gave evidence that the playing fields of Eton are not the only grounds on which battles can be won. The officers and N.C.O.'s responsible for the Corps' training and the cadets who could so well profit by it are to be warmly congratulated.

Even during the route march after the inspection, the cadets maintained their vigour, their pace and their poise. The fine looking cadet commanders carried their swagger sticks as if they were veterans of a hundred Officers' Clubs and of 1,001 early nights in London. It was a good show and the band gave forth good martial music to which only one lad in the ranks could not attune his feet.

So near was the Corps to perfection that we must refer to one deviation noticeable for two days before the inspection and after the dismissal. A smart soldier always wears a cap, partly to salute his lady friends, partly because a uniform is not complete without it. We have seen General Vokes hundreds of times, but only at church service, in the mess or within his own compound have we seen him without his cap—never on the battlefield or on George Street.

We Are Not Out Of The Dollar Dilemma

E.R.P. is now in operation. Many Canadians have been prone to think that all our dollar and trade worries would end with E.R.P. They expected that millions of American dollars would flow into Canada like freshets into parched land and that cash markets in Europe would make our valleys green with dollar bills. E.R.P. will do nothing of the sort. As Mr. Howe, the Minister of Trade, said in Montreal on Tuesday, we can hope not that our exports will be increased, but that they will be maintained at least at the level of 1947. It will allow Canada to export without depleting her U.S. dollar reserves, but she will still have to build them up from an abnormally low level.

The Howe-Abbott import restriction program initiated last November so as to stop the drain on our American dollar reserves has, with E.R.P., made Canadians rather too optimistic about our economic position. Between December and March the restrictions have not created any notable additional reserves. The reserves were up from the low of 461 million dollars to 527 million but this increase left out of account 30 million dollars paid by the U.S. for old debts, and dividend payments sent in American dollars by Canadian subsidiary companies to the parent companies. In January and February of this year, despite the Howe-Abbott regulations, our imports from the U.S. were the highest in history—$287 millions of American goods. Much of this was, however, for essential equipment and supplies which will help our industry to earn or conserve American dollars.

In our third column today we quote part of a speech given recently by Dr. W. A. Mackintosh. In discussing Canada's economic future he mentions the present need of reducing consumer consumption. One of the benefits of E.R.P. buying in Canada may be that Canadians shall, as individuals and as producers "be called on to give up some of the goods which we might otherwise have enjoyed". The warning is Mr. Howe's. It is proper that our participation in E.R.P. should not be only as receivers of American dollars. We must expect to give something, to make some sacrifices and adjustments. For the last two and a half years we have, in proportion to our population, taken for ourselves something more than we had planned of the world's output of goods and services. That has helped to cause our dollar dilemma. Tightening our belts or postponing our demands (e.g.

for American goods) for the sake of helping Europe may make us less corpulent, more healthy, and mitigate our economic ills.

The New Pensions Rates

The 25 per cent. increase in pension rates for war veterans announced in Parliament on Tuesday meets with general approval. Some revision of the prevailing 1925 rates was of course necessary. At first the Government was unwilling to raise them more than 18 per cent., but the Canadian Legion, and ex-service Members of Parliament (even Government supporters) successfully pleaded to the Parliamentary Veterans' Committee and the Cabinet that more was needed and justified. Some members of the Opposition are still, for their own political purposes, demanding a 33-1-3 per cent. increase, but they are not in office and do not have to assume responsibility for the budget.

The new rates will cost the country at least eighteen million dollars annually for many years. To add another six or eight million dollars as a permanent annual charge in good years and bad would be unwise. The country's outlay for pensions, even at the old rates, has risen to seventy million dollars a year.

Under the new rates a single man with full disability pension is receiving $94 a month (the new rates are retroactive to October 1st). A married man with no children receives $125 monthly. These pensions may seem small in comparison with prevailing wage rates and the cost of living, but there are other compensations. Many pensioners have jobs and are earning good wages at work from which their physical disabilities do not disqualify them. There is a helplessness allowance, which has also been increased. A childless married veteran in receipt of a total disability pension and requiring the maximum helplessness allowance can receive a total of $2,900 a year free of income tax. That is equivalent to an ordinary income of $3,400. We need not be ashamed (as some Opposition members would have us believe) of that kind of treatment of our veterans.

The new maximum allowance for helplessness will make the whole pensions administration more flexible. Any veteran rated as a total disability pensioner may qualify for all or part of the helplessness allowance for long or short periods. The pensions for widows and children have been increased. There have been amendments to the conditions under which a veteran may qualify for a pension. In general, the new bill is humane and generous. Canada may not yet be a country fit for heroes, but all war veterans are not heroes and the nation is at least showing a decent regard for their welfare in the matter of pensions.

Double Parking

These days the local police constables really have their hands full of tickets for presentation to motorists who go through stop signs, whose tail lights have unexpectedly conked out, whose cars have become one-eyed, or who have overstayed as paying guests at a parking meter. (Incidentally, the stop signs on Water street at Charlotte are real traps for the unwary—larger or more vivid signs at that intersection would be appreciated; the present ones are usually encompassed about by so many other signs and by trucks and cars that they are easily missed. The police are so busy checking on infractions of driving regulations that we hesitate to point out another which they seem to be overlooking. However, if our streets are to become safe for both motorists and pedestrians and if driving habits in Peterborough are to be improved by ticket tuition, we feel that we should call attention to the nuisance and danger of double parking.

Any week day at five o'clock Charlotte street, George, Simcoe and Hunter look like old-time criss-cross rail fences. There are barriers of parked cars lining the sidewalks, and about every twenty yards is a jog—another car parked double. The driver may only have slipped into a shop for a toothpick. He may even be sitting in the car and waiting for his wife who has dashed into a butcher's for a last-minute pound of hamburger for supper.

They are innocent slips and dashes—"It'll only be gone a second" is the slogan. Nevertheless, the seconds are minutes and the parked cars hanging out in the middle of the street are worse than sore thumbs. They not only impede traffic—they are a menace to it. They are morally bad, too, for drivers (even bus drivers) trying to pick their way through the barriers start thinking wicked words even if they don't shout them. We suggest that the effect would be wholesome if the police seized time by the forelock and even in the minute (or ten, if the hamburger is not ready) presented tickets to the double-parkers. No one would accuse the constables of being Nosey Parkers for ridding the streets of the cars and trucks of double parkers.

Canada's Economic Outlook

By
DR. W. A. MACKINTOSH

(Ed. Note: Dr. Mackintosh, Vice-Principal of Queen's University, is a foremost Canadian economist. During the war and in the first post-war year, he served in Ottawa as economic advisor and played a leading part in planning and setting up the economic and financial structure that served the country so well and provided models for other nations. We print the concluding section of an address which Dr. Mackintosh gave early this month in Toronto, believing it sufficiently important to interest general readers as well as business men.)

WHEN one turns to the future one is confronted by the overshadowing question mark of the world's political and strategic divisions. The uncertainties are of the greatest relevance to our subject but I am not competent to discuss them. I shall make only two rather obvious comments. The progress of events makes clear that the Soviet Union is neither a great economic nor a great ideological force. For the present her influence for good or evil rests on her military power and her authoritarian methods. The second comment is still more obvious. The larger the free area of Europe and the world, the better for Canada's economic future.

Internally, our great continuing economic problem has been the progressive inflation of prices and costs. We are trying to crowd too much into the present. The demand is so great that competitive forces are gravely weakened. For the sake of the consumer, for the sake of the future of our foreign trade, for the sake of the business firms who are going to try to get reasonable returns on the high-cost capital projects of the present, we need more competition in our economy.

It can be got only by some slackening in the present pace, by the postponement of some of our consumption and some of our investment to a later and more convenient season. It would not be difficult by increase in taxation, by increase in interest rates, and by curtailment of credit, to bring the boom to a jolting stop. It is much more difficult to dampen it down and postpone the investment to a later day. The over-all government surplus has been an anti-inflationary factor, though it has flowed back into the capital market through the purchase and redemption of bonds. The recent rise in the rate of interest which seems to have been of more than academic concern may have some effect in limiting the ease with which projects can be financed. I gather from their clients that banks have developed some added care in the kind and amount of loans and investments they make. There is some evidence in bank statistics that some curtailment has already taken place.

It may be that these measures, together with the discouragement of high costs, will be enough to bring about postponement. The shortage of steel and the licensing of imports of capital goods will work in the same direction. But the pressure of expansion is very strong and evidently not easily discouraged. Ultimately the investment boom will slacken and if we are then to maintain employment by increased exports and enlarged consumption, our producers must compete and must have low costs.

THERE is some slight evidence of weakening of prices, but it is by no means clear. It might be confirmed if large crops in Western Europe and North America brought significant reduction in food prices.

I do not believe there need be any such thing as a chronic shortage of U.S. dollars. There have been temporary shortages explained by temporary circumstances. There have been times when progressive upward movements in the U.S. tariff have made it difficult to earn U.S. dollars. Any inflation of prices and incomes not closely paralleled in the United States will always tend to create a surplus of imports. Ultimately to the degree that we cannot sell for convertible currencies we shall have to shift our exports and have the competitive strength to do it. We have been accustomed, and the British have been accustomed, to lay a great deal of blame on the United States tariff. It is entitled to a lot of blame. We shall be foolish, though, if we or they overlook one thing. The greatest danger of a persistent shortage of U.S. dollars will arise if the rate of technical progress and improvement in efficiency is greater in the United States than in our countries.

WE have made some progress toward freer trade, but if there is any opportunity at all, we should go much further. We have great and soundly based native industries which can serve expanded markets competitively. Our hopes for a higher standard of living rest on them. We are apt to forget that a standard of living is not something we inherit, nor something we create by devious arrangements, it is something we earn. What we cannot earn, we cannot continuously have. We need not limit our search for freer trade to the U.K. and the U.S.; Western Europe has been showing some impressive signs of recovery and some encouraging tendency to liberal trade policies. We need neglect no market, but in Western Europe, the U.S., the U.K. and Canada there is the bulk of world trade.

There are two other things I would like to emphasize. Much of our production is based on the extractive industries. Wheat, base metals, gold, paper and the heavy power-consuming industries are our competitive strength. We have heretofore devoted far too little time and funds to the conservation of these resources and to their replacement by new discoveries. In the past, we have been great borrowers of technical knowledge and skill. If we are to maintain the high position we have reached, we must do much more than in the past to improve our technical research.

"The Union idea must not be understood to apply exclusively to the West. All Europe up to the Soviet frontier—may including the U.S.S.R. itself—is invited to join."

Letter To The Editor

CONSERVING THE FARM

Sir: Your editorial of May 4th entitled "Are Farmers Subsidizing Consumers?", brings up a question that seems to me one of the most vital which we have to face, and together with the quotation from the Farmers Advocate headed "No More Cheap Food", provide material to which both producer and consumer of agricultural produce should give deep and serious consideration.

Any Sunday afternoon Peterborough residents can drive out into the country and pause beside a picturesque old stump fence, and gaze at an old dilapidated log barn and house of a deserted farm. It may be picturesque yet the very stumps upon which the observer rests at ease, show that the land at one time possessed a high degree of fertility. Is its present sad state the fault of the farmer, or the fault of the consumer in his demand for cheap produce? The deserted farm shows that he can get it—at a price.

Let us say that it is a case of mutual misunderstanding and fault. Knowledge of agriculture has progressed far since log cabin days, and we realize how vital it is that in some form or other, the fertility which each successive consumer and the farmer are going to continue in plentiful existence. The figure experts have already started juggling with the time element of the world supply and demand of available food. Irrespective of how it works out, it is evident that the productivity of present agricultural areas should be at least maintained at their present level, and if possible increased.

A short time ago I purchased a farm. It is a good average productive farm, and has received good average soil treatment, and fertility rotation. Yet, just by walking over the fields, without any chemical soil tests, I can see that there is not a field which does not need treatment for better production. What am I going to do about it? You've guessed it. I'll go ahead handling it in the way it has been handled. I can't afford to take a chance any other way.

Let's suppose, (which is not the case), that I were producing cream for butter. I know that by changing the type of the hay field, and keeping it well supplied with certain types of plant nutrients, the amount of winter cream production can be raised, and so help with the alleviation of butter shortage. But, just where would such a program leave me? If the consumer has his way in the clamour for cheap butter, my time and expense would be down the drain, and probably me with it.

Every step in farming is a gamble. That wintry wind which swept around the corner of George and Charlotte streets not so long ago, may have passed on to an outlying field of winter wheat, and swept it clean of its protective cover of snow, and exposed it to the killing temperatures of the sub-zero weather. Yet the farmers must keep on gambling with the future. It is vital to all. The question is should the farmer take all the gamble, and should he shoot for high stakes while the getting is good?

This brings us back to the question of subsidizing, or control. Just as soil improvement is something which calls for long term planning, farm prices which can justify the necessary expense of such soil improvement must have some form of long term control. While there are floor prices at present, what assurance does the farmer have that they will last? Right now that field over in the corner might look like a good bet for a certain crop that would justify the expense of all the necessary soil trimmings, only to find that by the time the crop had matured that prices were down. What can we do about it that will help both the consumer and the producer? As you say, farming is "free enterprise", and the old law of supply and demand controls.

But, let's take a look around. Here we see an old clearing filled with stumps. Quickly we realize that every stump means a tree gone. It is something which we can visualize. The forests are being depleted. What happens? Forestry branches and nurseries are set up, and at the expense of the public, areas are replanted, and everyone is urged to help conserve and replace the wood lands. The public feels justified in such an expenditure, which in the long run returns to private profit. Yet, because it does not appear on the surface, depletion of the soil fertility is overlooked, and the public would be highly reluctant to undertake a government program which would restore soil fertility. Yet, if the consumer wishes cheaper food, it seems like a step which must be taken. In some way the farmer must be provided with a means of producing more yield per acre to cheapen the overall cost. We know it can be done, but the average farmer can't afford to assume the additional gamble. Some measure of assurance must be found that will benefit both producer and consumer.

Perhaps we don't want to be bothered with looking ahead, but prefer the present policy of laying out cash on the line to pay for the policy of grandfather's cheap wheat from the west. Or, perhaps, on the other hand, if we had an election system with regular election dates, instead of being at the mercy of the whims of politicians for snap elections, we could devote time and careful study to the advancement of some sort of a program of solution. As it is we will be rushed into an election without any clear idea of any par-

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honourable, because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto Syria: he was also a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper. And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Israel a little maid; and she waited on Naaman's wife. And she said unto her mistress, Would God my lord were with the prophet that is in Samaria! for he would recover him of his leprosy.

So Naaman came with his horses and with his chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Elisha. And Elisha sent a messenger unto him, saying, Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean.

But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and said, Behold, I thought, He will surely come out to me, and stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and strike his hand over the place, and recover the leper. Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? may I not wash in them, and be clean? So he turned and went away in a rage.

And his servants came near, and spake unto him, and said, My father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean?

Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child and he was clean. (11 Kings 5: 1-3, 9-14.)

Ambidextrous?

There is a Canadian customs officer who was either brought up on the Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, or is a golfer.

As the story was told us, a Toronto man wanted a set of matched clubs made in the U.S. He went to Buffalo, bought the clubs and left it to a friend of his in that city to get them across the line without formality. A few days later the Buffalo chap left by car for Toronto, carrying the clubs along with his own in his golf bag.

At the border the customs officer went over the car. "You play golf?" asked the officer. The Buffalo man said he did. "You must have a most unusual style," said customs. "You're the first man I've come across who requires nine right-hand clubs and five left-hand clubs for the same game."—Toronto Financial Post.

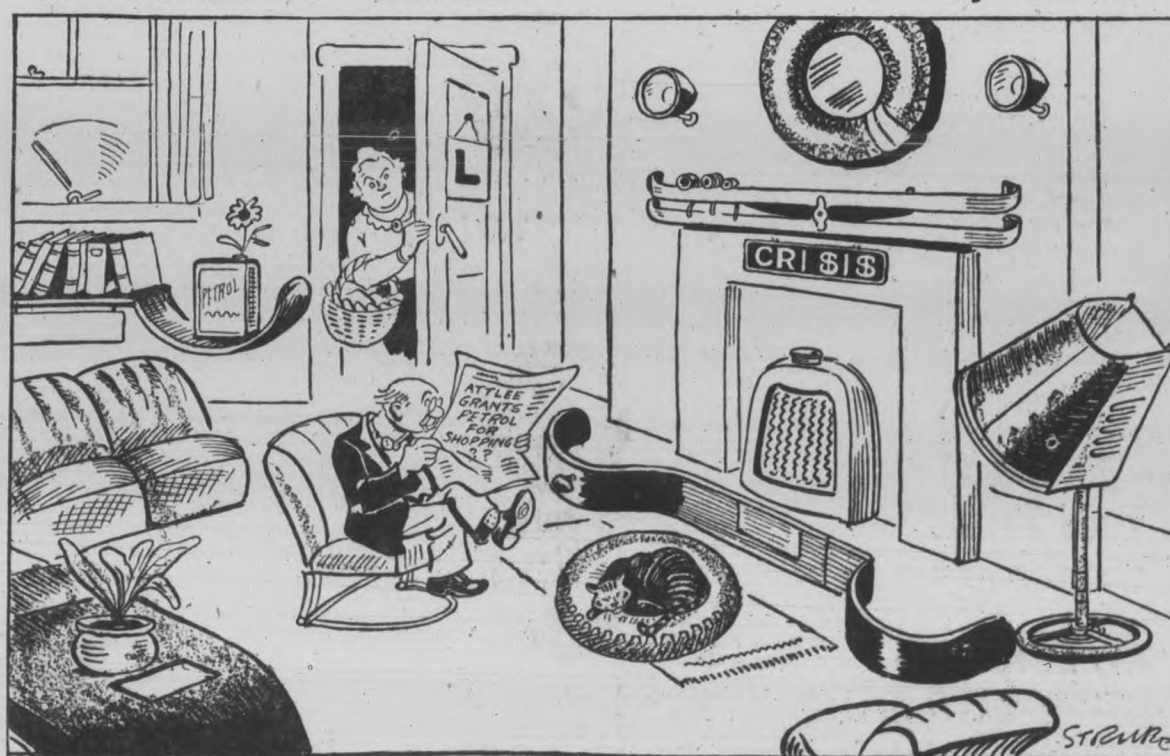

ticular issue, but still with the knowledge that, as the electorate, we can voice our resentment at being shoved around to suit political whims by voting against such politicians, which succeeds very nicely in swinging entirely away from the subject of subsidizing the farmer, and brings us to the question of "Are we subsidizing the politicians or are they subsidizing us?" or something.

Yours truly,

Baileboro. RALPH G. KILBON.

Bakery Firm Taken Over

Trent Valley Baking Co., Lindsay, has been acquired by Consolidated Bakeries, Ltd., of which Wonder Bakeries, Ltd., of this city, is also a subsidiary. Transport from Peterborough of Wonder Bread products for distribution in the Lindsay area will be discontinued as an effect of this change of ownership of Trent Valley Baking Co.

The three Wonder drivers at Lindsay, Howard McGinnis, Al Irwin and Don Johns have been transferred to Trent Valley, shifting from one Consolidated Bakeries subsidiary to the other.

The Lindsay bakery plant employs a staff of more than 60 men and women, supplying an area roughly bounded by Minden, Port Perry, Beaverton and Ormeau. Addition of two trucks to the Trent Valley Baking Co. service may be an early development.

Frau Goering Jailed For Profiteering

MUNICH, Germany, May 13.—(AP).—Emmy Goering, widow of the Reichsmarshal, was indicted today as a major offender under the denazification law.

Her husband, Herman Goering, committed suicide in 1946 in Nurnberg jail, a few hours before he was to be hanged as a war criminal.

Kinsmen-Sponsored Tot Lot Being Built At Inverlea

The city will see its first supervised totlot in action this summer at Inverlea Park. The Kinsmen Club is sponsoring the idea of an enclosed area for the exclusive use of children of pre-school age. This totlot will provide children of nursery school age, from three to six, with a number of opportunities to engage in low organized games, unorganized play activities, singing games, finger painting, story telling, crafts with paper, drama activities, and apparatus play.

"It is desirable that Totlots be part of a larger playground and fenced off by itself with equipment set aside exclusively for the tiny tots to avoid monopoly by the larger children," Jack Dane, recreation director, said. The equipment will include: slide, swings, sand box, a wooden platform for quiet games, a climbing device, and a hobby horse set. Two play houses will be erected in the corners of the lot which will be shaded by the trees. These play houses will be equipped with furniture and suitable toys. They will act as shelter houses in case of sudden rain storms and also serve as houses for the smaller equipment which will be locked up at night. A hard surfaced track will be installed in the totlot on which children might ride their bicycles, scooters, kiddy cars, and other wheeled vehicles. Benches will be provided in the shade where parents may rest and watch their children.

Part of Plan

The totlot will be part of the recreation commission summer playground program and will be under the constant care of a trained supervisor. Included in the program will also be a daily organized swimming period. The swimming instruction will be supervised by Mrs. Pansy Forbes and her group of instructors.

The totlot is situated alongside and running parallel to Parkhill Rd. The 180 ft. enclosure will act as a barrier between the park proper, where field games and the older children play, and the road. It will help in preventing the children from running on the road, and will stop the other play equipment from rolling on to the street. It is located in an area which has little used by the older children as a play area because of its proximity to the road. It also permits easy access to the drinking fountain and toilet facilities. Tiny tots and parents may enter the totlot without walking through the park and crossing other game areas in which children may be playing or using apparatus. The one gate which opens into the park on the north side of the totlot will assist the supervisor in keeping a constant watch on the children, coming and going.

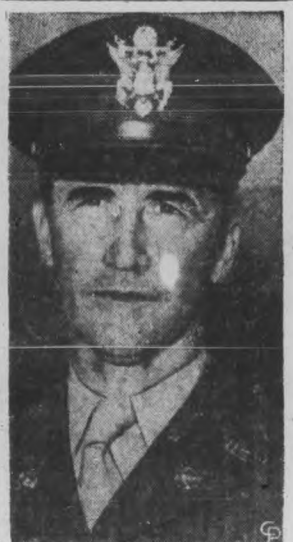

The totlot idea is popular in many cities in the United States and will be tried for the first time this year in Peterborough. It promises to become popular with the parent who wishes to leave Junior in the hands of a capable, well trained person, while a shopping tour is undertaken, in calm assurance of the child's well being.

Find Oil Index Down Fraction

By The Canadian Press

The threat of major damage to Alberta's Leduc oil field will hold attention until the fire hazard caused by a wild well has been removed.

In the meantime production is stopped in the field so that all facilities may be devoted to draining off the accumulated oil from the surface.

The waste of gas while the well is out of control causes some concern, too, as it effects the oil recovery potential.

Decision to close down production to concentrate on the fire hazard came Wednesday, but the well has been causing difficulty for some days with no visible effect on western oil quotations up to Wednesday's stock market close.

In Toronto the oil index Wednesday was down a fraction from its nine-year high of Saturday, in line with a quiet trend in other stocks.

Percy was ordered held in custody pending a ruling from the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Soccer Petes Slip Loss To O'Hallorans

O'Hallorans — A. O'Halloran 3-1 Wednesday evening in a soccer match at King Edward Park, the losers being short three regular players. They started with eight men and Scott, in goal for them, was injured in the late stages of the contest. But it was a good game throughout.

Play was 15 minutes old when Peters registered for the Petes, but O'Hallorans nearly got that one back through the work of Pyle and Featherstone with Woodcock making a spectacular save. They kept up the pressure all the interval, Duffus and Smart testing the goal custodian on longer shot.

O'Hallorans pressed the attack and got the equalizer through Duffus, who picked the inside of the upright. Pyle, at centre half, kept playing the ball forward to the Petes area. Coach Mitchell's strategy paid off later as his forwards began swinging the ball from wing to wing, with H. Payne connecting for a header to count. With five minutes left, E. Lane allied to make it 3-1.

O'Hallorans — A. O'Halloran, goal; T. Scott and C. B. Smart, full-backs; D. Gray and H. Pyle, half-backs; N. Downer, E. Duffus, A. Featherstone and A. Duncan, forwards.

Petes — E. Woodcock, goal; D. Downer and K. Downer, full-backs; W. Post, F. McMaster and J. Lane, half-backs; J. Byers, H. Payne, J. Whitnall, J. Hennessey, and L. Payne, forwards. Subs: E. Lane and A. Downer. Referee, T. Garland; linesmen, Adams and G. Downer.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Men's softball at the Bowl tonight, weather being right. De Laval tackles Legionnaires at seven sharp, followed by Knights against the B-A bunch. Morin and Batley umpire the first one and it'll be Phelan and Ranger in the nightcap. The De Laval entry and the K. of C.-ers were seen in action on Tuesday, both looking pretty promising for so early in the season. Legion have some new faces in the lineup and they'll be hard to figure for a few frays. Johnny Russell's B-A squad look familiar enough with many City League established stars out with this team. Some of the clubs are experimenting for a few weeks and may make some changes.

The showing of the Philadelphia Athletics these days in the American League is surprising. Up around the top since the season began, the A's must be warming the old heart of Connie Mack. The esteemed Mr. Cornelius McGillicuddy is enjoying his 86th year—his 64th in baseball—and as keen a baseball man as ever. Still signalling plays from the bench with his scorecard and still bringing up promising youngsters or swinging a smart trade. His so-called castoff crew this spring has been making monkeys of the opposition to date and the A's should have a good year. Truly a remarkable old gent, long may Connie Mack's scorecard wave.

Trend Of The Times

Andy Lytle says: "Why not hop up the ball to the zenith? Look how hockey prospered after the rule-makers hopped it with the long-er no-offside area. Has football suffered in public esteem since the punt went out and the forward pass took on more and more shapes in operation. To sell sport profitably today, entertainment is primary and everything else is patterned to suit box office requirements. A super-star in baseball is one who can hit the most horseshoe spheroids out of sight. His fellow in hockey is the gink who can belt most rubber into the net. How he gets it there is no longer of any importance whatever."

We'll go this far with Andy, agreeing that action and color are highly important in athletics. Local clubs not realizing this should get wise. COBL this year will insist on hustle every inning, and we remember Knotty Lee when he piloted the Petes making the players run in and out between frames. No loafing tolerated. We trust the minor baseballers and all the softballers show lots of hustle this season and its not only up to the ump's but to the managers as well. Even a one-sided contest can prove interesting if a whole lot of hustle and fight is shown. Give the paying customers their money's worth.

The Marvellous One

Mat fans will be figuring whom they can bring in to beat the Mask—the Whipper not being available yet. We don't know, after the Marvel flunking that final last eve at the Brock over Hi Lee. It might be that McCready will return, but he was zipped last time when he had the hooded one beaten and said—quoting a raven—"Nevermore". Maybe Wee Willie Davis, who won the semi-final over popular Mickey Gold last eve, will try it, but we doubt that. Earl or the Whip would take him, we'd say, but we've been wrong before. The main thing is that the Mask keeps winning here and won last p.m. from a guy who goes 297 pounds! A lot of weight on a fellow who is flat in the middle. Oh, yes, Red Sims won the prelim.

A tidy soccer tussle at King Edward Park on Wednesday eve with the Petes pulling out a 3-1 victory over the shorthanded O'Hallorans. Byers counted first, with Duffus evening it up, but the Petes got a pair late in the tilt through Payne and Lane. Scott was injured toward the finish. The losers deserve much credit for their showing against the smart Petes in a good game. Saturday sees Petes playing the powerful Electric at three bells in King Edward Park with Asa Downer the referee, while Legionnaires trek to Lindsay for a match, Bill Harris handling it.

Helping The Cause

Saw Harley Keefer this morning and he had just made out a cheque for $90 for the civic fund. He said years ago he had helped start the Norwood rink project and that it had been a boon to the youth of that community. Owned by the village it has seen a lot of youth district hockey and shows a profit each year. The same thing will apply to the local arena which gets its official start Saturday when the first sod will be turned on the Park St. site. And it will be due to sports-minded citizens like Mr. Keefer, who are ready to dig down for a worthy cause. But a lot of money is still required, folks.

HITHER AND YAWN: Harriers' track and field meet is Saturday afternoon in Morrow Park... Marion Timm took the Vic Sedgewick trophy for the third straight season with high average in the YM lasses' bowling loop... Betty Castle last night was elected prexy of this circuit... Senior "B" lacrossers drill tonight and Friday... Bantam lacrossers register from six to seven tonight at George St. wharf... Petes' senior ballsters worked out last p.m. and go again Sat'day aft... Open practice for Westclox girls at 6:30 tonight in Armour Field... Kawartha juvenile softballers drill at 6:30 tonight in the Ex... Toronto Tip Tots play the B-A squad a Saturday night exhibition in the Bowl for the rink fund... Church Softball League schedule will be run tomorrow... In school softball, Central edged King George seniors, as Prince of Wales Juniors won from Queen Mary and King George took Confederation Juniors... And there was the young manufacturer who quit umpiring as he couldn't keep calling strikes.

Belmont Chart Has 28 Starters

NEW YORK, May 13 (CP). —Johnny Lujack, who might have been a great left halfback at Notre Dame last fall if Frank Leahy had been three-deep in good quarterbacks, will play the left half spot for Chicago Bears this year. Boss George Halas figures Sid Luckman and Bobby Layne can do an adequate job of quarterback... Only 28 fillies by Bull Lea (sire of Citation and Coaltown) have been sold on the open market. In 1942, the first four brought an average of $625; last year three averaged more than $12,000.

Harry Mendal, whose drum-beating at Joe Louis' camp plays up the idea that Jersey Joe Walcott "bicycled" in the Louis fight last December, claims he's going to sign up the two Joes as a six day bike race team... Too bad Bob Pastor and Gene Tunney are too old for that racket. Sports pourri.

With some 200 two-year-olds stabled at Belmont, track officials expect as many as 28 starters in some of those dashes down the Widener chute. How'd you like to be the chart caller? Zeke Bonura, who was a piece of the Stamford, Conn., club in the Colonial League, gets a kick out of pointing out that he and Hank Greenberg are ball players who became club-owners — and both first basemen.

Girl Trundlers Choose B. Castle Prexy

Betty Castle was elected president of the YMCA Senior Ladies Bowling League at the annual meeting held Wednesday night following a banquet in the YMCA. Barbara Lee was chosen secretary and Marion Woods treasurer. The presentation of prizes featured the enjoyable gathering with the president Mary Morton presiding. Flowers, bowling pins and balls were the unusual table decorations greeting the eyes of the guests, an idea thought up by M. Dinsdale. The Y's Men's Trophy was presented to the Bombers, who also received individual prizes, by Ken Jackson. The high average trophy was presented by its donor, Vic Sedgewick, to Marion Timm for the third straight year. Walter Scott donated and presented a prize to the runner-up for high average, Betty Pogue.

The Corvettes took a special Y's Men's prize, having taken it several times previously. High single of 333 went to Winnie McCarell and high three of 788 was taken by Thelma Grierson. The special draw prizes went to M. Toms, Ollie Seales, E. Crowe, Marion Wood, Ruby Dorrington, E. Page, Zita Bell and Grace Simpson. The league made presentations to the president, secretary and treasurer as well as scorers, and thanked The Examiner for co-operation.

Masked Marvel Lowers Hi Lee To Take Main Bout Of Mat Card

Once again the Masked Marvel came back from almost certain defeat Wednesday evening in the Brock Arena to win the main wrestling bout over his opponent. He took the deciding fall from Hi Lee, after appearing badly beaten, and the large crowd didn't like it a bit. Some were calling for Earl McCready in a return bout.

The final fall came in seven minutes when the Marvel climbed back into the ring—kicking the tugging Lee into the crowd—after both were out of the ring. He got back in time to beat the count, but had taken a real beating this last round both in and out of the ring. Lee, who scales 297 against his 257, had given him a hard hammering all around the ring and twice out of it, and was setting him up for the fall when the Mask won on a fluke.

An Old Trick

The second fall came in nine minutes when the Mask used the old school boy's trick. He jumped Lee from behind, as Hi argued with the referee, and threw the big fellow into the ropes. As Hi bounced back, the Marvel dropped to a crouch and let him tumble over him, then pounced fast on him to pin him. Previous to that it was a tough scrap between the giants with Referee Bunny Dunlop getting tough a few times, too, with the Mask and yanking him loose from illegal holds. Lee fought hard while the Marvel played it rough throughout and was highly unpopular.

Lee had taken the first fall in 15 minutes when he threw the Mask twice into the turn-buckles hard and flopped onto him for the one-two-three count. The Mask had started before the bell by elbow-clipping the big fellow and the latter came back at him hard to hold a big edge, despite some vicious stuff thrown at him by the hooded villain. It was a lively tussle throughout by two big men who could move around and wrestle plenty.

Wee Willie Davis, a mere 268 pounds of rough stuff, copied the semi-final bout in 27 minutes over the 230-pound Mickey Gold, using a back-breaker against the ring boards from outside the ropes. He crawled back in time to beat the count while Gold had to be helped to the dressing room. Willie gave Gold a cuff as he was being toted off, for good measure. Both were out of the ring once before, with Davis using a hammerlock to good effect. He played it rough and

Star Pitchers Having A Rough Time

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP). — The pitching stars of 1947 are in for a rough time this year, if their early season performances are a criterion.

A half dozen hurlers managed to win 20 or more games last year. This exclusive list included Bob Feller, Cleveland; Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati; Ralph Branca, Brooklyn; Larry Jansen, New York Giants; and Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, Boston Braves. Not one of this group of big winners has looked like the pitcher he was in 1947.

Here are their records thus far: Blackwell—Two wins and three losses. Kayoed in four of five starts.

Feller—three wins and two losses—completed only two of five starts.

Branca—two wins and three losses. Kayoed in three of four starts.

Jansen—three wins and one loss. Kayoed in three of five starts.

Spahn—one win and two losses. Kayoed in two of three starts.

Sain—two wins and two losses. Completed three of five starts.

Other Rough Starts

Rough starts also are being experienced by such 1947 stars as Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout, Detroit; Joe Dobson and Dave Ferris, Boston Red Sox; Frank Shea and Ed Lopat, New York Yankees; George Munger and Murry Dickson, St. Louis Cardinals; Dutch Leonard, Philadelphia; Kirby Higbe and Vic Lombardi, Pittsburgh and Mickey Haefner, Washington.

Some are wont to blame the pitchers' decline on the lively ball. That may be so, but how do you account for the fact that the Cardinals' Harry Brecheen has slung three shutouts in three starts; that the Phillies' Ken Heintzelman has pitched two scoreless games in two outings; that the Giants' Dave Koza has allowed only one earned run in three games and that the Yankees' Allie Reynolds has twirled five straight winning games, all complete.

Newhouser and Blackwell have been the biggest disappointments. Newhouser, in the midst of a four-game losing streak after taking the season's opener, has experienced the same kind of tough luck as last year. But he still isn't the same pitcher he was in 1944, 1945 and 1946.

Forest Fires Prevention Act — Re Work Permits

Section 12 of the Forest Fires Prevention Act, 1948, provides that — A Work Permit must be secured from an officer of the Department of Lands and Forests before any logging, mining, industrial operation, clearing of rights-of-way, etc., can be carried on within the Fire Districts of the Province. This also includes the operation of any mill for the purpose of manufacturing timber.

Applications for Work Permit may be secured from the District Forester at Lindsay.

It is in the public interest that every effort be made to prevent the occurrence of Forest Fires.

Athletics Edge Browns 8-4 Doerr's Homer Aids Boston

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Connie Mack's collection of draftees and hand-me-downs are showing up the rich major league clubs with a 10-game winning streak. His Philadelphia A's are upholding the old theory that you can't buy a pennant.

While Tom Yawkey of Boston Red Sox was writing cheques for some $350,000 Mack was busy scanning the draft lists. By the studious avoidance of any large outlay of cash, the venerable old gentleman has acquired quite a ball club.

Still the A's win and handily, too, although they did have to struggle to achieve an 8-4 victory over St. Louis Browns Wednesday night. Three hits and four walks added up to six runs for Philadelphia in the second inning.

Rain washed out the Yankee Stadium meeting of Cleveland and New York with the Yanks leading 3-1 in the home half of the fourth. There were 63,832 in the stands.

Knock Down Washington

Detroit staged two big innings to down Washington 14-9, although Hal Newhouse was knocked from the box for the fourth straight time. Dizzy Trout, third of four pitchers, notched the victory.

Bobby Doerr's three-run homer in the 10th inning enabled Boston to grab a 6-5 game from Chicago in dramatic fashion. The dreary White Sox, trying to snap a losing streak, had scored twice in the top of the inning only to have Doerr snatch the game out of their grasp.

The White Sox have not won a game this month, losing eight of nine starts. The other was a tie game.

In the National League Blix Donnelly of the Philadelphia Phils handed the Pittsburgh Pirates their first shutout of the year 5-0, allowing only three hits. He was in control all the way with the help of Johnny Blatnik, the rookie outfielder, who had a perfect four-hit day.

Hank Sauer unloaded his seventh homer, a three-run blast in the last of the ninth, but it was not enough as his Cincinnati Reds bowed to Brooklyn 9-7 in a night game. The Dodgers batted around in the seventh inning for their winning margin, scoring five runs.

Joe Hatten, the first of four Dodger pitchers, was the winner over Johnny Vander Meer, but Leo Durocher had to whistle to the bull pen for Hugh Casey to end it in the ninth.

Broadway Jaunt Pays Off For Nina Foch

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 13.—(AP).—A jaunt to Broadway paid off for Nina Foch. She gets co-star billing with Glenn Ford in her next picture.

The Holland-born actress languished for several years in Columbia's B pictures until she took a fling at Broadway in "John Loves Mary." The play was a hit and she stayed in it for 18 months, returning here recently for "Undercover Man." She'll be co-starred with Columbia's box-office boy, Ford.

Before Nina was permitted to do the play, she had to sign a new seven-year contract with the studio. Does that sound like a familiar story?

Takes a Fall

Ford was amazing visitors on the "Undercover Man" set by taking his own fall, a back somersault over a bed and onto the floor. After doing this several times, he moaned to me: "I've had a fight in every picture I've been in. Some day I'd like to have a nice, peaceful movie."

Federal Info

Rita Hayworth's still pictures for "Carmen" were killed by the Johnston office. Too much cleavage. Jack Paar is doing all right for a guy who claims he can't act. His work in "Weep No More" pleased his bosses and he's up for parts in "Every Girl Should Marry" and "Bed of Roses." Economic note: One-third of the first-run theatres in Los Angeles are playing re-issues.

Virginia Mayo wears 15 different bathing suits in "Girl From Jones Beach," but won't even get her toe wet.

10-Second Review

"Berlin Express" (R-K-O) is a fast train when it keeps on the melodrama track. But it's a slow freight when sideswitched to propaganda. Merle Oberon, Robert Ryan, Paul Lukas and Charles Korvin are involved in a chase across Germany, and it's effective until the message gets too heavy-handed. The stark views of Germany are finely photographed.

Say Citation Looking Even Sharper

BALTIMORE, May 13.—(AP).

—As if the other four horses didn't have enough to worry about with Citation in Saturday's Preakness stakes, word comes up from a man who should know that the Calumet colt is looking sharper today than when he won the Kentucky Derby.

While old Baltimore slowly got itself into the proper frame of mind to entertain the annual Preakness thousands, Calumet's trainer, Jimmy Jones, said his three-year-old star was ready for all comers. Many think Citation will go on to become the eighth triple-crown winner in the history of the American turf.

That's slight consolation for the owners and trainers of the other four who appear just about ready to cast the die and plunk down $1,000 entry fees tomorrow.

Not one of these intrepid sophomores had anything to do with Citation in Louisville two weeks ago. All elected to stay home and let some other three-year-olds investigate. Now the Derby challengers are remaining in the barn.

King Ranch's better self, third in the Wood Memorial, is on deck and may have a final serious workout today.

Jimmy Rowan, trainer of Board, Sylvester W. Labrot's Maryland hopeful, also is putting the finishing touches to the bay son of the imported Bahram.

Remember When . .

By The Canadian Press

An all-time pitching record was set by Carl Hubbell, New York Giant's ace, when he whipped Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 at New York 11 years ago today by scoring his 21st straight victory. King, Carl eclipsed Rube Marquard's mark of 20 straight set in 1911-12. The lean fastballer's string was broken the following May when Brooklyn batted him out of the box.

Olympic Winner Of Pentathlon Gets 'Best Tag'

LONDON, May 13 — (CP). — Here's a cinch bet for the summer Olympics: The best all-round athlete in the Games won't get the adulation given to the four-minute miler, the 100-yard 9-second sprinter, and the curvaceous mermaid.

Competitors in the five-pronged sport known as the modern Pentathlon are hardly mentioned in the advance rave notices of athletes coming to the Games. Yet the winner of this arduous competition receives the "best all-round" tag.

Thirteen countries have put up 34 gladiators for the "big honor" of the Games, and they will display their prowess in horseback riding, swimming, fencing, shooting and cross-country running. Canada is not among them.

The title dates back to Greece when the Pentathlon was the most important feature in the ancient Games. It wasn't until the fifth Olympiad of the modern series — at Stockholm in 1912 — that the sport was revived. Entries in other Olympic sports can be world-beaters or just "passengers," but modern Pentathlon competitors must:

Swim 330 yards in 7 minutes 30 seconds; run cross-country 2½ miles in 17 minutes; ride cross-country and jump; have experience in epee (one-hit) fencing and also in target pistol shooting.

In the horseback riding, competitors must ride 3 miles 188 yards over what is termed "diversified land with obstacles" which means across streams, jumps and ditches. The horses, provided by the host country, will be drawn for by lot and each competitor will be allotted his horse just 15 minutes before the starting time.

Rocky Graziano Ready To Go

ELLENVILLE, N.Y., May 13 — (AP). — Although his title fight with Tony Zale is still four weeks away, to a casual observer middleweight champion Rocky Graziano looks fit and ready to go.

The rugged, hard-hitting New Yorker is tan and trim after several weeks of training up here in the Catskill Mountains for the June 9 bout in Newark, N.J.

At first the clear mountain air bothered the Rock more than his sparring partners' punches. He is more at home in New York Stillman's gym, where the air comes through cracks in the windows.

The champ, under the watchful eyes of co-manager Jack Healy and trainer Whitey Binstein, is concentrating on strengthening the power of his left hand blows. For Rocky, that's a task. He likes to throw his right hand hard and often. That is his money punch, and he knows it.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

The hushed name along "Spectator's Row" at Toronto these days as hopefuls prepare for the 89th renewal of the historic King's Plate at Woodbine Park May 24 is Lord Fairmond. Owned by R. James Speers, prominent Winnipeg horseman and track operator, Lord Fairmond is among the nominees for the plate. Trained by Harry Giddings, the strappy son of Fairmond-Sweepden appears well-conditioned as he takes his daily workouts. His mile in 1:41 3-5 still is the mark other platers are shooting at.

Westerners will be expected to back the brown colt to the limit if he passes the Plate Trials next Monday and goes on to the big racing classic, The Plate, oldest continuously-run fixture on the continent, has a rich plum—50 guineas, the gift of the King, plus $10,000 or more, to be added by the Ontario Jockey Club.

A week after tossing away two clubs in a fit of temper in a tournament, Australian golfer Norman Von Nida Wednesday shot a 66 to tie the Sunningdale, England, course record held by Bobby Jones. Shortly afterwards, Reg Horne also shot a 66 to share with Von Nida the first round lead in the 72-hole Daily Mail tournament, richest golf tournament in Britain.

Britain took a 2-1 lead over Norway in their Davis Cup tennis series Wednesday at Oslo by winning the doubles match. The British combination of Henry Billington and Tony Mottram defeated Norway's John Haanes and Jan Staubo 6-1, 7-5, 6-3. Britain now needs to win only one of the two remaining singles matches, to reach the third round against Holland in the European zone eliminations.

Big Jack Kramer defeated Bobby Riggs Wednesday night at New York for the 60th time in 79 matches in their cross country professional tennis tour. The scores were 7-5, 6-3.

Boston Red Sox Wednesday sent 32-year-old Tex Hughson, ailing right-handed pitcher, to the class B Texas league. A Red Sox spokesman said at Boston that Hughson was going to Austin, Tex., club in the Big State league on 24-hour recall.

YOU HAVE UP TO A YEAR TO PAY — "TIME PAY PLAN"

Firm Gives $7,500, Raises Marmora Fund To $22,500

ARMORA, May 13—(ENS).—Contributions to Marmora's Civic Arena project have been boosted to $22,500 through the gift of $7,500 made by Deloro Smelting and Refining Company, Limited.

In the letter accompanying the gift, Col. A. V. Yates, general manager of the company, referred to the fact that the idea of a village hospital to memorialize the 30 years of service of Dr. H. Crawford as company doctor, had to be abandoned because of the excessive cost of fashioning and maintaining the hospital to meet government requirements.

The company, in continuance of the desire to recognize the services of Dr. Crawford, made this donation to the Memorial Civic Centre with the proviso that the new building be known as the "Crawford Arena," the letter said.

The amount in the thermometer—$22,500—set against the objective of $25,000 represents receipts and pledges. It is hoped by the committee that all pledges will be fulfilled and that more revenue may come in to pay for the full cost of construction in the time the rink is finished. Revenue from the rink when in operation is to be devoted to the development of the Fair Grounds into a Memorial Park with other recreational facilities for the youth of the district.

Feeding Cows Rich Feed Pays Off With High Yields

By HOWARD C. HEYN.

PARAMOUNT, Calif., May 13—(AP). — "Shotgun" dairying, they call it, and it's big business for a colony of Dutch immigrants in this flat suburban district.

They feed copra, among other things, and they often wear out an entire herd in a year.

They supply more milk than any other county in the United States, yet they can't quite meet the needs of the Los Angeles metropolitan area alone.

This isn't farming. It is industry. The cows are in stalls and corrals, for there are no placid meadows. Land is too costly for alfalfa growing. Paved streets instead of country roads, bisect the even rows of house and barns and the rumble of feed trucks is never stilled.

Shotgun Technique

Forced feeding (the shotgun technique) consists simply of giving bossy all she will eat of a rich diet—copra, linseed meal, cottonseed meal, hay. This system has built up a milk production of 10,500,000 gallons a month and yields $61,000,000 annually to the dairymen. They have to produce as much milk as possible because feed is high. All of it is shipped in.

Copra, the dried and broken kernels of the coconut, comes from the Philippines. Plants at nearby San Pedro crush it, extract the oil and mill the residue for cattle feed.

Such is the intensified activity of Paramount, Artesia, Clearwater, Bellflower, and Norwalk. The Dutch, along with substantial numbers of Portuguese and Swiss, go about their dairying with no sentiment whatever. When their cows "burn out," they sell them for beef and buy fresh ones, for about $300 each.

100 Cows on 10 Acres

The average dairymen has 100 cows on 10 acres or less. He expects each cow to produce 1,200 gallons a year. He can't afford to be sentimental.

The influx of the Dutch began after the Second World War. Charles Koopmans, who operates an insurance and travel agency in Paramount, estimates their present number at 20,000 or more, many of whom left Holland because of the effects of the war.

"Holland," he said, "is overpopulated. Those coming over now are largely relatives of Hollanders who have made money in the dairy business here and who can set them up with a piece of land and a string of cows. Since the majority are experienced dairymen, visas are easy to get."

In almost every respect they become Americanized rapidly. Many know English before they come and the rest pick it up in six to eight months. They present no problem for the schools.

As workers, they are unexcelled. One newly-arrived family picked up the pails and marched off to the barns on their relative's dairy six hours after they got off the train. That is typical. When a newspaper photographer called on them that afternoon, they declined to pose. "There is work to do," the father said sternly. "We have no time for pictures." He and all the kids—10 of them—turned to their milking.

To Ask Adjournment

OTTAWA, May 13.—(CP). — Government Leader M. McL. Robertson Wednesday gave notice that he will ask adjournment of the Senate from Friday until June 1. Senator William Duff (L-Nova Scotia) objected to the shortness of the adjournment because members from more distant constituencies will find it difficult to get home and back in time.

WINS SCHOLARD — Dr. W. Scholard, a graduate of McGill University in Montreal, who has been awarded the Robert Trubek Fellowship at Bellevue Hospital, New York City. Election Ties To Be Decided By Tossing Coin

By JAMES MCCOOK.

LONDON, May 13 — (CP). — With a slight twinge of conscience the Commons has agreed that returning officers should be relieved of the responsibility of casting the deciding vote in an election tie.

The only doubt was whether an unworthy air of gambling was being introduced by the new legislation. It provides that when a tie occurs the decision shall be by lot—by tossing a coin, cutting cards or other methods approved by the candidates.

J. H. Mackie, Independent Conservative member for Gallop, said he was surprised that Home Secretary Ede, as a Non-conformist, should have approved a decision by lot. He had seen a committee chairman in the Commons give a casting vote. The precedent might spread and he would not like to see the Government and Opposition Leaders spinning coins or cutting cards to decide a vote.

Nothing Undignified

Mr. Ede said he did not support suggestions that tie votes should be referred to the courts for decision. It was undesirable that courts should be concerned in reaching what was almost inevitably a party decision.

Consider Purchasing New Church Doors

BETHEL, May 13 — (ENS). — Bethel W.A. met in the church basement with the president, Mrs. James Darling in charge.

Mrs. Wellman was in charge of the worship service, basing her topic on "Knowledge of the God of Nature." Scripture reading was by Mrs. Wellman.

Ede said he did not support suggestions that tie votes should be referred to the courts for decision. It was undesirable that courts should be concerned in reaching what was almost inevitably a party decision.

Mrs. M. McCarrell gave the secretary's report.

Mrs. Harry Jackson gave the treasurer's report, showing a balance on hand of $268.62. A discussion took place on purchasing French doors for the church. Mrs. Ira Switzer and Mrs. Harry Jackson were the committee to purchase the doors, and to have Esmond Storey purchase lumber and make a serving table before the June garden party.

The secretary was asked to write for prices on new dishes for the church.

V. E. R. Zufelt showed a film on potting, storing, growing and developing of various flowers.

The president of the W.A. Mrs. Darling moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Zufelt.

Brother of T. H. Stinson, KC Had Livery Business Here

A news release from Lindsay advises that T. H. Stinson, KC, senior partner of the law firm of McLaughlin, Fulton, Stinson and Anderson for the past 35 years, has resigned to become president of the Victoria Loan and Savings Company. He had been director of the firm since 1916, and due to the illness of its general manager, George A. Weeks, Mr. Stinson was appointed president. His background and that of his forefathers has been established in the surrounding district for many years.

The Stinson family operated a mill in Minden, Haliburton, and founded the business about a century ago. They made lumber and shingles and ground flour for people in the district. The eldest son, E. A. Stinson, worked with his father and uncle for some time, but horses were in his blood and he went into the livery business, acted as mail courier, and moved from Minden to Peterborough in 1914. He kept abreast of the times and purchased cars when horse-drawn vehicles were on the wane and kept at it until ill-health forced his retirement. Today at the age of 75, he spends much of his time at his home at 639 Water St., and watches with pride the progress of a younger brother, T. H. of Lindsay, who has carved an outstanding niche for himself in the legal profession.

A Scholar
T. H. Stinson was a scholar from the start, and received his primary education in Minden. He decided upon a legal career and read law in the firm of Ruddy and Burnham in Millbrook. He was called to the bar in 1913 and immediately joined the firm of McLaughlin, Fulton, Stinson and Anderson in Lindsay, and has been a very active partner for the past 35 years.

Stinson and Anderson in Lindsay, and has been a very active partner for the past 35 years. In addition to business, he entered the political field, and upon retirement of Sir Sam Hughes from politics, became member for the House of Commons for Victoria and Haliburton, which he held for ten years. He served on many important parliamentary committees during his two terms of office in Ottawa.

Another interest, aside from law, was in the young growing firm known as the Victoria Loan and Savings Company, of which he became director in 1916. Upon the retirement of the late William Flavell, who resigned from the presidency of the company in 1942, Mr. Stinson was elected to the vacant office. Not content with law and banking, he was also generous with his time on many matters of community welfare.

The board of directors of the Victoria Savings and Loan Company have been expanding steadily, and due to a recent illness of their general manager, George A. Weeks, prevailed on Mr. Stinson last week to sever his legal connections as senior member of the law firm and devote all his vast energy and knowledge to become active president of the loan company.

Of course, he has deep regrets at leaving his old firm and associates, but he is not leaving Lindsay, and knowing it so well, will no doubt do an outstanding job in the banking field as he has done at law in a community which he knows so well.

Trucking Plan Under Attack

TORONTO, May 13 — (CP).—Spokesmen for two railways and a steamship company testified on Wednesday that if a United States trucking company is allowed to transport automobiles in bond across Ontario, equipment valued at millions of dollars will be placed in jeopardy.

The witnesses were John P. Rananah, vice-president of the McCarthy Steamship Co. at Buffalo; E. Hanson of the New York Central Railway at Detroit; and Grant Gordon and Noel Griffiths of Toronto, representatives of the Canadian National Railways. They appeared before an Ontario Municipal Board hearing of the application by M. and G. Convey Co. of Buffalo.

All the witnesses said their firms had large investments in equipment and would stand to lose money if the convey company were allowed to truck automobiles in bond across Ontario from Detroit to Buffalo. The hearing is continuing.

Increase Sentence

TORONTO, May 13 — (CP).—The Ontario Appeal Court granted Wednesday a Crown appeal against the sentence imposed on Allan Williamson last Feb. 25 for a $4,000 robbery at the Tavistock branch of the Bank of Commerce. It increased the sentence from two years less a day to three years. The court agreed with the Crown contention that the lesser sentence — a reformatory term — was "wholly inadequate."

PRESENTATION ON RETIREMENT — Paul A. McFarlane, left, who retired recently as operating vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, was presented with a silver salver by C. F. Sise, chairman, on behalf of the board of directors. The tray is inscribed with the signatures of Mr. McFarlane's colleagues on the Bell Company's board.

BRIDGEND, Wales, May 13.—(Reuters)—seventy-six German officers, most of them generals, were given a warm send-off Wednesday when they left their prisoner-of-war camp here to return home. The officers, who included Lt.-Gen. Kurt Dittmar, wartime propaganda broadcaster, were wished good-bye at the station by a dozen well-dressed women, some with their husbands.

Rain, Snow Reduce Forest Fire Hazard

15 Bush Fires In Two Districts So Far This Year

Rain, and even snow, in the past three or four days, has greatly reduced the forest fire hazard in this area, reports from the District Foresters show. Peterborough County, so far, has not been touched by the rash of bush fires, large and small, which has blossomed forth on all sides of it.

The fact that the majority of the fires broke out with the date of the opening of the trout season is not regarded as co-incidence by the foresters. They directly attribute most of the fires to the carelessness of "sportsmen" using the woods at that time.

So far, there have been four forest fires in Haliburton County. None have been extensive, however, said District Forester A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay.

A carelessly discarded cigarette is believed to have caused a roadside bush fire of half an acre in Snowdon township, which was reported last Wednesday.

A five-acre fire in Lutterworth township the same day was blamed by Mr. Wheatley on fishermen.

Anglers have also been thought responsible for a previous fire which levelled five acres in Cardiff.

Three acres enveloped by flames are known to have been started by persons burning brush, the district forester said. No one has been apprehended yet for burning brush without a permit, he added.

In the Tweed area, there have been 10 fires so far this year, scattered over a wide area. The rain recently has made the situation "fairly safe," says District Forester A. Crealock, Tweed, who is keeping a war eye out for any further outbreaks.

The 10 have all been bush fires and were kept under control, he said. One of them, the largest and most dangerous, in Matachewan township of Renfrew County, threatened to grow to hazardous proportions at several points, he said.

Other fires reported by the Tweed forester were in Faraday township of Hastings County, Palmerston in Frontenac County and Brougham in Renfrew.

Mr. Crealock said that a few

Minister Dies

EGANVILLE, Ont., May 12 — (CP) — Rev. James Rattray, a retired Presbyterian Church minister and believed to be the oldest living graduate of Queen's University at Kingston, died Wednesday at his Eganville home. He was 90. Native of Scotland, Rev. Rattray entered Queen's in 1893 and graduated in theology in 1899.

Ontario Flood Danger Wanes

LONDON, May 13 — (CP) — Although showers fell in scattered parts of Western Ontario Wednesday night, the flood danger appears to be one the decline. Rivers and streams swollen from six days of intermittent rain have begun to recede.

The troublesome Sydenham River had dropped six inches at Wallaceburg, but residents became uneasy again when rain recommenced Wednesday night.

Threat of flood at Dresden was relieved when water level in the river started dropping shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Some streets in Wallaceburg were still flooded Wednesday night, and no change was reported in condition of farmlands water-logged by the six-day rain.

Drainage schemes on land in the Wallaceburg district were reported operating day and night to pump surface water from the cropland.

Kent County farmers said that it was impossible to assess the damage caused by rains which have inundated thousands of acres. Several days may be needed to clear much of the land.

Say Unemployment Just Communist Talk

OTTAWA, May 13 — (CP) — A Labor department official Wednesday night termed as "Communist talk" reports that "widespread unemployment and deteriorating economic conditions" existed in Canadian cities.

The official was commenting on statements by two former Canadian workers on arrival at Auckland, New Zealand, Wednesday.

T. Bilton, a Vancouver carpenter, had declared that more than 20,000 are unemployed in Vancouver and that there are breadlines in Toronto.

"Sounds like Communist talk," the official declared. "There are no breadlines in Toronto that I know of, and as for general unemployment, right now we can place 1,000 workers on Ontario farms alone."

Pickrel Season Opens Friday Midnight

Open season for yellow pickrel (walleyed pike) opens in most of Ontario at midnight on Friday, and a host of district fishermen will be on hand seeking a mess of these lovely fish.

Legal bag limit per person is not more than six pickrel, and the size limit is 18-inches.

During the past few weeks, the pickrel have swarmed up the Otanabee and Trent rivers, and have been spotted by restless anglers tightly-packed in the fast water below the dams. It is believed the spawning is now over, but many of the fish are still up in fast water, and it is expected good catches will be made.

Young's Point, Lakefield, Burleigh Falls, Hastings and the lower lock in Peterborough are all good fishing spots and this year the horde of anglers is likely to exceed the opening day crowd in 1947.

Fishing from a boat is allowed but the angler must use only live bait, such as worms, minnows or frogs. The boat must be anchored, and drift fishing is also forbidden. A June bug spinner baited with worms is considered artificial bait and it's use from a boat before July 1 is illegal.

Casting from shore, a bridge, pier, lock or any other permanent structure may be done using either artificial or natural bait.

Live minnows, large files or small plug baits are considered the best baits at this time of year.

FIRST WEEK HIGH

Lakefield's first week of the drive for a new covered rink has brought in more than $5,100, the committee reported Wednesday night. This figure, a large haul of the $26,000 objective, was collected in some parts of the village alone. E. H. Northey, campaign chairman reported. Canvassers working on the district area have not yet reported.

Rambling Reporter GET 'EM BOYS

The mock battle demonstration of the PCVS Cadet Corps Wednesday afternoon produced some realistic effects on the spectators. The younger members were particularly impressed with the rifle shots, smoke screen, Bren-gun fire, the airplane coming in. What might be described in press releases place on the sidelines as youngsters dashed madly about, anxiously following the fortunes of the "good guys" and the "bad guys." Their reaction was a tribute to the authentic atmosphere of battle created.—R.B.

Strike Hardpan 12 Feet Below Surface Of Lake

New buildings being erected on George St. south of Charlotte St. will considerably change the appearance of the street.

South of the CPR station, new offices and a display room are being built for the Beaver Lumber Company. The contractor is Harold Ephgrave and the cost will be about $15,000. At present the foundations are being poured. Owing to the water and soil conditions, the builders had to dig down to 12 feet below the surface of Little Lake. Concrete piers were then built on hardpan with reinforced concrete walls spanning the piers. A special pump was used to continuously pump water from the holes for the piers.

North of the station and on the west side of the street, Hayward-Reilly Construction Limited is building a block of four stores with office space above. The building, which will cost approximately $100,000, is designed to carry a future third floor if required. It will be unique in that part of the first floor will have radiant heating, which will be the first time that this type of heating has been used in a commercial building in Peterborough. The four stores will all have visual fronts. One store and the rear section of the building have already been leased.

At the corner of King and George Sts., Harry and Myer Cherney are building two rental stores with offices above, which will eventually join on to their new furniture building, for which a permit has not yet been taken out. The contractor is Ted English.

Interior work is starting on the Paramount (Famous Players) Theatre, being built by the Eastwood Construction Company on

Scout Exhibits At Market Delight Crowd

The only think lacking was a camp fire to add the final realistic touch to the Boy Scout exhibition held in the Market Hall on Wednesday night. Tonight will be the last opportunity for the public to see this collection of hobbies and crafts, the product of the combined efforts of Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies of Peterborough.

Wednesday night was Cub night and the boys under the direction of District Cubmaster Quirt McKinney entertained the spectators with an action-packed program of somersaulting, skipping, leaping, pyramid building and other matwork feats.

Included also was a special Cub dance, singing and a first aid demonstration. When they opened with the Grand Howl more than one of the spectators thought it would bring down the roof of the old Market Hall.

There was something in the exhibition to please any taste. Two of the most eye-catching items were shown by the St. Andrew's troop. The boys showed their skill by building a bridge approximately 10 feet long, made of cedar poles and secured with rope. No nails were used. It was sturdy enough to bear the weight of a heavy adult.

King Scout and Patrol Leader Jack Frisken of that troop showed that he is a skilled boatbuilder. His craft can be propelled by oars or by wind. It can be converted into a sail boat by inserting a mast and hoisting a small sail.

The Trinity Troop showed several different ways of making a fire and several different types of camp fires. Anyone who is a novice to camp life could learn a number of useful hints by even a five-minute inspection of this display.

In the Parkhill troop booth the Scouts were repairing toys and working on leather. Some of the tooling showed almost professional skill. Rug work and carpentering were displayed by the Knights of Columbus troop.

Other Scout exhibits included model aircraft and ships, paintings in water colors and oils, photographs and woodwork. Cubs also featured woodwork, some of their birdhouses were particularly well made. The younger boys also had birch bark creations and a number of model aircraft.

Mayor William Owens officially opened the exhibition. B. I. Burgess, president of the local Scouting Association complimented all the participants on their work and then turned the meeting over to the chairman, Peter Dominik.

Mr. McKinney announced that tonight would be Girl Guide night.

the east side of George St. next to the Odeon Theatre.

At the southwest corner of Rink and George Sts., Jack Thompson has a new service station completed. This development resulted in the removal of billboards and a considerable stretch of high board fence.

Miller Bowl, the lacrosse box at George and Rink, is being improved considerably with new screening and a coat of green paint with white trim. A large clubhouse has been built with lockers, a ticket booth at one end, and rooms for the manager and the trainer. A secondary box, just a fenced-in area, will be built shortly for minor lacrosse.

POULTRY WASTED

Approximately 1,000 pounds of dressed poultry was unloaded at the city dump in North Monaghan one night recently, according to a report by a man who occasionally unloads refuse there.

HALIFAX, May 13. — (CP).—RCMP said today Wilbert Tanner, Halifax business man, was held up and robbed of about $2,000 near Chester, N.S., about 50 miles from Halifax. Tanner was on his way home when his automobile was flagged down by two men, one of whom stuck a gun into his back.

21-INCH BROWN

"Dutch" Harwood, Port Hope hotelman, has witnesses to prove the brown trout he snagged on a cold wet morning this week was 21 inches long. Committee Discusses Issue Reaches Deadlock; Mayor Seeks Cooperation

Exhibition Board will not be a party to any action for the extension of George St. through Morrow Park. "We are not antagonistic to anyone," said Hugh Stewart, president, in a discussion with a committee of the council Thursday night. He was accompanied by G. A. Gillespie, secretary. "We come here with the unanimous sentiment of our Board," Mr. Stewart said. "They spent an hour and a half on this matter Tuesday night, and that was their conclusion. A street through the Exhibition Grounds would make it difficult for us to operate."

Mr. Stewart said he wasn't looking for any sympathy, "but it is tough enough trying to get the Peterborough Exhibition back on its feet again without making serious trouble for ourselves."

Projection of George St. contemplated the laying of pavement, presumably sidewalks, to conform with the street type, he said. "How long do you think livestock men would come to our show when they had to cross a city street to get from the barns to the show ring?" There would be a hazard to the animals in their walking across pavement, the risk of falling, even if the street could be closed during the fair.

"You see it from your side of the fence, and we see it from ours, and we're not going to be bad friends about it," Mr. Stewart said. He and Mr. Gillespie were across the table from Mayor Owens, Ald. Swanson and Ald. Doug Miller.

Wants Judicial Opinion

Mayor Owens advised application for a judicial opinion on the propriety and authority of the Morrow Park Trustees permitting the George St. expansion. "If we do that we could close the street through the park when we need it to do so, but if we expropriate then that block in the park would be just another part of George St. and a thoroughfare."

"If we had more grounds I'd say go ahead," Mr. Stewart said. "If you are going to do anything, I guess you might as well expropriate."

Mayor Owens: "I think it would be better for the Exhibition if you went along with us in an application to a High Court judge, rather than have us take the other step of expropriating."

His Worship said there was no doubt of the city council's authority to expropriate, but the last advice the board had received was that the council's authority did not extend to encroachment on the park premises.

Conversation projected stray suggestions here and there. One of them was that the Exhibition Park was not spacious enough for the future, and that one solution of the present problem would be to move out to a hundred acre farm and "start all over again."

Rejected By Electors

Mr. Gillespie recalled that the directors 30 years ago were offered the property on Lansdowne St. for $30,000. The purchase project was rejected by the electors. He said other sites had been sought, but the directors couldn't find a suitable one.

The conference ended on the note of its opening—good natured disagreement. Ald. Swanson had said: "If you were in our position with a petition before you signed by some thousands of ratepayers, you'd see the block and fence down there the way we do."

Ald. Doug Miller expressed the opinion that eventually there might be a demand for similar projection of Aymer St., especially for convenience to the fire department responding to calls south of the Park. "From that standpoint I think Aymer St. is more important than George."

Letter of Thanks

The General Committee for an Old Veterans' Home in Peterborough district issues the following letter of thanks:

"All those working on behalf of an Old Veterans' Home for this area wish to thank the general public for the support given the cause during Tag Day last Saturday.

Hearty thanks are also expressed to the Board of Education, the school children who tagged even in the rain, the ladies who supervised, and the merchants who donated advertising and window space.

The Committee is also grateful to members of the Peterborough Pipe Band who paraded on Saturday to give added publicity to the project.

This letter of thanks is applicable to the towns in the area where simultaneous Tag Days were held in support of the Home. It is truly a district affair.

Such co-operation has given the Committee a splendid start in the effort to establish an Old Veterans' Home."

Sincerely,
MEI MORROW,
Chairman.

Mock Battle, Smoke, Plane Give Wartime Touch To PCVS Cadet Inspection

"You are a corps of which your city may be very proud," Major-General Chris Vokes, CB, CBE, DSO, told the Cadet Corps of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School Wednesday afternoon. The noted Canadian Army officer, now General Officer Commanding, Central Command, was inspecting officer at the annual inspection ceremonies on the Collegiate and Armouries parade grounds. An estimated 4,000 parents and interested citizens—the largest crowd to witness such a show—watched the display, which included, besides inspection ceremonial, a realistic air-ground battle, demonstration of the capture of a gun position by a battle drill squad, and displays of mass, company, platoon, and actual field service work of the army.

There were 428 Cadets on parade for the inspection, only a few short of the all-time record for the old Corps. The grounds on which the inspection took place has seen men and boys leave Peterborough and district to take part in three major conflicts.

Climax of the two-hour performance was the presentation by Capt. R. Graves, Cadet Training Officer, Eastern Ontario Area, in School Principal C. S. Browne of the newly-struck Lord Strathcona Trust Trophy, emblematic of Cadet Corps top efficiency in Eastern Ontario. This is the first time the trophy has been awarded.

The trophy was won by PCVS corps last year.

General salute of the Corps was taken by Major-General Vokes. Inspection by Major-General Vokes and his party was of the battalion in mass platoon by platoon. During the inspection, the school band played selections.

Four Companies Drill
Four companies carried on drill manoeuvres simultaneously following the mass inspection. Later, one platoon from each company demonstrated their ability at platoon drill in different sections of the grounds. Members of the inspecting party and spectators remarked on the efficiency of the group co-ordination in this display.

The bugle band of the Corps displayed outstanding drill efficiency in a special display of playing, marching and counter-marching.

Mass Physical training demonstration, with the full Corps in action, showed good concerted work.

A small group showed the fundamentals of shooting—position, handling of rifle and range discipline—to interested onlookers. In another corner of the field, a platoon demonstrated the fine points of swift rifle training while scattered about were Cadets working on assigned mapping positions dealing with the Peterborough area.

One of the outstanding demonstrations of the afternoon was a complete exhibition of heavy anti-aircraft gun position operations on reserve force army equipment by detachments of the PCVS cadets.

Located at the south end of the field, the "gun position", consisting of predictor, heightfinder, telescope identification and 3.7" HAA gun, was operated efficiently by the detachments, who went through the complete business of firing at a Ventura "enemy" aircraft flying on bombing runs over the industries of the city.

Great credit was due the cadets who operated the instruments and guns, since their training was completed voluntarily after school hours during the recent weeks. Instructors told The Examiner that they were completely satisfied with the proficiency the detachments had shown at the exhibition. The gunners loaded actual heavy anti-aircraft drill rounds, which weigh 50 pounds each, and considerable comment was heard on their precision, speed and enthusiasm. The detachments, on orders from their own cadet officers, actually located the aircraft in the sky by methods used under wartime conditions, followed the enemy through the scopes, and operated the predictor with such accuracy that the aircraft would actually have been shot down had live rounds been used.

Run Into Trouble
Then the gun position got into trouble. While involved in the skirmish with the "enemy aircraft", a flanking attack on the position was undertaken by a battle drill squad. Attacking under cover of a smoke screen, the attacking group crawled and ran their way across the field while rifle fire burst angrily from both attackers and defenders. The deadly tat-tat-tat of Bren gun fire added to the realism of the attack, which was eventually successful.

The mock battle was complete to every detail. "Casualties" dutifully collapsed over the sandbags or on the field; one daring attacker rose up into firing view to hurl a grenade; first-aid crews dashing to the assistance of the "fallen" and administered professional attention.

The combined effect of this display was judged to be one of the best seen in cadet corps displays here.

Following the demonstrations, the battalion re-formed in mass for the presentation of trophies and addresses.

Company C Best

Capt. Graves announced the decision of the reviewing party that the best company display had been made by Company "C" and that the best single platoon showing on the field had been made by Platoon 8 of that company.

Mrs. C. M. Scott, Regent of 57th Regiment Chapter IODE, presented the trophy for the best company to Company "C" Commander, Cadet Major Donald Armstrong.

The ward for the best platoon, made by Mrs. G. H. Cutmore, past regent of the IODE Chapter, was received by Cadet Platoon Sgt. James Campbell (for the Platoon Commander, Lieut. David Ingram, who was a member of the gun crew).

Col. J. A. Dewart presented the trophy awarded by him to the best rifle shot to Cadet Lieut. Howard Faulkner.

Major-Gen. Vokes, a past winner of the Strathcona Medal during his cadet days, presented that award to Cpl. Kenneth Stacey.

Congratulates Group

Capt. Graves, in presenting the award symbolizing the best cadet corps in the area, said that it was "most evident from the display here today that this award represents the unit which has shown the best all-round all-year efficiency in every branch of its training."

Collegiate Principal Browne and Chairman of the Board of Education, D. V. Canning, also offered their congratulations and expressed their pride in the showing of the corps.

Major-Gen. Vokes termed the inspection and demonstrations a "splendid performance," adding: "It is one of the best shows I have ever seen." He stressed his pleasure in the steadiness on parade which had been shown.

He told his audience that "the first duty of a Canadian is service to Canada to guarantee that our heritage—the four freedoms—shall remain with us."

"This is indeed our heritage, for which many Canadians have fought and died, and we must have the support of every Canadian in our struggle to keep these freedoms alive. Lip-worship alone will not suffice. As Canadians, we must be proud of that heritage and do everything in our power to maintain it."

Credit To City

He told the Peterborough Corps that "you are a credit to yourselves, your school, your parents, your city and your country."

A route march through the central business section of the city concluded the cadet inspection program.

A reception for the visiting officers was held in the Officers' Mess of the Armouries, and a tea for the Cadet officers was held by the ladies of Regiment 57 Chapter, IODE.

Refreshments for the cadets were served in the gymnasium. Chief instructor of the corps is Major H. A. Craig.

OTTAWA, May 13 — (CP). — Western government amendments to a Senate bill for a $48,000,000 natural gas pipeline across the prairies were presented Wednesday to the Senate's transport committee.

Action on the bill was deferred until after the Senate reconvenes in June following a recess this week.

In the meantime, legal advisers will try to work out a compromise of the amendments among the governments concerned and the pipeline company.

Some Senators at Wednesday's hearing claimed the changes — particularly those requested by Saskatchewan's C.C.F. government — were so far-reaching that they would nullify the bill.

Lionel Baxter of Winnipeg, one of the promoters of the proposed Western Pipe Lines Company, also said his company cannot accept one of the Saskatchewan proposals: that the line be forced to accept gas from any firm offering it for transmission.

Dr. M. C. Schumacher, counsel for Saskatchewan, offered this amendment as a protection for his province's wells in case it later expands production. He contended the pipeline will constitute a monopoly and should have the responsibilities of a public carrier.

Mr. Baxter said the firm will have to make long-term contracts to guarantee its supply and cannot take on any new customer that appears.

His concern, he told the committee, proposes to build a line to tap the Alberta fields and extend across the prairies as far as Winnipeg, selling gas for industrial and domestic use. He estimated it will take 18 months to lay down the line after the disposition of preliminaries such as a survey of Alberta gas resources.

Revoke Tin Controls

OTTAWA, May 13 — (CP). — Controls on the price and use of tin and tin alloys and restrictions on manufacture and use of metal containers and closures will be revoked effective today, the Prices Board announced Wednesday night. The restrictions being revoked cover the price of tin, sizes and use of containers and all quotas and priorities.

J. E. Huggins Speaks On Panel

OTTAWA, May 13 — (CP). — Accumulated sick leave and retirement gratuities for teachers should be standard practice throughout Ontario, members of a forum on school business administration declared today at the Urban School Trustees' Association convention.

Among those taking part in the forum was J. E. Huggins of Peterborough.

Mr. Huggins thought that retirement allowances should not be used merely as an attraction for teachers, but in recognition of their services. He favored supplementary payment by school board "to give teachers enough to retire on, in a lesser number of years."

Regulate Prices

TORONTO, May 13 — (CP). — Effective today, sales for canning purposes of beets, carrots and cabbage in Ontario will be regulated by the Farm Products Marketing Board. The Board announced Wednesday night that growers had voted to bring those vegetables under provisions of the Ontario vegetable growers' marketing scheme. A suggestion that pumpkin be brought under regulations was rejected.

Gives $100,000 To Kingston Fund

KINGSTON, May 13 — The Ontario Department of Agriculture has agreed to match the $100,000 grant of the Dominion Government, announced early this month, to the Kingston and District Agricultural Society to erect buildings for the Kingston Community Memorial Health and Recreation Centre.

R. Brodie Ness, president of the Agricultural Society, announced today that the grant would be paid in instalments of $10,000 a year for 10 years. Under the agreement the society contracts to erect buildings at a cost of $300,000.

This brings to $425,000 the sum pledged to create the joint memorial project of the Agricultural Society and Kingston Memorial Centre committee. Besides the Dominion and provincial grants of $100,000 each, $100,000 has been collected and $25,000 pledged by public subscription. The City of Kingston passed a by-law guaranteeing $100,000 to the project as soon as the two sponsoring bodies had raised $225,000. The latest grant makes available funds $100,000 more than this grant.

Actual terms of the provincial agreement state that the province will pay one dollar for each two raised by the centre's sponsors, up to $100,000, payable in instalments of $10,000 per year, as long as construction is actually carried out in the previous year.

Erection of some buildings, probably cattle sheds, will likely be started this summer.

Bigger Pension Cheques For War Service To Be Sent Early In June

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, May 13—(CP).—Cheques covering a 25-per-cent. increase in war pensions will go to veterans early in June if the Senate takes quick action on legislation providing for the increase. The legislation passed the Commons Wednesday after a few Opposition members objected that the increase is inadequate. The Senate is expected to tackle the legislation today and pass it before it adjourns Friday until June 1.

Veterans Minister Gregg said that once the increase has been approved by parliament, the cheques will start going out early in June to 400,000 recipients. They will cover the retroactive portion of the increase from Oct. 1, 1947, to May 31. Cheques issued at the end of June will be at the new rates.

In the final stages, the House accepted a number of amendments that substantially bring into effect recommendations by its veterans affairs committee. They involve an additional annual liability of more than $660,000 in addition to the $12,000,000 represented by the increase in basic rates. In all, Canada's pensions bill now will be about $92,000,000 and it still is going up through new or increased awards.

In opening proceedings, Defence Minister Claxton said new summer uniforms have been ordered for the permanent army but will not be delivered before late summer. He was replying to questions about reports that the army is being issued cast-off R.C.A.F. uniforms.

High Percentage
In the veterans debate, Mr. Gregg said a high percentage of war pensioners is working. Even in the 75- to 100-per-cent pension group and the helplessness allowances group, only six per cent were not under training or treatment or at work.

Of the amendments accepted by the House, the most notable was one removing a controversial clause that allows awards only for wartime aggravations of ailments that were "willfully or deliberately concealed" on enlistment. Opposition members and veterans' organizations have long contended that it has led to "bitterness and injustice" among overseas veterans.

The Act now provides for full award of pensions for ailments unless they were reduced or obvious on enlistment. If they were recorded or obvious, pension can be paid for the degree of wartime aggravation. Of 30,000 applications for pension in 1947, only one per cent were classified as having "willfully concealed" ailments.

New liabilities arise from several other amendments. The main of these is one raising the maximum helplessness act from $750 to $1,400 a year at an estimated cost of $350,000.

On passage of the veterans' legislation, members turned their attention to the housing bill providing for the establishment of rental insurance program to encourage the construction of housing units renting at $80 a month or less.

Harold Timmins (PC-Toronto Parkdale) said the government has failed to provide adequate housing for Canada's veterans. The rental insurance plan would cover only a restricted field and would not meet the situation.

Impatient Youth Faces Many Woes in Marriage

It is characteristic of youth that it lacks the patience to wait for the orderly fulfillment of its desires. It wants what it wants and it wants it NOW, as a spoiled brat once said to me, and it is too ignorant and inexperienced to know how often our dearest wishes turn into the boomerangs that slay us.

For it is one of the sad truths of life that our appetites, our taste and our cravings are never static.

They change without growth, with our age, with circumstances, so that the things that we broke our hearts in longing for when we were kids, we no more want when we are grownup (than we do an all-day sucker or a little red wagon).

And this is just as true of what happens to the relationships of people as it is of their attitude towards things, and it is what makes youthful marriages such risky experiments. A boy and girl mentally and emotionally undeveloped and with no idea what sort of a man and woman they are going to turn into themselves, or what qualities they will want in a mate, decide that they are in love and that they must marry.

They have no money. The boy has no way of making a living. They have to become parasites upon their parents and go to live with their in-laws who don't want them and who resent the imposition of having to support Mamie's husband, or John's wife, and the resultant babies.

End In Divorce

It is these marriages that take place before either the bride or the bridegroom is ready for them that fill the divorce courts with disillusioned husbands and wives who are trying to undo the folly they have committed. For they have found out that marriage isn't just a romantic dream. It is hard reality. It isn't just billing and cooing and kisses. It is work and worry and anxiety. Only too often it is a boy crushed with a burden his young shoulders are too weak to bear, giving up the success he might have made of his life if he had not had to leave school and take any poor job he could get to support a wife. Or it is a little young girl, wife, grown haggard and nervous and fretful, her beauty and gaiety gone, slaving over the cooking stove and wash tub and walking colicky babies.

It is tragic to think how many marriages that should have been glorious successes go on the rocks because the high contracting parties will not wait until they are prepared. Yet even a smidgen of common sense would teach them that the failure, or success, of every marriage is in direct ratio of how well-fitted they are to meet its responsibilities.

They will be just as hungry after marriage as they are before. They will take just as much interest in clothes. They will still want to belong to their old set and have fun and go places. No wife is a Lady Love when she is hungry and shabby. No husband is a pleasant companion when he is dodging the bill collector. In marriage, as in everything else, you have to be able to meet your obligations.

There would be very few unhappy marriages if men and women would wait to marry until they are prepared for it.

South African Women Plan To Kill New Look

JOHANNESBURG, May 13 — (Reuters).—South African women are mobilizing to kill the new look.

They are signing a country-wide petition pledging themselves not to wear the new long skirts and padded hips.

It makes three charges against this new look:

1. It is too expensive.
2. Women have no intention of wearing corsets and padding—the basis of the new look—because such corsets are injurious to health; and
3. It wastes an enormous amount of cloth which could be used to clothe the needy in Europe.

Sponsors of the petition, the result of a decision taken at the annual congress of the South African Trades and Labor Council, are the Garment Workers' Union, the National Union of Distributive Workers, the Sweet Workers Union and the all-women's union.

The move has already won the support of the business women's section of the National Council of Women.

The petition will have the support of nearly every working girl in the country, according to one of the organizers.

"For the fashionable coterie who have plenty of money to lavish on themselves and fashions, the new look may be all right. But it will waste the hard-earned wages of working girls, will cause jealousy and unhappiness, and will increase the cost of living," he said.

Demonstrations against the new look will be staged in Johannesburg and possibly in the union's bigger cities. The form of the demonstrations has not yet been decided.

Flower-Piled Sailor Hats Set London's Summer Style

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 13 — (CP). — Sailor hats, massed with summer flowers and wider at the brim than the old Edwardian boater, are setting a London style note for warm-weather wear.

Ribbon and veiling also are emphasized in the new models from which many women have chosen their first summer hat.

Princess Elizabeth, for her 22nd birthday luncheon at Windsor Castle, wore a straw sailor trimmed with spring flowers. Similar models have been popular at spring race meetings.

Several attractive sailers, in felts and straw, were displayed Centre's recent London show. One striking example was a side-width brimmed sailor of misty-blue fur felt with pink camellias in the under-brim and a chin-tie veil caught by a sliding slot of blue felt.

Straw examples included a navy blue sailor with side clusters of blended pastel-shaded flowers and a white synthetic straw boater, with two giant matching bat-pins stuck cushionwise into a navy rouleau band.

A cartwheel sailor of rustic straw in lime green, with zig-zag trimming of navy ribbon on front brim, had a fur felt counterpart in apple green with beige ribbon, ing.

"Hot Cross Bun"

The Information Centre's show of moderately priced hats — ranging in retail price from 15 shillings to 3 pounds 15s (3 dollars to $15)—included a number of teen-aged hats. Prominent was a "Hot Cross Bun" riding hat of blue, lightweight felt, stitched in sections and weighing only 1½ ounces.

Other teen-agers were a forward-tilted beret in pastel pink fur felt, with two devil "horns" and a half bonnet in pale turquoise blue, the brim covered with flat blue-marguerites.

Town hats on display included one of navy straw with wavy, double-edged brim, its cockade and brim edged with white gros-grain. One tailored hat in fawn fur felt had blended duck and pheasant feathers in an upward-thrusting mount.

A FINE FASHION—The dress and jacket ensemble in plain or printed silk is a major fashion this year, and appears in every price range. But it is such a good fashion, so wearable, so useful, that it is worth investing in a really fine version, of the type shown here. This ensemble is in modernistic black-printed silk. The double-breasted jacket is belled out over the hips, round of shoulder, and is colored and cuffed with black velvet. The dress is designed with a surprise bodice. The print colors are gray, black and turquoise.

A natural-colored straw grand-mother's bonnet with high central cluster of mixed flowers and the veil was conspicuous among models shown for sophisticated town wear. For summer travel there was a sky blue chenille rouleau turban with tie ends and a dusky pink puff-crowned cloche with adjustable head fitting and looped side bow of petersham.

Women's Institute Growth Shown In Film

By MARILYN LAMBORN
GUELPH, May 13. (CP) — A preview of the 30-minute colored film showing the growth of the Women's Institutes and the 50th anniversary celebrations here last year was given before 75 Institute members Wednesday at the Ontario Agricultural College's Macdonald Institute.

The audience whispered excitedly as they pointed out their friends and glimpses of themselves in the film, shot under the production of John Colombo of Kitchener.

The scrip, prepared by M. McIntyre Hood of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, told the story of the Institute's founding and gave a vivid picture of the late Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless of Stoney Creek, Ont., who through the loss of her baby realized that rural women didn't know enough about nutrition and homemaking.

With the help of a young Stoney Creek farmer, Erland Lee, she founded the institution that was to improve the life of rural women in 26 countries.

Thus "Let There Be Light" was chosen as title for film. Shots taken in the Kitchener Collegiate depict traveling libraries, compiled community histories, immunization schemes and courses in practical homemaking.

Also screened were the 50th anniversary celebrations to which more than 12,000 members of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario met at Guelph in what was believed the largest gathering of women ever assembled in Canada's history.

Makeup Secret Of Best-Dressed New Yorkers

MONTREAL, May 13 — (CP) — The perplexed Canadian woman, belligerently envious of the smart-style appearance of New Yorkers, needed look no further than her nose.

The answer for the Canadian girl is the Good Looks Futurity. Mr. Sam Farber of the Montreal Dress Makers' Guild has it. He says, and we quote him as of today:—

"The difference is not in clothes style. The women of New York know how to use makeup better. That's the secret, makeup. There's something uncanny in the way they put it on. And the hair-dos. So far we have nothing exactly to match them."

Mr. Farber should know. He is an expert in dress designing and manufacture and a Canada-first enthusiast for both.

Wider Selection

He agrees that New York women have a wider selection of clothing, embellished with little extras that make the garments more attractive. Beyond that, he won't go. Canadian manufacturers are matching pattern for pattern, design for design — and improving on them — and fast making up ground on the eye-catching gimcracks.

If you add to that Canada's better-quality material and superior workmanship, you get Mr. Farber's idea.

He feels, too, with a slightly bitter sympathy, that Canadian women visitors to New York are unduly influenced.

"They haunt Broadway, night clubs and theatres, the spots of course most appealing to any visitor," said Mr. Farber.

"What do they see? The supreme in gowns and suits, many deliberately paraded for a show. Do our Canadian women know that highly-paid models, wearing these fabulously-priced garments, continually make pseudo-casual appearances in these very places?"

Canadian Prisoner Changed Little Speaker Says

At the regular meeting of the University Women's Club at Peterborough in the YWCA this week Mrs. Richard B. Crummy, national president of the Canadian Federation of University Women made a short address and brought greetings from 37 sister clubs of Canada.

Guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Alex. Edmison, KC, president of the Canadian Penal Association, was introduced by the president, Miss Gladys Moore. In his remarks on the subject "Canadian Penal Problems" he reviewed the history of penology in Canada and pointed out that Canadian prisons have improved little in the past 100 years. "In 1835 a boy, eight years old, could be imprisoned in penitentiary for so slightly an offence as winking and could receive the lash in punishment, which only served to make the criminal more debased and anti-social. But, it is still a fact that youths can be arrested for trivial offences and there are not enough safeguards for minors in the hands of the law."

Mr. Edmison urged members to make "crime prevention" their first objective. "Each community should try to get its police to co-operate with the youth in building up a respect for law and order," he said. "Highly trained staff members should be employed in jails and penitentiaries. Young prisoners should be segregated from older ones and there should be separate institutions for the worst cases." The speaker also recommended free legal aid be supplied for impoverished youths who are forced to appear in court.

The speakers were thanked by Mrs. C. G. Boyd. A special hour followed.

Tea In Officer's Mess After PCVS Cadet Inspection

Following the inspection of Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School Cadet Corps by Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, CB, CBE, DSO, on Wednesday afternoon, a reception was held in the Officers' Mess, Peterborough Armouries. Officers of the 50th HAA (Prince of Wales Rangers), officers of the Cadet Corps, Collegiate teachers, member of the Board of Education and guests were present and tea was served by ladies of the 50th Regiment Chapter, IODE.

Red, white and blue flowers made up a charming tea table bouquet, symbolic of the occasion, which stood on a handsome trophy, won by the Regiment. Light, ed white tapers made bright reflections on polished silver tea things laid on a beautiful cut-work linen cloth. A lace-covered serving table in the ante-room was effectively centred by flags of the United Nations flanked by trophies that were of much interest to the guests, as were others displayed on a sideboard.

In the reception line were Mrs. C. S. Browne, wife of the principal of PCVS, Mrs. H. A. Craig, wife of the chief cadet instructor, Mrs. C. M. Scott, regent of the 57th Regiment Chapter IODE, and Mrs. G. H. Culmore, past regent. Guests were invited to the tea room by hostesses Mrs. R. G. Cottrell, Mrs. M. T. Breckenridge, Mrs. R. G. Brooks and Mrs. C. H. Stuart, assisted by Mrs. M. E. Clarke, tea convener.

Tea was poured by Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. W. G. Hal, Mrs. G. Melton and Mrs. D. V. Canning. Servers were Mrs. L. Foster, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. W. G. Hall, Mrs. G. Langhorne, Mrs. G. Moore, Mrs. J. Duncan, Mrs. S. Gibbs, Mrs. J. Dobbin and Mrs. P. Sargent.

Plates of dainty refreshments were attractively arranged, and replenished, by Mrs. E. Graham, Mrs. L. Gliders, Mrs. T. Chalmers and Mrs. C. Whately.

Banquet Meal Most Homes Can Afford

By MARY MOORE

When one of my doubting-Thomas friends asked me if I actually cooked and ate the foods I described in this column, I was surprised.

I wondered if she thought my family did not have to eat to live? or whether I wrote this column on cooking-craft just for the pleasure and profit of it.

My doubting friend, I know, is a good cook, but even she must admit that in order to keep recipes practical, with prices and supplies as fluctuating as they are (mostly up for prices-down for supplies) it follows as a matter of course that I should personally buy the necessary supplies, prepare, taste and serve; the dishes that I recommend, to my readers.

This week-end we are having the meal I have outlined below, for one of our relatives will have just come in from California and we want a special treat—with one reservation—it must not cost a lot.

Inexpensive Guest Dinner

Chilled Tomato Juice with Lemon Roast Fresh Picnic Shoulder with Glaze

Emem's Brown Potatoes
Pan Roasted Onions and Carrots
Brown Gravy (optional)
Out-of-doors Watercress
Rhubarb Crisp Pouring Cream
Coffee

It has become a habit with me lately to add the juice of 1 lemon to enough tomato juice for 4 people. It adds those valuable "C" vitamins and is a great improvement on the flavour I think.

The Roast Fresh Picnic Shoulder has the disadvantage of containing more fat and bone than most of us like, but the glaze and high temperature I recommend overcome some of this—and the price is much lower than for a loin, which contains as much if not more bone.

Roast Fresh Picnic Shoulder
With Glaze

After wiping meat with cold damp cloth, dredge it with salted flour and sprinkle with pepper. Put in roasting pan, fat side up, and bake 15 minutes at 475 deg. Fahr. Baste with fat that collects in pan, reduce heat to 325 deg. Fahr. and bake until well done—about 40 minutes to the pound. About 20 minutes before roasting is completed pour over the meat.

Of Interest to Women

TONING UP A PLAIN DRESS—The scarf is the most popular means currently of adding a personal flare for color, to whatever basic costume is the choice of the moment. Tiny scarfs tucked into high throattines; stole scarfs blaze around bared shoulders for evening; big squares become gilets, shawls, draped jerkin effects, such as the one shown. To wear a scarf the way that this huge harlequin, patterned square is draped, above, tie two corners under your collar, behind, passing the scarf edge between the corners over one shoulder, under the other. Then drape the remaining material about your waist, leaving the swag, as pictured.

Cherry Glaze: Mix together 2 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 1-3 to 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt; stir this into 1 1/2 cups hot cherry juice from canned cherries (or other red fruit juice) and stir until thick. Remove from heat, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Pour over the meat, and increase heat so that glaze bubbles and browns slightly—meat may be basted with it once or twice during the last few minutes of cooking. This glaze is also good to use over cherry tarts—since you will have to use up the drained cherries somehow.

Emem's Brown Potatoes

These are simple and effective. Chop fine or grate 5 or 6 raw potatoes, cook in boiling salted water for 3 minutes, then drain and add 1/4 cup butter or other fat and cook slowly until potatoes are soft and slightly browned. Serve sprinkled with chopped parsley.

Rhubarb Crisp

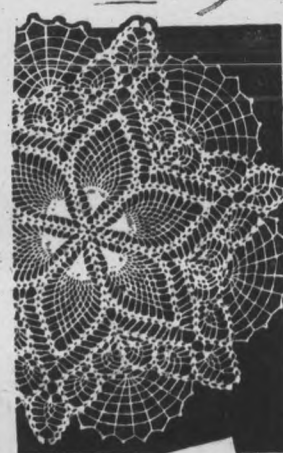

There are so many variations of this dish that the only rule you might need is for the topping: place prepared cut rhubarb (or apples or plums or blueberries, etc.) in buttered shallow baking dish or deep pie plate. Cover with mixture (for four people) of 1 cup flour, 1/2 cup sugar, and 1/2 cup butter rubbed together until crumbly and evenly mixed. Press this down, sprinkle with a little salt and plenty of nutmeg. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. about 1/2 hour.

SYMBOL OF FREEDOM

The national bird of Guatemala is the Quetzal, chosen because it symbolizes freedom. It will die in captivity, retaining its beautiful coloring even after death.

Waldorf Salad (see notes)
Cocoanut Blanc Mange (see notes)

Directions

After suggesting incorporating liver into the meals, occasionally, for those who do not like it, combined with other meat, many readers wrote to me saying it was a good idea. To make this mixed beef and liver loaf, cook anywhere from 1/4 lb. to 1 lb. beef or pork liver until "set". Put through grinder and mix with an equal quantity of ground beef. Add 1 tablespoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons each catsup and Worcestershire sauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 beaten egg, 1 cup cracker or breadcrumb crumbs. Mix very well, form into oval loaf, place on buttered baking dish, surround with small onions which have been parboiled 10 minutes. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 1 hour, basting the loaf and onions with a little boiling water or hot tomato juice, occasionally.

The only catch in making Waldorf Salad now is that the celery must be replaced with finely shredded cabbage: using 2 cups cabbage, 1 cup finely chopped Spy apples, 1/2 cup fresh walnuts broken coarsely, and moisten with about 1/2 cup mayonnaise added just before serving.

To make this simple milk pudding mix 3 tablespoons cornstarch with 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar and 1/4 cup milk until smooth. Scald in 1 1/4 cups milk, when hot add the cornstarch mixture to it, stirring. When thick, cover, place over boiling water and cook for about 25 minutes stirring occasionally. Add 1/2 cup shredded coconut and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into stemmed glasses to chill. Garnish with 1/2 teaspoon red jelly when serving. This amount serves four.

Picturesque Names Around Gaspe Recall Old Settler Legends

DOUGLASTOWN, Que., May 13 (CP).—Of picturesque names, the little fishing settlements along the northern region of Quebec's Gaspe Peninsula claim an abundance. They reach back into colorful legends of mystery, tradition and history.

You have only to consider such villages as these: Anse Pleureuse (Weeping Cove), Manche-d'Epee (Sword Handle), St. Maurice-de-l'Echouerie (St. Maurice of the Stranding) and Cap-aux-Os (Cape of Bones).

Anse Pleureuse is a settlement of little importance except perhaps for the way it got its name. There was a legend or tradition among the early settlers of mysterious weeping and moaning in the nearby woods.

Then in 1814 a missionary priest, Father Charles-Francois Painchaud explored the legend. He found two trees, their outlines forming a St. Andrew's Cross, had so grown that their trunks pressed against each other. According to the strength and direction of the wind—as well as the listeners' imagination—the rubbing trunks caused sounds like moaning and bawling.

Manche-d'Epee gets its name from the finding, on a rocky coast ledge, of an elaborate hilt of an old rapier dating back to the early days of Canadian history. The region, incidentally, is noted for the great schools of porpoises that swim close to the shores in summer.

L'Echouerie, last part of the name St. Maurice-de-l'Echouerie, might be literally translated as "the place where the boats become stranded." But it was given to the settlement because at low tide the fishing smacks were often left lying on their sides. They were raised to keep level again when the tide returned.

Cap-aux-Os was so called because the early settlers found quantities of whale bones on the rocky shore—the east shore of Gaspe Bay across from Douglastown.

JEWISH FORCES CAPTURE SECTOR FROM ARABS—In this photo an unidentified person is shown picking his way through the rubble of a street with wrecked buildings in the Manshieh quarter of Jaffa, Palestine. The Jewish forces of Irgun Zvai Leumi captured this sector from the Arabs after fierce fighting.

Canadian Report Barred Union Men From U.S.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 13 (CP).—A CIO official said on Wednesday he had been informed that five Toronto union delegates had been barred from the United States because "Canadian authorities made a report to American authorities that these people are undesirable."

David Schlossberg, counsel for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, said the five men, who were not identified by name, were members of a delegation of 37 which started from Toronto for Atlantic City last Friday night to attend the ACW convention.

Schlossberg said that when he protested to Washington, he was told the exclusion of the five was due to the unfavorable Canadian report on them.

Denies Report
The union lawyer said he then called "Canadian authorities" by telephone and was told "no report was made to American authorities." Schlossberg would not identify further either the "Canadian authorities" or the Washington officials to whom he protested.

Earlier, Sol Spivak of Toronto, manager of that city's Amalgamated Clothing Workers Joint Board, told reporters that the five union officials were stopped by two United States immigration officers at Union Station, Toronto, as they boarded a train last Friday.

Spivak said William Young of Kitchener, union organizer, and his wife, were taken from the train at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and detained 48 hours.

Spivak said he did not know why the five men were stopped at Toronto or why Young and his wife were taken from the train at Niagara Falls. He said seven others were questioned in Toronto, but were allowed to board the train. "They are not Communists," Spivak said.

CORNWALL—Violence flared anew as some 75 striking carpenters, hurling eggs and stones, chased 10 workmen off a $135,000 school project in the west end.

The disturbance, the second since the strike started, ended with the arrival of police.

Mr. King Keeps CCF Bill On Income Tax Act Alive

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP).—A CCF bill eliminating the secrecy provisions of the Income Tax Act was kept alive in the Commons Wednesday mainly by a vote cast by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. In an odd, a division as the Chamber has seen in recent weeks, the bill was given first reading by a vote of 115 to 60. Liberal and Progressive Conservative ranks split in the division, but C.C.F., Social Credit and Independent members voted solidly for the first reading.

Before the division bells rang, Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said his bill would make it possible for the Revenue Minister to disclose to the Senate and Commons any information obtained under provisions of the Income Tax Act.

In other words, the Minister would, if asked to do so, make available to the Senate and Commons information in the income tax returns of individuals or corporations.

When Speaker Gaspard Fautoux asked if the bill would be given first reading, Liberal and Progressive Conservative members lustily shouted "No". CCF members asked for a formal division.

First In History
Veteran parliamentarians said they cannot recall a vote ever being taken on first reading of a bill.

CCF, Social Credit and Independent members voted first. Four or five Progressive Conservatives followed. Then the assistant clerk, calling out the names of members as they voted, swung to the Liberal side. A few Liberals at the end of the chamber farthest from the speaker were on their feet at the time, but the clerk did not see them and called Mr. King's name.

The vote for the bill by the Prime Minister caused momentary confusion among Liberal members.

"That's good enough for me," said George Cruikshank (Lib—Fraser Valley) when Mr. King had voted. He followed suit and soon most of the Liberal members, who earlier had shouted "no", were voting the same way as their leader.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, and all but a few of his followers opposed the measure.

"It's Peeping Tom legislation," interjected Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel).

The bill now will take its place at the bottom of the list of measures sponsored by private members. It may never be touched again this session. A similar measure sponsored by Mr. Knowles last year died on the order paper.

Provincial Constable Milton of Lindsay is investigating.

Many Teams Use Exhibition Pk. Officials Claim

Morrow Park will be frequently used for athletic and other community purposes this season as indicated in a brief to the council from the Exhibition Board Wednesday night.

Soccer and rugby football teams have obtained dates, also baseball and softball groups, service clubs, farm organizations, Peterborough Harrier Club. The statement was submitted on behalf of the Exhibition Board by Hugh Stewart and G. A. Gillespie. They contended that it supported their case for the importance of maintaining the park in its public accommodation under the supervision of the Exhibition directors.

Preface to the brief is to the effect the directors Tuesday night unanimously went on record as opposing the extension of George St. through Morrow Park. It continues as follows:

"The reason for opposing this street being as follows: The Peterborough Exhibition Board is co-operating and encouraging all athletics, service clubs, civic, and cattle and horse breed field days to use the Exhibition Park for their purposes.

The following is the schedule of events in 1948 that has been authorized the use of the grounds by the Fair Board:

March 17-20—Farmers' Week Seed Fair. This was a great success.

May 5—St. Peter's High School Field Day.

May 10, 11, 12—Kiwanis Club circus.

May 15—Harrier Club.

May 24—Junior Chamber of Commerce Jamboree.

May 28—Peterborough Collegiate Field Day.

June 5—Farmers' Federation Field Day.

June 11-12—Kinsmen Horse Show.

June 29—Harrier Field Day and use of race track two nights a week for the balance of the summer.

Baseball clubs—Hardball, 18 teams, privilege of ball diamonds; softball, privilege of ball diamonds.

Football clubs—Use of centre field.

Field Day of Cattlebreeds once a year.

The Exhibition Board members feel unanimously that owing to these grounds being used for athletic purposes and agricultural functions and field days these events would not be possible if a public street was through the Morrow Park. Many of these organizations charge an entrance fee and it would not be possible to close the street off for each event. If this public thoroughfare was through the grounds, it would be of little value to the public as traffic would be curtailed or there would be accidents with show exhibits and individuals.

The Board also feels that the use of the grounds as an athletic field is only in its infancy and all the members being much interested in the youth of our city and country are much in favor of it being used for these purposes.

The Exhibition Board for many years has granted a footpath through the Exhibition grounds for the residents to the south and will continue to allow those residents the same privilege.

The Peterborough Exhibition Board deliberated on this matter of the extension of George St. at length and feel justified in its decision."

25,000 Acres Hit By West Flood

WINNIPEG, May 13 — (CP) — Spring floods still were causing Manitoba farmers anxiety today. The surging waters of the Assiniboine River have flooded an estimated 25,000 acres in the area between Portage la Prairie—65 miles west of Winnipeg—and St. Francois Xavier.

Elsewhere in Western Canada, things looked better. From British Columbia east to Saskatchewan reports were encouraging. With mountain run-off normal, officials were not worrying over the level of B.C.'s Fraser River.

Trains in Alberta were running normally, if slowly over spots where floods have left roadbeds soft, and from Saskatchewan came word that the land was drying out.

But in Manitoba dikes were being strengthened east of Portage La Prairie to avert a threat to still more farmland acreage—and, possibly, to part of Portage itself.

Presbyterian Church Studies Marriage Laws

MONTREAL, May 13 — (CP) — A recommendation that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, meeting in Toronto next month, establish a committee to study Canadian marriage regulations was passed by the Montreal presbytery Tuesday night.

The presbytery found that a "looseness of procedure with regard to marriages" is a factor contributing to a rising divorce rate.

It was also recommended that the proposed committee seek recognition in Canada of the British divorces of Canadian servicemen.

Members said such divorces are not recognized in this country and the servicemen are prevented from re-marrying.

STUCK HARD in the mud off Longue Pointe in Montreal, the ore-laden 10,000-ton Canadian freighter, Hants County, is shown in the photo as she awaits the arrival of tugs to pull her free. A broken rudder drove the ore-laden ship out of the navigation channel, less than five minutes from her wharf where she was scheduled to begin unloading her cargo. Crewmen said the weather was clear but their ship suddenly sheared as she got near the dock and hit the bank with a dull thud. The accident mark the first in the port area this year.

Proclaim State Of Israel First Hebrew Nation In 2,000-Year Period

Arab Army Inflicts First Real Victory
Wipes Out Four Colonies;
Independent State Open To All Immigrants

TEL AVIV, May 14.—(CP).—The State of Israel, first Hebrew nation in 2,000 years, was born today in a Jewish declaration of independence asserting the "historic right" of the Jews of Palestine to reconstitute their national home. The proclamation by the National Council is effective at one minute after midnight, when

Jos. R. Methers Once Alderman Dies At Age 86

Joseph Rutherford Methers, 84 London St., former alderman of Peterborough, died this morning at Civic Hospital in his 86th year. He had been ill only a few days.

Mr. Methers was born here, son of William Methers and his wife, Isabella Rutherford. He had spent his long life in Peterborough and had become an elder citizen. In his active years he had been interested in many community affairs. He was a member of the old volunteer fire brigade, and was one of the last of its survivors. He was elected to the city council in 1910 and 1911, and retained a lively interest in civic affairs until recent years.

In his youth Mr. Methers was attracted to the militia of the town and district, and eventually became a sergeant-major in the Durham Field Battery. That was one of the military units of many years ago. It is related that Mr. Methers had brought the first cannon to Peterborough, the old muzzle-loading antique of the armament of several generations ago that looks out upon Murray St. on the south side of the armory.

Mr. Methers carried on a business as blacksmith and carriage-maker for many years at 464 Aylmer St., north of Brock St., now the premises of Groombridge auto body supplies. Typical of the habits of the citizens of those days, the old Methers shop was virtually a community centre for that section of the city, a place of discussion of matters municipal, military and general affairs of the town.

Mr. Methers had recovered from an illness about a year ago, and was noticed down town within the last week or so.

He leaves two sons, Walter E. Methers, and Arthur G. Methers, welfare officer and plumbing inspector. The body is resting at the Bellegarde funeral home, 190 Hunter St., until 2 p.m. Monday when the funeral will take place to Little Lake Cemetery.

Rev. Dr. James Semple of George St. United Church, of which Mr. Methers was a member, will conduct the service.

Thousands of Parisians thronged the streets of their flag-and-flower-bedecked city today to cheer the royal couple.

They arrived from Britain this morning at the Paris North station to the accompaniment of waves of cheering from thousands who had begun to gather just after dawn.

FIRE BUG BUSY—The ruins of one of the 18 homes that were put to the torch in Val Morin, Que., recently by a firebug are shown in the photo above. Starting at 1 a.m., the fires broke out in widely separated parts of the little village through the next 12 hours to overwhelm completely the volunteer fire brigade and to make useless the help given by the Ste. Agathe force.

Alleged Arsonist Confesses Firing 18 Homes

STE. AGATHE, Que., May 14.—(CP).—Provincial Police announced today that D'Assise Menard had confessed setting fire to 18 Jewish-owned homes in the Val Morin district.

Capt. J. A. Quenneville quoted Menard as saying he did not like Jews and "that they are all Communists."

Menard, who was released from a mental institution less than two months ago, was captured early today when he came out of the woods and was walking near railway tracks.

He has been charged with arson and will appear in magistrate's court at St. Jerome Monday.

Capt. Quenneville said Menard, when captured, was bent on setting more fires and had confessed to this also. He was carrying 675 matches when caught.

Police said Menard, a 25-year-old native of the district, had also confessed to setting fire last January to two cottages and a small Jewish synagogue in the Val Morin area.

Menard confessed in Montreal, where he was taken early today. Provincial Police from Montreal headquarters remained in the fire area to gather all evidence for use if Menard is declared fit to stand trial.

Police said Menard told them his stay in the mental institution, St. Jean de Dieu, resulted from an experience two years ago. He was lost in the woods for several days, he related, and when found was crouched in the branches of a tree, a pack of snarling wolves on the ground beneath him.

Police revealed that their suspicions were immediately directed at Menard Thursday when they found that he disappeared from his home during the fires and that he had not been seen since.

Thursday's mass outbreak followed by five months another similar happening when a small synagogue and two Jewish-owned cottages were destroyed in the same area. The conflagration also recalled a series of anti-semitic demonstrations in the district in 1939.

MONTREAL, May 14.—(CP).—Five times within the last few weeks, the postman has knocked on the door with good news for a McGill University post-graduate student, Ralph A. Logan.

The first time the 21-year-old mathematician answered the door, he was handed a letter from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, announcing award of a $1,000 scholarship.

The second time, Rochester Institute of New York informed him he had won a $1,000 scholarship.

The third one was from Cornell Institute at Ithaca, N.Y., where he had won a $1,000 scholarship.

Pickets Hurl Eggs at Police

TORONTO, May 14.—(CP).—Twelve men and two women were arrested today as striking United Electrical Workers (CIO) staged a demonstration at the Rogers Majestic plant in suburban Leaside. George Harris, Canadian secretary of the U.E.W., was arrested as he addressed pickets over a portable public address system.

It was the biggest disturbance since the workers struck 11 days ago to protest the company's refusal to accept a conciliation report on wages and working conditions.

Those arrested today and charged with intimidation included six from outside the Toronto area. They were Donald Wilson, 19, and George Schaeffer, 35, both of Welland; Ross McLeod, 36, Hamilton; Michael Healey, 29, Timmins; and William Baker, 24, and Lloyd Taitton, 19, both of Cornwall.

Police described the pitched battle which took place between 600 pickets and 15 police constables as the "most vicious experienced yet in the 11-day strike." Rotten eggs, rocks and other missiles were hurled through the company's office windows.

Form Road-Block

The flare-up occurred after pickets had formed a road-block by lining three autos across the street in an attempt to halt all city buses carrying plant workers. Pickets clambered aboard the buses and bodily removed workers. When police attempted to stop the pickets, and arrest the instigators, more than 500 strikers clashed with the police officers.

Union workers early today paraded to the plant headed by an automobile equipped with a public address system. Harris had just begun to speak to the crowd when he was ordered to stop by Leaside Police Chief John McGrail.

Two youths then hurled eggs in the direction of the police chief. Police constables then moved in on the youths to arrest them but a belligerent crowd formed around the youths and fights broke out.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 14.—(CP).—Six seal hunters missing since they put out from the mainland at Port au Choix, Nfld., on Wednesday, were located by a United States Army plane today.

A brief message from the aircraft said the men were apparently all right and had dories. Port au Choix is on the north-west coast of Newfoundland near the entrance to the strait of Belle Isle.

Alarm was felt for the men when the ice on which they were hunting seals broke away from the rest of the pack.

Russians Cut Power To U.S. Korean Zone Demand Negotiation On Old Disputed Bill

SEOUL, May 14 (AP).—Russian-occupied North Korea cut off power to the United States zone in the south today in a dispute intensified by an American victory in Monday's South Korean independence election.

American authorities were ready, however, and wheels turned as usual in occupation installations. Two former navy power barges came to the aid of the auxiliary army units in providing needed electricity.

SIAMOKIN, Pa., May 14 (AP).—Weary, grim-faced rescue crews clung today to the belief that three men entombed two days ago in a flooded mine 175 feet underground are still alive.

Heartened by this hope, the rescuers—some of whom have gone without sleep for nearly 36 hours—tanned pumps and reported they thought they were winning their battle against the water.

Wreck U.S. Packing Plant Turn Hundreds Of Hogs Loose In Area

Will Ask National Guard Be Called Out
To Quiet Disturbance;
200 Strikers Involved In Raid On Factory

NEWPORT, Minn., May 14.—(AP).—A mob estimated at 200 men forced its way into the strikebound Cudahy and Company packing plant at midnight, heavily damaged the interior, set free several thousand dollars worth of hogs and carried away 30 plant workers as hostages. R. J. Swenson, general manager of the plant, gave this account of the incident:

"About 11.15 p.m. (CST) an estimated 200 men—some of them Cudahy workers on strike—entered the plant.

"First the main power switch was pulled, plunging the plant into darkness. Then a room where some of our men were sleeping was entered. Cots on which they rested were broken up and some windows smashed.

"Locks on some of the stock pens were broken and 110 hogs, valued at about $6,000, were set free.

"A new car belonging to one of the plant engineers was tipped over and the windows of one side and the windshield were broken.

"The plant boilers were turned off but apparently there was no serious damage done to them.

Taken To Hills

"Then about 30 of the 50 to 60 men who were on duty in the plant were herded into cars and taken away. (At 6 a.m. CST Swenson said all but 11 or 12 of the missing men had been accounted for.)

"The men were apparently taken out 'into the hills.' A number of men were hurt in the plant. Two of them are in hospital and several have been treated for cuts and bruises."

Swenson entered the plant early this morning with Sheriff Reuben Granquist. The manager said a survey was being made of the plant to determine the total damage.

Swenson said he would ask Governor Luther W. Youngdahl to call out the National Guard as "this has exceeded the stage at which we can work through court orders."

The district office of the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.), which called the strike, over wages, issued the following statement shortly afterward:

Ex-Convicts Waiting For Bond Repayment

TORONTO, May 14.—(CP).—Several Toronto men recently released from Kingston penitentiary said Thursday they had bonds stolen from them while in prison and are still awaiting repayment for their losses. Penitentiary officials in Ottawa have promised they will be repaid.

The bonds were taken last October from an administration building safe. Loot removed from the building, which stands just outside the prison walls, was valued at $1,900-$4,000.

Kremlin Conducts Purge Of Soviet Army Officers

BERLIN, May 14.—(AP).—Western Allied authorities said today that they have received reports that the Soviet military administration in Germany is undergoing a purge and dozens of high officers are being recalled to Russia.

Details on the extent of the alleged re-shuffle or the reasons for it vary. The American-licensed Dana News Agency estimated that 83 high Soviet officers would be replaced in Germany.

The purge is reported being conducted by a political General named Scharnov, who recently was appointed political advisor to Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany.

Scharnov's appointment to replace an advisor named Malinin was the second change in high Soviet ranks noted here in recent weeks. The other was the replacement of Lt.-Gen. G. S.

Lukjantschenko, chief of staff to Sokolovsky, by a Maj.-Gen. Barinov. There has been no official comment on these changes.

Rumors have persisted that Sokolovsky himself is in trouble with the Kremlin. He has been summoned twice to Moscow recently for consultations.

Reports from the U.S.-Russian border said that the Soviet authorities placed new difficulties on inter-zonal traffic within Germany Thursday night.

The report said about 80 Germans were stopped at the frontier and refused admittance to the Russian zone. The Germans are reported to have been told their inter-zonal passes were "not in order."

Most of the Germans were allowed to cross the border this morning, however, after American authorities worked all night issuing new passes.

Commissioner On Cruiser Ready To Sail

HAIFA, May 14.—(AP).—Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham, British High Commissioner, stepped off Palestine soil at 10.05 a.m. today, preparing for the end of the British mandate at midnight.

Wearing the uniform of a British general, he walked down a few steps to dock into a launch which took him to the cruiser Euryalus. He is to sail aboard the cruiser the moment the mandate runs out.

Upon getting into the launch, he turned and looked soberly up across the docks. There stood an honor guard of the King's company of Grenadier Guards and Royal Marine Commandos.

The launch pulled away amid the slap of hands on rifle butts. Puffs of smoke and the small, hollow explosions of a 17-gun salute drifted in to shore from the cruiser outside a breakwater.

A flight of Spitfires winged over the Euryalus as he boarded her. They will return at sundown.

The cruiser will remain in Palestine waters, the Haifa roadstead, until the midnight hour of sailing.

Sir Alan arrived by RAF plane today from an airport a few miles outside Jerusalem. Atop Government House there, his S'ndard, the Union Jack with the seal of Palestine on a field of blue, was hoisted as an Irish Guardsman piped and the Highland Light Infantry gave a salute.

Find Wreckage Fear 31 Dead

BRUSSELS, May 14.—(Reuters).—The wreckage of a missing Belgian Sabena Airlines plane which crashed on a flight from Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, to Brussels, was found early today by a rescue plane about 15 miles south of Libenge, Belgian Congo, it was officially stated here.

The Sabena Company announced today that 25 passengers, including a nine-month-old baby, boarded the plane at Leopoldville, and that the crew comprised six, including an air hostess.

Ground parties are pushing through the jungle toward the wreckage. The air report did not mention if any survivors were sighted.

Britain Ready To Mediate In Palestine

Find 84,000 Troops Insufficient To Restore Order

LONDON, May 14.—(AP).—Britain announced Thursday she still hopes for a compromise between the Arabs and Jews in Palestine and stands ready to give every assistance in her power, short of imposing by force a solution not acceptable to both peoples.

Britain kept open her offer to mediate the Arab-Jewish differences in a 6,500-word statement the Foreign and Colonial Office issued just 24 hours before Britain was to surrender her 30-year-old role in the Holy Land.

The statement said any attempt either by Arabs or Jews to conquer Palestine by force could have only tragic results. It admitted that Britain failed in her efforts to lead the country to independence, but claimed success for the Palestine Government in carrying out some of the mandate's terms.

Elaborating, a Foreign Office spokesman said:

"Although we may be quitting Palestine, our interest and experience in the entire area remains greater than that of any other country. We shall, therefore, always be ready to do what we can to help restore peace and order to Palestine."

Improve Country

The joint statement acclaimed the Jews for their part in developing Palestine. When the British rule began, it said, the country was primitive, with inefficient agriculture, almost non-existent industry and inadequate communications.

Jewish capital and initiative reinforced the government's own steps to improve farm efficiency and were mainly responsible for the development of industry. Rising standards of health and education among the Arabs also contributed to the progress of Palestine.

However, it added that shortly before the decision to surrender the mandate Britain had 84,000 troops in Palestine and these were insufficient to maintain order. This, the document said, was because of a campaign waged by highly organized Jewish forces equipped with all the weapons of the modern infantryman.

During the last five months the Palestine government encountered many difficulties and was not able fully to accomplish all its tasks. Britain had to hold apart two peoples bent upon open war, guard the coasts and frontiers against influx of arms and supporters for either side, close out the administration, evacuate officials and security forces, and negotiate with the United Nations for the transfer of authority.

Arab League Announces State of War Exists

DAMASCUS, Syria, May 14.—(AP).—The Arab League's general secretariat proclaimed Thursday night that a state of war exists between the Arab countries and Palestine Jewry. Syria, in line with this, was declared today to be in a state of emergency. Parliament is scheduled to meet this afternoon, informants said, to impose martial law and appoint Premier Jamil Mardam Bey military governor.

It also was to lay on press censorship. Parliament Thursday sent back a bill to censor military and political news with instructions for an amendment to exempt political news.

Syria since May 4 had had a kind of censorship called "administrative regulation." Foreign correspondents must submit dispatches to the Foreign Office for approval.

Leaves Cancelled

Military leaves were cancelled. Official holidays were suspended until further notice.

The Arab League is made up of Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan, Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

The secretariat requests public acceptance of current developments in the spirit of the state of war which the Arab countries are facing and against an enemy prepared for many years to seize all Palestine by force," said an official statement issued to the press.

The statement came at the conclusion of three days of military and political conferences attended by the Arab League political committee.

Even while it was being prepared for issuance at the Syrian foreign office, Arab regular army troops reported moving toward Palestine's frontiers.

The secretariat called on the Arab people to accept developments calmly and "without either excessive optimism or pessimism."

Won't Stand Idly By

"The C.I.O. Packinghouse Workers are fighting for their jobs and for their families with the only means available. There is no need for the National Guard. The union neither desires nor will it institute violence on the picket line, but we will not stand idly by and see our strike smashed, our union wrecked and our working conditions set back a 100 years."

H. W. Reister, Cudahy superintendent, said the mob of between 200 and 300 had overpowered a score of watchmen and invaded the plant shortly before midnight. He said many of the raiders carried clubs and lengths of pipe.

Dr. William J. Watson, Newport physician called the plant shortly after the raid, said he had treated six injured men in the company's administrative building. One of them was seriously hurt.

Questioned by reporters as he left after about three hours in the plant, Watson said he was not at liberty to say how the men and their contents spilled "almost 100 per cent."

"The watchmen never had a chance. The invaders, split up into groups, rushed the gates from all sides and quickly overpowered them."

Machinery had been smashed, electric and telephone wires cut or torn down and the offices "left a wreck" with desks and filing cabinets and their contents spilled "almost 100 per cent."

"It was complete mob rule for about a half hour," Reister said. "The watchmen never had a chance. The invaders, split up into groups, rushed the gates from all sides and quickly overpowered them."

Cattle Prices Steady On Top Grades

TORONTO, May 14.—(CP).—Cattle prices were steady on top grades and 25 cents or so lower on medium kinds on the Live-Stock Market this week. Calves gained $1 a hundredweight and hogs were up 25 cents, while the sheep and lambs remained unchanged.

The cattle run, 6,000 head, was 2,000 more than for the same week a year ago, although trade did not have the same velocity of last week. Supplies included 5,300 slaughter cattle. Eastern orders were reduced and a slow clearance was made by the close.

Weighty steers sold at $17-$19 with some show steers from Winnipeg at $19.25. Fed yearlings were $15.50-$19.50, with show kinds at $19.75-$22. Butcher steers brought $15.50-$18.50, and heifers were mostly $17.75 down. Butcher cows sold at $11.50-$16 with canners downward to $6.50. Bulls closed $1 lower at $10-$14.75 per cwt. Stockers were strong at $18-$19.75. Grass cows sold from $9-$12 and ordinary quality milkers and springers were $9-$16 each.

Prices jumped $2 cwt. on Monday, but lost half the gain on the call run of 2,400 head. The close was $22-$25 for choice vealers, with plain to medium light weights from $12-$20.

Hogs totalled 2,500 head. The close was steady to 25 cents higher at $29-$29.50 for Grade A, $28.60-$28.85 for Grade B1. Sows held at $19 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts were only 400 head. Ontario feed-lot lambs sold at $20-$21 cwt. and a few choice spring lambs reached $25 cwt. Sheep were from $5-$11 according to quality.

2,700 Exhibitors At Winter Fair Kinsmen Told

R. J. Northey, president of the 1947 Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, spoke on the history and construction of the fair at the Kinsmen dinner on Thursday evening at the Kawartha Club. He pointed out the comparatively recent origin of the Royal Winter Fair, which was first held in 1922. Many meetings were held in 1918-1919 in London, Hamilton and Toronto. At the final meeting in 1919 to decide where the fair was to be held, there was a tie vote between Hamilton and Toronto, which was broken by a casting vote in favor of Toronto by W. A. Dryden, first president and now managing director.

"While this fair is held in the City of Toronto," said Mr. Northey, "it is not a city-owned. It consists of representatives of the Dominion and provincial governments, the mayor of Toronto, the four members of the Toronto Board of Control with the finance commissioner and parks commissioner, 14 organizations interested in production and marketing, 14 in horses, 12 in dairy cattle, 17 in sheep and swine, 16 in bees, cats, dogs, poultry and pets, 15 in flowers, fruits, seeds and vegetables, five in other exhibitions and agricultural societies, seven in agricultural colleges and five in boys' and girls' club work and women's institutes."

"Seven of the nine provincial governments," he continued, "have aided us by financial grants, and all nine by the encouragement of exhibitors. The Canadian Agency for public subscription and one of the great oil companies pay for the expenses of the foreign teams."

Mr. Northey went on to mention the encouragement given to the growing of seed and grain and the support given by certain firms, which have donated trophies.

Exhibitors at the fair in 1947 totalled 2,700 with 15,500 exhibits. There were exhibitors from every province, from 12 states of the United States and from El Salvador, Mexico. Many entries had to be turned down owing to lack of accommodation.

"Such," he said, "is the Royal— I feel that we can claim for it the place of the most up-to-date and foremost fair in Canada, if not in North America."

Mr. Northey then gave a brief history of fairs, which have been held since biblical times and the days of the Roman Empire.

He said, "they are primarily for the encouragement of agriculture, either livestock or field crops. The Royal encourages the production of grains that will prove more productive. Producers are shown the ideal dairy and beef animals and inspired to improve on the best."

Lauds Kinsmen

He said he was interested to see the cooperation between a city service club and agricultural communities. It was helping to correct the trend from the country to the city, which is a great danger causing reduction of manpower on the farm and an increase of consumption in the cities. "I would like to stress," he continued, "the great opportunity for service clubs in medium sized cities to cooperate with the farmers and particularly to encourage young folks of farming communities."

Mr. Northey was introduced by Sam Staples and thanked by Edward O'Toole. Members of the Peterborough Fair Board, the Millbrook Agricultural Society and the Peterborough Scout Association were guests at the dinner. Hugh Stewart, president of the Fair Board, and Leonard McNeil, president of the Millbrook Agricultural Society, thanked the speaker and the Kinsmen Club. Harley Weir presided.

Saskatchewan Irrigation Plan Delayed 2 Years Gardiner Says

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, May 14.—(CP).—Work on a $66,000,000 irrigation project in Saskatchewan will not be started for at least two years, Agriculture Minister Gardiner told the Commons on Thursday. He said the junction of the South Saskatchewan River with Coteau Creek, about 20 miles north of Saskatoon, has been chosen as the site of a 210-foot dam for the irrigation project. However, it would take engineers at least two years to determine whether it is feasible to build the dam at the chosen site.

Solution to other problems would have to be found as well, he said. The proposed dam would cause the South Saskatchewan to spill over into the neighboring Qu'Appelle River, flooding miles of farmlands. To prevent this, another dam would have to be built along the bank of the South Saskatchewan.

The Minister made the statements before the House adopted a bill authorizing the appointment of a director and an assistant director of Prairie farm rehabilitation.

Asks Better Price

During study of the estimates, John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) urged better treatment of Canadian sugar-beet producers. He said the growers should be paid the same price as is paid for imported cane sugar.

A. M. Nicholson (CCF—MacKenzie) urged payment of subsidies to encourage the building of new homes in agricultural areas.

Mr. Gardiner denied a charge by Douglas Harkness (PC—Ogawaga) that he deliberately sought to mislead the Commons last Friday by saying prices of feed grains have not risen more than 38 per cent since the removal of price ceilings.

Mr. Harkness said that in Alberta the price of oats climbed from 46 cents a bushel in October to 76 cents last January, an increase of 65 per cent. Barley rose from 55 cents to $1.16, an increase of 110 per cent.

Mr. Gardiner said that in his Friday statement he dealt with the feed-grain picture across Canada and not with the price in some particular locality, such as Calgary.

Rap Delays

In the irrigation debate, John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) and Hazen Argue (CCF—Wood Mountain) expressed dissatisfaction with the delay in starting work on the Saskatchewan dam.

T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) and Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel) stressed the need for something similar to P.F.R.A. in eastern Canada where flood control and water conservation were becoming a problem.

Mr. Diefenbaker said any excuses for delay in completing the south Saskatchewan dam would not be accepted. The sum of $66,000,000 seemed a large amount, but if spent it would pay dividends to all of Canada.

Irrigation would eliminate the need for payments made to western farmers under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act in years of crop failures. Sub-marginal land would be made productive and new hope given to tens of thou-

The workers in these mills have benefited through the Textile Workers Union of America. In direct proportion to the length of their membership. The membership of the first ten locals have received increases ranging from 23 to 38 cents per hour due to direct negotiations. In addition, piece workers have benefited by improved conditions, average hourly earnings for down time, cleaning time, waiting for work, etc. The average hourly earnings of piece workers in many of these mills have increased from 35 to 60 cents per hour in two years with T.W.U.A.

The relationship between the above companies and the union has been extremely good. During all these negotiations, there has not been one minute lost time due to any trouble.

The results have been brought about by intelligent dealing on the part of both the companies and the unions. Responsible union representatives dealing with responsible far-sighted company representatives, coupled with the co-operation of the workers with both the company and the union, give the workers the HIGHEST POSSIBLE WAGES, the BEST POSSIBLE WORKING CONDITIONS and the GREATEST PEACE OF MIND.

The Low-Pitched Election Campaign

We are rather disheartened by the quiet pace and peaceful air of the election campaign in this district. Elections are not something we can take or leave alone; we have a vote, an election has been called, we feel it our duty to use the ballot, and we would like to have more fuss about it. A little colour, a little drama, a little excitement is what we crave and feel we deserve. As things seem to be now in this riding, one would think that a prayer meeting had been called for June 7th. Admittedly many Christians pray every Sunday for the "legislators of the empire and all who are set in authority over us", but that, we think, is no reason why everybody should raise holy hands to Mr. George Drew and preserve a sanctimonious quiet.

Admittedly there are special reasons for the calm. The Drew Government says that it has gone to the people on the issue of the Hydro development. That is nonsense, of course, there was no "issue" there until Premier Drew decided to make it one. But even with the Hydro conversion plan and other contemplated vast expenditures surely some people can take issue. Further, they do not need to stick to so-called "issues" which the Government oracle has proclaimed.

Another reason for the holy (really, we are tempted to think it unholy) quiet is that one of our candidates, the Honourable Harold Scott, is frequently away from the riding because of the demands made on his time as a Cabinet Minister. We are polite people in Peterborough and dislike speaking about a man when his back is turned—we tend to feel that it is as sinful as speaking ill of the dead. However, elections are looming, and mere politeness is not good enough at election time. The C.C.F. candidate, Mr. Morton, and the Liberal candidate, Mr. Charles Elliott, really should have no hesitation in speaking their minds just because Mr. Scott is out of the riding. Great and good friends as he may be of theirs, the demands of friendship should not prevent them from electioneering with vehemence. The public has a time-honoured right to some storm and fury.

It is with no intention of entering the campaign on one side or the other that we suggest a few election issues for the pot. We are attempting merely to add some morsels, give it a stir and hope that others will apply the heat.

Take this Hydro conversion business, for instance. What enormous sum is it going to cost the citizens of Peterborough and district? What will they get in return? The Government is planning to convert 25 cycle systems to 60, at a total cost of 191 million dollars. We happy people in this area already have 60 cycle service. Are we going to have to pay the shot for the poor souls in the flickering lights areas like Toronto?

Another tit-bit comes to mind. The Provincial Treasurer, Mr. Frost (a resident of Lindsay), spoke to Sudbury Progressive Conservatives last week and announced that the generous Conservative Government has decided to give Sudbury one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) annually for ten years. That will total one million dollars ($1,000,000). These annual grants are to assist the municipality to pave streets, lay sewers, build parks, air-condition the city and the like. It is indeed a magnificent grant and will reduce the Sudbury tax rate by five mills. But that is not all the Drew Government has promised in the north. Similar action will be taken to assist other mining municipalities. Cobalt, Geraldton and Kirkland Lake already are receiving such aid. All this is very grand, but it is a curious coincidence that all the northern Ontario ridings, including Sudbury, Temiskaming, Cochrane North and Cochrane South, at the last election sent to the Ontario Legislature either Liberal or C.C.F. members. There was not a Conservative among them. Naturally the Drew party would like to see these northern mining constituencies represented by Conservative supporters.

We might mention the country roads in this area, but that is already a simmering topic, Lindsay area is better served—that is Mr. Frost's riding. Who is going to do most for us in that regard—Liberal, Conservative or C.C.F.? We might mention Premier Drew's disregard for the unity of this country as a whole, his unwarranted obstinacy at Dominion-Provincial conferences, his unnatural alliance with Duplessis of Quebec, a gentleman whose narrow provincialism is, like Mr. Drew's, seemingly insatiable.

Perhaps we have mentioned enough to fill up the pot a little better and have given it an impartial stir. Our interest is in seeing and hearing a livelier election campaign. There are issues at stake; let them be proclaimed. It so happens that it is the duty of opposition candidates to make them plain. In a court of law a man is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty. A party in power can rest on its oars until opposition winds and currents force it into action.

"If I Forget Thee, O Jerusalem"

Tonight the British High Commissioner to Palestine leaves Palestine and the British mandate over that unhappy country ends. Unless there is a miracle (and U.N. is as weak in performing miracles as in performing anything else), the country will be left to the ravages of warring Jews and Arabs, the ineffective authority of the Palestine Commission and the good offices of the Red Cross.

What the dire reality will be by Saturday only Allah and Jehovah know. The diplomatic and legal situation is this. The British Government gave notice a year ago that it would terminate its mandate this summer. It did not say that it would surrender the mandate to the U.N. Trusteeship Council (which under the Charter of U.N. it could have done). It merely asked U.N. to consider what might be done with Palestine when Britain terminated its mandate. On November 29th last, the U.N. Assembly voted to partition the country into two states. The U.S. strongly supported the plan, Russia approved, Canada gave reluctant acquiescence, Britain abstained. The new states were to come into legal existence next October 1st and into actual existence when the British gave up the mandate. The intermediate "successor authority", according to the U.N. November resolution, was to be the special Palestine Commission.

Since that date Britain has refused to take any part in the settlement, the Jews and Arabs began to battle, the Palestine Commission, unarmed and ineffective, made no progress. The Security Council folded its hands (which it would have been unable to do if Britain were surrendering the mandate to the Trusteeship Council). The U.S. Government reversed its stand on the partition. A special meeting of the U.N. Assembly was called (it is still in session) to consider the situation but no acceptable plan has been produced. Now the mandate ends. Legally, the approved partition plan still is binding, the Commission still is responsible, and the two new states will come into existence on October 1st.

Before then the whole country may be devastated, U.N.'s authority torn to shreds and Asia Minor in flames, chiefly because of Arabian oil. We are not likely to forget Jerusalem. The failure is U.N.'s, the failure is ours.

Dear Sir

In one day's post there were three letters addressed to the Editor which we cannot print. "Yours For Better Dance Halls", "A Desperate Wife" and other like signatures are not enough. We must have the name and address of the writer even though we may and do publish letters over pen-names when this is requested and desirable. We have referred to the matter before in these columns, nevertheless no week goes by without its batch of anonymous letters. We ask prospective writers to the Editor to please take heed.

There is another type of letter we have been receiving joylessly this month; these are the letters on politics and the coming elections. Each is considered impartially on its merits, but we find little merit in political harangues by writers who live outside the riding of Peterborough, in letters which are merely party propaganda and in those where the writer does not wish us to print his own name.

Last year 100,000 horses were slaughtered and canned in packing houses of Edmonton and Saskatoon. That sets us wondering about not merely the food for Britain but those big juicy steaks which we feasted on last year in the West.

The Fortnight On Parliament Hill

By
A. J. THOMAS

THE most important event of the fortnight was the initiation of the long-demanded, long-anticipated debate on foreign affairs. This came two weeks ago Thursday. At the instigation of the Prime Minister, who likes to see parliamentary precedent observed, the Speaker remained in the chair although the business scheduled for the day provided for the House to go into Committee. When the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs rose to introduce the debate attendance in the House was neither full nor alert. It was only until a few hours after Mr. St. Laurent's speech that the comatose members who had heard it woke up to the import of his words.

AMONG his declarations, Mr. St. Laurent made these:

1. Almost every international event now is of interest—"often of direct and immediate interest"—to Canada.
2. The organization of collective security is "our best hope for disproving the gloomy predictions of inevitable war".
3. No regime in Europe or elsewhere has the right to assistance merely because it proclaims itself the only barrier to communism. It must show that it can act to meet communism.

Overshadowing all in importance was the suggestion that a kind of 'Atlantic Union' be formed and that Canada was prepared to commit herself to a collective security organization outside of U.N. (but not in abrogation of its charter), an organization bound together not by contiguity of national borders but by unanimity of political philosophy, by ideals. It meant that Canada was prepared to fight for the right of other nations to safeguard their western democratic conceptions, even if those nations were remote from our borders.

ON FRIDAY, April 30th, the Bell Telephone Bill, allowing that private company to increase its capital from 150 to 500 million dollars was finally passed. It had been "talked out" for six previous private bills' hours in six preceding weeks. The C.C.F. objected to the company as a monopoly. They objected to the vast increase of capitalization (which would make the company more difficult to take over should they come to power and wish to make it a state enterprise). Some Conservatives objected that the Bill had not been sufficiently reviewed, that it had passed through the Senate too hurriedly (where it was introduced). There was a feeling that there was a nigger somewhere in the woodpile.

On Tuesday, May 4th, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced that the cost of living had risen to an all-time high—50.4 per cent. above the 1939 level. People had already felt the impact, but to see the figure was rather a shock.

THE next day the Senate bill to permit the sale of margarine (sponsored as in former years by Senator Euler) was defeated by 35 to 21. Many senators were absent or refrained from voting. It is to be regretted that the Senators did not take the lead by passing the bill. They are not subject to local constituencies and should have seized the opportunity to act in a non-partisan way for the benefit of the nation. Mr. Sinclair's identical bill before the Commons has little chance of succeeding. Too many M.P.'s are fearful of the farmer vote or the greater dairies.

ON Wednesday, May 5th, and following, housing was discussed. A bill has been prepared which may assist in alleviating the shortage. The Government is wary about housing, the Conservatives are equally cagey. The Veterans' Housing scheme has alarmed many private interests, who are fearful lest the Government be permanently in the housing business. The new measures are designed to encourage private builders and contracting companies to put up so-called low-priced houses (the lowest is now about eight thousand dollars). Private contracting firms are guaranteed by the bill a two per cent. return on their investment, come what may. The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation (a Crown company) has been authorized to grant loans to individuals in cases where commercial loan companies will not grant them. In other words, there is to be no competition with loan companies, banks and the like. A C.C.F. member pointed out that 82.6 per cent. of the population is getting along on incomes of less than $2,000 and cannot afford to rent or buy new houses at the rates private builders would charge. The crux of the matter is that building costs are too high (labour, materials, inefficient antiquated methods) and seemingly nothing can be done about them. 77,000 houses were built in Canada in 1947; the Government expects that an equal number will be built this year.

VARIOUS parliamentary committees are at work—for instance the one that is hammering out a labour code for Canada, and the Prices Committee. More tales of high profits continue to be unfolded. Mr. J. S. McLean's company was accused of making last winter a profit on beef of 31 per cent. before taxes. Mr. McLean's submission is that the profit was only one seventh of a cent per pound. He gave a notable defence of his credo in the value and virtue of competition and capitalism. The wholesale price of pork in Canada, the Minister of Agriculture announced, was higher than in any country whose prices he knew. A good profit of $7,200 was made by a Toronto broker in fruit and vegetables—on four carloads of potatoes imported from the U.S. just before the embargo was made effective. Such evidence has annoyed some retailers and housewives. The basic fact is that free enterprise, which has built up this country, cannot exist without profits—and loss. The Prices Committee is probably taking too little account of all the businesses that have failed and business men who have taken crippling losses in the last twenty years.

THE budget is to be brought down on May 18th. It is expected that indirect taxes will be lowered instead of income taxes. The 25 per cent tax on luxuries may be reduced or wiped out on some articles. (The latter

Brass Tacks

(MANCHESTER GUARDIAN)

FOR some time now the American press has been discussing, with its customary zest and lack of restraint, the chances of a third world war, between Russia and the West. Divisions have been counted and campaigns fought on paper, while famous columnists have duly weighed the atom bomb against the Red Army. In this country and in Europe there is still, perhaps wisely, a reluctance to do this openly. We feel that war, like death, is a subject which should be treated with reverence and left, as long as possible, to the professionals, whether they be doctors or diplomats. Now, however, that the Brussels Pact has been signed and the Western Powers have all agreed that strength is necessary whether to fight Russia or to reach an agreement with her, some thought must be given to questions of strategy and military requirements. It is important that we should think clearly on these matters. If it is true, as it may be, that Russia is deterred from further advances only by fear of war, then plainly this fear is not dependent on written treaties. Mr. Lippmann has pointed out that at present there is no particular need of an American guarantee for Western Europe since the American Army is already stationed in Germany and Austria; it would be impossible for Russia to attack France or Holland without first coming to blows with the United States.

On Tuesday, May 11th, amendments were announced to the pensions bill. The nations pension bill will be up 18 million dollars and the pension rate up by 25 per cent. Amendments to the Criminal Code are being discussed. Mr. Church (a bachelor) wants women to serve on juries. Mr. Pouliot said, "The question now is whether men are exclusively superior to women." Mr. Melvor: "No." Mr. Pouliot: "The answer given by my desk-mate is correct." Thus shortly was a profound question disposed of.

States. For different reasons it is equally certain that the United States would regard any attack on Turkey or Greece or Italy as an attack on her own interests. If there is any question at all it concerns the Scandinavian States, but even there who really doubts that a Russian attack on Norway or Sweden would lead to war?

THIS is not to argue that a written treaty is unnecessary but only that it is not urgent. There are other things which must come first. There is an important difference in practice, if not in theory, between a treaty of mutual defence and a military guarantee. It is one thing for the United States to tell Russia, "If you attack France (or Italy or Greece) we shall declare war"; it is another to tell France (or Italy or Greece), "If you are attacked by Russia we shall protect your frontiers." The difference between the two was perfectly expressed in our own guarantee to Poland: when Germany attacked Poland in 1939 Britain and France declared war on Germany but they could not save Poland. So today it is not the fear that the United States would not fight which lingers but the fear that the United States would not at first be strong enough to save Western Europe from occupation. It is something, indeed it is a great deal, to know that if the crisis comes we can depend on America to fight for the cause of freedom and democracy and, in the end, to destroy the Russian colossus; it would be infinitely more comforting to know that we should be rescued before, and not after, Europe had been overrun by the Red Army. This is the doubt which perturbs the West and encourages Russia, but it cannot be relieved by written guarantees. Nor can we reasonably hope that the United States will ever agree to maintain large armies on the Rhine or Elbe or wherever the frontier of the West is considered to lie. Plainly the countries of Western Europe must themselves be

THE TOWNSHIP ROADS

Sir: I am not in the habit of writing letters to newspapers but since the Hon. Mr. Scott is seeking re-election, I think it my duty to point out one or two facts.

In 1946, the Minister of Highways announced that the province would promote tourist development by building roads into lakes and then turn them over to the municipality.

After this was announced in the paper, I with another councillor went to see Mr. Scott and we asked for 3½ miles of road in view of Mr. Scott's assurances we took it for granted that these roads would be built.

In the spring of 1947, when the representative of the Department of Highways came to our township, we learned that there had been no decision made to build the roads. As a result, a Councillor, the Clerk of the Municipality and myself went to Toronto to see the Minister of Highways, the Hon. Mr. Doucet. We were unable to see him but we saw his Deputy Minister and another official in the Department of Highways. They both informed us that there was no record in the Department respecting our request to have these roads built.

It is my belief that we should have a member of parliament who would take his responsibilities a little more seriously.

Yours truly,
W. M. DARLING,
Reeve of Dummer Township.

OLD SOLDIERS' HOME

Sir: Re the old soldiers' home. I would like very much to ask the public to get behind this project, as it is something that has been very much needed in this locality for a long time. I know something of what the Legion has done for old soldiers, and I have never heard of any deserving case being turned away. These poor men no longer able to make ends meet, have been helped even more than they expected or looked for. They have been given good clothing, boots, etc., and when they had nowhere to live the Legion have paid for their board, and I know they are finding it increasingly hard as there are more and more men of the First World War becoming burnt out by reason of their war experiences. Other cities have homes, why not Peterborough. We are to get a great Civic Centre as a memorial, and that is all right, but an old soldiers' home is something that is really very much required, and although the Legion is doing all it can to get it, I think it's a public duty to get behind it and help the Legion all we can. Thank you,
Lest we forget,

strong enough, if possible, to resist the first shock of aggression and to hold the fort until the United States can bring its enormous potential power to bear on the enemy. This is the real importance of the Brussels Pact and the military conversations arising out of it.

THE implication of this will not be pleasant for any of the countries of Western Europe. It will demand from all of them a far greater military effort than they would choose to make or can properly afford. For this country especially it may demand a revolution in strategy. It is the United States and not Britain which now holds the fortunate position of the great naval and industrial power which can lie back from the conflict, protected by the ocean, and build up its striking force only after the battle has begun. One can hardly avoid the conclusion that in future we must be prepared to leave a far greater share of naval protection and arms manufacture to the United States while we concentrate on having ready an effective Army and Air Force to take our place in the front line. In the past our allies in Europe were content—or if not content they were compelled—to accept our promises instead of our divisions because they knew that in the long run our naval and industrial power would turn the scale. And for our part we felt safe enough so long as the Channel ran between our shores and the Continent. Today neither of these conditions exists. France, Belgium, and Holland will certainly insist that we provide a stronger land force from the very outset, while we ourselves are by no means immune from airborne attack. If the Brussels Pact is to have any value its members must feel that together they will have a fair chance of survival for at least six months without the help of large American forces. (Even those now in Germany will one day be withdrawn.) There is perhaps little chance of that at present, but this should be the aim of our planning. It also follows that we should accept as partners in the pact only countries which can play their part in this defence and not weaken the whole. It would be dangerous, for instance, to include Italy so long as there is no Italian Army. But even Italy's nakedness is only more extreme than our own. At present—and it is as well to face it—our safety depends on the ultimate vengeance of a United States armed with the atomic bomb, and not on our own strength. And so long as this situation continues we shall live precariously. As the French and Poles learned to their cost, it is better to be strong and free than weak and liberated.

Plan Hospital Insurance, Jolliffe Pledge

TORONTO, May 14 — (CP). — A $300,000 provincial grant to McKellar Hospital in Fort William was announced Thursday night by Premier Drew as he continued the northwestern Ontario section of his provincial election campaign tour.

In other election speeches, C.C.F. leader Jolliffe pledged that the C.C.F., if elected June 7, will launch plans for hospital insurance and low-cost automobile accident insurance and Liberal leader Oliver said a Liberal government in Ontario would guarantee veterans of both world wars "distinct and definite preference" in civil service jobs.

Premier Drew told a Fort William public meeting the $300,000 will be devoted in expansion of the hospital under plans drawn up more than a year ago and approved by the Ontario Health Department.

Earlier, in a broadcast over a provincial network, the Premier spoke of the government's decision to take over the 20-per-cent amusement tax after the Federal Government vacates the field. He expressed surprise at criticism directed at this plan by the opposition as all members of the legislature voted for it when it was before the House. Proceeds will be devoted to hospital assistance.

Car Insurance
Mr. Jolliffe said in a broadcast that his party's proposed hospital care and automobile insurance plans would be similar to projects inaugurated by Saskatchewan's CCF government.

He said that during the first year of Saskatchewan's hospital insurance plan, more than 100,000 persons received treatment. Their only cost has been $5 a person a year, with a family maximum of $30.

The Saskatchewan automobile insurance plan protected every driver, passenger and pedestrian against loss resulting from car accidents.

"Anybody who gets hurt can get up to $2,000 for a permanent injury and up to $20 a week for as long as 120 weeks for being unable to work. If it's a fatal 'Anybody who gets hurt can get as much as $5,000 or even more, plus funeral expenses."

Mr. Oliver told the Weiland East Liberal Association that his party, if elected, will insist on war veterans receiving preference for government jobs. He added: "Whatever laws can be passed in their favor will be passed. Fully one-half of the Liberal candidates in the June 7 election are former servicemen. Former members of the armed services can depend on it that the Liberal party will see to it that their sacrifice has not been in vain."

Mr. Foster was born in Saskatchewan and has been interested in music since he was a small boy. During the war he served for five years with the RCMP. Today he has returned to his musical career and is an artist-pupil of Cesar Borre.

De Laval And B-A Emerge Victors In Men's Softball Loop Twin Bill

De Laval defeated Legion 13-2 and B-A beat Knights 7-3 in a City Softball League double-header Thursday night at the Bowl. A good-sized crowd attended but only a handful remained to the end owing to a sprinkle of rain most of the second game. While the first fray was too one-sided to be really interesting, the nightcap was a fairly interesting fixture throughout.

Swinging potent bats to pound out 18 hits off two hurlers, the young De Laval crew rolled up an early lead and rode home in front handily. Their bingles included two homers and four doubles, Courneyea and Jaquith getting the circuit clouts. Dugan led the hitters with four in six, two of them doubles. Haddy Eakins pitched six-hit ball and fanned half a dozen. Parsons replaced Greenlaw on the Legion hill in the sixth. Neither of them had the best of backing, whereas Eakins' support was perfect. Lewis led the losers at bat with three for four and pulled off a nice catch. Parsons hit a homer.

SECOND GAME

While each team had eight hits

In the second game, B-A had two homers—by Borland and Casle—as well as two doubles. The Knights threatened seriously several times and it was somewhat closer than the score indicates. Bob Strickland pitched intless ball, fanning five, for three frames and he left then. Ron Akers finished in fair style with five whiffs. Terry Woods struck out 10 but his eight walks and some costly errors behind him hurt his cause. Crowe led all the hitters with three for four, and a pickup by Leather and catch by Blewett were the best bits of fielding shown, both sides kicking the ball some. The box score:

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

C.E. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Just a final reminder of the track and field meet in Morrow Park tomorrow afternoon, open to city and district competitors. A large entry list, we're told, including a number of established stars at running, jumping, shot put, etc. A varied program consisting of sprints, middle distance dashes and longer runs, as well as relays, hurdles, jumping and so forth. It is the first annual meet of the Peterborough Harriers Club, formed a year ago, and they expect to revive the track and field sports in a big way. More power to them as these events are interesting, healthy and thoroughly amateur. The meet should draw a big crowd.

Golf has its official opening here this Saturday at the Peterborough and at the Kawartha clubs. Special programs on tap and likely a large turnout of women and men golfers if the weather is reasonable. Lot of folks have been going around the links in recent weeks and more will be noted from now on both at the fine west side setup and the smart northern layout. President Hurd Waddell of the Peterborough Club and President Frank Buckland of the Kawartha Club recently predicted record memberships in their respective spots for this season, and we don't doubt it a bit. Good luck, golfers.

Church Loop Ready

Church Softball League schedule is in tonight, showing the opening on Tuesday next. A 16-team circuit this year, four each in pee-wee, bantam, midget and senior. Playoffs toward the end of June. Pee-wee games Tuesday are: St. Andrew's vs. George St. and Salvation Army vs. Murray St.; midget meelles the same night: George St. vs. All Saints and St. George's vs. Knox. Bantams get away next Friday with George St. playing All Saints and St. Paul's in against St. George's; same p.m. sees these seniors go: George St. vs. Knox and Murray St. vs. Salvation Army. Players should clip schedules.

In aid of the civic arena fun, a man's softball exhibition is listed for this Saturday night in the Bowl. The classy Tip Tops of Toronto—outstanding senior "A" squad—will play the local B-A bunch coached by Johnny Russell. Tip Tops have Tommy Stewart and Ab Grant for pitching, with Len Gaull and Billy Polosky the catchers. Infielders are: Babe Gresko, Fred Kennedy, Nick Staynor, Jerry Evans, Eddie Gerald and Bill Imrie. And the gardeners include: Jack Francis, Ray Puffer, Vic Goebels and Art Upper. Plenty of diamond talent in that aggregation, and the contest ought to be well worth viewing.

Playing In The Rain

Light rain Thursday p.m. dampened the ardor of fans at the Bowl, though a goodly gallery was there for a time. And both men's games were run off. De Laval's young but heavy artillery battered the Legionnaires to the extent of a 13-2 count, while the B-A bunch took a 7-3 win over Knights. In the opener, it was interesting enough till about midway through and then Stew Richardson's squad—five of them juniors—broke out and shelled Bob Greenlaw off the hill, and treated Tom Parsons nearly as roughly. Their hitting plus some poor fielding by Legion (who will improve plenty) made for the one-sided score. Three homers in this tilt, and Dugan and Lewis led their sides at bat. Eakins pitched well for De Laval.

Fielding was about even in the other joust and each crew got eight hits, but those of the B-A sluggers were longer. Knights had a lot of runners left aboard as they made it a fight all the way. Bob Strickland put in three frames on the mound and had his smoke ball working well for five fans and no hits. Ron Akers turned in a fair chore the rest of the route and got credit for the win. Terry Woods also looked good with 10 strikeouts, but his walks and some costly miscues hurt. Two homers in this one, with Crowe leading all the clouters. The B-A bunch look on paper like the team to beat but don't write off those youngsters on the other teams yet—they'll make it quite a scramble down the stretch. Next tilts are Tuesday.

A Couple Have Left

Senior "B" lacrosse Petes, with some new talent, are drilling regularly now as they await word on their grouping. They've lost a couple of players, too, Rowan Chute shopping around Hamilton and other centres, and DePippo—generally known as Mitchell last year—turning up in Oshawa. Latter club also has McAdam, with Hamilton's senior "A" squad in '47, Haney of the Mimico Juniors, and they expect two more Mimico gutted-stick stars. The Motor Citizens, who will be grouped with the Petes, have started frequent practices, and they should come up with a strong team. Meantime, the Petes expect to make the tour next week-end to Montreal and Quebec City if enough players can get away.

UP AND DOWN SPORTS' RIALTO: Soccer games tomorrow: Petes vs. CGE at three in King Edward Park, and Legion at Lindsay. . . . Some talk of a Toronto senior "B" puck team playing "home" games next winter on Lindsay's artificial ice. . . . Petes' senior ballsters drill at two Saturday in Riverside. . . . Westend pee-wees are at Prince of Wales tomorrow morn at 10. . . . East City pee-wees drill at three tomorrow in the Oval and there at 6:30 Monday. . . . City Baseball League executive meets next Wednesday p.m. at seven in the "Y" for windup details ere the season starts. . . . Queen Mary took an 8-2 junior school softball win over Queen Alex yesterday. . . . Girls' Softball League schedule, which opens May 26, may appear tomorrow. . . . Couple of local lassies' teams have been invited to a May 24 tourney in Hastings, we're told. . . . CGE colleens have a Cobourg girl out with them now. . . . Tip Tops' tilt tomorrow in the Bowl is at eight p.m.; Polosky of Toronto caught Bob Strickland three years in the army, so Bob will ask him to catch for B-A this game. . . . Ed Murphy is still on the prowl for a southpaw. . . . Ah, pay day again.

Ezinicki Makes Pro Golf Debut In U.S.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—(AP).—Bill Ezinicki, a wing on Toronto's Stanley Cup championship team, makes his debut as a pro golfer in the Philadelphia Inquirer invitation tournament today, but he isn't cutting all his ties with the ice sport.

In making the change, Ezinicki becomes the third athlete in recent years to enter professional golf after establishing a reputation in a different sport.

Before him were Sammy Byrd, one-time New York baseball canker outfielder, and Ellsworth Vines, king-pin of amateur tennis. Byrd and Vines, however, made a complete break with their previous sport. Ezinicki, only 24, hopes to combine the two for a period of years before settling down as a teaching golf pro.

The slight, five-foot-10 athlete would have his first professional round in the record books by now except for an early-morning rain that washed out Thursday's first round. The revised schedule called for 18 holes today after which the 116-man field will be cut to the low 60 and ties. Eighteen more holes will be played Saturday and 36 Sunday.

A Top Amateur
Although this will be Ezinicki's first pro tournament he has been playing golf since he was nine. He was rated as one of the Dominion's top amateurs.

The young Canadian figures his wood shots are the best part of his game. His lone formal lesson was in putting. He figures he learned more in a single round with Ky Lafoon of Chicago last year than in all his previous links visits.

Not eligible for next week's Professional Golfers' Association tournament at St. Louis, Ezinicki will compete in the $5,000 open in Decatur, Ill., instead.

Although he has been considering turning pro for some time, it actually was the Canadian immigration laws that forced him to a decision.

He wanted to make the United States summer golf circuit as an amateur and then try once more for the Canada title that division. Canadian officials termed that a pleasure trip and restricted the amount of money he could take south of the border.

By turning pro, his trip became a business venture and the money restrictions were lifted.

King Edward Wins

King Edward won a senior School Softball League game from Prince of Wales by a 15-5 count on the latter's diamond. They got four runs in the initial inning, five next time up, then two, none in the fourth and four more in the fifth. The losers tallied one in the first and four in the fifth. Robinson and Jensen led the hitters while Curtis, Moffat and Halliday turned in some nice fielding. The teams:

King Edward—Jones, Robinson, Jensen, Curtis, Batley, Kimball, Daniels, Elliott, Best.

Prince of Wales—Stave, Downer, Halliday, Cranfield, Deck, Graham, Smith, Holbrook, Peacock, Dunn, Moffat, Cannon, Clifton.

Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan hinted at Lansing, Mich., Thursday that facts surrounding the hockey scandal of last March which resulted in the expulsion of Billy Taylor of New York Rangers and indefinite suspension of Don Gallinger of the Boston Bruins by the National Hockey league might soon be divulged.

President Clarence Campbell of the NHL said Thursday at Kitchener that permission must be obtained from Sigler before details of the player ban can be released.

Sigler said that a secrecy pledge he placed on the NHL president might be removed if Campbell were to ask his permission to tell the whole story.

Three star footballers with the Ottawa Rough Riders have called off a deal with Calgary Stampede and will turn out with the Riders this fall, manager J. P. McCaffrey of the Riders club, said at Ottawa Thursday night. Previous reports had been that Stampede acquired snapback Don Loney, Matt Anthony, outside wing, and Len Shaw, a promising backfielder.

Fifty-year-old Reg Whitcombe, who was "too old" to play for Britain's Ryder Cup team last year, shot a 66 Thursday at Sunningdale, England, to pace 33 qualifiers into the final stages of the $10,000 Daily Mail golf tournament. The 66 equalled Bobby Jones' 22-year-old record on the 6,477-yard course and gave Whitcombe a 36-hole total of 134.

England's tennis forces joined Holland in the third round of the European zone Davis Cup eliminations Thursday by winning the final-4 singles matches against Norway at Oslo. The victories gave the British team a 4-1 edge in the five-match series. Norway won one of the opening singles matches. England's quarter-final opponent is Holland.

Six members of the Montreal YMHA basketball team, Dominion senior finalists and runners-up in Olympic trials, will make the trip to the summer Olympics, team manager Moe Aaron announced at Montreal Thursday night. Aaron said his seventh player will be picked from Vancouver Clover Leafs, who captured the Dominion title but dropped both their trial games. The other seven players on the 14-man Olympic team will be selected by Coach Bob Osborne of the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds, who won both their trial games.

Cornwall seniors opened their home season in impressive style at Cornwall Thursday night when they whipped Montreal Canadiens 15-6 in an Interprovincial Lacrosse League game.

Gerard Cote, 1948 Boston marathon winner, leaves Montreal Saturday for Los Angeles where he will compete in the Los Angeles marathon next week. Cote, four-time winner of the Boston grind, will also compete in the Olympic trial marathon at Hamilton, June 12.

Giants Leading League After Poat's 2-Hit Shutout

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer
Ray Poat's spring success takes the heat off New York Giant officials who had expected Bill Voiselle to be a star pitcher, now retired.

The two-hit shutout that Poat threw against St. Louis yesterday, boosted the Giants into the National League lead. Despite Voiselle's four straight victories, the Braves still are in the second division.

Voiselle was sent to Boston last summer for Mort Cooper, but a sore arm prevented Mort from regaining his old form and he finally quit and retired to run his business in St. Louis.

Poat, purchased from Baltimore Orioles of the International League last summer after failing to make the grade with Cleveland, now has won three of four.

A single by Enos Slaughter in the second inning and a double by Red Schoendienst in the third were the only St. Louis hits off Poat in his 5-0 win. For five innings it was a scoreless duel between Poat and Red Munger but the Giants got two in the sixth and knocked out Munger in the eighth.

Voiselle, who underwent an operation for varicose veins during the winter, blanked Chicago with four hits, 2-0.

It was a fourth loss for hard luck Johnny Schmitz who also gave up only four hits.

Whip Cincinnati
Brooklyn whipped Cincinnati 9-3 for the Reds' seventh straight loss. Preacher Roe went the route for his first win at the expense of Ken Raffensberger. Cincinnati didn't get a hit off Roe until the fifth when Dewey Williams hit a homer after Danny Littwhiler singled and Red Stalupp doubled.

Carl Furillo, on a hitting rampage, homered in the second and Don Lund repeated the act with two on in the fourth frame. Both came off Raffensberger.

Pittsburgh squeezed ahead of St. Louis into second place in the National by a night game win over the Phillies, 5-1. Rookie Bob Chesnes, making his first start in the majors, received credit for the decision although he required relief help in the seventh. Chesnes helped his own cause with a triple and Frank Gustine contributed a two-run homer.

Rain postponed the three games scheduled in the American League.

Tyrone Power Planning To Tour Spain

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, May 14 (AP).—Tyrone Power, Hollywood's globe-trotting star, plans to tour Spain before he reports to Rome for a picture.

When Ty flies to Europe next month, he will have a month or so before "Prince of Foxes" starts shooting in Rome. He wants to buy a car and, motor around Spain, one of the remaining countries of the world he hasn't visited. Between picture-making and sightseeing, he does not expect to be back in the States before 1949.

Grable Goes West

Betty Grable is gleeful about doing her first Western. "Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend," in which she will play a rifle shot with a knack for shooting the wrong people. The film will start in September, and Betty's film work now is resolved to the pattern of a picture in the spring and another in the fall. That will give her plenty of time to devote to her favorite hobbies—baseball and horses.

Clark Gable and Deborah Kerr will have a potent love story in "Angel's Flight," reports Director Sam Wood. "The screen needs better love stories," says Sam. "There are too few powerful stories of the love shared by mature men and women. The public is ready for an adult approach to love." Clark will play a rich American who falls in love with a dying British girl.

Dapper As Ever

Warner Baxter, looking dapper as ever, is making "Gentleman From Nowhere." He is content to limit his career to two brief films a year at Columbia and devote the rest of his time to his other interests. "If I let myself start doing more work, I'd get caught in the old routine and have another nervous breakdown," he says.

Jack Oakie may land some more parts at 20-Fox after "Burlesque." "Zanuck is waiting to see if I still have my old sparkle," he jests. Brian Donlevy says he will form his own production company when he finds a likely yarn to film.

Louis Observes 34th Birthday

BLOOMINGDALE, Mich., May 14.—(AP).—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis has another birthday—his 34th—behind him, and although the years are piling up on the brown bomber the pounds are dropping off as he prepares for his June 23 re-match with Jersey Joe Walcott in Yankee Stadium.

Trainer Marnie Seamon took the occasion of Louis' birthday yesterday to report that a month of light training at the farm of a Detroit friend here had Joe's conditioning program running "two pounds" ahead of schedule.

When Louis arrived here in early April following his European appearances he was bulging at 225 pounds with the accumulated "overweight" of nearly four months of virtual inaction. Seamon's time-table, aiming at 215 for the second Walcott battle, called for Joe to shed three pounds here on a diet of "rest," tapering off into light roadwork, saving and wood-chopping. Thus the champ would have seven more pounds to lose after he gets into the heavy part of his training routine next week at Pompton Lakes, N.J.

But Seamon said the Bomber already was down to 220, a fact that simplifies the reducing schedule.

FAMILY PORTRAIT—In this interesting photo we see Wendell Wathan, Sr., driving "Virgie Hanover," as his 12-year-old son Wendell Wathan, Jr., drives "Ann Volo," at the race track in Pinehurst, N.C. An interesting feature of this shot is that all four feet of each horse are off the ground. Young Wathan, a horse enthusiast, rushes from school to the track each day, to help dad train the horses.

Good Pitchers Scarce In Minors

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP).—An experienced baseball observer who has seen games in five minor leagues so far this spring reports that he has yet to see anything that remotely resembles a promising young pitcher. "The majors had better start something that will develop a few or there'll be an acute shortage in a few years." Possibly this gent hasn't seen the right clubs, but you'll notice that most of the flingers who were considered promising—and not always so young—when they came back to the majors this spring already are back in the minors.

As a real prospect, how about Collegian Willard Nixon of Auburn? He tossed a no-hitter and a one-hitter against Tennessee this spring, gave Georgia one hit last Friday—an infield dribbler by the first man up—and came back as relief man against the same team the next afternoon. His coach, Danny Doyle, is the former Red Sox catcher so the other clubs probably haven't a look-in.

Unstable Temperament

Dave Woods, the Pimlico race-track tub thumper, sends word about the predicament of George Kennedy, Rigan McKinney's stable foreman. Seems one of the McKinney horses, Blue Falcon, was unduly nervous and had a bad disposition. He was calmed by the acquisition of a goat named (not after Kennedy) as a stall companion. Now Blue Falcon is calm and happy, but every time the horse goes out on the track George (the goat, that is) yells and kicks until he returns to the stall.

Havelock School Organizes Team

HAVELOCK, May 14.—(ENS).—Principal D. M. Patterson has organized a softball team in the public school. For the time being they are playing exhibition games but they hope through time that leagues will be formed in the nearby centres in which they can enter. They also expect to carry on in the fall and winter with soccer and hockey. In the two games played to date with the Norwood public school team, Havelock won one game and lost one.

The present line-up of the team is as follows: Grenville Woodbeck, c; William Cosgrove, p; Philip Chevalier, 1b; Gordon Toms, 2b; Reggie Pollock, 3b; Gordon Bales, ss; Robert Bruce Pollock, David Menzies, William Iain, outfielders; Frank Hill, William Rourke, Leo Turpin, Michael McCabe, substitutes.

A grant of $15 was made by the Board of Education for the purchase of equipment for the team.

Release Sande In Drug Case

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP).—Earl Sande, horse owner, trainer and one-time famous jockey, was released Thursday from federal charges of illegal possession of narcotics when a grand jury which investigated the case returned a true bill.

The Jockey Club said the grand jury's action would have no effect on its 60-day suspension of Sande, imposed May 4, the day after he was arrested.

The government charged Sande had a drug which he failed to register and on which he failed to pay a tax. Conviction would have meant a two- to five-year prison term.

United States Attorney J. Vincent Keogh said he acted against Sande when a routine saliva test showed one of Sande's horses, Big Stage, was drugged when it won a race at Jamaica April 21.

Keogh said Sande told him he had ordered the horse treated with a caffeine extract for a work-out four days before the race and that no drug had been used after that.

Laga Making Grade On Royals

By The Associated Press

Frank Laga, who has been trying to stick with Montreal Royals the last two years, apparently has made the grade this campaign.

Laga has been called on to relieve faltering mates five times in the Royals' first 17 games and he has come through with three wins against only one loss.

He gave up four hits Thursday in less than three innings of work as the Royals nosed out Syracuse Chiefs 2-1 to pull within a game of the front-running Chiefs.

Laga replaced Don Newcombe in the seventh and battled in Chuck Connors with the winning

Betting On Nose Only In Small Preakness Field

BALTIMORE, May 14.—(AP).—Betting in tomorrow's Preakness Stakes at Pimlico will be "on the nose only."

The classic shapes up as a four-horse affair. Citation, the Kentucky Derby winner, will go to the post a prohibitive favorite.

If win, place and show betting were allowed, a minus pool would be sure to result if Citation won. The track would have to pay off at the rate of at least 10 cents on $1.

The $2 bettor can't look for much of a return because Citation's overwhelming dominance, but the owners of starters can eye more than $90,000.

The winning purse would be worth $94,745 to either Vulcan's Forge or Better Self if four start. Bovard and Citation can make $91,745.

The difference is because the owners of Bovard and Citation had to pony up $3,000 each to make them eligible. They were made supplementary starters April 15. The other owners got their colts eligible by paying only $135 in three annual installments. If the expected four are named run in the eighth with a double up against the left field fence.

Wheat Acreage Down

The 1948 wheat acreage is placed at 23,700,000 acres compared with 24,300,000 last year.

However, Laga ran into trouble in the ninth and was relieved by Walter Nothe with two on and two out. Nothe induced pinch-hitter Al Rubeling to foul out to end the game and save the decision for Laga.

Scheduled games between Jersey City and Buffalo, Newark and Rochester and Baltimore and Toronto were postponed because of rain and wet grounds.

Great Britain Proposes Bill To Aid Inventors

By JAMES MCCOOK

LONDON, May 14 — (CP) — The development of inventions Bill, now before Parliament, is full of kindly thought for inventors with good ideas, but small respect for those who would have beaten Germany with trained cormorants.

The cormorants, big sea birds, are an unhappy memory of the First World War. One inventor thought they could have been used to pick the mortar out of German factory chimneys and thus hamstringing the Kaiser's war machine.

The new bill sets up a corporation with power to take over and exploit inventions unable to find commercial backing. It would, for instance, have given attention to the idea that the chilly waters near Canada could have been protected from submarines by cheap warships made of ice — one idea put forward in the Second World War.

The Board of Trade may make advances to the corporation up to £5,000,000 ($20,000,000) for working capital within five years. The corporation may accept, acquire or hold rights in inventions including new processes and techniques.

Protect Country

This Government interest in inventions will protect the country against the danger of British ideas being adapted and used by foreign countries. British scientists remember the use of ultraviolet ergosterol to produce vitamin D, a process discovered by a British student but patented in the United States.

In wartime, especially, the tide of invention reaches full flood and the difficulty has been for Government departments to separate the cranks from the geniuses. Among the kernels of good ideas for Bailey bridges, landing fields that floated on water, gasoline pipes that set the sea afire to roast invaders and other useful weapons, the departments found and rejected these plans in two wars.

Black rays to neutralize moonlight;

A gun to fire live snakes into enemy trenches;

An electrical bayonet that killed without stabbing;

An arrangement for freezing the clouds which would permit guns to be mounted on them and dismay the enemy.

After the cormorants had been dismissed, the Government departments of the day were faced with the plan to freeze the North Sea and keep the German Navy in port with a minimum of trouble. This plan was countered, by the wits, with the suggestion that the German Army might skate to Britain.

The last straw was the enthusiasm who said railway cars should be built with tracks on top. When a slow train was in the way of an express it would simply carry on and the fast train would ride over it pick-a-back.

Say Vote Against Cadet Training By Trustees Unconstitutional

OTTAWA, May 14 — (CP). — R. V. Tuck, chairman of Woodstock Board of Education, Wednesday termed as "unconstitutional" the standing vote against compulsory Cadet training by the delegates to the Urban School Trustees' Association convention here.

The vote was taken on a motion introduced by the Chatham Board, favoring compulsory Cadet training in Ontario schools. The motion was defeated Tuesday 32 to 25.

Mr. Tuck maintained that this type of standing vote was not permitted by the constitution of the association. Only voting delegates had a right to express an opinion and there were many trustees who had attended the three-day convention who were not voting delegates.

F. M. Hulse of St. Catharines, past president, assured Mr. Tuck that the constitution would be adhered to at future conventions. However, the vote is to stand as it was taken.

Approval was given to a Kitchener resolution requesting the Ontario Education Department to raise the entrance requirements to normal schools.

Another resolution by the Kitchener Board, urging the re-establishment of the Penny Bank of Ontario or other form of savings encouragement for school children, will be considered by the incoming executive.

ANNOUNCING SEIZURE OF RAILROADS — White House press secretary Charles Ross is shown (second from right) as he distributed to newsmen copies of a statement issued by President Truman in connection with the executive order by which the government seized the strike-threatened railroads in the United States. The president made the move after all government attempts to negotiate a settlement between unions and operators had failed. Shortly after the seizure union chiefs indicated there would be no strike.

PETERBORO CIVIC ARENA

AT FIRST A HOPE . . .

NOW a REALITY!

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND THE SOD TURNING CEREMONIES

Civic Arena Site, Park St. South, Saturday, May 15th

2.30 P.M. SHARP

This is a Community Project! For several years now Peterborough has had to rely on neighboring towns much smaller in size and population for its hockey games.

Over the years many people were anxious to see the city build an arena of its own, so that our young people could have a place to play hockey, a place where they could watch good sport without travelling miles.

Approximately $10,000 has already been raised; much more is still needed and your committee felt that when the Arena was begun, the remainder would be forthcoming from the citizens.

That time has now come. So as well as inviting the citizens to this memorable event, the committee is making an appeal for the remainder of the funds. ACT NOW!

NO EXCUSES, PLEASE

Your committee has been appointed to build a rink — not listen to stories. We are applying no pressure to anyone to persuade them to give more than they think they can afford. This Arena will be a real asset to the city and everyone who has played a part in its erection will be proud of his effort. All we ask is that you give as much as you can. We don't want another winter without a rink. If every individual and organization does his part the burden will not be too heavy for anyone. Conversation is easy, but action is needed immediately if we are to have an Arena in 1948.

HEADQUARTERS FOR MAIL—Houses are going up so fast in Ville LaSalle, suburb of Montreal, that the city cannot keep up with the demand for sidewalks or paved roads. Post Office regulations say that the postman does not have to deliver mail where there are no sidewalks. Photo shows Mrs. E. R. Bennett looking for mail in her mailbox, which is nailed to telegraph post.

Child Hygiene Clinic Work Shows Big Increase—MOH

Assistance at child hygiene clinics was discussed at the monthly meeting of the Board of Health on Wednesday at the City Hall. For March, 12 clinics were held with a total attendance of 203, and in April, 14 clinics had a total attendance of 335 and at the same time immunization doses increased from 134 to 217. In his report Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, said that the time was rapidly approaching when he would require some medical assistance at the clinics.

James Dutton proposed a rotary system whereby local doctors would help the Medical Officer. "The proper care of children," he said, "is one of the most important phases of public health work and rather than being curtailed, I would like to see it extended." Mayor W. G. Owens suggested that Dr. Kelly examine and report on the situation.

Dr. Kelly reported that he had heard nothing from the Board of Education regarding the question of amalgamation of school and public health services, in reply to a letter from the Board of Health written several months ago. A resolution was passed that a further letter be written to the Board of Education urging upon them the desirability of having an agreement drawn up.

Staff vacancies were mentioned by Dr. Kelly, who said in his monthly report that it was becoming impossible for the level of nursing service to be maintained as no replacement had been obtained for the Public Health Nurse, who had resigned in November last. He also dealt with applications for the position of laboratory technician, and a resolution was passed that he be employed to employ a suitable person.

Increasing difficulty in obtaining institutional treatment for tuberculosis cases was mentioned in Dr. Kelly's report. All hospitals have long waiting lists at present.

Manitoba Faces Truce Or War New Flood Threat

WINNIPEG, May 14—(CP)—Peak waters of the Assiniboine river continued today to pose a threat to thousands of acres in the heart of southern Manitoba, with flood tides battering a mile-long dike on the south side of the river six miles east of Portage La Prairie.

If the struggle to hold back the river fails, farmers who have been working on the dikes day and night for a week fear the waters will burst through and roll southeast toward Oakville, Newton and beyond, flooding miles of farm land. The flooding faced by the danger of further flooding is 65 miles west of Winnipeg.

At Portage, volunteer flood-fighters expressed cautious confidence that the two reinforced dikes protecting the city from a possible flood threat would hold out.

The situation in Saskatchewan, British Columbia and the rest of Manitoba was good, but in Alberta's Rossington district, 50 miles northwest of Edmonton, mountain streams were feeding the already swollen Pembina river.

House Session Lasts 50 Hours

LONDON, May 14—(Reuters)—All long-session records of the Commons were left far behind today when a standing committee considering details of the Bill to nationalize the British gas industry rose shortly after noon. They had been sitting for nearly fifty hours except for a few brief adjournments.

It was the second all-night session for the members who have been trying to rush through the committee stage of the Bill before Parliament adjourns tomorrow for the Whitsun holiday. The committee now has ended its consideration of the Bill.

With a few members periodically falling asleep and visitors coming and going in the Public Gallery, the Conservative Opposition, which has challenged the Government on almost every clause, kept up a lively debate throughout the marathon session. The Gas Bill, which has already been approved in principle by the Commons, must now go before the House again for a final reading before being passed on to the House of Lords.

of patients seeking admission. In April, five new cases were reported and one person died. During the month, 55 people were X-rayed by the chest X-ray clinics financed by the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association. Dr. Harold Worton, Victorian Health Officer, reported on his activities as a full time member of the staff as from April 15. He said that examination of milk and other products revealed that all were properly pasteurized. Two instances of higher counts than necessary were investigated and corrected. One permit for an abattoir was cancelled due to insanitary conditions.

A considerable increase in visits to homes was reported by Miss G. Clark, Supervisor of Nurses, in her monthly report. Visits during April totaled 519 compared with 368 the previous month. A total of 307 new homes were visited and 711 visits made to individuals, of which 379 were visited for the first time. Thirteen office visits were made.

Mr. Dutton presided at the meeting, at which Mayor Owens and Alderman Grant Miller were also present.

Nip Six Drivers For Highway Offences

For a Thursday morning, traffic offences were few in court today.

Paul Minnacola, 86 Morrow St., was fined $4 and $2.50 costs for driving through a red light.

Speeding charges brought fines of $5 and $2.50 costs each from G. N. Moncrief, RR 3, Peterborough; Stanley Dunford, RR 2, Peterborough; Vaughan Tucker, 53 Aberdeen Ave.

C. A. Bowes, 127 Rubidge St., and Michael Crebar, Armour Rd., were each fined $5 and $2.50 costs for failing to produce their drivers' licenses when requested by a police officer.

Named Candidate

PORT WILLIAM, May 13—(CP)—Mayor Charles Cox of Port Arthur last night was nominated Liberal candidate for Port William riding in the Ontario election June 7. Mr. Cox, head of Port Arthur's municipal government for 15 years and a former Minister without portfolio in the Hepburn government, won the candidature by acclamation. He will contest the seat against Mayor Garfield Anderson of Port William, CCF member of the Legislature since 1943, and R. S. Kirkup, Progressive Conservative.

TORONTO, May 14—(CP)—Work will start shortly on "Le Cave at Fourneaux," Ontario's third Hydro project on the Ottawa river, Robert Saunders, Hydro Electric power chairman, announced today. Mr. Saunders estimated 855,000 horse power would be developed on three projects in the province. The other two are at Des Joachims and Chenqaux.

Suspect Parcel Sent To Britain

BRISTOL, Eng., May 14—(Reuters)—A suspected parcel bomb mailed from Palestine to "The Head Postmaster, Bristol" was being examined here today by explosive experts.

The parcel, believed to contain metal, bore a declaration that it contained "Easter sweets." It was signed by an uncommon English name, and had a Middle East Army postmark.

The Postmaster said the parcel might be genuine, but he was not taking any chances after the parcel bomb killing last week of Rex Farran, brother of Captain Roy Farran. Capt. Farran was acquitted last year in Palestine of the murder of a young Jew.

Detectives making tests of the parcel, refused to make a statement until they had completed their inquiries, but one said it was believed similar parcels would be received by people in Britain during the next few weeks.

"We regard the whole thing as a bit of a scare," he said.

District Police Want PAO To Convene Here

Peterborough has entered a strong bid to be the scene of the 1949 annual convention of the Police Association of Ontario. The occasion was a banquet for the members of the executive and Board of Management of that organization, which held an all-day meeting in the city Thursday.

Mayor William Owens was the first speaker to broach the proposal. On behalf of the city and district, he extended a "warm and sincere" invitation to the P.A.O. to meet here. He drew applause from the visitors by his reference to the fishing and scenic attractions of the Kawartha area.

(It was later explained that such a convention would probably involve about 500 police officials from all parts of the province, as well as prominent Canadian and American police authorities as speakers. The business sessions would last four days.)

PC John Morrow of the Peterborough City Police, president of the Kawartha District Police Association and Lakefield Police Chief Garnet Samis also extended an invitation to make this the site of the 1949 meeting.

Peterborough Police Chief John Thompson welcomed the visiting police officials.

Inspector E. V. McNeil, commanding officer of No. 8 District Headquarters, Peterborough, also spoke briefly. He expressed himself "in complete accord with the work of the Police Association of Ontario," and mentioned the harmony which existed in work of the provincial force and the municipal departments.

Chairman of the meeting was Police Inspector Arthur Webster of the Forest Hill Village force. In reply to the Peterborough invitation, he intimated that "there is little doubt in my mind as to what the choice of the 1949 convention will be."

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR RINK — Dick Ouimet, Right, chairman of the Civic Arena Committee, was bug-eyed with surprise on Thursday afternoon when Don G. McGillis presented him with a personal cheque for one thousand dollars, an amount ten times larger than any contribution to date. Mr. McGillis is behind the young men of the city and has always been very active in sponsoring sporting programs. His sons, Gerald, Left Rear, and Don, Jr., both well-known athletes, look on with pride.

McGillis Donates $1,000 To Help Build Civic Arena

Chairman of the Civic Arena Committee, Dick Ouimet had heard that Donald McGillis, owner of Hotel McGillis, was a hard man to get to see, and when he received a call this morning to come around and pick up a donation, he was somewhat nervous. Mr. Ouimet had to wait in the lobby several minutes, and had time to figure about how much the donation would be. He had decided $100 would be very welcome when Mr. McGillis appeared and invited him into the inner office.

Mr. Ouimet's eyes bulged when he took a look at the certified cheque because it was ten times the amount he had expected, an even $1,000. He looked at it several times to be sure his eyes were not playing tricks on him. It was larger than any previous personal donation by ten times.

"I want to do my share in keeping the young men from hanging around corners, and to stimulate an interest in good clean sport," Mr. McGillis said, "and if this contribution will help toward

Tax Collector Reports Fine Cooperation

City Treasurer S. A. Couper reports the bulk of the municipal business tax, due May 13, has been paid a month earlier than usual. "And it has also been in a lump sum instead of three instalments spread across the summer and fall," Mr. Couper said today. "The response of business to the change this year by advancing the time for payment has been most satisfactory and co-operative. There have been several minor complaints, but generally the heads of business have shown a fine civic spirit."

"This tax has now been paid before the middle of May instead of the first week of June in other years. Taxpayers had also the three instalments as with the main levy, and everything has gone smoothly. It relieves quite a lot of the pressure from the first payments that are due May 27, 1947 Assessment."

A first total of the figures indicates that about 95 per cent of the business tax is now in the treasury. Of course it is understood by business that this levy is on the assessment of 1947, and is thereby different from the tax on property. The latter tax is due and payable this year on the assessment made last year.

"The main observation I would like to make is that the business taxpayers deserve a word of approval and appreciation for their response."

"The property tax bills are arriving in the south and centre wards whose residents have been selected for the first of three instalment payments, not later than May 27. West and north wards follow to June 3, and East and Clarendon wards June 10."

EXPLAIN INCREASE

"Convenience for the taxpayer and the collecting staff at the city hall is the purpose in setting sectional payment periods. The tax bills are enclosed with an explanation of the increase of 5½ mills in the municipal rate whose incidence is now about to be felt. Ratepayers may take time off to read and apply this balm to an irritation some may feel."

"Somewhere in the financial fabric is a substantial amount for increased wages virtually in all departments. And at the same time the hours of work have been reduced. A recent analysis made of wage rates in city factories shows that municipal salaries have not increased in the same ratio with hourly rates paid industrial workers."

Peterborough has been increasing its civic borrowing after a fairly long stretch of "pay-as-you-go," and the trend is reflected in the debenture charges, the cost of borrowing, in this year's taxes. The amount of this increase is $71,813.77 represented by 1.95 mills.

An echo of budgeting time and its explanations is found in the following paragraph: "Turning finally to the general rates, which alone is the part more or less directly under control of the city council, we find that the amount to be spent this year is $113,072.20 above the figure for last year, resulting in an increase in the rate of 2.15 mills. One mill of this is for the deficit incurred last year."

Finally, the salving close of the statement: "The 5½ mills advance in the rate results in an increase in the taxes payable on a house assessed at $3,000 of $15.15 or an increase of $1.26 monthly in the operating expense of this house."

The august dignity of the Board of Education deliberations was temporarily shattered Thursday night as a baseball crashed through a window on the lower floor of the building where the meeting was being held. A dozen young charges of the Board, who had been playing ball in the yard below scattered with incredible speed in several directions. After ascertaining the site and extent of the damages, the Board resumed its session.—R.B.

Police Commission To Quiz Taxi Operators On Passenger Complaints

The current practice of taxi companies in which they pick up several fares while on one trip was questioned at a meeting of the Police Commission on Thursday afternoon. It was pointed out that instead of taking a passenger directly to his destination, the cab calls at several other addresses to pick up fares, often delaying the original passenger.

To discuss this problem the Commission has arranged to meet the Taxi Drivers' Association on May 27.

Six applications for taxi drivers' licenses were approved. They were from Ward Hubble, Rutherford St.; Timothy Donnelly, Stewart St.; Stewart Grant, Wolfe St.; John Bolderson, Bennett St.; Russell Riches, Rink St.; and Thomas Windrem, Aylmer St.

There are now 60 taxicabs in the city with 24 licensed owners and 80 licensed drivers. Promotions of three policemen were approved: William G. Scott, to second class constable, and Eldon McDonald and Sherman Kelleie to third class constables.

Application for a Drive-Self Cab licence was made by John C. Donnelly, Stewart St. The commissioners discussed it briefly after Mr. Donnelly outlined his plan, but decided to defer action on it until after the meeting with the Taxi Drivers' Association, the 27th.

A contract for maintenance of police radio equipment with the C.G.E. was agreed to.

WARNING TO CITIZENS

George Barns, president Peterborough branch, Health League of Canada reported today that complaints had come in about a woman canvasser. According to reports the woman is selling a medical dictionary, but gains admittance to home by leading people to believe she is with the Health League. "We do not do any house-to-house canvassing nor are we connected with any specific religious group," Mr. Barns said. In other words, the woman has no connection with, nor authority from, the local branch of the Health League.

Give Scot Chance To Plead Case In United States

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Alistair Nicholson, a Scot who claims he was shanghaied into the United States Army, got a chance Wednesday to seek freedom from Ellis Island. At the same time experts disagreed on whether he is suffering from "psychopathic constitutional inferiority."

The 23-year-old former Glasgow seaman is awaiting deportation at Ellis Island.

Judge Murray Hulbert granted him a writ of habeas corpus, giving him a chance to plead his case in court May 18.

If Nicholson is deported this time, his petition revealed, it will be his second deportation from the United States—with an unwilling hitch in the US Army in between.

Picked Up By Police

When he arrived at Southampton, he said, American military police picked him up as a United States Army deserter.

Nicholson said he went to Niagara Falls, Ont., last Jan. 3 with a New York newspaper man who wanted to verify his story through an aunt there.

When they returned from Canada, he said, he became worried about possible irregularity in crossing the border. He went to immigration authorities in Philadelphia, and was told to "report in" at Ellis Island.

He said his deportation is based on his alleged illegal entry from Canada. He contends this was not illegal because he originally was brought to the United States by the army "against my will."

Mrs. Ona Thorndyke, convener of Home Economics, gave a talk on soap, its origin and economic uses. Mrs. R. Carr read a poem.

Subject chosen for the District Cooperative Program was "Administrative Leadership." An exchange of plant slips took place. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. Ryley, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Monk and Mrs. Jennings.

Former Pitcher Discusses Baseball Angles

Following are some interesting comments on baseball by Fred Maybee of Peterborough:

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the old Cub and Cardinal hurler who fanned Lazzari with the bases loaded and two gone in the world series of 1926, was one of the craftiest of all pitchers.

Contrary to what many fans believe, Alex struck out Lazzari with a "screw-ball" not a curve, in the seventh inning of the seventh game of the series and held the Yanks scoreless for the balance of the fray to win out and give Hornsby the title, in his first year as manager.

Hornsby had previously led the league in hitting, six years in a row.

Jim Deakin, former twirler for Indianapolis in the American Association and later a pitcher for Renfrew, in the old St. Lawrence league in the early 'thirties who was a personal friend of Alexander's related this to me.

Deakin himself had a great "sinker" and a fine "knuckler" or "floater" both of which he claimed Alex had shown him.

Since I tried to pitch a little myself, "Big Jim" showed me the grips and I never tried to develop the deliveries much.

The grip for the floater and sinker is the same but the difference in delivery makes the effect entirely different.

The floater does not rotate at all but approaches the plate in a sort of hypnotic manner and will break down in different crazy ways.

The straight sinker turns downward as it approaches the plate but not with the spin of the old "school-boy drop."

The old drop breaks sharply down and out a bit whereas the real sinker if properly delivered just sinks and sinks straight down beginning about half-way to the plate and is, difficult indeed to hit because its course differs from a curve.

HIS GOLF STAR STILL SHINES BRIGHT

IN 1946, GENE BEAT SAMMY SNEAD, THEN THE BRITISH OPEN TITLE HOLDER, IN AN EARLY ROUND OF THE U.S. PRO CHAMPIONSHIP.

The "screw-ball" is a twisting slow dropping "in-curve" similar to Matty's "fadeaway."

It breaks down and in to a right-hander delivered by a right-hander and vice-versa, to a left.

When Alex faced Lazzari in the series, he tried a straight curve and Tony homered foul by about three feet into the left-field stands. Lazzari batted right.

Alexander's strikeout pitch was a screw-ball after getting another strike past Tony. Alexander used his head at all times and although he claimed he feared no hitter, often walked a dangerous batter. He walked Ruth a few times in crucial spots in this particular series. His control was perfect.

And Alex was asked if he could hit a small straw hat hung over the plate. His reply was 'About eight times out of ten. If I throw but once however, I would advise that particularly individual to buy a new hat'. None doubted Alex's word.

Trying It Out
One night at Coney Island when ever twirled. Young has the satisfaction of knowing however, that Alex was never able to equal his perfect game against the old Athletics and "Rube" Waddell in 1903, when not a man reached first for the A's and Cy was victor L-O.

The passing of Walter Johnson removed the only 400 winner in the American with 417 victories. Tony Lazzari whose sudden passing at 41 came as a shock, was the hardest hitter I have ever seen for his weight.

Standing five feet eleven inches and weighing about 160 Lazzari could give the ball a great ride. His 60 homers in the Pacific Coast league the year before coming up to the Yankees was phenomenal at the time and still is.

Lazzari claimed he gained strength working in a boiler foundry as a youth. Ruth said it was spaghetti.

Only Foxx of the right-handed hitters could hit a little harder than Lazzari I thought, of those I saw play.

With another baseball season under way let us hope more colourful players of the type of these good old timers like Alexander and the rest, will appear.

And let us hope that Peterboro can develop a few players who can some day make the big leagues.

Dried Foods Which Increase In Bulk Under Preparation

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA, May 14.—(CP)—No cook wants to be caught short on her servings. On the other hand, if she doesn't want the refrigerator continually crowded with leftover foods, she must pay some attention to this problem of quantity.

Home economics have prepared a list of dried foods which increase in bulk under various conditions of preparation:

One cup dry macaroni makes two cups when cooked; one cup dried rice makes three cups when cooked; one cup quick-cooked rolled oats makes 2 2/3 cups porridge; one cup rolled or flaked wheat makes three cups porridge; one cup dried white beans gives three cups cooked.

Here are the answers to other recipe quantities:

Eighteen small square crackers yield one cup when crumbled; 12 graham crackers yield one cup when rolled; one-quarter pound cheese when grated makes one cup; one cup whipping cream beats up to two cups; one pound green peas, in the pod, when shelled and cooked, yields one cup; one pound (four medium) beets yields two cups cooked and diced; one pound cabbage yields four cups shredded; one pound (three medium) apples yields three cups when peeled and diced.

Asparagus Days
This is the asparagus season, and the housewife is warned to give those delicate tips and tender asparagus stalks just the right degree of heat and no more. Overcooking causes the vegetable to lose flavor, color and food value.

When preparing asparagus tips trim off any rough ends and remove the scales along the stalk. To cook whole stalks: tie stalks together loosely; stand upright in saucepan or kettle in enough boiling, salted water to come a third of the way up the stalks. Cover and cook 10 to 25 minutes, or until asparagus is just tender.

To cook cut-up pieces: cut asparagus into two-inch lengths. Drop the lower stalk pieces into a small quantity of boiling, salted water. Cover and cook five to 10 minutes and then add tips and continue cooking until tips are tender. Fresh, young asparagus may be ready in 10 minutes after cooking begins; less tender stalks may need 20 to 25 minutes.

Methods of serving: freshly-cooked — seasoned and dressed with melted butter or strips of cooked bacon; chilled — in a salad with lettuce and dressing.

Asparagus may also be served on toast with cream sauce, cheese sauce or hollandaise; in an omelet or cream of asparagus soup; asparagus scalloped with hard-cooked egg.

Asparagus with cheese sauce — sauce ingredients: three tablespoons butter; three tablespoons flour; one-half cup liquid from vegetable, one-half cup milk; one quarter teaspoon salt; one eighth teaspoon pepper; one-third cup plain cheese, paprika. The asparagus is cooked, drained and arranged on buttered toast with cheese sauce poured over it.

Miss Helen Hajnik delighted the members by singing Schubert's "Serenade" and "Lights of Home." Miss Hajnik was accompanied on the piano by Miss Bernice Greenan.

Mrs. Bernard Holland, president, was in the chair. Annual report submitted by the secretary revealed that St. John's Home and School Association has made amazing progress since its organization in December, 1947. Women of India Achieve New Status by Proposed Act

NEW DELHI, May 14.—(Reuters)—Women have won a big victory in the new draft Hindu Code—so much so that one member of the Indian parliament suggested recently that it be called the "Hindu Women's Code" instead of the "Hindu Code."

If the present draft bill, sponsored by the law minister, Dr. Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar, becomes law, this is what the Hindu woman, regarded in practice and assumed hitherto in law as the property of her husband, will gain.

1. Her husband will not be able to take another wife while she is living. (Polygamy is recognized in Hindu law although in practice economic factors and "enlightened conscience" severely restrict its exercise).

2. She will be able to claim separate maintenance from her husband if she is suffering from a loathsome disease, keeps a concubine, is guilty of cruelty, has abandoned her for two years or has changed his religion, and if there is any other cause justifying her living separately. (Hitherto under the provisions of Hindu law, a wife has been entitled to claim maintenance from her husband if she does not live with him in his house).

3. The property which is given her by her parents as a dowry on her marriage will be treated as trust property and she will be entitled to claim it when she comes to the age of 18, so that neither steadily, there being more than 90 members at the present time. Prospects of the Association for the coming year are indicative of renewed endeavor in all parts of Home and School work. The slate of officers brought in at the organizing meeting has been re-elected for the forthcoming year. Mr. Wilfred Jones has been appointed to fill a vacancy on the executive committee.

Plans were made to sponsor a school picnic on June 28 under general convener'ship of the president, Mrs. Holland, with Mrs. B. Monaghan, president of the social committee and Mr. J. Doleman convener of the sports and prizes committee.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. George-Maloney and her committee.

NORTH MONAGHAN GROVE SCHOOL

Annual meeting of the Home and School Association of North Monaghan Grove School was held Wednesday evening. Nominations report read by the convener, Mrs. E. McKinstry, was approved and the following officers were installed for 1948-49 by Mrs. A. W. Nelson, president of Home and School Council: president, Mrs. Fred Sanders; vice presidents, Mrs. E. Drury and Mrs. E. McKinstry; treasurer, Mrs. W. Higgins; recording secretary, Mrs. D. Keene; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. Whitfield. Executive members are Mrs. E. Linsey, Mrs. W. Wood, Mrs. H. Fowler, Mrs. H. F. Doig and Mrs. W. W. Sheppard.

A past president's pin was presented to Mrs. J. Colt by Mrs. Walter Wood, in recognition of her splendid work for the association.

Delegates to the recent conference in Toronto, Mrs. W. W. Sheppard and Mrs. Earl Drury, read comprehensive reports. Annual reports were given by Mrs. S. Whitfield, program convener, Mrs. E. McKinstry, corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Hargrave, publications convener; Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, social convener; Mrs. H. McMann, sunshine convener; Mrs. C. Barnes, membership convener.

Several movie films were shown by Mr. Alex Bird, principal, after which lunch was served by Mrs. Sheppard and her committee.

her husband nor the relations of her husband will have any interest in that property nor will they have any opportunity to waste it and make her helpless for the rest of her life.

4. She is given a share in the property of her father if he dies intestate. Her share is prescribed as half of that of the son.

5. If she has a right to inherit property, she gets it by reason of the fact that she is declared to be an heir irrespective of any other considerations. (Under the existing law, discrimination is made other female heirs, as to whether a particular woman is rich or poor or unmarried, or whether she is with issue or without issue. The present bill abolishes all these considerations).

6. Under existing Hindu law where she inherits property from a female relative dying intestate, she gets only what is called a "life estate." She can enjoy the income of the property but cannot deal with the corpus of the property except for legal necessity. The bill converts this limited estate as in the case of the male heir.

woman represented only a small although vital, part of the draft code.

While the existing law recognizes only "sacramental" marriage or marriage performed according to Hindu scriptural rites, the draft code recognizes both "sacramental" and "civil" or "registered" marriages.

The code dispenses with the condition that there must be identity of caste and sub-caste for a valid sacramental marriage and lays it down that marriage will be valid irrespective of the caste or sub-caste of the parties entering into the marriage.

The sacramental marriage under the existing law is indissoluble. There can be no divorce. The draft code makes a new departure by making provisions for the dissolution of marriage and specifies seven grounds on which divorce can be obtained.

Find Women Good Drivers Says Auto-Club Official

QUEBEC, May 14 (CP)—Once strictly back seat drivers, Quebec women have moved into the driver's seat. And although it pricks his pride somewhat, the male animal grudgingly agrees she does a better chore of driving than he does.

Actually women drivers are not as bad as they're painted, says Auguste Pion, president of the Quebec Automobile Club. "As a matter of fact, I think they're much less dangerous on the highways sitting behind the wheel of a car than driving from the back seat."

While no official statistics are available, it is estimated that but 15 per cent of women drivers were involved in traffic crack-ups throughout the province during 1947. Auto accidents in Quebec last year totalled 18,801.

The statistics branch of the department of trade and commerce, probably due to numerous enquiries on the subject, propose to settle all arguments this year. Statistics on accidents for 1948 will include the drivers involved by sex.

Meanwhile the license bureau reports a marked increase has been noted each year since the end of the war in the number of women applicants for operator's permits. Statisticians also consider this an interesting item to be added to their 1948 report. "More and more women are turning to driving each year," says Pion. He attributes their success as car operators to the fact they are as wary of a male driver on the road as a male-driver is traditionally cautious of a woman-driver.

Knox Church CGIT Group Holds 15th Annual Banquet

Tables were effectively decorated in a blue and white color scheme, symbolic of CGIT, for the 15th annual mother and daughter banquet of Knox United Church group. More than 175 guests were entertained Wednesday evening in the lecture hall, with special guests, including the Rev. H. G. Douglas and Mrs. Douglas, the Rev. Wm. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Morrison, Miss Catherine Hodgins, Mrs. J. F. Morrison and the speaker of the evening, Miss Margaret Greene. The chairman was Miss Joyce Pitchford, CGIT president.

Grace was sung by a trio of girls, Misses Marion Galbraith, Beatrice Kay and Barbara Outram. A toast to the church was proposed by Miss June Drummond and Mr. Douglas responded. Miss Margaret Johnston gave the toast to the mothers, and her mother, Mrs. T. Johnston, replied. Greetings from the Girls' Work Board were brought by the chairman, Miss Catherine Hodgins.

Miss Margaret Greene, guest speaker, whose message stressed the "importance of mothers," was introduced by Miss Fern Carveth. She took her theme from the answer given by a queen who was asked what she wanted to leave her children, "I want to leave them happy memories of a happy home life." To the daughters she said, "Take time! Take time to be courteous, kind, loving, considerate, happy and obedient, to preserve, to be thankful, to learn a hobby, to cultivate the mind, and take time for spiritual development." In conclusion she urged the girls, "Be the best of whatever you are."

Miss Inez Barrer moved a vote of thanks to Miss Greene, and Mrs. A. Huffman, group leader, presented her with a token of appreciation.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Huffman, who then announced her retirement as CGIT leader, after 20 years' service in this work. Miss Joyce Pitchford read an address expressing grateful recognition of her splendid leadership, and a parting gift from present and former CGIT girls was presented by Miss Lois Williams.

The Rev. Wm. MacDonald, former minister at Knox Church, has attended all but four of these annual banquets, and he spoke grabbed the lines and in a short time brought the team under control," said Mr. Melvor.

He asked Agriculture Minister Gardiner to consider a "suitable honor" for the girl.

Mr. Gardiner was applauded when he replied that he felt he should express the appreciation of the House for what Miss Black had done.

position of leader in the place of Mrs. Huffman.

A pleasing program commenced with a lively sing-song led by Miss Velma Stewart, with Mr. Potter at the piano. Solos were contributed by Misses Lou Ann Kemp and June Adams, and the trio of girls sang two numbers. A comic version of "After the Ball," sung by the CGIT girls, assisted by Miss Fern Carveth, was greatly enjoyed. Miss Phyllis Kidd was the piano accompanist. Two readings were given by Miss Dorothy Magee, and the girls gave their flag salute, pledge and purpose.

Miss Ornye McIlraith moved a vote of thanks to those taking part in the program, and to the women who assisted in preparing the supper and the boys who served.

Those assisting the CGIT leaders prepare supper were Mrs. M. Lindsay, Mrs. T. Johnston, Mrs. F. A. Kidd, Mrs. T. Wallace, Mrs. J. Marchen and Miss M. Seager. Boys who served were Bob Morrison, Bob Sarginson, Edward Potter, Orville Clarke and Don Hendren.

Present leaders of Knox CGIT group are Mrs. Ada Huffman, Miss Phyllis Kidd, Miss Inez Barrer and Miss Marion Brown.

Flowers were placed on the head table by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Trotter in memory of their daughter, Miss Jean Trotter, who was a CGIT girl.

Flower Ballet Big Feature Of Gym Pageant

Are you going to the YWCA gym pageant Tuesday evening at the Summer Gardens? Everything is in order for the one big night and rehearsals will conclude Saturday. Last fitting of costumes has been taken and they are ready for a brilliant stage appearance at eight o'clock on May 18.

This year the "Flower Ballet" is the big attraction of this event, enjoyed annually by hundreds of citizens. Daisies, roses, morning glories, pansies, baby bumble bees, butterflies, graceful nymphs of the summer breeze will all be seen in this colorful garden. The costumes alone are worth seeing, all original designs by Miss Caroline F. Littlefield, YWCA physical director, and made up by women of local church groups. But, when irresistible wee tots, adorable little girls and sophisticated juniors wear them, the effect is just "out of this world."

Hundreds of girls from babies to seniors take part in the gym review giving an exhibition of clever class routines, majorette and wand exercises and mat work. Business girls specialize in the graceful eurythmic ball work and climbing gymnastics, but the small size performers steal the show with their dumb-bell hit-and-miss exercises.

Members of the Lions Club are assisting at the one night performance, and have made it possible for Miss Littlefield to present the pageant in spacious surroundings, thus assuring every guest a full view of proceedings.

"And now, ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Gobbie M. Upp will tell you about his hobby."

"Ya, sure, folks, my hobby is spooning!"

"But Mr. Upp... at your age?"

"Aw cut it out—I mean spooning honey-golden, malty-rich, sweet-as-a-nut Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes... um-m-m."

"Oh—you like their flavor?"

"Are you kidding? I'm ca-ra-zy about it, mister—just ca-ra-zy!"

"You mean you sit around all day gorging yourself with that super-delicious flavor?"

"Well, Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes are sky-high in nourishment too—so they make me feel like a tiger."

"Like what?"

"Like carbohydrates for energy and minerals for growth and muscle."

"Say—those Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes sound good!"

"They do sound good—and they taste out-of-this-world!"

"And can you use them as an ingredient for cookies and cakes and things?"

"Sure thing. You'll find a variety of recipes on the package."

"That does it. We're signing off—and I'm signing on for some delicious Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

THE STARS SAY....

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, May 15

Although there are signs of static, congested or stubborn obstacles and limitations, yet it will be amply worthwhile to gather all the forces, faculties, energies and initiative on a determined and astute effort to break down all delays, obstructions and frustrations. It will be found that consolidated mental and emotional urges can be successfully brought to bear, in exceptionally shrewd, sagacious and far-reaching endeavor. Unexpected support may be attracted, while public, personal and even romantic satisfactions should prove enduring and happy.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to concentrate their forces, faculties, energies and opportunities on a concrete determination to break up all obstacles, congestions, frustrations and opposition, from whatever source. This show of astute and diligent attack on obstructions or setbacks could enlist aid from a surprising source, resulting in public, private and perhaps romantic gratifications of lasting and far-reaching denouement. Method, organization and acumen are sure to vanquish adverse situations and bring unforeseen and lasting joys.

A child born on this day is well-equipped for the benefits and imperments of life, being clever, patient, with keen insight and far vision, sustained by sound character.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Warned on Technique Of College Boy, Odd Ideas

DEAR MISS DIX: What would you think if you told a college boy that you loved him and he replied that he thought very much of you, but that when he said "I love you" he wanted to be real sure about it? The night before I told him I loved him he was asking me what my idea of a honeymoon for a young couple should be, and what did I think of living in a trailer for a year or two so we could save some money?

Do you think that he loves me and is holding back to make me prove my love? Or do you think he is just another Romeo?

B. M.

ANSWER: Nobody can look into the heart of a college boy and tell whether it is really palpitating with deathless love, or whether he is just trying to put on a romantic act. I take rather a dim view of your case, for I think if the boy really is terribly in love with you he wouldn't be so analytical of his feelings. He would know how you stood in his affections.

At any rate, it seems to me that you are playing the game badly by telling the boy that you are in love with him. That takes all of the pep out of the courtship, for boys especially like to think that they are the pursuers instead of the pursued.

Mere Talk

Don't take seriously his asking you to views on a honeymoon. That sounds like mere conversation, for he would be telling you and drawing a rosy picture of his feelings if he really had any intentions of marrying you at any time soon.

Certainly he is putting you to a good test of your affections when he proposes living for a year or two in a trailer. That must be love.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Divorce for a flimsy reason has no tolerance of mine, but there are certain sad situations that call for drastic measures, and I am up against such a problem. My husband is an alcoholic. I have been advised to treat him as a sick man and not as an erring husband. I have suffered every indignity at his hands, even to being knocked down by him before my children.

Once I got him to take an interest in Alcoholics Anonymous and he attended two meetings, but that ended it. I have recently persuaded him to see a leading psychiatrist dealing with alcoholics and there seems to have been an improvement already. There has been less drinking and not so often.

When he doesn't drink, he is a splendid personality, but when he drinks he is so brutal he could, and might, easily kill me. Do you think that if this present attempt at the solution of the problem does not succeed that I would be justified in a separation? But, unfortunately, even divorce might not solve anything, for he is devoted to all of us and would no doubt return from time to time to us and want to be taken back. But, on the other hand, if I continue to bear with him, our home atmosphere is stormy, unhappy and rough, no place for children to be brought up in.

What shall I do? Either way is a bitter pill to swallow.

INTOLERANT

ANSWER: You sign yourself wrongly. You seem to have had the patience of Job in bearing with your unfortunate husband

But your problem is one on which I can throw no light. It needs the wisdom of the learned psychiatrist to even suggest what course is best for you to follow.

Of course, drunkards do sometimes reform and without doubt the alcoholics Anonymous have done, and are doing, a marvelous work, but the men who come back from the gutter have some core of strength in them that your poor husband seems to lack. Even the Alcoholics Anonymous warn those who ask for help that they can do nothing for them unless they have a great desire to be reformed. After all, reformation has to come from within. In the end it is will power that does it, and if that has been drowned in liquor the ease is hopeless. You have to decide for yourself what you will do. Personally, I see no reason why a fine woman should sacrifice her whole life for the sake of a drunken sot. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

SEEK PROTECTION TOO
"COUNT the sure tricks in sight; then, if there are not enough to fulfill the contract, declarer should look over all possibilities to win the extra needed tricks." That is very well said. Add to it one more admonition and you cover the whole basic problem of declarer's planning: "In choosing the best way to seek those needed extra tricks, consider what steps will afford greatest protection against the moves of the defenders."

That splendid example of sound play at No Trumps is given by Mrs. Mary Flasher, of Columbus, one of Ohio's and the country's ablest bridge instructors, in her book aptly entitled "You Too Can Play Bridge." It illustrates the way to count up tricks, as outlined in the first quotation above, and also furnishes a good example of our own follow-up quote.

King Plans 30 Million Health Grant

Says All Provinces
To Be Eligible;
Covers 5-Year Period

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
OTTAWA, May 15 (CP).—The Federal Government is ready to make multi-million dollar grants to the provinces to help them expand their public health services to a point where national health insurance can be started. In a surprise announcement in the Commons Friday Prime Minister Mackenzie King said that his administration is ready to distribute $30,000,000 a year among the provinces during the next five years. At the end of five years parts of the scheme will be reviewed.

But Health Minister Martin said at an informal press conference that, aside from the review, the program is "permanent."

In the main, these preliminary steps will be the awarding of grants to cover:

1. A health survey.
2. Strengthening of general public health services.
3. Tuberculosis control.
4. Mental health care.
5. Venereal disease control.
6. Treatment of crippled children.

7. Professional training of public health personnel.
8. Public health research.
9. Control of cancer.
10. Hospital construction.

Open To All Provinces
Mr. King said the money, which will have to be voted by parliament before the end of the current session, will be earmarked for use by the provinces in the vital fields of health survey, cancer, tuberculosis and venereal disease control, treatment of crippled children, research, mental health care and hospital construction.

All provinces will be entitled to a share of the federal grants. The fact that Ontario and Quebec still lack taxation agreements with the federal government will not disqualify them. The only condition attached to the grants is that the provinces maintain "at least" their present expenditure on health services. Generally, the grants will be 30 MILLION

Woman 83 Dies Of Bad Burns

LINDSAY, May 15 (Special).—Mrs. Sabrina Johnston, 83-year-old resident of Little Britain, died in hospital here Friday morning as a result of burns received Thursday afternoon while working at her home. It was reported by her aged husband and neighbors who took her to hospital that her dress caught fire from an electric hot plate she had been using.

First to her side, attracted by her screams for help, was her husband, who managed to extinguish the flames only after they had burnt her severely.

Ross Kay, a neighbor, drove the injured woman and her husband to Lindsay hospital where first aid was administered.

Mrs. Johnston died 11 hours after the accident.

Dr. G. C. R. Hall, Lindsay, reported that the burns had been extensive and had taken most of the clothing away from flames.

Freighter Hits Mine, Sinking Off Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—(AP).—United States coast guard headquarters here reported today an SOS from the U.S. freighter William E. Channing saying it had struck a mine and was sinking fast about 35 miles off Crescent City, on the northern California coast.

The coast guard said later, however, that there appeared some mistake in the identity of the vessel. The call letters were for the Channing but port authorities at Astoria, Ore., said the vessel was laid up in port there.

The coast guard said the mine apparently strayed from a Japanese wartime mine-field broken up by spring storms.

3 Boats Hurry To Assist Floundering Ship

HALIFAX, May 15 (CP).—Two powerful tugs and the R.C.M.P. cutter Irvine were rushing to the assistance of the Imperial Oil tanker Imperial Welland which went aground off Canso, N.S., early today.

Crew of the tanker were ready to abandon ship after the tanker struck on Cranberry Island and the engine-room flooded. All power was cut off and the regular wireless transmitter thrown out of commission.

The last message from the 250-foot ship said they were saving the emergency battery-powered transmitter for a further distress message if their position became more serious.

Search and rescue official at Halifax said they had been unable to contact the ship for several hours.

Canso is about 120 miles east of Halifax.

The 2,052-ton tanker, commanded by Capt. E. J. Williams of Halifax, was en route from Lewisport, Nfld., supply base for Gander airport, to Halifax when she went aground.

One of a Great Lakes type used in coastal work, the tanker was formerly the Royalite. She was built at Collingwood in 1916 and is registered at Sarnia.

The Irvine left Port Hawkesbury, N.S., early today to stand by the Imperial Welland and take off the crew if necessary. The salvage tugs Foundation Josephine from Halifax and Foundation Franklin from North Sydney, N.S., also were en route to the tanker.

India Announces Nine Men On Trial For Gandhi Death

NEW DELHI, May 15. (AP).—The Indian government announced today the names of nine men who must stand trial for their lives on charges that they conspired to engineer the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The official gazette of India named N. V. Godse as the trigger man and said he and his eight co-defendants would be tried before Judge Atma Charan, a session judge at Calcutta. Judge Charan will head a special court at Delhi's historic Red Fort.

Official sources said the trial likely will start "towards the end of next week." Gandhi was slain in New Delhi Jan. 30, and the investigation since has been veiled by official secrecy.

The gazette linked Godse with Madan Lal, who was accused of planting a bomb at Gandhi's prayer grounds, later the scene of his death. The bomb exploded without casualties 10 days before Gandhi fell to an assassin's pistol.

Guards Use Fixed Bayonets To Halt Angry Strikers

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn., May 15 (AP).—National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets held back a surly crowd of about 500 persons here today as automobiles containing workers followed by more than a score of military vehicles carrying soldiers moved into the strike-bound Swift and Company packing plant. The strike was called by the United Packinghouse Workers' Union (CIO).

Guardsmen broke up one scuffle quickly when a man in the crowd attempted to seize a soldier's rifle.

Persons in the crowd shouted boos, curses and catcalls. Some sang the National Anthem mockingly. A small detachment of guardsmen on duty when the first automobiles of workers started moving into the plant were quickly reinforced.

More than 25 automobiles loaded with workers moved into the plant in quick succession. The crowd lining the edge of the street near the Swift plant entrance shouted threats and surged forward as the workers drove by.

Drive Crowd Back
Guardsmen, their bayonets at point, drove the crowd back.

Within a few minutes, a large convoy of National Guard trucks loaded with troops moved into the plant.

A vehicle carrying a squad of carbine-armed soldiers patrolled the nearby downtown area, of South St. Paul.

Thirty-four National Guard trucks, including convoy vehicles, half-tracks, jeeps and ambulances moved into the plant.

NEWPORT, Minn., May 15 (AP).—Minnesota National Guardsmen moved into strike-bound meat packing plants here early today. Detachments were bivouacked at the Cudahy plant.

The gazette gave no hint of details of the alleged conspiracy, merely stating that the defendants would be tried under sections of the Indian Arms and Explosive Substances Act and Indian penal code sections which are punishable by death on the gallows.

It identified the defendants as members of the Mahatma race, known foes of Gandhi's policy of love and non-violence toward Moslems. The Moslems are traditional enemies of the Mahatmas.

Defendants named in addition to Godse and Madan Lal, included V. D. Savarkar, former president of the anti-Mohammedan Ali India Hindu Mahasabha, an old-time revolutionary independence worker, and Gopal Vinayak Godse, brother of the accused assassin.

Except for Godse, a newspaper editor at Poona, and Savarkar, a lawyer and author, all are virtually unknown to the Indian public.

Egypt Sends 2 Columns To Palestine

Call On All Arabs
Bring Holy War Against Israel, Jews

CAIRO, May 15.—(AP).—Egypt announced today that two columns of her mechanized troops and artillery crossed the border into Palestine today, destroyed a Jewish village and speared northward toward Gaza.

The Ministry of Defence said Egyptian planes bombed the military airport in Tel Aviv, Israel's temporary capital, destroying a hangar and one DC-3 plane on the ground. Egyptian planes also scattered propaganda leaflets over Tel Aviv.

A high spiritual leader of Moslems here called upon all Arabs to bring holy war to Israel against the Zionists, saying:

"Be ready to die for Allah."

The foreign office announced that Foreign Minister Ahmed Khushba Pasha handed notes to the foreign ambassadors, including the American, Russian, and British envoys, outlining Egypt's views on her intervention in the Holy Land.

Under Martial Law
Steel-helmeted police patrolled Cairo's streets. The entire country is under martial law, proclaimed last night by King Farouk to safeguard troop movements. The king promised that Egyptian Jews who remain loyal to the government will be protected.

Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha said Friday night in a statement that Egypt ordered her armed forces into Palestine to "restore security and order" and stop "massacres perpetrated by terrorist Zionist gangs."

Shortly before, Al Assas, Cairo newspaper of the Premier's party, said its correspondent with the Egyptian army reported that two columns jumped off into Palestine at dawn Friday.

Al Assas said the invasion commander was Gen. Ahmed Mohamed Al-Mawowee Bey, 50, leader of troops regularly stationed in the Sinai Peninsula. Recent estimates of these troops have ranged from 6,000 to 16,000.

The Premier's statement followed King Farouk's decree declaring martial law throughout Egypt and appointing Nokrashy Pasha military governor. The decree was effective the first minutes after midnight.

Egyptian police started rounding up Jews and others deemed "dangerous elements" and Zionist propagandists. They made ready a concentration camp in a Cairo suburb.

Senate Will Probe Margarine Issue Again

OTTAWA, May 15.—(CP).—The Government plans to have the Senate committee on natural resources explore fully at the next session of Parliament the controversial margarine question.

Government Leader Wishart Robertson told the Chamber Friday that he will introduce a motion at the opening of the session authorizing the committee to examine "all questions" involved in the issue, and especially to explore the oils and fats situation upon which margarine production depends.

Senator Robertson said that in exploring the oils and fats situation the Natural Resources committee will study imports, international allocations, production in Canada and capacity.

It will also consider "what action should be taken to develop further production, markets within and without Canada for fats and oils."

"I believe the public are entitled to know all the facts and Parliament is entitled to the fullest information to guide future deliberations," he said.

Drop Food Supplies

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 15.—(CP).—Food supplies were dropped today from a United States army plane to six seal hunters off Port au Choix on the northwest coast of Newfoundland, at the entrance to the Strait of Belle Isle. The six men were found Friday. They were on an ice patch and had only small supplies of food with them. Power boats are standing by to dash to the men's aid as soon as ice conditions permit.

U.S. May Lift Arm Embargo To Palestine

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP).—President Truman's swift recognition of the new Jewish State of Israel was expected today to bring fresh demands for an immediate end to the Palestine arms embargo.

While there was no sign the United States was planning such a move at this time, diplomatic officials said the ban might be reconsidered if the new state is seriously threatened by Arab invasion.

But main American efforts they indicated, will continue to be directed toward winning a truce in the Holy Land conflict.

Truman stressed this objective in a statement issued Friday night with his announcement granting "de facto" recognition of the provisional Jewish regime.

"De facto" recognition is reserved for a government existing "in fact," where there may be some dispute over its legal authority. Legally-constituted regimes may be accorded "de jure" recognition.

Some authorities believe this emphasis on true efforts indicates administration unwillingness to scrap the arms embargo right away.

The ban was imposed by the United States last December 5 after the United Nations asked all member governments to help halt the Arab-Jewish conflict.

Unofficial speculation over why President Truman acted with such speed in extending recognition to the Jewish state centered around three possibilities:

- (1) His desire to discourage an Arab invasion of the new state;
- (2) A belief that the United States should act before the Soviet Union, and
- (3) Domestic political considerations.

Hagana Says Arab Legion Wipes Out Settlement; One Plane Brought Down

Report Arab City Of Acre Sues For Peace
After Heavy Night Attack;
Air Raid Follows Celebration By Jews

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 15.—(AP).—The Jewish army Hagana announced today that "invasion troops" have penetrated into Israel following air attacks on Tel Aviv and a settlement in the Negev area. Tel Aviv, temporary capital of the state, newly-born and recognized by the United States, was attacked twice by light planes. The planes dropped bombs and strafed ground objects with machine-gun fire, Hagana announced, adding that one plane was shot down and an Egyptian pilot taken captive.

The Hagana announcement gave no details on the reported ground invasion nor on the air attack against a settlement in the Negev, the southern desert area.

The Jewish army said the two attacks on Tel Aviv came three hours apart, shortly after Jews had danced in the streets at news of the birth of their nation and the American recognition of its existence.

The Jewish army drove north in Galilee to bolster the area against possible invasions from Syria and Lebanon.

Along the coastal area north of Haifa, Arab villages have been cleared from Acre north to Naharya and beyond, Hagana said. The Arab city of Acre sued for peace after a sharp night attack, Jewish informants in Haifa reported.

Hagana announced the entire population of Kfar Etzion Settlement, south of Jerusalem and Bethlehem, has been wiped out by the Arab Legion, and men and women alike had been slain. The Arabs inflicted casualties and took prisoners in two tiny communities of the Kfar Etzion bloc. Resistance is continuing in another settlement there.

The government imposed censorship, informing correspondents they will be given "security guidance" on information sent out on the air attacks. Hagana rushed its troops to all the frontiers, bent on shortening lines and building up defences against invasion.

(An official source in Cairo said Egyptian Air Force planes flew over Tel Aviv today and dropped pamphlets demanding that all inhabitants surrender with their arms, raising white flags, within an hour.

"If the demand is not met," the pamphlets were quoted as saying, "you will be treated as aggressors."

Rescue 2 Men Trapped 60 Hrs. In Mine

SHAMOKI, Pa., Pa., May 15.—(AP).—Grimy, bedraggled and sleepy, two exhausted miners were rescued early today from a flooded coal pit. They were trapped Wednesday by water rushing in from a nearby abandoned mine.

Edward Neck, 42, and Peter Gordon, 35, both of Shamokin, were taken to hospital for their first food in more than 60 hours then bathed and put to bed.

They said they believed their companion, Charles Bashore, 42, was trapped in the lowest part of the mine by the rushing waters and had no chance to escape.

But rescue workers continued their long task of bailing out the water-logged mine in the flickering hope Bashore might still be alive.

"Miracles sometimes happen in mines," said one weary worker.

The miners were trapped in the rain-drenched shaft late Tuesday and it wasn't until late Friday night that contact between rescuers and the trapped men was made.

The incident recalled the Moose River Mine rescue in April, 1936, when three Toronto men were trapped in an abandoned Nova Scotia gold mine. Two were brought out alive after Stellarton, N.S., draggermen worked more than a week to tunnel their way towards the trapped men. The third man died before the rescuers reached him.

Heck, Gordon and Bashore were 175 feet underground late in the afternoon when an explosive charge, set off to loosen coal for mining, blasted a passageway into a nearby abandoned working. Water in the abandoned pit came flooding into their operation, trapping them at a high point or a heading off the main shaft.

Maniac Kills Baby In Hospital

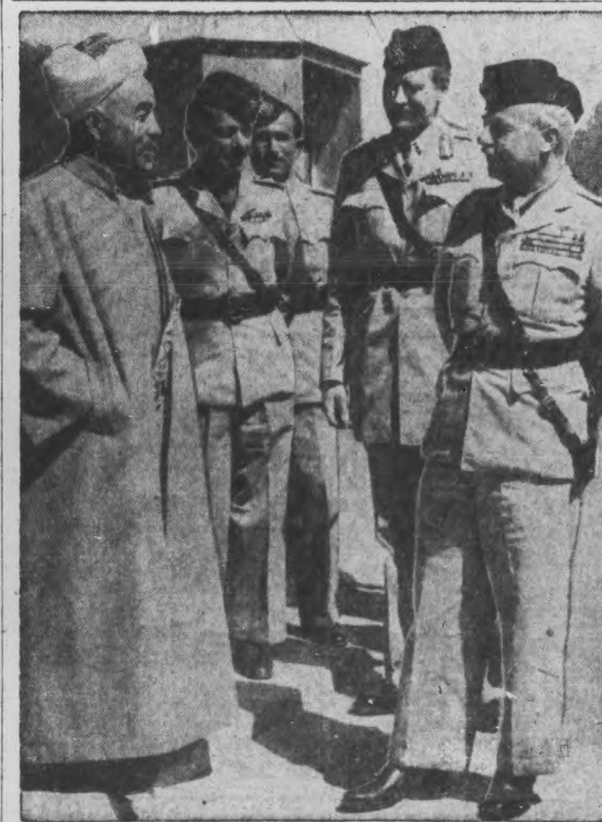

BLACKBURN, Lancs., England, May 15. (Reuters).—Bloodhounds were searching today for a maniac baby killer who Friday night crept into the children's ward of the Queen's Park Hospital here, snatched a three-year-old girl from her cot and battered her to death in a field 150 yards away. A white-faced man with dark hair was earlier seen prowling in the hospital grounds. Police believe that the murderer will have blood-stained hands and clothes and an injury.

Last month a boy of 11 was murdered and another small boy knifed at Farnworth, 20 miles from here. The slayer has not been found.

U.S. Parcels Out Billion In Grants

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP).—The United States Friday parcelled out $1,186,000,000 in grants and loans to 11 of the Marshall-plan countries for use in the first three months of the European recovery program.

Britain got the lion's share—$300,000,000 in grants for food, fuel and other items and $100,000,000 in loans. France was next with the same amount in gifts and $75,000,000 in loans.

Jolliffe Pledges Research Council On Retail Trade

TORONTO, May 15 — (CP). — General election campaign volleys were heard last night in widely-separated sections of Ontario. All three party leaders spoke.

Premier Drew spent Friday in Northern Ontario's Algoma district. Both ready to head north this week-end. Liberal leader Oliver spoke in Hamilton and CCF leader Jolliffe at Kingston.

Mr. Jolliffe pledged that the CCF, if elected June 7, will set up an Ontario retailers' research and advisory council to study problems of retail trade. Retailers and their representatives would be consulted in establishment of the council.

The 12 months ended last February had seen a 50-per-cent increase in chain grocery business but only a 5.5-per-cent rise in sales by independent grocers.

"The CCF is determined to change this picture. It even help the consumer if big business helps the smaller retailer."

"I am proud that monopoly business hates and fears the CCF. When we fight the monopolies and all their unfair practices, we are fighting the enemy of the farmer and the worker and the small business man."

Plans for the establishment of large British industrial plants throughout Ontario are before the United Kingdom Government, Premier Drew said at Wawa. An effort will be made to place the plants to make the most of each area's natural resources. Special provisions were being sought in Britain to permit the transfer of working capital to Ontario for establishment of the industries. More than 100 plans for such moves were before the United Kingdom Government.

Buying As He Goes

Mr. Oliver said a Liberal Government would "take Hydro out of politics" by appointing a representative of the hydro municipalities to the Provincial Power Commission.

Since the start of the campaign the Government had announced an increase in mothers' allowances, a rural community centre program, Sudbury grant for municipal services, and a grant to a hospital in Fort William.

Those tactics indicated the Progressive Conservatives were "not only afraid but desperate," he said. As far as the Liberals were concerned, the election issue was not the Southern Ontario frequency-conversion proposal, but the Progressive Conservative record since the election of the Drew Government in 1943.

Mr. Oliver said a Liberal Government would "take Hydro out of politics" by appointing a representative of the hydro municipalities to the Provincial Power Commission.

Prescott said he had not been informed that the product was not of normal quality when it was shipped for him from the Toronto branch. He added that it was not the practice in Nova Scotia to grade butter. It was sold by brand only.

As soon as complaints about the butter were received, distribution of remaining stock ceased, he said. The Canada Packers hearing was adjourned until May 28.

10. An annual grant of $3,500,000 to develop and provide the "most active possible diagnostic and treatment services" to control cancer.

Expand Hospitals

Mr. King said particular stress on the grants for the expansion of hospitals. He said hospitals now are overcrowded and until the situation is corrected a national health program could not properly operate.

Health Minister Martin said later at a press conference that he could not indicate when the Federal proposals will become effective. He would meet provincial health ministers and their assistants as soon as the money was voted by parliament.

The announcement provided the highlight of the Commons day. Although several pieces of legislation were dealt with, debate moved slowly and without major incident.

who want fighting.")

The bombing came at 6 a.m. of Israel's birthday. The new state came into being, by its own declaration of independence, a minute after midnight, the hour Britain dropped her 25-year-old mandate in the Holy Land.

The raiding planes were described unofficially as Spitfires or Spitfire-type fighters. They came in low, dived and dropped six bombs at the edge of the Tel Aviv airport, near the power station. Airport workers said Jewish fighters drove them off.

Hit Small Building

Persons in the neighborhood said they believed the casualties were caused by one bomb that hit a small building. Tel Aviv was blacked out all night, but no siren sounded for the raid.

The Cairo newspaper Al Assas reported without confirmation Friday night that two Egyptian army columns entered the Holy Land at dawn Friday. Egypt later announced she had ordered her armed forces into the country.

Hagana, the Israeli army, rushed troops to frontiers to fight of any attack. In Haifa, Hagana sources said Jewish troops had surrounded Arab Acre to the north across a bay, on the coastal route from Lebanon.

Hear Gunfire

Inhabitants of Haifa, Palestine's biggest port and now largely in Jewish hands, heard cannon and mortar fire and saw gun flashes from Acre.

Britain, who captured Palestine from the Turks in 1917 and became official League of Nations mandatory power in 1923, gave up the mandate when her high commissioner, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, sailed from Haifa at midnight. British troops are expected to be out by Aug. 1.

BULL HELPS OUT CANADA'S DOLLARS—A yearling Shorthorn bull, Killarn Max Ian, helped out with Canada's dollar exchange problem when he was sold to a U.S. buyer for $6,000. The bull, a son of the famous Killarn Max 5th, internationally known among breeders of Shorthorns, was sold at the annual sale staged by Claude Gallinger of Edmonton, owner of the famous Killarn Farms, and the equally famous Shorthorn breeding herd. Buyer of "Max Ian" was John Mathison, of Sand Point, Idaho (right), and Harold White of Guelph, Ont., secretary of the Canadian Shorthorn Association, is seen to left, looking over the expensive youngster prior to his departure for United States.

Lindsay Pianist Gets High Praise At Music Festival

LINDSAY, May 15 — (ENS) — Wednesday morning and afternoon, the second day of the Twelfth Annual Victoria County Music Festival, was devoted chiefly to piano and vocal classes, as Tuesday evening. David Ouchterlony, Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, in adjudicating the piano and vocal classes, was lavish in his praise of Donald McGibbon, youthful Lindsay pianist.

Awarded 88 marks in the piano solo class under 17 years, Donald McGibbon received one of the highest marks ever given by this adjudicator, according to Mr. Ouchterlony's own statement. He urged him to continue his studies and suggested that he consider music as a career.

Tuesday evening marked the occasion of the Festival's formal opening, and speakers included Chairman E. C. Dettman, Rev. Harold B. Neal, Kiwanis President R. A. Wainman and public school inspector E. AUTO WORKERS OUT ON STRIKE—Off to the picket lines, go these auto workers as they leave their union headquarters in Detroit, Mich., with placards, last-ditch efforts to avert a walkout of 73,000 Chrysler Corporation employees failed and a CIO-United Auto Workers leader said, "we'll give them the worst strike they've ever seen." Meanwhile state intervention in the three-day strike looms as Governor Kim Sigler said he planned to inject himself into the dispute as soon as officers of the company and United Automobile Workers (CIO) have a "chance to cool off." He disclosed he is personally considering mediation of the strike.

Cultural Ties With Britain Keynote of Paris Exhibition

PARIS, May 15—(Reuters)—Cultural ties between Britain and France through the ages is the keynote of the exhibition which Princess Elizabeth opens in Paris to-day during her first visit to the French capital.

Entitled "Eight Centuries of British Life in Paris," the exhibition is housed in the Galliera Museum, almost within a stone's throw of the Chailot Palace where the United Nations will hold its third annual assembly in September.

For the next three months, the Parisians and thousands of visitors will be able to study examples of the works of famous Britons who have forged cultural links between Paris and the British Isles since the 12th Century.

The exhibition comprises works ranging from a 12th-century illuminated manuscript from the Bodleian Library at Oxford to pictures by English painters like Turner and Constable and the "Entente Cordiale" period when, under the influence of the Princess great-grandfather, King Edward VII, "the most Parisian of Englishmen, cultural relations between the two countries reached a high point."

Loaned by King
Exhibits have been gathered from French and British museums of the Morning—Jean and Merlyn Rich 78, Altamiae Thomas and Rosemary Staples 71.

B-flat Cornet solo, under 19, "The Rose of Tralee"—Brian MacDonald 84.

Piano duet, open, "A Little Night Music"—Shirley Palmer and Ruth Wansbrough 82.

Soprano solo, under 19, "Gathering Daffodils"—Margaret J. Scott 84, Barbara Pitts 83, Joyce Sloan 81.

Soprano solo, under 17, "When Sweet Ann Sings"—Joy Westaway 83, Kathleen Houston 81, Olive Aylesbury 80.

Piano trio, under 11, "Bird Chatter"—Joyce Pepper, Marion Osborne and Audrey Osborne 86, Sally Quinn, Dianne King and Veda Lightbody 78, Linda Fisher, Arleen Mark and Eunice Mark 76.

Contralto solo, "Sombre Woods"—Margaret J. Scott 85, Joan Westaway 72, Betty Ferguson and Barbara Babcock 70.

marriage of Mary of England, sister of Henry VII, to Louis XII. The marriages of James V of Scotland to successive Princesses of France are also represented by works of the French school.

In the next section are many works of art showing the marriage and exile of Henrietta Maria and the life of the exile Court of James II, at St. Germain. In this group, too, is the relic of the death-mask of James II.

There are also many prints and portraits of Englishmen who had adopted the cause of the French Revolution.

Represent Visitors
In the section devoted to the Second Empire and Third Republic are water colors by Lami representing the visit of Queen Victoria to Napoleon II and the works of other artists illustrating the life of English visitors in Paris at the end of the century.

Here also are recalled the visits of Edward VII in 1903 and George VI and Queen Elizabeth in 1938.

In the last room, visitors will see works of English painters who used Paris as their studio as well as portraits of English writers like Scott, Thackeray, Byron, Dickens, Du Maurier, Oscar Wilde, and Kipling, whose influence left its mark on contemporary French literature.

"I Am A Canadian Day"

Early this month throughout the United States, American school children celebrated the annual "I Am An American Day". News photographs reaching us in this country show groups of children, mouths half open (probably repeating "civis sum Americanus"), right arm folded across the chest, and hands placed over the heart. It may be a touching sight, the motives may be entirely praiseworthy, the effects good. The Americans have their habits and ways of life, Canadians have theirs. We have no desire to see the practice adopted in this country and hope that "I Am A Canadian Day" never comes.

For several Saturdays we have been writing in these columns about the problems of Canadian unity, Canadian nationality and the forces that tend to divide us as a people. There are few things closer to our heart than the development of a Canada united and free. We would, however, deplore any indoctrination program which included an observance of an "I Am A Canadian Day".

Love for one's country is like love for a woman: it cannot be learned. It cannot be acquired by a campaign. A person can go about saying "This woman (or this country) is worthy of love, all my acquaintance, tell me she is, therefore I love her", but he will not, truly. He may acquire respect or admiration for her, he may whip his emotions into a momentary frenzy of infatuation and think it love. It is the outward form without the inward substance, but not necessarily an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace. False love of country imposed by external means can lead to nationalism; true love of country welling up naturally from within leads to a sense of nationality. That is the true patriotism. A high regard for one's nationality is greatly commendable (and it makes for respect of others' nationality); proud nationalism is damnable and the curse of the last three centuries.

Children can be taught their country's history, and its achievements and shortcomings can be explained, but blatant indoctrination of patriotism—which may not be harmful in the United States—would, we think, be alien to Canadian tradition and breeding and distort our development. We may individually in private conversation say "I am a Canadian" with just but decent pride, but to practise saying that proposition in chorus in public would be indecent and hollow. The Hitler Youth used to have mumbo-jumbo like that, and the German sense of nationality was perverted into Hunnish Nazi nationalism.

There is the further danger that children who have been brought up to mouth national slogans, even for the best of motives and for the propagation of good principles, may too easily become the tools of demagogues. The phrases foisted on people in childhood can become the sounding brass of tyrants and the state built on platitudes is built on shifting sands. It was of jingoistic patriotism that Dr. Samuel Johnson spoke when he warned that "patriotism" is the last refuge of a scoundrel.

A State Is Born

The birth of nations is not accomplished painlessly and certainly the new republic of Israel proclaimed yesterday has come out of and into great tribulation. Sympathy for the aspirations of the world-wide Jewish community is linked with deep regret that their cherished goal of a "National Home" has been achieved under such distressing circumstances.

The new Israel is a de facto state, although the U.S. has recognized it, and with no secure position in the face of the sun. The Jews will obviously have to fight for it. The fight may be long and bitter and success is not assured even though the Jewish armies seem to be better trained and organized than the Arabs. It will be a fight for existence and the infant nation may have been born too prematurely to have the strength to survive.

It was written 2,700 years ago that the Lord said unto Abram... I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. It was written half a century later that The Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other... and among these nations shalt thou find no ease... and thou shalt fear day and night.

Mr. Jean Francois Pouliot And The Examiner

We have a fondness for Mr. Jean Francois Pouliot, M.P. for Temiscouata. When he has something to say, which is most of the time, he says it—vigorously, widely, valiantly, though sometimes with a venturesome which leads him astray from verbal veracity. We had occasion to indite a recent editorial to M. Pouliot upon the occasion of his charmingly confused references to the Church of England hierarchy in a recent parliamentary debate. M. Pouliot has noted it, as the following quotation from Hansard reveals:

PRIVILEGE

Mr. Pouliot—Reference to Report in Peterborough Examiner of April 21 On the orders of the day:
Mr. JEAN FRANCOIS POULIOT (Temiscouata): Mr. Speaker, I rise on a matter of personal explanation. The Peterborough Examiner of April 21—

Mr. FRASER: A good paper.
Mr. POULIOT: Yes. It referred to certain remarks made in the House of Commons by several members about the "Red Dean", who was swimming in the Black Sea with young Communists. I mentioned the Very Reverend Doctor Fisher, but at the same time I referred to the former Archbishop of Canterbury, who was the Very Reverend Hewlett Johnson.

Mr. COLDWELL: The hon. gentleman is wrong. The former Archbishop of Canterbury was Doctor William Temple.

Mr. POULIOT: No, not the one the hon. member mentioned. He is dead. I mentioned the one who is alive, and who went to the Black Sea and had his picture in "Life".

Mr. COLDWELL: You mean the Dean of Canterbury?

Mr. POULIOT: Maybe the Dean of Canterbury. But his name is not Fisher, and I apologize. My excuse is that I am not a doctor of divinity and I do not pose as such.

Cher M. Pouliot, veuillez accepter nos félicitations les plus cordiales for having, without a Doctorate of Divinity, the courage to walk in where angels fear to tread. D.D.'s are a dime a dozen, but there is only one M. Pouliot.

No Cheese For The Princess

Last autumn before the wedding of the Princess Elizabeth and Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten, the citizens of Peterborough opened their hearts largely and their purses a little bit and provided seventeen hundred dollars to buy a wedding present—canned goods. The food has now been bought and sent through the Personal Parcel Service in Toronto.

Kingstonians decided to send the Princess $1,240 worth of cheese. The intentions were loyal and good, though the odoriferous gift might not have been in the best of courtly taste even if it was in the best county style (it was to be Frontenac County cheddar). Be that as it may, the Department of Trade and Commerce has frowned on the cheesy gift and has refused to approve the export of Kingston's $1,240 worth of cheddar. They say that it would interfere with the export quotas of the British contracts. The good folk of Kingston have now decided to send canned goods.

If they really wanted to give something unique and local, they might have considered sending, for instance, a Queen's student bundled up in his gaudy tricoloured sweater. They might have followed Peterborough's example and sent, as a secondary gift, a Peterborough canoe with a special aluminum tag on it: "Made in Peterborough". Incidentally, we are happy to report that the custom-tailored canoe being provided by a local canoe company is nearing completion. The royal couple may yet be paddling down the Thames this summer in conubial bliss in a Peterborough canoe.

The moral of the Kingston episode is this: never plan to send cheese as a wedding gift, even to a Princess.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A business in St. Louis called the Owl Baking Co. has been closed as unsanitary. Forgot to draw the owls before baking them, presumably.

Noted but no comment—this A.P. news despatch:

"Princess Juliana, 39, is well-known to Canadians, particularly to Ottawans, as she lived in the Canadian capital for several years during the war. Her third daughter, Princess Margriet, was born in Ottawa.

Juliana's husband, Prince Bernhard, had her several visits while she was living in Ottawa."

Diary Of A Weary Reader

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: In some doubt this evening as to whether I should put out my garbage for the morning collection. There was a 'v' in the air of rain, and a can filled with rain and garbage is distasteful to the offal officers, easy-going as they are in many respects. I have had it from the lips of a distinguished member of this service that there is no experience which quite equals that of collecting garbage in the rain, and garbage-men are remarkable weather-prophets. It is their skill in this direction, I presume, which gave rise to the old saw:

Fair night,
Garbage-man's delight;
Fair morning,
Garbage-man's warning.

After a good deal of pondering I kept my garbage under cover, hoping that the garbage-men would not ungratefully come by before I got it to the street in the morning.

MONDAY: As the weather grows warmer I see more and more men going without hats. For my part, I do not feel comfortable without a hat on, and much as I detest the felt chamber-pots which are sold nowadays as suitable gentleman's headgear, I always wear one. The people for whom I really feel sorry are the bald men who go without hats in the hope that the sun will bring out a few spears of hair on their naked noggins; it is my belief that the sun is an enemy of human hair, and that if you have a tendency to be bald, the sun will encourage it. Consider this matter scientifically. Scotchmen have hairy knees, for although they wear no knee-cloths their climate is cold, damp and sunless. But African savages do not have hairy knees, because they get too much sun on their knees for the hair to flourish. If bald men really want hair, they should wear hats filled with damp and slimy moss; this would cause hair to grow as a form of protection.

TUESDAY: Why is it that people never like pictures of themselves? Tonight I had a chance to observe a large group who were looking at a number of pictures in which they appeared in various guises, and while they agreed that admirable likenesses of everyone else had been caught, they were deeply dismayed by their own faces and forms. Do we all cherish an ideal likeness of ourselves in our bosoms? Do we, when we peep into the mirror, refuse to see the wrinkled necks, the ant-eater noses, the cauliflower ears, the wens and the bubukles which are indubitably our own? Or is it that we are all so discontented that we cannot bear the hideous forms with which nature, unwise eating and tight boots have endowed us? Or are we distressed that such horrible scarecrows should house such elegant souls as we know ours to be? I cannot answer these questions. I only know that I have never seen anyone look at a picture of himself with unalloyed pleasure.

WEDNESDAY: How often and how bitterly I regret the fact that my work makes me read so many books. Reading is one of my great delights, but I like to read books by men of letters: I loathe reading books by soldiers, sailors, airmen, engineers, explorers, politicians, economists and other imperfectly literate persons who write like amateurs. The world was better off when there was a recognized clerical class, by whom all reading and writing was done. An Australian friend sends me some Australian comic strips. Canada produces no comic strip because the country is (a) too sober-stodgy to tolerate such a thing and (b) too stingy to pay for it. Played my gramophone tonight and wondered why, after a record is finished, it is permitted to make a noise like the rumbling of an old and ill-used stomach before it stops. Could it not stop at once? Or could it not make its last few revolutions silently? Silence often occurs in the middle of a record; why not at the end?

THURSDAY: Saw a movie of Oscar Wilde's play "An Ideal Husband", and enjoyed it greatly. The movie reviewers had assured me that the piece was slow and dull, but I did not find it so. The plot and the dialogue were artificial, of course, but so are the plot and dialogue of all other movies; more artificiality on the Wilde level would improve the movies immensely. I have never understood why people object to artificiality; almost everything that has raised man above the beasts is artificial in some respect. I am an exceedingly artificial creature myself: my teeth are preserved artificially, and I have artificial aids for my eyes; I wear artificial coverings of cloth and leather upon my body; I eat no food which has not been artificially treated. And, unlike a great many of my hypocritical fellow creatures, I like frankly artificial entertainment.

FRIDAY: A gramophone record which I ordered in 1945 arrived today. Little by little things are righting themselves after the war. Tonight to a private showing of a Russian film "Ivan The Terrible", which was one of the best films I have ever seen. True, I have never looked up the noveria of so many Russians before, and I hope that it will be some times before I do so again, but it was a film after my own heart—full of poisoned wine, spies peeping around pillars, and people wearing trains approximately twenty feet long. This was artificiality on a grand scale. Ivan in the film bore no resemblance to the Ivan of history, who was as mimsy as a borage and spent his time alternately in doing unpleasant things and repenting, but it was a fine bit of propaganda and not more distorted than the films we see about Lincoln and George Washington. Was much impressed by the scene in which Ivan was cured of a severe illness by having a prayer book placed over his face. I shall try this on myself when next my ulcers go back on me.

SATURDAY: Have frankly faced the fact that strong measures are needed if the pleasure grounds at Marchbanks Towers are to continue to be the Seventh Wonder of the Modern World, and today a cunning fellow who knows one plant from another (which I

VANDALS AND RIFLES

Sir: It has been reported that an act of senseless vandalism was perpetrated last Sunday afternoon by some irresponsible parties armed with the usual "22" rifles. A noted nesting place of the Blue Herons (or Cranes to most of us) located within a few miles of the city was badly shot up. These birds are considered useful by the Government authorities on bird life, and are protected by law. At least, three offences were committed in this one act. It is unlawful to shoot at or even disturb nesting birds, it is against the law to shoot on Sunday, and also to shoot on private property at any time without the owner's permission.

It might be well in this letter to give a brief summary of several of the more important sections of the Game and Fisheries Act.

Section 10 (1)—Except under license, no person shall carry or use any fire-arm or air-gun for the purpose of hunting any game.

(1a)—Except under license, no person shall carry or use any fire-arm or air-gun from March 1 to August 31 for the purpose of hunting any bird or animal not protected by the Migratory Birds Convention Act.

Section 10 (2)—Sub-section 1 and 1a shall not apply to a farmer or his sons residing and hunting on their own lands.

Section 10 (4)—Except as prescribed by regulations, no license other than a trapper's license shall be issued to any person under sixteen.

This last clause means that any boy under sixteen is open to prosecution and the rifle or air-gun seized if he is apprehended on any country road.

Section 43—No person shall discharge any air-gun, gun, rifle or other fire-arm in any locality where game is found between one-half hour after sunset Saturday until one-half hour before sunrise Monday.

This last section means no Sunday shooting do not) came and uprooted everything in sight, substituting little bundles of dry sticks for my weeds and degenerate tulips. He tells me that these faggots will soon put forth green leaves, and that the Towers will become a bower and the delight of all beholders. I trust him, and will watch the faggots with interest. He also talked rather pointedly about manure, and if I understand him aright several tons of this costly substance will be needed before the summer has passed. And now I take farewell of my readers for several weeks, for another session with the Atomic Frier is at hand, and I shall be as busy, for a while, as Shadrach, Meshack and Abednego.

even at a target in any game area.

The criminal code is even more severe regarding the use of weapons of any sort by boys as it provides a heavy penalty for the use of even catapults.

In closing, I would suggest that any farmer or other citizen who is annoyed by careless shooting, trespassing by hunters or the shooting of protected birds or animals, at once phone Mr. Stanley Windsor, the Game Warden, or Mr. Alex Kay, Conservation Officer or if they are not available, the Provincial Police. If names or car license numbers can be supplied, it will be of great assistance. Any of these officers will gladly and quickly stop any trouble of this sort without involving the complainant in any way. I am,

Yours truly,

MORLEY V. POWELL,

LAKEFIELD - BUCKHORN - HALIBURTON HIGHWAY DEMANDED

Sir: May I be permitted to express my opinion on a very vital local issue in the present Provincial election campaign. The Hon. Mr. Scott who has held office for the past five years, and is again seeking re-election should be prepared to meet any and all charges of neglect which will be charged against him during this campaign.

In comparison for instance, the building of the Highway from Apsley to Bancroft by our former member opened up a new artery of traffic from Pembroke to Peterborough, Peterborough has become the shopping centre of Bancroft and North Hastings. Cottages and summer resorts have developed, timber areas made accessible and developed, but another artery or highway much more important to Peterborough, and as a Provincial route, has not been developed namely, the road leading from Lakefield to Haliburton known as the Buckhorn Road, and passing through Buckhorn and Gooderham. This road would bring Haliburton 56 miles from Peterborough instead of 94 via Minden and Lindsay, it would enable the people in Haliburton to shop in Peterborough, also enable thousands of Americans to take a shorter direct route in entering and returning from Algonquin Park and from other points in the North to the Ivy Lea Bridge instead of compelling them to go home via Lindsay or Fenelon Falls. It would also open up new timber areas and make accessible lakes for tourist development. It would mean actually millions of dollars to our merchants, lumbermen, farmers, tourist operators and would do more to promote our community than any other undertaking our

(From the Authorized Version)

Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting, thou art God. For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us. (Ps. 90: 1, 2, 4, 16, 17.)

And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven, and swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer. (Rev. 10: 5, 6.)

Ottawa's Taxi Bylaw

The taxicab bylaw of the Ottawa Police Commission declares that any licensed driver "on arriving at any stand for vehicles kept for hire" shall "serve the first person offering to hire him, unless such person owes him a fee for services". First come first served; picking and choosing.—Ottawa Journal.

Provincial government could do in the way of public works.

Mr. Scott knows all I have stated, because the press, the City Council, the County Council, the Chamber of Commerce, the township councils of Smith and Harvey, the Ontario Motor League, and many prominent citizens have advocated and pleaded for this road. The situation is now that Mr. Scott has done nothing, or apparently nothing.

A few days ago after the election date for June 7th had been announced there was a story in the Examiner that the Government had smiled favorably on a delegation asking for this road. I do not believe the people will be satisfied with this pre-election dodge.

To aggravate this situation, what has happened in Victoria? In 1946 and 1947 the member for Victoria spent large sums of money in improving the road from Minden to Kinnmount and from Kinnmount to Bobcaygeon. This gives Lindsay two roads to the north, and makes doubly sure that all this traffic will be diverted from Peterborough city and county, and we have no record of any protest from Mr. Scott.

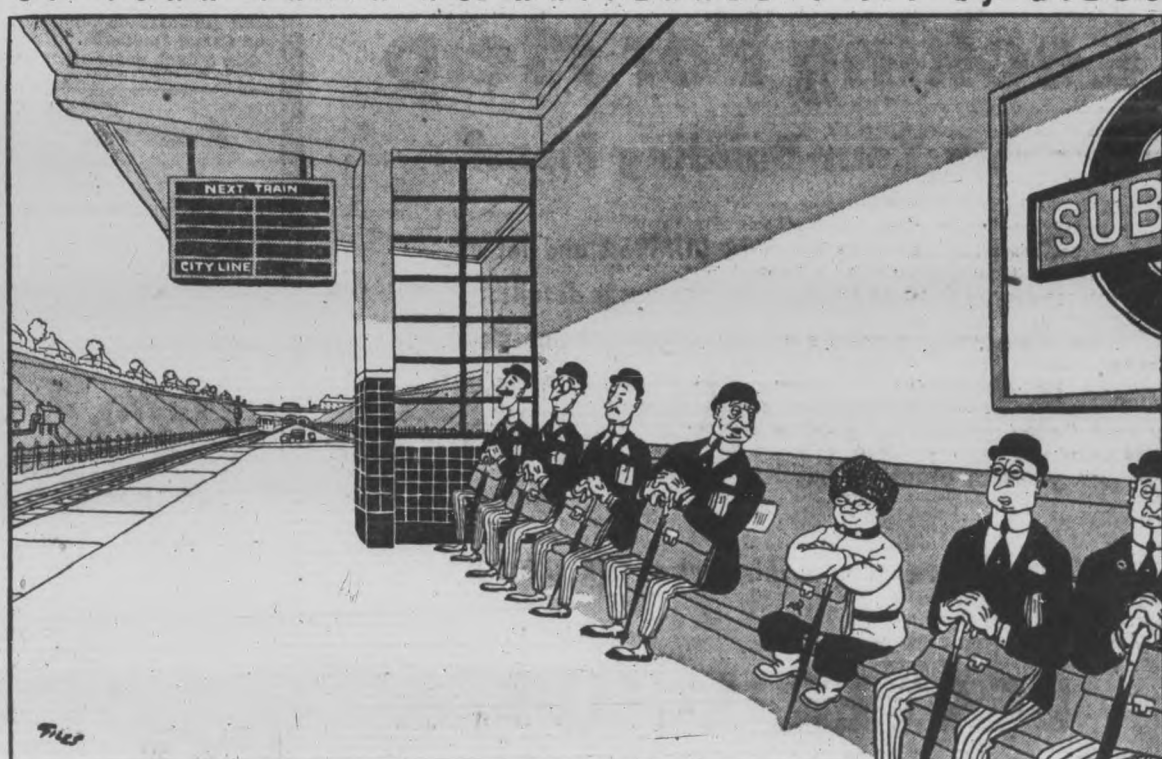

Our Provincial member can be the most useful public servant in the community, or he can be no more than a devotee to the comforts and sweets of office, heedless of the welfare of his constituents.

In closing may I say that in my opinion this Highway is of the most vital importance to the city as well as the county of Peterborough, and I wish to respectfully draw this to the attention of the other candidates offering themselves for election in this constituency.

Yours very truly,
FRED LAWRENCE.

With PETE MCGILLEN

PICKEREL SEASON opened at midnight and by the time this column gets into print, a great many of these delicious fish should have gone to the Valhalla of all good fishes. The succulent wall-eye gets my vote as the most delicious fish in Ontario waters, not even excepting the delicacy, the speckled trout. After the fish is cleaned, washed and cut into chunks or filets, dip each piece in egg batter, then roll it in either flour, bread-crumbs or pulverized corn flakes, and place in frying pan. Butter is a bit on the expensive side this year, so use all shortening or all lard, and be sure the pan and the lard are piping hot before you put the fish in. Add a little salt and pepper when the fish is in the pan. I like pickerel cooked this way and served with scalloped potatoes. Boy, oh boy, that's a dish for a king—or a newspaperman. Of course, there is the very important catching of the fish to come first.

YELLOW PICKEREL team in district waters. They were at Young's Point, Hastings, and the lower lock in the thousands a week ago. I sure hope they are still there. The pickers have finished spawning and are ravenous. They should take minnows, worms, plugs or June bugs and worms, in a manner to warm an angler's heart. Live minnows are by far the best bait, then comes the Lucky Strike submarine minnow, then worms, then jointed plugs like the pikie or the silver flash. I have had best luck on the baits named above, and in fishing pickerel my choice in plugs runs to the smaller ones, like the spooks and river runts. Casting with a June bug is a messy business if you haven't a good outfit. Many anglers prefer flies and use them on a steel casting rod. I recall one yellow job, called a Yellow Buffalo fly, and it's a dilly. The yellow Sally fly is good too. Most people think that pickerel feed deep, but after dark they surface feed, and move into the shallows. If you are casting from the river bank, keep that plug moving right to shore, because often a pickerel hits when the bait is almost at your feet.

WHERE TO GO. That is bothering me, too, because I figure in all the best places it will be a fight to get a good spot. Young's Point, Burleigh, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Rosedale dam, Cobocnk dam, Lakefield dam, and below all the dams on the Otonabee the pickerel are plentiful. Hastings is good but usually too crowded. Bensford bridge, Wallace Point, the power lines, Yankee Bonnet, the Rock Pile and the Lower Lock are all topnotch. Below the dam at Deer River falls is a choice location. Below Healey Falls dam, and the dam at Marmora on the Crowe river are also splendid. A great many pickerel winter in Thompson's Bay in the canal below Nassau. When the gate is opened at the Nassau railroad bridge, these fish move upriver to spawn, and if the gate is up and a small sluice is open, there should be good fishing off the gate. Quaker Oats raceway. Auburn dam, the C.P.R. bridge and even the George street wharf should be all worth a try. These latter spots are especially handy for the man who doesn't own a car. If I go any further, I'll be giving away secrets so you'll have to make a selection from the foregoing.

DAILY BAG LIMIT is not more than six pickerel, and the size limit is 13 inches. Pickerel fishing regulations are different in Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland and Durham than in the other counties of Ontario. Here are the laws applying to these four counties. It is legal to fish with any kind of bait from a pier, dam, bridge, the shore or any other permanent object. You can fish from a boat, but only with natural bait, such as worms, frogs or minnows—but the boat must be anchored. You cannot legally use a June bug spinner from a boat, nor can you allow the boat to drift or be carried downstream by the current. It is absolutely illegal, (and darn poor sportsmanship to boot) to cast from a boat using plugs or spinners of any kind. If you hook a bass or a muskie, handle it carefully and return it to the water. There is every possibility of this happening because some bass and muskies are up in the fast water. You can catch all the perch, mudcats, sunfish and suckers you wish, provided you do it by angling.

TUCKED AWAY in the wild and rocky bushland of Northern Hastings county, northeast of Bancroft is a lake that is a fisherman's paradise. Dr. Cliff McKee, Douglas Anderson and Jim Marshall visited it last week-end. The route and location is a secret but I do know they walked three miles through the bush. Within 15 minutes Anderson had a 20 inch speckled trout, and five minutes later Dr. McKee snagged one 24 inches long and weighing an even four pounds. That is what I call trout fishing. They used worms, minnows and flies, and got best results with worms. Jim Marshall's eyes almost popped out of his head when he saw the 24 inch trout. Fact is, he doubted very much that this district had such large ones. He comes from a small Western Ontario spot called Sarnia where the fame of the Nipigon trout is a byword. All told they brought out 21 trout after two days of fishing, and it is reasonable to expect that they ate quite a few while in camp. Now, let me see, when is my next day off?

RANDOM CASTS: Mrs. J.K.—As many people as are in a boat can troll or cast but no one person can have more than one line out. Jimmy—You can keep people off your property if you post the property with signs. After all, if you own both sides of a minnow creek, no person can go on that land without your permission. They can be fined. Isle o' Mann lodge on an island at Burleigh Falls opened early to take care of the pickerel fishermen. It is a modern lodge—meals, boats and guides. Tom Lawlor at South Beach is open for business too. Bill—Frank Barker is right, you can only have a two-day legal catch at the most in your possession at any one time. Mary B.—Hook a live minnow under the lower lip and have the cut come out in what you would call the fish's forehead. They will remain alive for a long time if hooked this way. Jack McD.—You are wrong, you can be put off a Hydro dam. Trespassing is overlooked in most cases, if people behave themselves.

CANADIAN VACATION GUIDE is the new name for The Examiner Vacation Edition. This edition was first started about 1936, when H. L. Garner, general manager of the Examiner brought it into being as a means of publicizing the five surrounding tourist areas. In tabloid form the publication has been steadily improved and this year each section has a touch of color, aside from the rotogravure section. All stories are factual, correct in every detail with none of the padded balldom so common to tourist numbers. That is one reason why the names and addresses of successful American and Canadian anglers are given. The skeptics can write the lucky fishermen and verify the stories. Outdoor writers across the States are being mailed copies of this number, 26,000 of which went on sale in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania early in April. If this number does not start a yearning for Canada among the key-pounders who write about the outdoors, then nothing will.

VERN BOWER in his interesting Ottawa Citizen column reports on a fishing trip to Algonquin Park last week-end. He says: "I enjoyed during the trip another experience for Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, his wife, and deputy-minister Frank MacDougall flew into the park to join us on Sunday afternoon. The minister's plane was the new 'Beaver', a special pontoon job designed by the department with the co-operation of DeHavilland Aircraft." The Hon. Mr. Scott and Mrs. Scott were picked up by the plane at Perth and flown to the park for a whack at the speckled trout before the Minister launched into the heavy election campaign.

TOURIST BUREAU—Located in downtown Cobourg on Highway 2, is the tourist bureau. Operated jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, Town Council and Northumberland Ski Club, the office gives service until 11 o'clock at night during the summer months.

Cobourg Chamber Operates Active Tourist Bureau

By MURRAY SMITH

One of the most active tourist bureaux in the province operates at Cobourg as part of the activity of the local chamber of commerce. Two years ago it was started as part of the work of the Ski Club but last year it was taken over by the Chamber of Commerce. The set-up was devised by Joseph Smith, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce and this year's mayor of Cobourg.

Ten tourist resorts in the Rice Lake area, whose standards conform to the rather strict requirements of the tourist bureau, represent about 90 per cent of the tourist establishments in the Rice Lake district. Each tourist business pays the annual fee of $10. Tourists, seeking information at the tourist office on Division St. are shown a large book file where each tourist resort is listed with all the necessary information on a card. In addition all the Cobourg hotels, and from 25 to 30 private tourist houses in the district, are listed and the Cobourg Official Hostess Association make periodic inspections to see that these tourist homes measure up to the advertised standards presented for the information of vacationers.

Last year 3,000 registered at the tourist office and more are expected this year. In the office are maps and folders of all the provinces in the Dominion. The tourist office is open during the month of June from eight in the morning until seven at night and from July 1 to Sept. 15, the office remains open until eleven at night. Four are on the staff right now and when the season really opens up there will be a staff of six, with two on at nights. Location of the tourist office is designate by signs at each end of the town. In addition local garages and service stations steer tourists to the information office. Literature on the tourist attractions of the district go to 600 auto clubs in Canada and United States as well as to Canadian and U.S. radio stations.

At times when the tourist accommodation has been taxed to the limit, motorists have been sent as far east as Belleville and as far west as Oshawa. Others are sent north. The systematic and thorough operation of this elaborate tourist set-up is the result of the organization work done by Mayor Joe Smith.

Lacrosse Canada's Most Popular Game In Gay Nineties With Peterborough and District Teams Keen Rivals

By E. S. CLARRY

Lacrosse as played back in the 1890's was a vastly different type of game compared to that being played today. In discussing lacrosse in those days there was never any reference to a bowl either indoor or outdoor in which the teams performed; there were almost twice as many players on each side and there were field captains who did not carry a lacrosse stick but who rampaged over the field shouting commands to their men like an officer leading his company off the field of battle. As for a night game staged under flood lights, indoor or outdoor, the most enthusiastic and visionary lacrosse fan never could have dreamed of such an idea.

The game in the 90's and even for some years later was played in an open field generally on a beautiful green sward and strictly in the good old summer time. The hotter the day the larger the crowds attending and the greater the excitement. It was a grand and popular game in the 90's and there was scarcely a town or village in the province that did not pride itself in its lacrosse team. In the central Ontario area Peterborough had two or more lacrosse clubs and there were similar organizations in Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg, Millbrook, Hastings, Madoc, Marmora, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed. Immediately to the west there were flourishing lacrosse clubs in Orillia, Barrie, Bradford, Uxbridge, Cannington and other towns and during May, June, July and August no event in the field of sport created more interest than a lacrosse match between the teams representing neighboring towns.

There have been many reasons advanced for the decline of lacrosse. It was not infrequently a player was carried off the field in those days hampered unmercifully by an opponent and occasionally the spectators swarmed over the playing area participating in fist fights which broke out between two or more men of the competing teams. There are some who claim that the public rebelled against such exhibitions of roughness and rowdiness resulting in the game losing public support. I believe there are several other reasons as well and that the decline in the popularity of the game was due in a measure at least to the introduction of the automobile into our way of life, affording young people as it does an easier and perhaps a more entertaining means of recreation just as it has affected changes in the industrial, commercial and social life of counties the world over. I believe that in the smaller communities particularly, the youth of today find it more exciting to whiz through the countryside over smoothly paved highways than spend their evenings in the strenuous exercise of lacrosse practices. In the 90's there was little to do in the form of amusement other than play the popular game of those days. It however became increasingly difficult to field a team of 12 players for a lacrosse match to say nothing of mustering 24 players on the village green for local practices.

There has been too, the competition from baseball which has grown enormously in popularity in the past 40 years and there has been as well the increased interest in basketball, football and other sports, all of which no doubt has contributed to the decline in the number of lacrosse clubs throughout the country and the falling off in public interest in what was looked upon as Canada's national game.

In the gay nineties the game was at its peak of popularity and by May 1st each year the teams in the various towns were rounding into shape for an active summer season. On the 24th of May every team in the district competed against the representatives from a neighboring town. There were no imported players to bolster up the strength of any team; there was no undercover professionalism; every player was a bonafide resident of the town his team represented; in fact he was invariably a native son. And when the boys visited a neighboring town they were not whisked over paved highways at 60 miles an hour requiring only half an hour or less to reach their destination; they travelled by railway train even if the towns were only 20 miles apart but not infrequently if the railway connections were not suitable they travelled by horse-drawn conveyances. Every man on the team paid his own travelling expenses.

Outstanding too is the style used by sports writers today as compared to the style in reporting a lacrosse match back in the 90's; in fact in reporting any kind of a sports event and this is particularly noticeable in so far as the village or small town weeklies are concerned. In those days a lacrosse game was an outstanding event in connection with which the actual playing of the game accounted for only about half the copy. The weekly editor went into great details as to how the boys travelled to their neighboring town—by railways train or by horse-drawn conveyance—the hotel they stopped at, the names of the local citizens who accompanied them, the names of the umpires and time keepers. This was just as important news of local interest as who scored the first goal or which team won the battle.

A lacrosse match on May 12th, 1894 may be cited as an example, it having been played by the Millbrook team and the Shamrocks of Peterborough on the Riverside grounds. It was a beautiful clear May day—the weather being in fact as warm as in mid-July. The Irishmen were a strong outfit, their chief officers being, Paddy Doris as manager, and Tommy McDonough for years desk clerk at the old Oriental, as secretary. A glance at the names of the players on the Shamrock team would bring joy to the heart of the premier of the Irish republic. They were deadly rivals of another Peterborough team, the Athletics, and the match on that lovely May day with Millbrook was to be a real workout for them in preparation for the series of games to be played by the two local teams throughout the summer.

A newspaper report of this match says that the Millbrook team and their supporters drove to Peterborough in Jewison's livery and while the time consumed on the way over is not mentioned, it may be assumed it took two hours or more to travel the 16 miles. It is not recorded as to the hour they left Peterborough on the return trip but the information is given that they arrived home at 1 o'clock the next morning, and while in Peterborough they put up at the Oriental. The game it would appear lasted one hour and a half, the Shamrocks being the winners by a score of 4 to 1.

According to the press report here is how the teams lined up: Millbrook, Goal, Stan Carveth; point, Jack Nattrass; c point, Fred Clarry; 1st defence, Jim Bateson; 2nd defence, Charlie Leach; 3rd defence, Bill Bateson; centre, Bill Eakins; 3rd home, Eddie Clarry; home, Fred Coombe; outside home, 2nd home, Charlie Homan; 1st Geo. Leach; inside home, Chas. Richards; field capt., Bob McMahon.

Shamrocks—Goal, W. Rogers; point, F. Boland; c point, Joe McDonough; 1st defence, Jack McDonough; 2nd defence, Dan Simmons; 3rd defence, E. Hickey; centre, W. Galley; 3rd home, L. LeBar; 2nd home, Paddy Carroll; 1st home, H. Patterson; outside home, T. MacNamara; inside home, T. McMahon; field capt., T. McDonough.

Referee—G. Temple of Brantford an authority on lacrosse who happened to be in Peterborough that day. As the teams, 12 men a side, faced each other, the Irishmen looked pretty smart in their paddy green sweaters with a gilt shamrock on the breast, and they were on the average much heavier than the Millbrook 12. The latter wore a blue and white striped sweaters and none of the players, not even the goal keepers, wore gloves, knee pads or any other type of protection from the blows and swipes of the hickory as it was handed out in those days. The match was however a fairly clean one, judged by the standard of those days.

The Shamrocks did not play their return game with Millbrook until August 24th and a report thereof states that "It proved to be the most exciting and scientific played in Millbrook this season." It is also recorded that the match was billed for 2 p.m. but as the Shamrocks missed their train had to drive over, not arriving until 3 o'clock, the game did not start until about 4 o'clock. The players on both sides were pretty much the same as faced each other on May 12th and once again the Shamrocks were victorious the score being a close one however, two goals to one. The report of the game concludes thus—"All lacrosse enthusiasts say this was by far the finest exhibition of lacrosse played here for years."

There are few living today who were on the old Shamrock lacrosse team back in the gay nineties. Many of them were outstanding players of that era, the McCabes the Begleys, the McDonoughs, the swift-footed Paddy Carroll at centre, chunky built Danny Simmons, Ed Hickey and others whose forebears came from the Emerald Isle and who carried the Shamrock out the playing green at the old Riverside athletic grounds.

The game as played today may be swifter and more exciting, staged in a covered or uncovered bowl with seven men only on each side, but it is doubtful if the boys participating have more genuine fun, or the spectators display more enthusiasm than they did on a hot summer day in the nineties.

Torrid Athletics Downed Raschi Ends Win Streak

By RALPH BODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Philadelphia Athletics are just about convinced now that they can't get rash with Vic Raschi.
When the lanky New York Yankee right-hander first joined the club late in the 1946 season from Newark of the International league, he made two starts, both against the Athletics and came through with victories.

Last year after being recalled in mid-season from the Pacific Coast league, he made one start against the A's and won again.

Friday, manager Bucky Harris called on the 29-year-old pitcher to cool off the torrid A's who barged into Yankee Stadium riding the crest of a 10-game winning streak.

Raschi came through in impressive fashion, shutting out the A's 3-0 on three hits. He walked only three and fanned seven.

Carl Scheib, Raschi's opponent, yielded only four hits but two of the blows were homers by Johnny Lindell and Yogi Berra. Lindell broke up the game in the third inning when he lined a 3-1 pitch into the left field seats with one aboard.

Ends Hitting Streak
The victory also ended the consecutive game hitting streak of shortstop Eddie Joost at 17 games.

The victory moved the Yanks to within four percentage points of the second place Cleveland Indians and to within a half game of the league-leading Athletics.

Another fine pitching job was turned in by Fred Sanford of St.
Louis. Browns. Sanford blanked the Tigers 3-0 in Detroit on five shutouts.

Doubles by Al Zarilla and Whitney Platt led the Browns' first run in the second inning.
Another two-bagger by Pete Layden along with two errors helped the Browns pick up two more runs in the ninth off losing pitcher
Fred Hutchinson. The Tigers now have lost their first six starts at home.

Excellent pitching also highlighted activity in the National league.

At Chicago, Russ Meyer spun a four-hitter in shutting out Cincinnati Reds, 1-0. The win was his third and his second straight shutout. Andy Pafko homered for the lone run of the game in the eighth inning off young Kent Peterson who gave up eight hits. The loss was the eighth in a row suffered by the last-place Reds.

St. Louis Cardinals nosed out
Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in a night game at St. Louis with Stan Musial driving in both runs with a fourth-inning homer off Fritz Ostermueller.

Sure Citation Winner Of Preakness

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP). —
There's no use kidding, the 72nd running of the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico today is going to find Citation home first or the records will have one of the greatest up-sets in turf history.

The Calumet Farm colt rates so far above the other three contenders that anyone who bets against him can be classified only as either a terrific gambler or a sentimentalist. The trio containing upsets in their legs are Bor-ward, Vulcan's Forge and Getter
Self.

The betting, incidentally, is all or nothing. The Maryland racing commission agreed with Pimlico that Citation is such a "sure thing" that anything but straight betting would produce a terrific minus pool, costly to both the track and the state. From 35,000 to 40,000 fans are expected to witness the 1 3/16-mile classic.

You can go down the line with fans on hand for the second of the turf's 3-year-old classics and the only way they can see anything but a victory for Citation is that "anything can happen in a horse race."

In Jubilant Mood

Even Jimmy Jones, trainer of Citation, is in a jubilant mood and obviously counting his second Preakness winner before it is saddled. Jones saddled Faultless in last year's Preakness and took home the biggest purse in its history $98,000.

Today's race won't be worth as much, but still is nothing to sneeze at. Citation and Borward, whose owners had to put up $3,000 to make them supplementary entries, would net $91,870 and Better Self or Vulcan's Forge $94,735 by winning.

Even a sloppy track, which likely will prevail, doesn't help the outlook for Citation's opposition.
He won the Kentucky Derby in slop and trainer Jones doesn't expect the turf as bad as it was last year when Citation won the Pimlico Futurity.

that he will take on anyone

As a chap who wrote stuff some years ago once put it, the moving finger writes and having writ moves on, for all your piety nor wit shall lure it back to cancel half a line, nor all your tears wash out a word of it. Follow by the name of Omar Khayyam. So, while we have heaps of respect for fading athletic veterans, our moving fingers are forced to write this, ala Omar:

* * * * *
Each spring new Athletics arise, you say;
But what of the Greats of yesterday?
And this spring Month which brings up some,
Shall take so Many older ones away.
Well, let it take Them—what can we do
With oldsters when Better are the new?
Let veterans Bluster, as they will,
You Younger Players, heed not you.
* * * * *

Time Moves Along

Yeah, time catches up to us all. But athletes age much faster than, say, business men. Or folks in most lines of endeavor. You are decidedly ancient at 40 as a hockeyist, ballster or gridder. It is even truer in lacrosse. In fact the middle 30s is considered quite elderly in most games. A 34-year-old athlete has to be a star, relying largely on his experience, to show superiority over a scrappy young guy of 21 or 22. So, with all due respect to the classy veterans adorning our playing fields, we'd say to the boys just breaking into faster company: Get in there and hustle every minute, learning as you go, along—and don't let the oldsters discourage you. You've got a future but theirs is past.

* * * * *
Karl Dorrington has drawn up the first half of the Girls' Softball League schedule, which opens May 26. Lindsay plays home games here but the Lakefield lasses have home games on their own diamond. Playoff arrangements and second half of the schedule will be announced later. Six local clubs aboard, Westclox, Marines, CGE, Ashby's, Lock Co. and Woollens, so the brand of ball should be better than in other years when there were more teams. And also when a few squads were packed and the rest too weak, which made for one-sided contests. Lindsay and Lakefield are unknown quantities as yet. Opening double-header has Ashby's against Woollens, and Marines playing the Electrics.

That's More Like It

Only three men's softball scraps have been run off at the Bowl so far but fans feel pleased with the way these tussles are started on time and kept moving. Despite scores of 13-2 and 7-3 Thursday evening, the final out was ticked at 10:20—which is good going. Umpires on their toes and club co-operation make this possible and we hope they continue all season this way. The ump's, of course, are still on trial by Prexy Pat Calladine and his executive, which may make a difference. But the team managers are showing more thought for the fans so far this semester and cutting down on stalling tactics. All players should keep hustling. And delay between games can be cut by players coming over about 8:15.

* * * * *
With the opening of the COBL schedule just a week away—we haven't much on the Peter's prospective lineup yet. Eddie Murphy was banking on a good workout this aft and then figured he'd have a good idea of the various spots on the squad. Some of last year's club will be out again, and some of the younger talent of the town coming up. Maybe a stranger or two, as well. But we'll have more on it next week when Eddie has another look or two at them. The Peter's play Batawa in Belleville a week from today and then on the following Monday, May 24, the Bata bunch are back here for an a.m. fix-ture. Kingston goes to Oshawa the same day.

Races And Contests

Jay-Cees' jamboree in Morrow Park on May 24 this year features three harness horse races in the afternoon, and all-local softball by the men. The four City League teams, De Laval, Knights, Legion and R-E Combines (that name replaces B-A, and stands for Rus-selle-Elliott, the sponsors), compete for the annual Jay-Cees Challenge Trophy, plus individual prizes for the winners. Two semi-final games in the afternoon, first one about two p.m., and the final clash betwixt the survivors at 6:30 that eve there. No outside teams allowed this year owing to (a) expenses and (b) squads of senior
"A" calibre make it unfair to those not so strong.

* * * * *
UP AND DOWN SPORTS' RIALTO: Soccer match at three this aft in King Edward Park, Peter's vs. CGE. Track and field meet this afternoon in Morrow Park. We're told Brampton senior "A" lacrossers play the Peter's An Miller
Bowl next Friday night; official opening ceremony, etc. . . .
Easter peewees drill at three today in the Oval and there Monday at 6:30. . . . Tip Tops of Toronto play the R-E Combines at eight in the Bowl tonight, an exhibition softball till with proceeds for the Civic Arena. . . . Knights have a practice Monday at 6:15 p.m. at the Orphanage diamond. . . .
Tuesday tussles are: De Laval vs. Combines, and Knights vs.
Legion. . . . Haven't heard the setup on umpires for next week yet. . . . Lasses' schedule is in tonight. . . . Church Loop commence their campaign next Tuesday. . . . They'll be excavating on the rink site the first of next week. . . . FWM:
Thanks, and we may take you up on that offer. . . . And this seems to be that.

Introducing

Frankie Hamon

His Piano and Music to Remember... soon to be heard in the beautiful new Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel in Peterborough.

The music of FRANKIE HAMON is well remembered in Western Canada. FRANKIE led a band for many years in Regina, playing over radio stations CHCK and CHWC, and led hotel orchestras in the Trianon Ballroom of the Hotel Saskatchewan, and on the stage of the Arcadia and Roxy Theatres.

Vacationists have danced during many a Western Canadian summer to FRANKIE HAMON'S MUSIC at Lake Katuwe, situated in the beautiful Qu'Appelle Valley District.

In Toronto the music of FRANK HAMON has been heard at the Old Mill, the Sea Breeze, the Hollywood Hotel and other Nite Spots. FRANKIE also served with the R.C.A.F., both in Canada and Overseas, for more than five years. Now, for the first time, FRANKIE HAMON has organized a band for the City of Peterborough, which will be heard at the beautiful new Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel.

FRANKIE HAMON is Musical Director of Radio Station CHEX, and has selected some of the finest musicians in the district for his newly organized band.

The band will feature the Silver Strings, and the Tenor Sax stylings of Del Cray.

It's a band that's new and different for this district, offering tangos, rumbas, waltzes, ballads, singing novelties as well as a jazz quartet.

It's the soft, sophisticated rhythms of FRANKIE HAMON, His Piano, and Music to Remember... to be featured soon at the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel.

Montreal Bows To Syracuse In Seven Innings

By The Associated Press

The prediction of Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League, that the circuit would have a close race is running true to form so far.

Only six games separate the tail-end Toronto Maple Leafs from the first place Syracuse Chiefs today. The Chiefs are only two games ahead of the second place Montreal Royals who in turn lead Buffalo Bisons and Newark Bears by two games.

The Chiefs opened a two-game bulge on the Royals Friday by beating Montreal 11-8 in a game halted at the end of seven innings because of rain.

Johnny Brebner started for the Chiefs but left in favor of Mike Schultz in the second after the Royals had pounded him for six runs. Schultz limited the Royals to two hits the rest of the way.

Trailing, 6-1 going into the fourth inning, the Chiefs scored twice and then tied the score with three more runs in the sixth to win. Al Gionfriddo, with a homer, triple and double starred for the Royals.

In the only night game, Baltimore Orioles jumped from last to fifth place by noosing out Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3. Johnny Wittig went the route for Baltimore to gain his third win. He allowed five hits including a two-run homer by Ed Sanicki. Howie Moss, with a homer and double led the Orioles' seven-hit assault against Jocko Thompson.

FAMOUS LIVERPOOL SOCCER TEAM — Two years ago the famous Liverpool soccer team toured Canada then went back and won the English League first division championship. The Liverpoolians are coming again this year. Most of the players who came two years ago will be here again, plus some famous new names. Picture shows the Liverpool

Crack Liverpool Football Team Arrives In Canada For Game

By BILL ENTWISTLE

Liverpool's $2,000,000 soccer team, one of the finest in the length and breadth of the British Isles, again is on this continent. The Liverpoolians, whose home is at Anfield-road on the banks of the River Mersey will play only one game in Canada, at Toronto, just as they did two years ago when they took everything in stride, then returned home, unbeaten and untied, to march on and win the championship of the first division of the English league.

Liverpool's team is composed almost entirely of international stars. The club has English internationals, Scottish internationals, Welsh internationals. However, at the present time, there are no Irish internationals. Liverpool did have an Irish international in Elisha Scott, one of the two famous brother goalkeepers, but that was long ago.

The Liverpoolians open their tour in New York on Sunday, May 16 and conclude it with an international match against the champions of Sweden, Djurgarden, at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn on Friday night, June 18. They play one game in Canada, against Ulster United at Toronto, on Tuesday night, June 15. This game will be staged, as last time in Maple Leaf Stadium.

Liverpool's forward line is studded with no less than four of the international gentry. Heading the list in point of international service is left winger Bill Liddell, who has won the colors of Scotland no fewer than 14 times. Bill, an airman, was trained in Canada under the Empire air training scheme and played for Toronto Scottish in wartime soccer. There is a story attached to Liddell's Toronto appearance. He "was picked up watching a game on an open park and because the club didn't have a registration form he was played on another player's form, named Tanner. This caused quite a lot of good-natured talk for a while and he came to be known as Bill "Tanner" Liddell.

Another Scottish selectee is Billy Fagan, the team's dribbling stylist. Fagan can do everything with a soccer ball except make it talk, and this red-headed dandy may make that ball do just that someday. Albert Stubbs, centre, and Jack Balmer, inside right are Liverpool's two English internationals on the forward line.

Stubbs, who came to the "Reds" by way of Newcastle shortly after the last tour, lived in Detroit for three years during his school days. He played for a school team in the Michigan city and won several medals before his family moved back to England. Now 28, he is rated one of the best goalscorers, centre forwards in all Britain and his record of nearly a goal per game stamp him as a terrific attacker.

The be-moustached bald-headed Balmer was a great favorite on the last tour and will be again, for he turned in three hat-tricks in the British season just closed. Jack Balmer comes from a line of soccer stars. His two uncles, Bill Balmer and Bob Balmer were the regular full backs of Everton, the other Liverpool first division club, for many, many years.

Liverpool's last lines of defence are all internationals. Cyril Sidlow, the goalie is Welsh, Raymond Lambert the full back is Welsh, and James Harley, the other back is Scottish. We didn't see Lambert on the last trip. Phil Taylor, the right half back is still another English international who used to be a forward, hails from Bristol and fell back to win his greatest honors at half.

Among the missing on this tour will be the late chairman of the club, William H. (Billy) McConnell, who passed on last fall after a long illness. More than anybody else, Billy McConnell was responsible for these tours. He was over here on war jobs and after establishing friendly relations agreed to bring his club when peace came. Two years ago Liverpool came and this second tour materialized because the Merseysiders won the hearts of all soccer fans on this side of the border and in United States, from New York to St. Louis. A former sailor on an oil tanker, McConnell rose to become owner of a large chain of dockside restaurants in his native Liverpool.

The 1948 tour of the team will be in the capable hands of Ronnie Williams, newly-elected chairman of the club. A round-faced fellow, Mr. Williams, who came two years ago, will be assisted by two other directors, James Throop and Ralph K. Milne, who also made the last trip. Several other directors missed this one.

The team to oppose the Liverpoolians in Toronto, Ulster United, will be much stronger than last time, for the simple reason that it has been strengthened by the advent of many stars from the Old Land, who came across in the immigration schemes.

When Liverpool played in Canada two years ago they provided an exhibition of first class soccer that not one who saw it has ever forgotten, or is ever likely to forget. The artistry of the Liverpoolians should be even more pronounced this year.

Find Christopher Can 'Take It'

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—When Russ Christopher won his first game for Cleveland Indians recently, he was engaged in a tough, extra-inning tussle against the White Sox when Aaron Robinson slammed a line drive right into his stomach. Russ retrieved the ball, tossed it to first for the putout and then collapsed on the mound. Trainer Lefty Weismann administered first aid and Manager Lou Boudreau suggested Christopher should try a few throws to make sure he was able to continue playing. "I'd better not waste any," Russ replied. "I'm too weak." So all he did was pitch four more scoreless innings.

Sportspouri
The 20th Century Sporting Club ticket department already is predicting a $1,000,000 dollar gate for the Louis-Walcott fight. When the Butler university track team beat Western Michigan by two thirds of a point the other day, Earl Boor, Western sprinter, had the winning points just about sewed up in the 220-yard dash when he saw the post at the 200-yard mark and pulled up. And when one of the pro basketball

Find Movie Stars Enjoy Off-Set Hobbies

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, May 15 (AP)—From reading the headlines, you might think the chief hobbies of the stars are night club brawls getting married and appearing in court. Actually, their off-the-set pastimes are much more normal.

Take Lew Ayres. He is an astronomy bug, and spends many of his night hours peering through a 12-inch telescope atop his Look-out Mountain home. Or Glenn Ford, a stamp collector.

Scratch an actor and you'll find a budding Rembrandt. Among the movie artists are Ginger Rogers, Frank Sinatra, Jane Wyman, Red Skelton, Linda Darnell, Cornel Wilde, Merle Oberon, etc.

Edward G. Robinson has one of the finest private art collections in the world. Harpo Marx, Charles Laughton, and Paulette Goddard are other notable collectors, and Vincent Price helped form the Institute of Modern Art in Beverly Hills.

Overgrown Boys

Those overgrown boys, Barry Fitzgerald, Keenan Wynn, and Larry Parks, like nothing better than to burn up the roads on their motorcycles. Clark Gable and Donald O'Connor enjoy tinkering with cars. Theirs, of course, are the high-powered, foreign-make variety.

The horsey set includes Fred Astaire, Betty and Harry James, Lou Costello, Alan Ladd and George Brent. George is also a noted breeder of nags, and Dan Dailey specializes in jumpers.

Tyrone Power, Dick Powell, Brian Donlevy, Dick Haymes, Wayne Morris, and Robert Taylor spend their spare hours flying. The sea claims Bogart and baby. Frank Morgan, James Cagney, and Errol Flynn.

Margaret O'Brien collects dolls as if you didn't know. Ingrid Bergman and Valli make amateur movies. Gary Cooper has a massive collection of sporting rifles. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., has over 10,000 toy soldiers.

Other hobbies—George Montgomery, furniture making; Maureen O'Hara, dress shop; Veronica Lake, dog breeding; Rex Harrison, jazz records; Joseph Cotten, clown role; Marie Montez, ceramics; Joe E. Brown, sports history; Gene Autry, making money.

Remember When...

By The Canadian Press

Nine years ago today a frog-jumping contest at Angel's Camp, California, created wide interest. A "dark horse" "Zip" surprised the fans by jumping 15 feet, 10 inches, setting the record. It's a safe bet that Zip's record still stands.

clubs, dickering with its star players on next year's contract, took the line of "we discovered you and made you famous," the athlete merely replied: "Columbus discovered America, too. And how long did he keep it?"

HE HUFFED! AND HE PUFFED!—Small fry of the Philadelphia Athletics watch as Tommy Fowler, son of Pitcher Dick Fowler, huffs and puffs the candles on his birthday cake at Philadelphia, Pa. Awed onlookers are Carol Marchildon, Terry Binks, Blake Chapman, all children of Athletics' players.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The International Amateur Athletic Federation Friday at London accepted the world records set last year by track stars Mel Patton of the United States, Herb McKenley of Jamaica and Mikko Hietanen of Finland. Patton, University of Southern California track star and chief United States hope in the Olympic sprints this summer, was listed officially as co-holder of the world 100-dash record with a time of 9.4 seconds set last May.

Youngsters from many countries participated in the 58th annual track and field meet at St. Catharines Ridley College Friday. Senior honors went to Bob Fennell of Newbury. In one of the closest championship races in the school's history, he tallied 21 points to edge Robin Bourne of Oakville and Strachan Bongard of Toronto. A. S. Steedman of Marathon, Ont., practically made a clean sweep to win the junior title.

Juicy fairways and 103 sand traps were no protection for par Friday as a quartet of golfers travelled the first round of the Philadelphia Inquirer $15,000 invitation tourney in 69 strokes, three below regulation figures. Ben Hogan, George Sneyter, Cary Middlecoff and Bobby Locke all trumped the 6,670 goosey yards of the Whitmarsh Valley country club at Philadelphia as if it were a paved street. Toronto's Bill Ezinicki of hockey fame carded a 39-37-75 to remain in the running.

Fight promoter Gil Martin said at Vancouver Friday night that Canadian welterweight champion Johnny Greco of Montreal will meet the winner of Monday's Joey Pyle-Phil Palmer bout in a title match in Montreal or Vancouver. Martin said Monday's match will be a semi-final for the Canadian welterweight championship. At Montreal, Frankie Doyle, co-manager of Greco, said that proposed fight was "news to me." Greco defends his title against Challenger Harry Hirst at Montreal Tuesday night.

Norman Von Nida of Australia won the $10,000 Daily Mail golf tournament at Sunningdale, England, Friday, with a 72-hole score of 270. His victory was worth $525 ($2,100), one of the richest purses in English golf. Von Nida finished five strokes ahead of Reggie Whitcombe, 50-year-old veteran who had set the pace for three of the four rounds.

The 1947 Eastern Canadian champion Mimico Mountaineers are none too happy about their player strength with the O.L.A. Senior A series opening next week. Mounties have lost six key men and may lose two more if release applications are approved. Archie Dixon, Bern Pritchard, Ed Sanford, Ike Hildebrand, Don Willson and Al McLean will be missing from the line-up, while Tom Love and Elmer Lee are seeking releases to play with Hamilton Tigers.

Taking the lead in the stretch drive, Mr. Handy, driven by Joe O'Brien of New Glasgow, N.S., won the $2,500 featured mile pace in Santa Anita's harness racing meet Friday, whipping Brother Harmony by three-quarters of a length. O'Brien brought Mr.

Handy in at 2:02 2/5, and a payoff of $12.40, $6.60 and $5.40.

War Bond, a seven-year-old chestnut gelding owned by E. H. Cudney, of Winona, Friday night topped the working hunters class in the Buffalo, N.Y. International Horse Show.

Makes Courageous Dash Into Flaming Trailer WINS DOW AWARD

JACK SOMERSBY OF VANCOUVER, B.C. risks life in gallant attempt to save aged owner

All was quiet in the little auto camp just outside Vancouver. Suddenly, from her cabin window, a woman saw a glare in the distance. Then, as she peered into the darkness, the glare became more brilliant. A trailer belonging to 74-year-old Thomas Whitaker had burst into flames.

RUNS FOR HELP

Running to Jack Somersby's cottage, the woman told him of the fire. "You get an ambulance," he said, "and I'll try to save the old gentleman." Sprinting the 50 yards to the blazing trailer, Somersby wrenched the door open, entered the trailer and in a few seconds had Whitaker out and on the ground. The old man's hair and clothing were as if he had been scorched. Somersby used his own hands and body to extinguish the flames. Minutes later, both Whitaker and Somersby were on their way to hospital. The rescuer was treated for severe burns about the hands and face. The older man failed to recover.

The fact that his rescue attempt was in vain does not detract from the courage and usefulness of Jack Somersby of Vancouver. We are proud to pay him deserved tribute through the presentation of The Dow Award.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canadian Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

Study U.S. Bill To Crimp Red Operations

WASHINGTON, May 15 — (AP).—The House of Representatives aimed a Legislative shot-gun at the Communist party today and got set to pull the trigger.

It probably won't fire until next week, when it expects to pass a bill making it a crime to try to set up a Communist dictatorship in the United States.

The bill doesn't outlaw the Communist party but it would crimp the party's operations and expose its members and activities.

The measure came before the House for debate today with:

1. A plea from Representative J. Parnell Thomas (Rep.-N.J.) to take firm action to cope with "the foremost menace to democracy today."

2. A retort from Representative Leo Isacson (American Labor-New York) that the bill repudiates the concept of progress and "regards America as a finished product, rigid and unchangeable."

New Member

Isacson is one of the newest members of Congress. He was elected earlier this year with the support of Henry Wallace, third-party presidential candidate.

Thomas is chairman of the House committee on un-American activities. The bill is the first legislative proposal ever drafted by that committee.

In its preamble, it asserts that an international Communist movement is conspiring to set up totalitarian dictatorships through organizations it controls in other countries.

The bill defines the American Communist party as one of these organizations. It says it shall be illegal to try in any way to set up a foreign-controlled "totalitarian dictatorship" in the United States or to take part in a movement to create such a dictatorship.

Violators would face 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine and would lose their U.S. citizenship.

Another provision requires the Communist party to register annually with the Justice Department and furnish a list of all its members. Failure to register, or false registration, would be punishable by from two to five years in prison and a fine of $2,000 to $5,000.

SOMETHING NEW—A paternity room, high over the city of Newark, N.J., has been built for fathers-in-waiting, at the Beth Israel hospital. Here the hopefuls, besides "relaxing," can listen to the intercommunication system which connects directly to the delivery room of the hospital. Four prospective fathers are seen lending an ear to the audio machine for direct word from the birth room. What will they think of next, for the usually "forgotten men."

Strike Blow At Communism By Killing Prejudice—Jones

"If you want to strike the hardest blow at Communism you can do it right here: by eliminating racial and religious intolerance." That was the advice of the Rev. Richard D. Jones, Director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews in an address to the Kiwanis Club on Thursday noon.

While in Peterborough Mr. Jones will approach some Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religious leaders on the subject of setting up a branch of the Council.

The Achilles heel of a democracy, he said, was that too often minority groups are looked upon as second-class citizens. And this vulnerability is exploited to the utmost by Communists.

Prejudice exists in all parts of the world and in any one place it does not always remain at the same level. As an example he pointed out that during a period of immigration there is always an upsurge in resentment, particularly as at present when there is a housing shortage.

The brotherhood of man has the sanction of both the Old and New Testament. He cited the contention of anthropologists who support the view that all men are descended from a common source. Thus he pointed out that the doctrine of brotherhood of man has both religious and scientific validity.

"Know the facts. The greatest amount of prejudice is based on ignorance." This he suggested was perhaps the greatest remedy of all.

He also asked his listeners "to judge a man on his own individual merits. He spoke of 'frozen concepts' which he described as the images which spring into a person's mind when a certain word is spoken. For instance, he said, the word Negro might conjure up the image of a dark-skinned man sitting on a rail fence munching a watermelon. A person must guard against this, he warned.

6 Million Died

The average person finds it difficult to believe that approximately six million Jews were killed during the recent war. And he said that frequently people dismiss this story as propaganda. Another example of prejudice was the opposition in the southern United States to the Civil Rights recommendations.

As a symbol of interdenominational co-operation he told the tale of the sinking of the Dorchester in the recent war. Two Protestant ministers, a Roman Catholic priest and a Rabbi stood together on the sinking ship, each one having sacrificed his life by giving his lifejacket to a sailor. To commemorate this dramatic incident he said the United States will soon issue a three-cent stamp depicting the scene.

Mr. Jones said he hoped to see branches of the Council established in centres all across Canada, and was currently engaged in sounding out local opinion on doing so in Peterborough.

He was introduced by William Richardson and thanked by Gordon Miller, Edward Pridham, president, was in the chair.

The membership of the first ten locals have received increases ranging from 23 to 38 cents per hour due to direct negotiations. In addition, piece workers have benefitted by improved conditions, average hourly earnings for down time, cleaning time, waiting for work, etc. The average hourly earnings of piece workers in many of these mills have increased from 35 to 60 cents per hour in two years with T.W.U.A.

The relationship between the above companies and the union has been extremely good. During all these negotiations, there has not been one minute lost time due to any trouble.

The results have been brought about by intelligent dealing on the part of both the companies and the unions. Responsible union representatives dealing with responsible far-sighted company representatives, coupled with the co-operation of the workers with both the company and the union, give the workers the HIGHEST POSSIBLE WAGES, the BEST POSSIBLE WORKING CONDITIONS and the GREATEST PEACE OF MIND.

Vandenberg-Stassen Ticket Seems Likely To Emerge In Vote

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, May 15 (CP).—A fairly independent Washington analyst has done a little research on the attitude abroad toward the forthcoming Republican Presidential nominating convention and he claims the sentiment favors Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, who is not making the slightest effort to get the nomination.

The veteran Constantine Brown, in the Washington Star, says there has seldom been keener interest abroad in a United States political convention than is being displayed in the forthcoming Republican gathering in Philadelphia.

Foreign governments, with traditional reluctance, do not openly comment on the conduct of American domestic politics — with possible exceptions.

But the western democracies, Brown says, are known to favor Vandenberg, with Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, as second choice.

At the moment it appears quite possible that these western countries will be pleased at the outcome because there is a strong possibility that a Vandenberg-Stassen ticket will emerge from the convention.

Russian Attitude

Soviet Russia and her satellites, through their controlled opinion outlets, are not so reticent. They openly and almost daily broadcast their belief that the United States and the world will be best served by the election of Henry Wallace as president.

At the moment it seems most unlikely that Wallace will be the next President and there is no certainty that the next White House tenant will be a Republican.

There is still a chance that Harry Truman will be elected for a second term, but many believe his chances will be lessened if the Republicans put up Vandenberg and Stassen.

Information here says the foreign countries associated with the United States look upon Governor Thomas Dewey of New York as a little too tough and aloof, and Senator Robert Taft of Ohio as too isolationist and conservative.

Vandenberg Well Informed

Vandenberg is a converted isolationist who is the keystone in the bi-partisan foreign policy system which has prevailed in the United States since 1945.

He is one of the best informed American statesmen on foreign affairs and in the last three years has helped the administration put through measures designed to aid Western Europe and restore their economy.

At the moment Stassen, 41, the youngest man in the race, is riding the crest of popularity. His primary successes in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Ohio and Pennsylvania have been sensational. But these do not ensure him the nomination.

Possible Deadlock

They do point to the likelihood of a deadlock at Philadelphia in which it will become obvious that neither Dewey nor Taft, can get the nomination. Both look on Stassen as a sort of upstart. If they have to swing their support elsewhere they will not want it to go to Stassen.

That is where Vandenberg may come in unless he absolutely refuses to consider the nomination. He is probably the most popular compromise candidate in sight.

In this situation the support given Stassen would undoubtedly entitle him to second place on the ticket and many here forecast that he will win the Vice-Presidential spot.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

ANGLICAN

VARIOUS

Naomi, a Jewish woman, living in Moab, lost her husband and two married sons, and decided to return to Judah. Her two daughters-in-law, Orpah and Ruth, went with her part way, then Orpah went back but Ruth would not leave Naomi.

The two women went to Bethlehem, Naomi's old home, and the whole town was excited about them. Naomi said, "Call me Mara, for the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me." Mara means bitter.

Now it was the time of reaping. Ruth said she would go into the field and glean behind the reapers to provide food for them. The field where Ruth gleaned belonged to Boaz, a relative of Naomi's, and he permitted her to glean with his maidens.

Naomi advised Ruth to glean only in Boaz's fields, and Boaz took notice of the Moabite woman; he praised her for her love and care of Naomi, his kinswoman, saw that she was well treated, and finally married her.

Mother of Jesus Mentioned
Three Times in Gospels

By REV. E. R. JAMES
There Was a Marriage In Cana
Of Galilee And The Mother Of Jesus Was There.

St. John 2:1.
Perhaps the most precious word in your vocabulary is MOTHER.
So it is good for us to know something of the character of the Mother of the Lord Jesus. The Gospels tell us very little about her.

It was a wedding and joy was the primary thought. Through some misunderstanding the wine ran out. How calmly the mother speaks to her Son, not hysterically or with a woman's dismay. It is a clear statement. "They have no wine." Very probably she was a close relative of the host for in a tone of authority she speaks to the servants, who obey her without question. "Whatever He saith unto you do it." When the water was turned into wine, very excellent according to the toastmaster: "Thou has kept the good wine until now"—there is no cry of praise from the Mother of Our Lord. She expects something will be done. She has been observing Him for 30 years. Her faith in Him has been strengthened by His miracle of turning the water into wine, thus showing forth His glory.

"Jesus said unto her: Woman what have I to do with thee?"
You have been upset by this term
"woman." "Lady" is what you would have expected. Do you know that "lady" means the loaf giver. It means a woman who has a loaf to give and gives it.
"Woman" is a "wife-man," who frees both the peril and the joy of motherhood. In the Greek the two words "woman" and "lady" mean the same. It is applied by the Lord to the stainless and the stained; to His mother and the unhappy Mary Magdalene.
"Woman, why weepst thou?" To the Syrian woman: "O woman great is thy faith"; and to the woman taken in adultery:

"Woman where are thy accusers?"
With the Lord "Woman" is a term of respect. On the lips of the Pure One "Woman" must be a true lady and "lady" a true woman.

"The Mother of Jesus." Three times she is mentioned. At Cana of Galilee where her faith in her Son is strengthened and established. At Capernaum where we read one said to the busy Master: "Thy mother and Thy brethren stand without." The Lord stretches forth His hand towards His disciples and says:
"Behold, My Mother and My brethren." She had come to save Him from His mission. He would teach her that in His work there must be separation from her. She must not interfere with His call from God. "I am come to do the will of Him that sent Me" is His ideal. What a lesson for the parent who thinks he knows what is best for his son.

"Now there stood by the Cross of Jesus His mother." Some 30 years ago she gave birth to Him and laid Him in the manger. Can you see her pushing her way through the crowd and murmuring as an explanation: "I am His mother."
He may have a message for me.
The way opened immediately. She looked into His eyes and He into hers and she heard Him say
"Woman, behold thy son." "From that hour the disciple—the learner on the Breast of the Lord—took her to his own home."

Would you be good enough to emphasize the word "Stood"? She is not prostrate with grief, as some picture her. Her strength of character. How will you take some bitter grief or sorrow?
THE LORD JESUS SAID: BE-HOLD, MY MOTHER AND MY BRETHREN. FOR WHOSO-EVER WILL DO THE WILL OF GOD, THE SAME IS MY BROTHER, MY SISTER AND MY MOTHER.

Family Loyalty Revealed
In the Action of Ruth

Scripture—The Book of Ruth
BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The mother-in-law joke—and its endless variations—is one of the oldest wheezes in the drab history of alleged humor. It pictures the mother-in-law as a selfish, unreasonable, jealous harpy—the source of misunderstandings between the young married couple.

In actuality, to millions of happy women the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law relationship is a very real and fine thing, with the older and younger women gaining a deep understanding which blossoms into life-long affections. The life together of Ruth and Naomi is the classic example of such a relationship.

The Biblical story of Ruth and Naomi exemplifies the spirit of two affectionate and fine women whose first thoughts were not of themselves but of each other. It is splendid and inspiring.

Naomi was a Jewish woman who with her husband and two sons, had left her native land and gone to Moab, an ancient country situated on a plateau on the eastern shore of the Dead Sea. The Moabites were Semitic, with a language much like that of the Hebrews. It was a time of famine in Israel when Naomi family migrated to this country and stayed there.

Elimelech Naomi's husband died, and the sons, Mahlon and Chilion, married Moabite women.
Then both sons died, leaving Naomi widowed and childless. Naomi decided that she would return to her old home, and her two daughters-in-law, Ruth and Orpah, went with her until Naomi told them to return to their mothers' homes, saying, "The Lord deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.
The Lord grant you that ye may find rest, each of you in the house of her husband."
Naomi kissed her daughters-in-law, they all wept, and the daughters said to her, "Surely we will return with thee unto thy people."
Orpah finally turned back, but Ruth pleaded with Naomi not to insist on the younger woman returning to Moab. Ruth's earnest pledge of lifelong loyalty touched the older woman's heart and she consented to bring the widowed girl with her to Israel.
So the two went on together to Bethlehem, and there they caused quite a stir in the town.

Old friends asked, "Is this Naomi?" and she answered, out of her desolation, "Call me not Naomi (which means Pleasant), call me Mara (which means Bitter)."
Then Naomi told them of the loss of her husband and sons.

When Naomi and Ruth came to Judah it was the barley harvest time, so Ruth suggested that she go into the fields to glean behind the reapers, to get food for the two of them. Naomi had a kinsman named Boaz, who was
"a mighty man of wealth," we are told, and it was to his field Ruth went.

Boaz saw the young woman and asked his reapers who she was.
One man answered that she was the Moabite damsel, who had come back with Naomi. Boaz then told Ruth to glean with his young women gleaners, for he had spoken to his reapers and told them not to molest her in any way, and when she was thirsty to drink of the water the men had drawn.

Ruth was so touched by this kindness that she "fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground" as was the quaint custom of the time, and asked him why he was so kind to her. Boaz said that he had heard of her goodness to her mother-in-law, his kinsman Naomi, and that the Lord would recompense her.
Then he told her that when she was hungry she was to join the reapers at their meal.
Further, he commanded his reapers not only to let her reap but to leave extra gleanings for her to take.
Boaz' interest in Ruth did not rest there. As a relative of Naomi and her late husband, Elimelech

PCVS Students Donate $500 Aid For Britain

In a packed senior assembly at PCVS on Friday afternoon Gerry Hillis, president of the Student Council handed over a cheque for $500 to the Aid to Britain fund. This money was raised by the students themselves in a number of ways including sale of homemade candy, sale of a school newspaper and checking coats at the collegiate auditorium. Gordon K. Fraser, MP, accepted the gift on behalf of Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, British High Commissioner.

So enthusiastic was the response to this humanitarian project that the fund was over-subscribed by $300. This surplus was turned over to the Canadian Appeal for Children fund, several weeks ago.

The idea of helping the hard-pressed British through school activities was originally conceived by the defeated party that ran for Student Council. When the present party took office it adopted that plank in its opponent's platform and proceeded to organize the campaign. As a gesture of recognition Al Lee, defeated candidate for president, made the presentation.

Mr. Fraser accepted the gift on behalf of Sir Alexander and read a letter from him in which he regretted his absence and assured the student body that the money was needed and would be put to the best possible use. He expressed both his personal gratitude and that of the people of Britain.

Commended Students

In a short address to the students Mr. Fraser commended them for their thoughtfulness and organizing ability. He pointed out that every student had played a part in raising the money either through time and work or cash donations, sometimes both.

Each form in the collegiate had its quota and one of the interesting things about the drive was the number of novel ways devised to raise the required sum.

On the platform at the assembly were Mr. Fraser, C. S. Browne, principal, the student council executive, Gerry Hillis, president; Barbara Lawrie, secretary; Leon Patton, treasurer; Al Lee, who presented the cheque; Anita Davis, Eleanor Magee and Jean Armstrong.

Regiment Band To Be Re-formed

Regimental band of the 50th HAA Regt. (PWR) RCA, which was disbanded at the end of 1946 when the former Prince of Wales Rangers became a heavy anti-aircraft regiment, is to be re-formed. It will be under the direction of Bandmaster Albert Crossdale, former bandmaster at Camp Borden and National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa.

The band will consist of 29 men, and new instruments are being provided for their use. Recruiting for the band will begin on Tuesday evening, and a considerable interest has already been shown in the band's formation.

Many Pupils Need Teeth Treatment

About two-thirds of the pupils of the public schools require dental attention of some kind, an inspection of the report of Dr. S. J. Graham, School Dental Officer, reveals. In reports presented to the Board of Education Thursday night, covering two schools—Confederation and Queen Mary—only 268 of a total of 760 pupils examined were listed as "O.K."

There were 79 pupils treated at the school clinic and 191 received treatment from family dentists. Two hundred and three were noted as "still needing treatment." Nineteen pupils have left the two schools and were not included in the report.

Scouts, Cubs Given Prizes

Canadian and Dutch folk dance were performed on Thursday night by Brownies to end the two-day Scouting exhibition in the Market Hall. Thursday was "Girl Guide" night and under the leadership of Miss Moira Whalor both guides and brownies showed they were no less versatile than their male associates.

An exhibition of American Square Dancing was put on by the guides, and the All Saints' troop entertained the spectators with a Camp Fire program which included group songs.

The St. John's Boy Scout troop was also popular with the large number of spectators who attended. Under the direction of Kings Scout Douglas Cooke and his fellow Scout leaders, a model den was set up where bicycle repairs were demonstrated and a number of Scouting books displayed.

The troop organized the den without the aid of the Scoutmaster. Others who helped were Rod Delaney and Robert Green of St. John's.

Prizes were awarded by District Commissioner Ernest Wolff. Those receiving prizes included: Robert Kingston, St. John's, an electric motor kit; K. Currie, Trinity, two sets of rare Hungarian stamps; Dean Lynch and J. Lisum, both of Trinity, wrist compasses and flash light, respectively; Robert Friskin, St. Andrew's, jack knife; Jack Blyward, Jack knife; J. King, Trinity, jack knife; and J. Friskin, St. Andrew's, ping pong set.

In the Cubs, awards went to Ron King, St. Luke's; W. Blackwell, St. John's; D. Brown, George St.; V. Bristol, St. Andrew's; Ray Pullyblank, All Saints'; David Beggs, Murray Heinz, St. Andrew's; G. Stabler, St. Andrew's; Ron Gibson, St. Andrew's; Bo Naish, Murray St. and C. Hill, St. George's.

WARM WEEK-END PROMISED

Fishermen who headed for the Kawartha Lakes on Friday night to practice their favorite sport may have been called during the early hours of the morning, but the weatherman has better things in store. Warm weather with plenty of sunshine is promised particularly today. So even if they come back with few fish they should have the beginnings of a coat of tan.

Mayor Hopeful Houses Will Be Built

The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has rejected estimates for the building of 200 houses in Peterborough and a similar number in Oshawa, Cobourg and Wingham because they would not permit of rentals under the $37.50 maximum Regional Supervisor P. S. Secord said today. The estimates were too high, he said, although satisfactory arrangements have been made for the erection of 500 similar houses at Windsor. Rental in this case would not exceed $37.50.

However Mayor William Owens is still confident that the 120 houses will be built in Peterborough and he said today that further study was being given Peterborough's case. Here the land was being provided by the city and it was hoped that this concession would bring the necessary rental down to the $37.50 maximum. "The whole Peterborough situation is up for reconsideration and we should hear from them sometime towards the end of next week," he said.

Mayor Owens was the opinion that Mr. Secord's announcement was advising the public that the prices submitted for the building of these houses was considered too high by Central Mortgage and Housing in Peterborough, Oshawa, Cobourg and Wingham and that further consideration would have to be given the question.

Builders in Peterborough who were asked why building costs here should be higher than in Windsor said there information was that they were not but that several things had to be taken into consideration. The block of houses in Windsor was 500 and the company who got the job had a great deal of experience while the men tendering on the Peterborough job were more or less inexperienced at building blocks of houses.

Camp Kawartha Vastly Improved

Many new features have been added the Y's Men's Camp Kawartha this year. A fine playing field has been laid out, which is equipped with a regulation softball diamond, swing, parallel bars, flying rings, track and field space and an archery range.

An up-to-date, fully equipped hospital cottage has been built in the grounds, and the main lodge is being remodeled. Table tennis has been added to the games equipment.

The purchase of four new boats brings the camp fleet to three freighter canoes, six 16-foot canoes, two square stern skiffs, and three outboard motors. Other features include an electric light system and mattresses on all beds.

First District Dental Survey Held At Apsley

First rural dental survey in Peterborough County since the war, was carried out at Apsley on Thursday, when about 245 children from 13 outlying schools in the neighboring district had their teeth examined. The survey was made by the Red Cross and Peterborough Dental Health Association as a preliminary survey of work needed to be done by the Red Cross mobile dental clinic, which will be coming in the last week of May.

The work is an attempt to educate the public in country districts in dental health and the importance of caring for children's teeth. The results of the survey have yet to be tabulated.

SIMPLE DESIGN ADDS BEAUTY TO HOME, MAKES DOLLAR STRETCH

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT—Few can escape the allure of its splendid lines. It seems to strike a new note in cottage design. Clapboards are silver grey, blending beautifully with the cobble stone chimney and flower box. Shutters and trim are white. Roof is of weathered shakes. Look carefully at the floor plan and see how much it has to offer. That little den with the corner fireplace shouldn't be overlooked, nor the bay in the breakfast nook! Both bedrooms are well placed for privacy, and convenience to the bathroom. Mr. A. H. Mitchell was the builder and further information may be had from Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Let Safety Dictate Design Of Stairway In Your Home

There are four main requisites to a good stairway. Pleasing appearance, of course, goes without saying. But equally, if not more important, are the factors of comfortable ascent and descent . . . staunch construction . . . and possibly most important of all, safety. Building of finish stairs in the home is one of the finer parts of carpentry works and calls for all the care and skill of the craftsman. While stairways are often obtainable in standard stock sizes with members ready to be fitted by workmen on the job, stairways with unusual landings made necessary by the partitioning of rooms on the upper floors will likely demand individual design.

Building Terms Used
Before discussing some of the factors determining good and bad design, let us review first some of the building terms encountered in stairway construction. The total depth of the stairway from the surface of the lower floor to the surface of the upper floor is the total "rise." Length of floor space taken up by construction is the "run" of the stairs. The "pitch" is the angle of inclination at which the stair rises. "Staircase" is the material enclosing the side and bottom of the stairs.

The most commonly encountered terms will be the "risers" (vertical facing at the end of the toe as you ascend) and the "treads" (horizontal surface on which you tread). The "string board" is the supporting piece of lumber at each end of the steps. This is a "CLOSED-string" when it has grooves into which the ends of the steps are placed, and an "OPEN string" when it has the steps resting directly on top.

Safety Precautions.
Minimum and maximum measurements govern the requirements for comfort in the risers and treads and it is generally agreed that treads should not be less than 9" to 10" wide and risers not over 8".

Stairways should never be built with less than 6' 8" of headroom at the lowest point, with more space desirable. Even with this height, tall people will find it quite possible at time to crack their heads against protruding beams and the ceiling angle when they step up.

Go to all lengths to obtain a straight-run type stairway if possible, with good hand rails and ample light. Besides being considerably safer, simplified construction may cost only one-half the "winder" type. Winders of steep pitch are to be particularly avoided.

Make sure your attic and basement walls are equipped with a good strong hand rail. Remember that no matter how much you spend for stair safety, it won't come nearly as high as would the cost of a single accident. Hand-rails should always be low enough to be within the reach of children, staunchly secured and easy to grasp.

Basement stairs are often poorly built in the first place and when subject to possible dampness and maybe dry rot, deteriorate into a definite hazard. If your cellar stairs have been up some time it is well to examine them for possible need of strengthening. Loose treads should be nailed down tight and if worn or splintered along the edges, knocked off and replaced.

Needs Financing

TORONTO, May 13.—(CP).—B. W. Heise, Ontario Deputy Welfare Minister, said Friday adequate financing of the Children's Aid Societies, was necessary in the modern attack on sociological problems. He addressed the 33rd annual conference of the Association of Children's Aid Societies of Ontario.

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 13 (CP).—Premier Drew Friday night reserved comment on the Federal government's announcement of health services grants until he had a chance to study the Ottawa announcement in detail.

RICHARD RETURNS TO MOTHER EARTH—This on and off moment in the Lang Lang Rodeo at Victoria, Australia, finds Richard Porter at the off phase. He is apparently looking for a soft spot for his involuntary return to mother earth. The rodeo, once exclusively American, has become popular "down under" and regular championship tilts are now staged in many parts of Australia.

Broadworth-Howes Vows Pledged at Roseneath

ROSENEATH, May 15.—(ENS). An arch twined with wild cherry blossoms and snapdragon surmounted by bridal bells, with a background of cherry blossoms in the chancel, formed the setting for a lovely wedding this afternoon in Roseneath United church, when Rev. R. C. White united in marriage Olive Irene Howes and David Clifford Broadworth, both of Roseneath.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Robert Howes and the late Mrs. Howes, and the groom is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. George Broadworth, Roseneath.

The wedding music was played by Miss Clarice Atkinson, church organist, and during the signing of the register Mrs. R. C. White sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride, given in marriage by her eldest brother, Allan Howes of Frankford, wore a toe length gown of white sheer over white taffeta. Soft drapery formed a full bodice with deep embroidered yoke, high neckline and bishop sleeves, with a full bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip veil of white net was held in place with a coronet of white flowers. She carried a nosegay of pink roses with many colored streamers, and wore the groom's gift, a three-strand pearl necklace.

The bridesmaid was Miss Betty Dempsey of Coneseon, gownned in toe-length falcon rose net over rose satin. The gown was styled with a long basque, shirred shoulders, high neckline, cap sleeves and a full skirt shirred to the hip line. Her shoulder length white veil was held in place with pink rose buds. She wore long rose lace gloves and carried a nosegay of carnations with rose centre.

Audrey Derry, Roseneath, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a sky blue organdy dress with long full skirt deeply flounced. Her head dress was blue and white fashioned similar to the bride's and she carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

George Broadworth, Roseneath, was his brother's best man.

Ford Derry of Roseneath, brother-in-law of the bride, and Melville Broadworth, brother of the groom were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ford Derry. Mrs. Derry wore a printed turquoise silk frock with matching hat. She was assisted by the groom's mother wearing black crepe with a black hat and both wore corsages of pink roses.

A buffet supper was served with Miss Beverly and Shirley Bennett of Havelock and Frieda Broadworth, Roseneath, as assistants.

The home decorations were carried out in pink and white, with streamers, bells and flowers. The dining table covered with a hand-made lace cloth was centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with silver vases of pink flowers and pink and white candles.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Broadworth left for Ottawa and other eastern points. The bride wore a princess blue ballerina suit, white embroidered sheer blouse, blue hat, grey shortie coat and black accessories. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold chateleine, to the best man a ball point pen, and to the ushers billfolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadworth will reside on their farm near Roseneath.

the meditation. Little Nancy Powell sang, "When Mothers of Salem," and "When He Cometh." Mrs. Lawrence Winslow chose as her solo, "Teach Me to Pray."

A note of thanks from Mrs. J. Rowland and Miss Agnes Johnston acknowledged remembrance of their mother's 100th birthday, and Mrs. F. J. Smith gave the stewardship message.

A quilt top was displayed, made by Miss Thornton and Mrs. Sieveright. Quilting will be at Mrs. Edmunds' home next week.

A special offering will be taken in June to meet expense of lining and other needs. Miss Hetherington gave the missionary reading for the month, and the president announced the June meeting in charge of Group A. Mrs. J. H. Might convener, at the home of Mrs. W. Williamson. Mrs. J. A. Brown reported 20 calls made in the interests of community friendship.

The leaders of the Mission Band, Mrs. B. E. Ingham and Mrs. H. W. Gray extended an invitation for the Auxiliary to attend the meeting May 29, when the children will put on a radio mission play, and other features of interest.

Mrs. Ball told the story of the Bible in Iceland, and Miss Hetherington covered the study book lesson.

125 In Parade At Lakefield Cadet Inspection

LAKEFIELD, May 15—(ENS)—Lakefield High school held its annual Cadet inspection on Thursday, with Captain R. C. Graves Cadet officer of Central Command, inspecting the Cadets.

Under the command of Captain Arden Clements, the cadets received a general inspection and marched past the reviewing stand. The advance in review order was exceptionally well done, perfect step being maintained and movements being carried out with precision.

All of the 125 cadets took part in the physical training demonstration. Four of them—D. Calberry, J. McCracken, N. Batten, H. Hawthorne—gave a display of knots and lashings. In charge of visual signalling with lamp were B. Crawford, J. Deck and D. Wilford.

Buzzer signalling was demonstrated by George Hutton, C. Freeburn, C. Ridpath and E. Sabatino. First aid was shown by E. Payne, D. Matthews and O. Graham.

Lieutenant George Kelly was second-in-command and sergeant-major was Percy Colberry. Platoon sergeant was Cameron Freeburn, with George Hutton in charge of the 1st platoon. Sergeant Herbert Knox led the High school band, which had received its instruction from Principal Robert E. Sutton.

There were also four girls forming a Girls' Corps, Irma Bullock, Marion Sloan, Joyce Hutt and Jean Gerald.

Boys Complimented

Captain Graves complimented the cadets on their military precision and added constructive criticism. He asked them not to let their standard fall, and for those who would be in the corps next year to strive to do even better. Always be proud of yourselves, the school and Canada, he said.

J. W. Ridpath, High School Board, said he was glad to see the students taking such an active part in community activities. E. H. Northey, chairman of the Public School Board, and an ex-cupul, said the corps was 100 per cent better than when he was there, adding that he was proud of the display.

Gordon Blake, G. Bogard, D. Chatten, D. Darling, J. Hardy, D. Hester, D. Matthews, L. Smith, G. McCracken, E. Sabatino and D. Wilford were all presented with signalling certificates by Thomas Birch.

Principal Sutton announced that the government signalling grant had been raised from $5 to $10. He thanked all members of the Cadet Corps and said they were a credit to the school.

A Cadet dance was later held at the Lakefield Pavilion.

Taking the salute at the reviewing stand in the march past when Captain Graves, Major Young, of the Department of Education, Toronto, representing the citizenship side of the inspection, J. A. Thompson, principal of the Continuation school, J. E. Hamilton, principal of the Public school, and Sgt. Major E. Kent, the last two having the cadet training in their charge.

F. P. Stinson, chairman of the school board, was also at the base, and his son, Ted Stinson, a former O.C. of the local Cadet Corps, was present for the inspection, having completed his University course for the academic year. The parade was from the Armories to the school grounds, headed by the Cadet Bugle Band, under Cadet Lieutenant Robert Bigelow, with Hazel Rowe, in an attractive red and white costume, making a competent majorette. The band added much to the success of both the inspection and the parade and received definite commendation from Captain Graves and Major Young.

Demonstrations of first aid, rifle construction, map reading, and signals followed the P.T., which was a popular feature carried through with precision and prompt obedience to commands, given by the Cadet officers in turn. These included Lyle McMahon, Officer Commanding; Conrad Stinson, Capt.-Adjutant; Ralph Richards, 2 IC; Lindsay Selch, Sergeant-Major; Lieut. Pat Kent, No. 1 Platoon; with Fraser Carr, Sgt.; No. 2, Lieut. Ed. Hewitt, Sgt. Bennett Handley.

Girls' Company
The Girls' Company, No. 3, was under Captain-Adjutant Pauline Kennedy; Bett North, Lieutenant, and Jessie Dawson, Sgt.; No. 3, Lieut. Betty Forsyth, Sgt. Betty North. The girls responded to commands smartly, and were attractive in white blouses, with pleated navy skirts.

Captain Graves, in his brief address, stressed the fact that "you can always count on this Cadet Corps to rise to the occasion; you have put on a very good display, and you should be proud of yourselves, as should Millbrook, and the army."

"Your P.T. was good, though I noticed one or two who needed an extra push. You cannot be actually perfect, but you can be close to perfect."

Answering the criticism that Cadet training encourages war, the speaker emphasized that on the contrary, it is not a waste of money nor would it stop having a war, but if anyone wants a war with us, this discipline and training is going to stop a lot of trouble.

Explain Reason For Barring 7

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP).—The Justice Department said Thursday that seven Canadian delegates to the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' convention in Atlantic City were refused entry under immigration rules which permit keeping out aliens "whose presence in the United States may be inimical to our best interests." Officials refused to enlarge on that.

The seven were refused entry permits by the US Immigration Field Service Office at Toronto. David Schlossberg, counsel for the CIO Union, and Sol Spivak, manager of the union's joint board in Toronto, said Wednesday that five delegates had been denied entry. Schlossberg termed it "an outrage," and said he had protested to the Washington authorities.

LAKEFIELD, May 15 (ENS)—Approximately 125 visitors from as far away as Nova Scotia as well from Toronto, Peterborough, Madoc, Stirling and Millbrook were guests of Lakefield Lodge 558, Independent Order of Oddfellows this week. The occasion was the conferring of the 2nd degree on a class of 21 candidates from Peterborough and Lakefield. The degree team from the Kawartha Encampment No. 6 exemplified the degree.

After the lodge meeting lunch was served in the IOOF Hall by the lady Rebekahs.

Sally Revival Lacking Old Sparkle

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, May 14 (CP).—Comedian Willie Howard's antics and some sentimental Jerome Kern tunes help to make the current revival of "Sally" a modestly entertaining production.

But the musical, as refurbished at the Martin Beck Theatre, shows its age in spots and some of the older heads who saw it wished that Marilyn Milleh was back in the cast.

Bambi Linn, in her place, did not seem to fill the bill even though she is an accomplished dancer. Willie Howard remained wonderfully funny and such hit songs as "Look for the Silver Lining" and "Reaching for the Stars" helped in providing a nostalgic atmosphere for those who remembered the 1920s when "Sally" first appeared.

Finis for A.R.T.

The American Repertory Theatre is to be dissolved after an existence of less than two years during which it encountered constant financial difficulties. Margaret Webster, Eva Le Gallienne, and Cheryl Crawford were among the founders of ART, designed to bring to the people of the United States "the finest dramatic creations of the present and past." ART staged six of its own offerings during the 1946-1947 season, followed by three more with other managements.

A Rowdy Success

The New York City Theatre Company is currently diverting patrons at the city centre with a rowdy, lusty performance of Ben Jonson's "The Alchemist." A judicious injection of sharp wit and excellent slapstick made this into first-rate entertainment. Jose Ferrer contributed much to the performance with his characterization of "Face," the sly servant. Ferrer directs the production at a fast pace.

exercises conducted by Mrs. F. W. Brockley.

The Rev. C. G. Boyd and Mr. James Dutton presented a request from the session for the society's help in forming a visiting committee for the entire congregation. A committee of Mrs. Robt. Ross, Mrs. A. W. Hinds, Mrs. N. S. Courtney, Miss M. Ross and Mrs. T. J. Carley with the president, was appointed to meet with representatives of other organizations of the church.

Mrs. A. R. Bennett, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. McNeil, contributed two timely solos "When I Kneel Down to Pray" and "My Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me."

Paper on the study book were given by Mrs. A. F. McConkey and by Mrs. O. M. Steer. Mrs. McConkey told of the pioneer work of Mr. and Mrs. John Geddie in the New Hebrides, which was so successful that converts themselves became missionaries to other parts of their land.

Mrs. Steer told of the life of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Gordon who like the Geddie's came from the Maritimes. One of their most difficult accomplishments was translation of portions of the Bible into native languages. When these valiant workers were slain by superstitious natives who blamed them for disasters of climate and disease. Mrs. Gordon's brother, James Douglas Gordon, Rev. W. McCullough and Rev. D. Morrison replaced them, and were eventually successful in bringing Christian teachings to that land.

Mrs. Diplock expressed appreciation to those assisting in the program, and closed the meeting with a brief prayer.

Mildred Brown Gives Talk To Mark St. Club

Mr. and Mrs. Club members of Mark St. United Church took keen interest in the address given by Miss Mildred Brown, placement officer of Cobourg Training School for Girls, at their meeting Friday evening. She was introduced by Mr. Lloyd Rowland of the program committee. Mr. Ken Kidd, president, was in the chair, and conducted the opening worship service.

Miss Brown explained that girls in their care are mostly delinquents and have come to the school because of failure of parents to enact their prime duty. "As parents they are naturally expected to give the child a home with a feeling of security, teach them to be healthy citizens and earn a decent honest living, and to make good use of their leisure time. Lack of this last point is the chief cause of the girls becoming wards of the training schools," Miss Brown pointed out.

"Purpose and objective of any school is to train, educate and guide, and this is also true of the Training School but their material is different. We work with failures in society, who have a spiritual deficiency. What they need is balanced love and affection, understanding, security and experience in life and these can be given best by parents." She explained how the schools try to accomplish these ends in the best manner known to them and said that churches can help a great deal by accepting replaced people and not condemning them until they have had a fair chance to prove themselves.

In Ontario three Protestant and three Catholic training schools are maintained. Staff at the Cobourg institution numbers 32.

Musical entertainment was provided by Mr. Cecil Searies who gave a group of three violin solos, and Mrs. Searies contributed a solo.

Business of the meeting included plans for a weiner roast to be held in July. It was announced that this would be the final meeting of the season. Lunch was served at the close by the social committee.

GEORGE ST. INTERMEDIATE

The meeting was devoted mainly to handicraft and the discussion of plans for entertaining mothers of the group on May 2. A donation of $5 was voted toward the cost of the new projector. Barbara Hewitt, Joan Tremblay and Carole McKenzie conducted the worship. Joan Young reported.

Liberal Women Reorganize Mrs. Chas. M. Scott Elected

Peterborough County Women's Liberal Association has re-organized and will become a driving force under direction of Mrs. C. M. Scott, the unanimous choice for president. The meeting was held Friday evening in Hooper's Palm rooms and conducted by Dr. Ralph Honey until executive offices were filled. Mrs. Jack Duignan acted as secretary during nominations and her election to the office was later confirmed.

Other officers are: honorary president, Mrs. C. R. Banks; 1st vice president, Mrs. J. A. Dewart; 2nd vice president, Mrs. P. J. Anglesey; treasurer, Mrs. Wallace Shearer. Mr. Charles Elliott, Liberal candidate, expressed pleasure in the prospect of an active women's organization which has been lacking in this riding for some time. He outlined a number of the reasons why women should be deeply concerned with the outcome of the coming election. The provincial government has jurisdiction over many matters which affect daily living and the future of women. Its control covers old age pensions and the public health set-up. The Children's Aid Society is a responsibility of the provincial government and approval must be given by the Department of Welfare before a child may be adopted. Hospital grants are given by the authorities of the province, but the amount of these is considered inadequate at the present time, and the Liberal candidate suggested an increase might be forthcoming after a change of government.

"Ontario has been unable to derive benefit from the health insurance program because the provincial government has not come to an agreement with the federal," Mr. Elliott explained. "Mental hospitals, which, and to relate, are a pitiful state today because of overcrowding, are also under provincial jurisdiction, and partial control of the Department of Education is maintained. Therefore it is clear that the affairs of the municipality and province are probably of greatest interest to the women."

Mr. Arthur Lewis, president of the Liberal Association, pledged full support from the executive of the men's organization and asked the women to feel free to use the committee rooms and to call upon the staff for help. In conclusion he said "Charlie Elliott is a man who will take an interest in the affairs of this riding as he has promised, and I maintain that the man now in office has not done so."

Work that can be done by the women's organization as outlined by Col. J. A. Dewart, MC, includes scrutineers, volunteer cars and as she took over her duties as president. "We are all one in politics, believing in the principles of Liberalism, and I hope we may keep this organization alive for years. To show others where we stand, I hope you will make frequent appearances at the committee rooms."

"Hold no animosity whatever toward those with other political views," Mrs. Scott advised. "We are living in a democracy which means freedom to think and vote as we choose. Let us keep it that way."

A telephone committee to assist the executive was appointed with one convener from each ward, as follows: Ashburnham, Mrs. M. J. Swanston; north, Mrs. G. W. Crow; centre, Mrs. H. Elcombe; west, Mrs. R. C. Honey; south, Mrs. B. Paquette. Social conveners are Mrs. W. B. Gordon and Mrs. Wilfred Huyeke, and Mrs. Wm. Steinkraus is in charge of programs.

Elliott." He suggested that the women drop work that can be left until after election and put their shoulders to the wheel, using their influence by contacting women of their acquaintance and mentioning the qualities of the candidate who may not be personally known to them.

"We have a fine representative group here," said Mrs. C. M. Scott

In speaking to the gathering, Col. Dewart congratulated them on the turnout and enthusiasm shown. "In public life women have a greater stake than men," he said. "Every woman should take a direct interest in what is going on in the world, and strive to keep down the growth of communism that is a disease growing in the ground of injustice, caused when privileged classes insist on greater privileges."

"The only way to stamp it out is to remove its cause," he continued. "We are moving steadily in that direction and I believe that Liberal government will do more toward that end than any other political party. That is why we have been attracted to it."

"A government composed of good men will carry on in the best interests of this province," said Col. Dewart. "It is our duty to elect a good man and I feel that we cannot go wrong in Charlie

HONEYMOONERS IN BERMUDA — The James Cromwells of Weekawken, N.J., seem well satisfied with life in this picture made during their honeymoon in Bermuda. Cromwell, former husband of Doris Duke, and one-time U.S. minister to Canada, was married recently to Maxine MacFetridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hope MacFetridge of Birmingham, Alabama.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Distressed to Find Husband's Ardor Fades

A wife wants to know why marriage produces such a change in men that they seem to even belong to the same species of fauna. She says that during the days of courtship her husband never wearied of telling her how beautiful and wonderful she was. Now she would drop dead with surprise if he paid her a compliment.

In those fabulous days he could always think of something new and exciting to amuse her. Now he seems to think that just being married to him is all the diversion that any woman could possibly want. Then his theme song was "love, love, love". Now he harps on the grocery bill. Then he was a spellbinder, but now he burles himself in his newspaper after dinner, and if he got swapped in the shuffle for a store dummy, she would never know the difference, one would be about as talkative as the other.

Now this is not what any bride expects of marriage. On the contrary, it is far, far different, and it is no wonder that when a girl sees the man she has married change from a great lover into a mere husband, she is bewildered and frightened and doesn't know whether to take him to a psychiatrist or to the divorce court. And, above all, she is curious to know how it happened.

Many Explanations
"Well, there are several explanations of the phenomenon. One is that nature is taking its course and the bridegroom is coming back to normal. There are, of course, many of the species who are born sentimentalists and who are never happy unless they are hanging around some pretty girl and making real or phony love to her. But the great majority of American men, at least, are lousy lovmakers who hem and haw and swallow their Adam's apples when they are saying "will you be mine?" to a girl. They are true and fine, and they mean what they say, but they don't enjoy saying it.

Hence, when they have told a girl they loved her and married her to prove it, they don't feel any call to keep on repeating what they take to be an obvious fact. They are like the little boy in Barrie's love story who said it was an awful thing to tell a person you loved them, unless they were sick.

But, curiously enough, while few husbands have enough gumption to keep on courting their wives, practically every husband is simply starving to death for his wife to feed him on soft talk. To tell him how handsome and clever he is, and how she thanks Heaven on her knees every night for giving him to her for a husband.

Not many women realize that while the man does the love-making before marriage, it is up to the wife to do the love-making after marriage, if she wants to keep her husband. For the life of the average husband is a strenuous one, full of hard work and worries and anxieties, and the only compensation he has is to have a wife who break over him her alabaster box of love and admiration, and who tells him every day, in every way, that she thinks he hung the moon and set the stars in their place.

The reason that husbands go chasing off after strange women is because they are looking for one who will feed them on flattery, instead of ramming criticisms down their throats. Try it out, wives, and you will be surprised how well it works.

THE STARS SAY....

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, May 16

Sunday's horoscope shows the aspirations and ambitions well stimulated for growth, expansion and many phases of success and brilliant achievement with the energies and initiative under fine impulse for reaching advanced goals, yet all may not prove "plan sailing." Squandered energies or other substance, rash, impetuous or over-zealous acts could be the means of alienating the support of those in influential positions. Placate rather than vex superiors.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be disposed to aim high in shooting at advanced goals or very important and ambitious objectives, being alert, enthusiastic, expansive and inclined to inflationary tactics, yet may overplay their hands by reckless, extravagant, or offensive words or deeds, provoking those whose cooperation may be vital to grand accomplishment. Guard against loss of prestige and leave no loopholes for defeat and failure, especially by petty indulgences.

A child born on this day while blessed with much efficiency and high ambitions, may alienate desired assistance and friendship from influential sources, by rash, extravagant or offensive impulses.

For Monday, May 17

Monday's astrological forecast holds augury of errors and false judgments, mistakes in handling writings, contracts, oral agreements, lost papers, undesirable promises, or even an involved or distorted physical condition. Relations with others in home, business, finance or agencies, may be complicated by restless, agitated or enervated condition of mind or body. Postpone decisions or action until the faculties are clearer.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find their major activities and objectives hampered or involved by a restless, indecisive or obscure state of mind, or perhaps a physical, emotional stress or tension in which "nerves" or temperament may jeopardize ambitious contracts, agreements, new alliances, especially where writings, papers, promises and change are involved. Perplexity and doubt may react on physical health, making it advisable to postpone vital decisions. Make no major moves under such dubious mentality.

A child born on this day is prone to erroneous decisions, wrong conclusions, under lack of continuity, nervous tension or restless energies, reacting on health and fortunes in dubious manner.

"TOOTH CHAMP" — If there is anything about which more arguments arise than sports—it's babies. And right now there is a first class fight of national proportions looming. And all because of an innocent little item of just seven lines which appeared in a Montreal newspaper. Originating in Regina, it read as follows: "David Patrick Davidson looks like an ordinary baby—until he smiles. At 15 months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Davidson has 16 gleaming teeth. There's a Mrs. Wilfred Van Cedar, of Montreal, who is bristling with indignation. Because her daughter, Susan, who is not quite 13 months old, has had "16 gleaming teeth" since before her first birthday party. And she didn't start cutting her first teeth until she was three months old.

Coldwell Hints Health Plan Due To Election

OTTAWA, May 15. — (CP). — Some Opposition eyebrows were lifted sceptically in the Commons Friday over the timing of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's announcement of a federal health program.

Members hinted at a belief that government, in bringing down the plan now, was not unmindful of the imminence of three Federal by-elections and two Provincial general elections.

Welcoming the program, CCF Leader Coldwell said he is glad "we live in a democracy where from time to time there are both by-elections and provincial elections."

"I have noticed," he added with a smile, "that for some uncanny reason exceedingly interesting proposals are often made just about the time these events occur."

As the House laughed, he went on to say he was "not suggesting for a moment that any such event provides the occasion for the announcement Friday afternoon."

Social Credit Leader Low took up the cue. He said that, like Mr. Coldwell, he would like to see more elections.

Hon. W. Earl Rowe (PC-Dufferin-Simcoe) took another sly dig at the government after Mr. King explained the program would be financed through supplementary estimates brought down in the Commons.

"Will the supplementary estimates be brought down before June 7?" he asked. That is the date of the Ontario general election.

"I do not know what my honorable friend has in mind," Mr. King dead-panned as the House chuckled collectively.

Selwyn News

The Lakefield Bantams played the local boys in a softball game here on Tuesday evening, the visitors being winners by a large score.

The WA of the United Church is sponsoring a three-act comedy play, "Cousin Jill from Junction Hill," presented by All Saints' Anglican Church, Peterborough, in the church here on Wednesday evening, May 19. The ladies will serve pie and ice-cream afterwards, and proceeds will be used to help redecorate the parsonage at Bridgorth.

RECORD PRODUCTION

A record 22,000,000 tons of paper is expected to flow from United States mills this year.

KILLED IN CRASH—Kathleen Lady Harrington, 28, daughter of former U.S. Ambassador to London, Joseph P. Kennedy, who, with Lord Fitzwilliam, 38, one of Britain's richest Peers, was killed when their chartered airplane crashed in the mountains of Southern France during a thunderstorm.

HAMMER LANDS IN HIS POCKET—Hugh McCartney of Regina, Sask., got quite a surprise when he got the receiving end of a hammer that plunged 100 feet—and landed right into his back pocket. A new elevator was being installed in a six-storey building and Mr. McCartney was working in the well of the elevator shaft, shovelling concrete. Suddenly a one-and-one-quarter-pound hammer fell from the elevator roof. Of his experience, Mr. McCartney said he felt "quite a jolt" as he felt the pocket badly torn by the hammer.

Few Wire Nails Available Dealers Report

Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa reports that the production of wire nails in March totalled 7,100 tons compared with 5,700 tons the previous month, but this increase has not affected the present shortage in Peterborough. Wire nails are not obtainable here without a priority, and the hardware stores have stopped selling aluminum nails as they were generally unsatisfactory.

"The only person who can get nails is a veteran with an A.P.H. priority," said the manager of one store. "The only keg of four-inch nails we have had in two months was on an A.P.H. priority order. We have quit handling aluminum nails other than roofing nails. Cut nails from the States are also getting tight, and no more orders can be placed for them this year."

"The very inadequate supply is worse than last year," according to the manager of another store. "There aren't any nails for the ordinary man in the street, they are only obtainable for people with priorities. We haven't used aluminum nails at all, as they weren't satisfactory, especially in the longer lengths."

"The situation is getting serious," he continued, "as farm buildings are falling apart and can't be rebuilt as the farmers just can't get hold of nails. A lot of farmers are also complaining that fence wire is unobtainable, and there is another definite shortage there."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

READING A SINGLETON

IT IS EASY sometimes to know that your partner has led a singleton against the other fellow's suit contract. If you see all cards lower than his, you know he has not a doubleton or trebleton, from which he should lead the top. If the declarer follows suit to the trick, your partner could not have led a fourth-best unless a total of three other cards remain out of sight to you. If only two are missing, you can be sure the declarer has them both and your partner no more.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South West North East
Pass Pass 1 Pass
1 Pass 2 Pass
3 Pass 5 Pass
4 Pass 6 Pass

That was nice bidding by North, who realized that the information about side aces could not be as important to the pair as letting South know how ably he supported the rebid trump suit. It was about the only slam invitation South could have accepted soundly, since he had given ample indication of his strength by jumping on his third turn after having passed on his first and given a minimum 1-over-1 on his second.

The well-reached contract should have panned out. But fortune was not with the deserving this time.

West led his diamond 5, and East promptly put his mind to work. He saw the 4 in dummy, and the 3 and 2 in his own hand. Hence that 5 was West's lowest. He therefore could not hold a doubleton or trebleton. It was consequently either a fourth-best or a singleton. When South followed suit with the 6, East knew the 5 was a loner, for there were not three more cards beyond his view. So, after winning with the A, East returned the diamond 8 for West to ruff, setting it. Note that, if East had not read the singleton and had returned something else, a successful club finesse would have enabled South to make his contract.

Your Week-End Question

Why is it often profitable to jump in your partner's major suit instead of using a jump in some other suit as a force to proclaim enough strength for the side to play at a game or higher?

Assurance of Picking Machine Stimulates Interest In Grain Corn — Garnet Whitfield Re-elected President of Yorkshire Breeders.

Definite assurance that a picking machine will be available here next fall should encourage the planting of hybrid corn.

"I think we'll see 300 acres, maybe more, in grain corn, now that farmers know that they won't have to husk by hand," F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative remarked to The Examiner. "The experience of those farmers who have been experimenting during the last two or three years has been spreading interest, and reports indicate that we have quite a number of men who are ready to do some planting for themselves. Some of them may start with four or five acres or up to ten."

The main points as J. C. Stackley of Ridgeway experimental farm said in his talk here during Farmers Week is to plant an early variety, have the land in good shape, and don't plant too thickly. Rows should be 32 to 33 inches apart, and stalks space a foot in the row.

Seed is on sale at Dewar Milling, Co-op Services and Innan's grain and feed, Ware Street.

H. J. Inman told The Examiner that his stock had included one bushel of Canbred 250. "This is the earliest maturing variety in this country. They harvested only three bushels at the Centennial Experimental Farms, Ottawa, last year. I have been giving away this bushel to farmers to do a little experimenting with themselves. We have sold other varieties, and I have noticed that our own area is beginning to pay some practical attention to grain corn."

DURHAM GIVES $4,000.

Herb H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, will be the guest speaker at the Durham Federation picnic Saturday, June 26, at Orono Memorial Park.

Durham directors met May 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Larmer, Cartwright township, "with the largest attendance to date." Mr. J. J. Mellor, secretary, reported that the county subscriptions for the European Children's Fund would exceed $4,000. He also reported that he had succeeded in organizing Cartwright on a school section basis as instructed at the previous meeting of the directors.

Walter Reynolds was asked to arrange a machinery display for the picnic. One dollar will be paid to each person who attended the farm forum convention.

A directors' picnic will be held at the new Federation camp site at a date to be decided later. An editing committee composed of M. H. Staples, H. Davey and C. J. Allin was named to assist the secretary in preparing reports to be sent out to the directors from time to time.

Wilfred Bowles was appointed chairman to report at the next meeting on the formation of a county Federation athletic organization. He was asked to pick his committee members. The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, M. H. Staples.

M.P.'s PLEA FOR FARMERS

Farmers were not satisfied to continue working long hours and then have the government tax them for the extra time labored, said John Charlton, M.P., Brant, in the Commons debate on estimates of the Department of Agriculture. Labor in many industries refused to work overtime and thereby incur increased tax. Mr. Charlton said they could hardly be blamed for their method of avoiding what appeared to them to be a tax penalty.

Farm output would continue to decline as long as the present income tax levy on long hours of work continued.

Mr. Charlton said farmers were willing to bear their fair share of taxation. They should be granted exemption on the ground of farms being family affairs, not individual operations and enterprises.

The farmer's wife was allowed pin money for her hens, but that work was only a small part of her contribution to farm operation and production. Labor was as scarce as ever, and on some farms throughout the country women helped load hay, taking the place of men, during the harvest, and thereby helping to maintain the agricultural production of Canada. The return for the work was simply considered as one man's income. In many instances there might be several children also helping. "There should be some means whereby that might be considered when the farmer made out his income tax return," Mr. Charlton contended.

Locally, farmers have been affirming that an effect of rural indifference to full potential of agricultural production may develop unless there is some allowance in the income tax structure for the extra work farmers have been doing. They are not accustomed to avoiding work, but they resent what they regard as a penalty on their thrift and industry.

YORKSHIRE BREEDERS

Garnet Whitfield, Fraserville, was elected president of Quinte-Kawartha Yorkshire Breeders' Association at Bowmanville Wednesday night. W. R. Bail, of Orono, is vice-president, Frank C. Paterson, Peterborough, secretary-treasurer, and James R. Turnbull, Peterborough, assistant secretary.

Peterborough was represented at this district meeting by Mr. Whitfield, Mr. Turnbull, Mr. Paterson, Leonard McNeil, Fraserville, C. N. Downer, Bruce Graham, Westwood, Redmond Walsh, Hastings, Clayton Sanderson, Murray McRea, assistant agricultural representative, Melville H. Johnston, president of Peterborough swine producers.

In charge of their exhibits at Millbrook June 10, the Quinte-Kawartha group appointed as committee: Mr. McNeil, George Watkin, Mr. Whitfield, George Stephens, Baltimore and J. R. Turnbull.

Their Yorkshire show will be a department of Oshawa Fair Sat. Sept. 18. Every prize will be five dollars and the total will amount to $375, with an entry fee of 50c. Entries should be in the hands of Mr. Turnbull, Dominion grader at C.P.C. by Sept. 4. The committee managing the Oshawa competition is composed of: W. R. Bail, Orono, Garnet Whitfield, T. C. Glaspeil, Oshawa, R. R. 2; Ald. Ayre, Brampton, Mr. Paterson and Mr. Turnbull.

FARMERS' WEEK

Proposal to establish Farmers' Week as an annual spring event at Peterborough will be discussed at a meeting here Thurs., May 20. Approval has been tentatively expressed by some of the directors of Quinte Seed Growers Association and the Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen.

Farmers' Week in March was a joint successful enterprise by the Threshermen, Quinte Seed Fair and Canada Packers whose bacon display was a memorable feature. Department and other visitors were impressed by the accomplishment. In the meantime the directors of Peterborough Exhibition are improving accommodation for their fair, and it is expected that the buildings would be available for Farmers' Week if it is continued on a permanent basis.

As corn borer moths readily fly from one farm to the next, community action in control is important. To protect sweet corn, spray the new crop in July with derris.

CALFHOOD VACCINATION

ing for 305 days.

Jews Under Heavy Pressure From Arab Forces; Air Raids Still Continuing

Jewish Army Claims Near Capture Of Acre, Strikes Into Lebanon; Reports Invaders Machine-Gun British

TEL AVIV, May 17.—(AP).—The army of newborn Israel claims it is near capture of the Arab city of Acre to the north and even has struck seven miles into enemy Lebanon. But the new Jewish state's capital of Tel Aviv has undergone air raids, at a cost of at least 10 lives, for three days straight, and its Foreign Minister, Moshe Shertok, admits the Jews are under heavy Arab pressure from the northeast and south.

Dr. Weizmann President Of Jewish State

TEL AVIV, May 17.—(AP).—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Zion's senior statesman, became provisional president of the new state of Israel today.

He was elected president of the 37-member council of government Sunday night, which makes him, in effect, Israel's chief executive. David Ben-Gurion, Israel's prime minister, supported Dr. Weizmann.

All members of the new government except one are Palestinians, who automatically became citizens of Israel upon formation of the new state. The exception is Dr. Weizmann, a British subject. It is presumed here he will change his citizenship, if he accepts his new post.

The leader of the world's newest state is now under the care of a physician in New York City. The nature of his illness has not been disclosed.

Dr. Weizmann, 73, one of the outstanding figures in world Jewry, is credited with having played one of the major roles in the establishment of the new Jewish state, having fought nearly all his life for Zion.

His services to Britain during the first world war are said to have been the basis for the Balfour Declaration of 1917, in which the British government pledged to provide a "national home" for the Jews in Palestine after the war.

4 Die As House Swept By Fire

BALMORAL, NB, May 17.—(CP).—Four persons—a man, his wife and two children—died Saturday night when flames swept through their home at nearby Balmoral.

Dead are: William Boudreau, 58; his wife, 48; and two sons, Gaston, 15, and Jacques, 13.

When neighbors sighted flames from the tiny farmhouse they rushed to the scene and succeeded in controlling the flames before the house had been destroyed.

When rescuers entered the house, however, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Boudreau were found lying near their bed.

The floor of the house had collapsed carrying the bodies of the two children and their bed into the basement.

Police who investigated said they believed the four had fallen to sleep until it was too late to escape.

Call Police Squads To Quell Outbreak

DETROIT, May 17.—(AP).—Special squads of state police were rushed into suburban Highland Park today to cope with an outbreak of picket line violence around one of 16 strikebound Chrysler Corporation plants.

They were dispatched into the Detroit area by Governor Kim Sigler at the request of Highland Park Mayor Norman Patterson.

Resist Pay Demands

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP).—United States soft coal operators, huddling over strategy for new contract negotiations with John L. Lewis, indicated today that they will resist any demands for higher pay or bigger royalty payments to the miners' welfare fund. Lewis and the United Mine Workers' 200-man policy committee also gathered in a negotiation-eve planning session. They kept mum on their plans.

Vote To End Efforts On A-Control

UN Group Decides New Policy 9-2; Russia Opposes Move

LAKE SUCCESS, May 17 (CP).—The United Nations atomic energy commission decided today to end its two-year effort to agree on world atomic control. The vote was 9 to 2.

Russia and the Soviet Ukraine voted against the suspension, which was proposed originally by the United States, Britain and France.

The move came after the western powers concluded it was useless to continue the talks any longer in view of the deadlock between Russia and the commission majority.

Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, told the 11-member U.N. atomic energy commission he does not agree that further efforts are useless.

"The Soviet Union government stood, stands and will continue to stand for an effective international system of inspection and an effective international system of control," Gromyko said.

He told the commission Russia has no intention of supporting the U.S. control plan and will continue to press for adoption of the Soviet plan. Six members of the commission have declared themselves in favor of suspending the talks.

"Agreement is possible," Gromyko said, "but not under the United States plan.... The United States government does not want control of atomic energy."

Truck Upsets, Girl 15 Killed

TORONTO, May 17.—(CP).—June Robinson, 15, of Toronto, was killed and 10 other persons were injured late Sunday when a truck bringing about 90 school children home from an afternoon at nearby Musselman's Lake, overturned at Unionville, north of here.

The truck, returning to Toronto from Musselman's Lake with a party of 22 picnickers, was driven by Sam Digiacomo, 219 Ontario St. It is believed that the steering gear failed. The vehicle went out of control and dived into the ditch. The dead girl was thrown beneath the truck body by the impact.

Digiacomo suffered back injuries, and a passenger in the cab with him, a man named Crozier, was severely shaken and suffered minor injuries. Most of the 20 picnickers in the truck were thrown clear. Lawrence Liberty, also of Toronto, suffered a broken leg, June Mooney and Peter Dillon were scratched and shaken, and Thomas Antrobus suffered cuts.

The injured were taken to the Toronto East General Hospital for treatment in police cars and ambulances.

The truck, returning to Toronto from Musselman's Lake with a party of 22 picnickers, was driven by Sam Digiacomo, 219 Ontario St. It is believed that the steering gear failed. The vehicle went out of control and dived into the ditch. The dead girl was thrown beneath the truck body by the impact.

Sells Death Weapon Sudbury Man Fined

SUDBURY, May 17.—(CP).—Beverly Woodworth, 22, of Sudbury, was fined $50 and costs in court today for selling an automatic pistol, used in fatal shooting in downtown Sudbury last Monday.

Woodworth admitted selling the pistol, a Belgian-made automatic, to Clifford Larue, 28. Larue is in Sudbury jail on a charge of murder following the fatal shooting of Emma Belisle, 23.

Detective Lloyd Hanwell testified that the pistol, surrendered to Sudbury police by Larue after the shooting, was traced to the home of Woodworth's brother-in-law, who had brought it from overseas.

Woodworth, police said, was the "go-between" in the sale. Larue paid Woodworth $35 for the pistol last November. Woodworth told the court Larue had said he wanted the pistol for hunting.

Larue will appear in court on Wednesday to face the murder charge.

Find Russian Agent Lures GI To Stay In Moscow

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP).—The state department beat Moscow to the punch today with the disclosure that a youthful American army sergeant has defied orders to leave Russia and return to the United States.

A state department announcement identified him as Sgt. James McMillan, 21, Boulder, Colo. Reporters were told his action was due to infatuation for a Russian married woman described as an experienced Russian agent.

Egyptian Troops Only 30 Miles From Tel Aviv

CAIRO, May 17.—(AP).—The Arab higher executive committee said today Egyptian troops have driven within 30 miles of Tel Aviv after an advance of at least 34 miles into Palestine.

The office said also that the Jewish agency has authorized the surrender of Jews in the old city of Jerusalem to the Arab volunteer command.

The "conditions of surrender" provide that the Jews give up their arms, that men be considered prisoners of war and that women and children be handed over to the International Red Cross, it said.

The office, quoting a communiqué from the Middle East broadcasting station, said Syrian and Iraqi troops have joined forces in the Samakh area of the southern tip of the Sea of Galilee. The Syrians, reported captured by the town, are 2½ miles inside Palestine from both Syria and Trans-Jordan.

Arab volunteers were reported to have captured the Lydda airfield, inside Israel territory less than 10 miles from Tel Aviv, and another strip at the Qalaidia Jewish colony.

The United States embassy here said Sunday the Egyptian air force confiscated four C-47 transport planes which the Trans World Airlines had agreed to sell to Saudi Arabia. American sources reported Saudi Arabia had outbid Egypt for six surplus TWA planes and two of the planes already had been delivered to Arabia.

An official Arab military source in Amman, Trans-Jordan's capital, said the Egyptian army Sunday occupied El Baidal in the southern Palestine coastal belt.

El Majdal is about 30 miles north of the Egyptian-Palestine border, 14 miles beyond Gaza, in territory earmarked for Palestine Arabs under the United Nations partition plan. It is less than 10 miles below Jewish-claimed territory and less than 30 miles from Tel Aviv.

An Amman Arab informant said Iraqi infantry seized the Rutenburg Hydro-Electric station in Trans-Jordan where the Yarmuk river joins the Jordan. King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan once said such a capture would cripple two-thirds of Palestine Jewish industry.

The informant said the artillery held up until a dynamited bridge was replaced, then took nearby Geshur, nine miles north of important Jewish-held Beisan.

Turn Sod For Civic Arena Scott Promises Grant

Ceremonies marking the first decisive step towards the construction of Peterborough's Civic Arena were held Saturday.

Mayor William Owens wielded a shiny new shovel to turn the first sod on the big lot on Park Street which will be the site of the $50,000 building. Work will start today.

Alderman Burrell Dodds, chairman of the building committee, was chairman of the open-air ceremonies, which were attended by civic and provincial officials and several hundreds interested citizens.

General committee chairman Dick Ouimet said that "this is the thing we have worked for so long" and again appealed for the support of the public in putting the financial backing over the objection.

"I will be pleased to see that your Civic Arena is included in the benefiting projects," he said, adding that the maximum allowable grant had been raised to $5,000.

Woman's Body Found In River

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 17.—(CP).—The body of an unidentified woman was recovered today from the Niagara River. Police said she was dark-haired, 5 feet 6 inches tall, and 35 to 40 years of age, weighing about 135 pounds.

Police said the body had been in the water only about an hour and was nude, except for a girdle. The head was terribly battered and the right ankle fractured. There was a gash on the left side of the head.

The body was recovered by Norman "Corky" Hill at the Canadian landing dock of the Maid of the Mist in the Niagara River.

Russ Ships Secret

NEW YORK, May 17.—(CP).—Eighty-five per cent of the Russian merchant marine moves in secrecy, the American Merchant Marine Institute reported Sunday.

It said that 600 of the 716 vessels known to comprise the Soviet merchant fleet never are mentioned in marine reports and presumably are occupied in traffic between Russian or Russian-controlled ports.

The remaining 110 ships, the institute added, engage in "seemingly aimless movements," touching from time to time at foreign ports.

It said some of the larger vessels acquired during the war from the United States and Britain may be tied up because of lack of facilities to maintain the vessels in good repair.

Three Atomic Weapons Very Successful

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP).—The White House said today that tests involving three atomic weapons of improved design proved successful in all respects recently at Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific.

The statement was made by the President Truman in an official report saying the results "indicate very substantial progress."

Chairman David E. Lilienthal and the four other commissioners reported orally to Truman that the "present stage of the Commission's test of atomic weapons now is concluded."

Lilienthal called the tests "a milestone in atomic development."

He said about 10,000 men were involved in the test, including military personnel, engineers, scientists and others.

Meanwhile, the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee approved a Bill which would limit to 23 months the new terms for Lilienthal and the four other commissioners.

Japanese Officers Hiding War Crimes

TOKYO, May 17.—(AP).—A conspiracy among high ranking Japanese officers to conceal evidence of war crimes—after Japan's surrender—was reported today by Australian investigators.

Lt.-Col. D. L. B. Goslett of Sydney, chief of the second Australian war crimes section, said the plot began a few hours after the surrender. One Japanese army command, he added, ordered that matters of war crimes are a fight to the last against the allied forces.

Goslett said many top Japanese army and navy officers still are stubbornly carrying out the plan to confuse investigators with false and misleading statements.

False lists of allied prisoners of war were prepared in an effort to show they died in allied bombings, disease or aboard prison ships en route to Japan, the investigator said.

Last Ship Sails

MONTREAL, May 17.—(CP).—Canada got her last ship out of the Palestine fighting zone during the week-end when the Montreal freighter Seaside sailed from Jaffa, it was learned today.

The Seaside with a cargo of potatoes and lumber, has been in the Palestine port unable to discharge her cargo for several weeks due to unsettled conditions there. She carried a full crew of Canadian officers and men.

Report Pair Paddling To Bewdley

Recover One Body, 2 Still Missing, Search Lake Simcoe

TORONTO, May 17 (CP).—Luc Delacroix, 23-year-old Belgian who, with two French companions, was reported missing after a canoe trip on Rice lake, 60 miles northeast of here, turned up safely today at the office of the Belgian Consul in Toronto.

He said he left his friends—Louis Folquest, 25, and Pierre Folquest, 19, brothers at an Indian reserve on the north shore of the lake and believes they are safe.

Delacroix told the Canadian Press he was surprised to learn he and his friends were the objects of a wide search. He confirmed that he and the Folquet brothers rented a canoe Sunday morning at Bewdley, near the southeastern corner of Rice lake.

The other two were seen paddling the canoe toward Bewdley at press time.

They paddled across the lake, Delacroix said, and tied the canoe up at the foot of an Indian community. It was about this time that a severe storm swept the lake, creating fears at Bewdley that the tiny craft was capsized, drowning the three youths.

Delacroix said the Folquets wanted to spend the night at the Indian colony but that he decided to return immediately to Toronto.

According to Don Sidey of Bewdley, the three rented a large canoe Sunday morning at 11 o'clock from Sidey's boat livery. They didn't return by dark last night and fear: were held for their safety due to a storm which had blown up. Mr. Sidey searched the lake with his glasses as darkness came last evening but without success.

This morning it was learned that they had been seen Sunday afternoon proceeding down the lake between Hawwood and Rosemead and it is believed they put in to shore on the mainland or to one of the islands on Rice lake.

Censors Rule 13 PC Films Unsuitable

TORONTO, May 17.—(CP).—Thirteen per cent of the films viewed by Ontario censors during the year ended last March 31 were ruled unsuitable for children.

The annual report of the Board of Censors, released today said these pictures were released with the proviso that they be advertised as adult entertainment.

"However, a number of theatre owners have ignored this ruling. They have been warned that action will be taken if they fail to comply with the (theatre inspection) branch's decisions in future."

One film was certified "for adults only." The Board examined 38,877 pieces of advertising, compared with 36,377 during the previous year, and rejected 650. The censors agreed on amendments to 250 others.

The Board reported a close watch is being kept on "propaganda films from overseas."

Say Truman Delays Lifting Ban On Arms

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP).—The United States has under study the question of lifting the ban on shipment of American arms to the Middle East, but indications are that President Truman will make no decision for a few days at least.

Several factors point to a go-slow policy for the moment.

1. The United Nations Security Council is taking up the questions raised by invasion of Palestine by armed forces from the Arab states.

2. It is still not clear how far the Arabs intend to go. The Arab League says the sole purpose of the military manoeuvres is "restoring peace and security."

Paris Takes Elizabeth To Its Heart

30 Canadians Have Lunch With Couple After Church Service

PARIS, May 17.—(CP).—The Seine bore this city's new princess through the heart of its history and into the hearts of her citizenry.

Parisians, enjoying a bright semi-holiday Saturday, thronged the river's many quays by the thousands for more than a mile to hail the passage of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, and acclaimed them as their own.

The royal couple rode a French naval launch which in honor of the royal visit was named "Princess Elizabeth." The small flotilla sailed once past the back of Notre Dame between the river's two islands and past the south banks of the Ile St. Louis. Then it circled and retraced its path between the isles.

The royal couple rose early Sunday to attend a celebration of holy communion at the Anglican church in the Rue d'Aguesseau, across from the river.

The princess wore a green dress with white hat and white shoes. The duke, in a navy blue lounge suit, carried a bowler hat. They were accompanied by a small party from the embassy staff and by British detectives.

The princess and the duke attended divine service for a second time a short time later at the embassy church.

Presented To Couple

In the crowd of spectators, dressed in Sunday best, were many members of the British colony in Paris. But most of the spectators were French. Many had cameras ready for the opportunity of taking snapshots of Princess Elizabeth and her husband from only a yard or two away.

Later in the Embassy courtyard representatives of the Paris British community were presented to the royal couple.

Thirty members of the Canadian diplomatic corps in Paris, top-ranking Canadian officers and French Ministers sat down to lunch with the couple in the home of Gen. Georges Vanier, Canadian Ambassador in Paris.

The executive of the church's general council has urged all conferences to take steps to guarantee that figure, plus a furnished house.

It will recommend to general council in September that the scale be $2,200 by 1950 and $2,400 by 1951.

The executive voted to ask the Canadian Council of Churches to study a plan for government appointment of chaplains in penitentiaries, reformatories, mental hospitals and other institutions.

Good Swimmers

Delacroix and the Folquet brothers registered Saturday evening at a Bewdley lodge. They left most of their luggage ashore when they set out in a canoe rented from the proprietor of the lodge. All were said to be good swimmers.

Cpl. Price Morris of the Ontario Provincial Police department at Peterborough, said the storm was one of the worst on Rice lake in many years.

Find One Body

BARRIE, May 17.—(CP).—The body of William I. Earls of Toronto, drowned Sunday in Lake Simcoe, was recovered today off Fox Island, 16 miles southeast of here. Police said two unidentified companions may also have been drowned.

Earls and his friends, also believed from Toronto, rented a boat Sunday at Bonsecours Beach, near where the body was found. A squall hit the lake three hours later. Police reported no trace of Earls' companions.

Gains Shade Losses Industrials Steady

TORONTO, May 17.—(CP).—Trends were mixed with gains shading the losses as mining stocks were firmer and industrials steady in quiet trading on the stock exchange today. Foods showed a few fractional gains.

Western oils were dull but easier. Volume for the first three hours was 668,000 shares, about 24,000 shares more than Friday's similar period.

B.A. Oil, Brazilian Traction, and C.P.R. advanced fractionally while papers were steady. Bell moved up 1/2. National Steel and Algoma Steel eased slightly.

Hollinger and Teck-Hughes led a slight advance in gold as trading picked up slightly. Lovelock was a heavy trader in the junior golds while Chesherville, Anson, Hollinger and Pickle Crow were good gainers.

Base metals were stronger. East Sullivan, Normet, Waite Amulet, Ventures, Steep Rock and Sherritt rose slightly.

Greek Gov't Probes U.S. Reporter's Death

SALONIKA, Greece, May 17.—(AP).—Twenty or more Communists were reported today questioning today about the strange death of George Polk, American radio correspondent.

Polk's trusted up body, a bullet in the head, was found floating in the bay off Salonika yesterday.

"We are 1,000 per cent sure it is the work of Communists," said one leading government official who declined to allow the use of his name.

Premier Themistokles Sophoulis in Athens said he had ordered a full investigation and Constantin Rentsis, the Minister of Public Order, undertook to conduct it.

Polk, 34, a correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System, disappeared a week ago, after telling friends that he was trying to get an interview with Markos Vafiadis, leader of the Communist Greek guerrillas.

Sunday his body floated ashore along Salonika's Niki (victory) boulevard. Apparently fearing an international incident, police concealed for several hours the fact that Polk had been shot in the back of the head. His hands and legs were bound. A coroner estimated his body had been in the water seven days.

In Athens a close friend of Polk's said the correspondent had received several threatening telephone calls, in which the callers accused him of being a Communist, indicating that anti-Communist might have desired his death.

Drew Pledges University For N. Ontario

TORONTO, May 17.—(CP).—Northern Ontario is to have a university of its own, Premier Drew announced in North Bay. He said plans for its establishment will be proceeded with by the end of the year.

In other week-end Ontario election campaign speeches, C.C.F. Leader Jolliffe said at New Liskeard the federal government's proposed national health and social security program would meet with full backing of an Ontario C.C.F. government, and Liberal Leader Oliver charged at Guelph that the Ontario government is building four-lane "super-highways and speedways" at the expense of "good secondary roads."

Premier Drew's university announcement Saturday followed by a few days the disclosure that the Ontario Technical Institute will be raised to the status of a junior university and in time will become a full-fledged university for northwestern Ontario.

Steps toward establishment of a Northern Ontario university, as distinct from northwestern Ontario, will start as soon as the Ontario Royal Commission on Education completes its report, expected before the end of the year.

The Premier earlier Saturday announced at Sudbury that a conference of academic and business heads of Ontario universities will be held in Toronto June 12 to examine the need for extending some faculties in the light of increased demands for higher education.

Roads Deplorable

Mr. Oliver told the Wellington South Liberal Association that provincial roads are in "deplorable condition."

"I doubt if highways were ever in worse condition, yet the government is spending more money on highways than ever."

Great four-lane highways such as the one between Toronto and Barrie were "all right," he said. But they should not be built until the needs of settled parts of the province were met. Good roads should precede "speedways for tourists and people who want to get nowhere particularly in a hurry."

A Liberal government, if elected, would remove the three-cent gasoline tax imposed by the province after the federal government dropped it. No amusement tax would be levied.

Willing To Negotiate

Mr. Jolliffe in his first Northern Ontario speech of the campaign said his party would be prepared to negotiate an agreement with a federal government for carrying out the proposal national health and social security plan.

He pledged the C.C.F., if elected, would introduce a bill to end what he termed "wasteful exploitation of forests for profits."

"All cutting operations on crown lands would be conducted as crown corporation directly or by contract with local residents, under a provincial resources commission. Profits from the forests would be used to maintain and protect forests as a perpetual resource to provide better service to Northern Ontario and for provincial purposes."

Mr. Jolliffe also pledged his party to a point-point agricultural program including a new marketing act, adoption of "the kind of trade union act that organized workers are asking for" and a five-year-plan of highway development with special provision for rural areas and Northern Ontario.

Police Radio Play-by-Play Description Of Chasing Car Stolen In Peterborough

TORONTO, May 17.—Just like a play-by-play commentary on a ball game, listeners to the police radio dispatcher Saturday evening heard the broadcast movements of a car stolen earlier in the day from Peterborough.

First call warned police cars in No. 12 division that the car was travelling north on Avenue Rd. just beyond Davenport Rd. Due to heavy traffic the quarry was lost by a cruiser from No. 12, but was sighted by another lookout heading east on Glencairn Ave. toward Yonge St. By this time the police dispatcher was also warning cars from North York police to be on the watch, but meanwhile the occupants of the stolen vehicle abandoned it on Linton Blvd. and ran between houses on the south side, jumped a fence and ran out on to Alexandra Blvd. The fugitives were chased by officers of the North York police, but were lost somewhere in the Yonge St.-Duplex St. area.
